Notice of Importance.

To the Salt Lake County Delegates to the Territorial Convention to be Held at Provo City October 5th, 1892:

Gentlemen—The undersigned, the duly appointed committee to arrange for your transportation to the territorial convention at Provo City, performed the duty assigned to them to the best of their judgment and ability and arranged for the delegation to meet at the Democratic headquarters at the Walker House at 7:30 a. m. on Wednesday, to be headed by Diehl's band to the U. P. depot and take the special train leaving there at 8 a. m. This was done in harmony with your instructions to enable the delegation to attend the caucus you called to be held at Provo one hour before the convention assembled, and they announced said arrangement in the newspapers as you requested them. At about 10 p. m. last evening some unauthorized persons from outside and surroundings of Provo and assumed authority to change these arrangements, for what reason they know themselves, and over the heads of the chairmen of the county committee who was present and was not consulted with them, so he informs us, and in contempt of the action of the same committee, called the delegation of this county to meet at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow morning instead of 7:30 and leave at 9:30 a.m.

We desire it distinctly understood that the committee stand by their arrangements and ask that the Salt Lake delegation meet in accordance with the arrangements made by the committee at 7:30 a. m. tomorrow morning October 5, and leave the city by the Union Pacific train at 8 a. m., and meet in caucus at 10 a. m. in the hall across the street from the court house of Utah county, Provo City. No self constituted Caucus are recognized in the Democratic party.

HEADQUARTERS DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 4th, 1892.

The train carrying the Salt Lake County delegation to Provo will leave the depot in this city at 8 o'clock sharp as advertised by the Transportation committee, and not at 9:30 o'clock.

The notice in the Herald of this morning over my name giving 9:30 as the time of departure was a mistake.

J. R. THOMPSON,
Chairman County Committee.

AN EXPLODED THEORY.

The Great Salt Lake Proven To Be Teeming With Animal Life.

DR. TALMAGE'S DISCOVERIES.

He Makes a Cruise on the Waters of America's Dead Sea and Dines on Brine Shrimps.

(For scientific purposes only, Dr. James E. Talmage, accompanied by Captain D. L. Davis and Douglas Swan, of this city, a few days ago started upon a cruise on the waters of the Great Salt Lake. Learning of the Professor's return a News reporter called upon him this afternoon at his office in the Deseret Museum, to obtain the result of his voyage of investigation. In answer to questions by the News representative Dr. Talmage said:

"The lake is simply teeming with animal life. So far I have discovered four distinct classes. They are the brine shrimp (artemia fertilis which is by far the most abundant), a small goat or fly (ephydra gracilis) and two types closely allied to beetles. The most important and prospectively valuable is the brine shrimp. It is found in great numbers in water containing twenty per cent. salt. I brought a good many of them home with me for experimental purposes and have since been endeavoring to get them to live in fresh water taken from City creek and am meeting with splendid success. I have gradually reduced the density of the water in which I keep the shrimps until it contains but 10 per cent of salt, and the little fellows are as lively as possible. I expect to have them living in absolutely fresh water in some long. They are in excellent condition for propagative, and the females are simply burdened with eggs.

"The fact that scientists have expressed that fish will not live in the lake is entirely at odds with facts. Of course they would necessarily have to be imported species, but that can be successfully done. They can be acclimated by degrees. There is sufficient animal life in the lake to sustain all the fish it will hold. Fish, too, will live there, for it is an ordained law of nature that one will thrive where the other will.

"As to the shrimps, when about five miles from shore I cast a net by the fish net into the waters and in a few minutes I had supplied about a quart. Then to the utter astonishment of my fellow voyagers I proceeded to wash and cook them. Later they were more surprised than ever when I commenced to eat them. I found them so delicate and palatable that it was not difficult to persuade Messrs. Davis and Swan to join with me in my experimental meal. These gentlemen, when once they had tasted, gave much signs of relish and evidently that our stock soon completely disappeared."

"Did you experience any ill effects after partaking of them?" asked the reporter.

"Not at all; on the contrary we found them delightfully nutritious."

"What have been your shifts upon the islands of the lake," continued the doctor, and have almost perished for want of food. This need occur no more, for life can be easily sustained on these small animals."

Dr. Talmage, while in Europe last year, took a number of shrimp specimens with him, taken from Salt Lake, and while in London delivered a lecture on their characteristics before the Royal Microscopical Society of that city. Dr. Talmage is an honorary member of this institution and has forwarded it as well as similar institutions in this country, strongly magnified photographs of this comparatively newly discovered and interesting little animal, and it is attracting a great deal of attention among scientific men.

IN POLITICAL CIRCLES.

What Local Parties and Men are Doing.

Dr. Candon, of Ogden, through the Standard, pays his respects to Prof. Paul because of the latter's speech in the Opera House there on Friday night last. He designates the address of the Republican party, that the speech be "toned off" in every town, city and school house during the campaign, claiming that on the occasion referred to it made 200 votes for the Republicans. The doctor is doubtless sarcastic.

A total registration exceeding 12,000 in this city would mean, if normal conditions otherwise prevailed, that we had a population of about 60,000. Allowance must be made, however, for a large number of voters who have neither steady residence nor family here, and who are Liberal by a canon. They cut down the estimate as to inhabitants somewhat.

The first page of Sunday's Ogden Standard is a curiosity in a typographical way. A brass rule figure of the new moon, smiling benignly and with a sort of self-satisfied expression, knocks out a part of four columns; while surrounding the regent of the heavens and in the most unlocated and awkward places are a number of stars of the first magnitude. "Frank" evidently has a good number of scaling tricks at headquarters.

The host of the campaign increases in vigor in the ratio of the falling impossible.

In its next issue the NEWS hopes to be able to definitely answer that long standing question of what the Democrats are going to do at Provo.

Provo should have its caucus taken within the Democratic convention is in session.

Those who have been waiting anxiously for some time to know who would be appointed postmaster here will perhaps have to continue waiting for some time yet.

Fusion talk is still rife, but so far no signs have come to the surface.

There are several offices to be filled in this county and several self-sacrificing patriots are ready and willing to be elected up. When it is considered that there are three parties on deck and that each one has from six to twenty-five aspirants for each place, it can readily be seen how much greater is the supply than the demand.

BY WIRE TODAY.

Lord Tennyson's Condition Very Critical.

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN NEWS.

The Military Competition Ride Between Berlin and Vienna.

MEETING OF DEMOCRATIC CLUBS.

Addresses of Chauncey F. Black and Grover Cleveland Enthusiastically Cheered.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Tennyson passed a quiet night, and seemed somewhat better this morning, but became worse toward noon. He is growing weaker.

At 5 p. m. the patient's condition was critical.

The gravest fears are now entertained regarding Lord Tennyson. Though none is not absolutely dead, it is thought that possibly his hours are numbered. Though very low, he occasionally takes nourishment. Telegrams are flowing into Haslemere from all parts of the United Kingdom and America.

The Electric Elections.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 4.—The weather is perfect today and over the state. The indications are that the vote will be heavy. The Democrats are voting more freely than the People's party and were slightly in the lead everywhere at noon.

Reports from sixty towns to 1 p. m. indicate that the Democrats in nearly every instance are ahead. Indications point to re-election of Mitchell (Dem.) for governor, by about 18,000 majority.

Michigan Democrats.

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 4.—The Democratic state convention met at noon, twenty-five counties were represented and made a speech congratulating the party on the outlook. After the appointment of committees recess was taken till 3 this afternoon.

No Third Ticket in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—In an interview ex-Mayor Grace, the leader of the anti-Hewitt men, is quoted as saying that he has concluded, in deference to the opinions of friends, it was best not to put a third ticket in the field in this city.

FROM VIENNA TO BERLIN.

Lieutenant Mikles Rides the Distance in 3 Days, 1 Hour and 45 Minutes.

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—At 8:30 this morning Lieutenant Mikles, of the Austrian army, one of the competitors in the long distance military ride, arrived here. He left Vienna at 7:00 on Saturday morning, and had therefore been three days, one hour and forty-five minutes on the road. He was the first of three riders, all of the cavalry of Austria, to finish. The ride had evidently been fast and furious. Both man and beast were completely worn out.

LEOPOLD'S HORSE BREAKS DOWN.

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—Prince Frederick Leopold, the first German to start on the ride to Vienna, led the race as far as Iglau, in Moravia; there his horse broke down at Polebich last night. He managed to get the animal going again this morning, but in a wretched condition. The animal refused to touch feed. There is little chance of the prince winning the first German officer is expected to arrive very this afternoon.

ARRIVAL OF THE SECOND AUSTRIAN OFFICER.

The second Austrian officer to arrive was Lieutenant Czatscy, who finished the ride at 11:15 a. m. The excitement over the race has been so great that will change hands is immense. Telegrams from the German riders show that Baron Reitzenstein and Lieutenant Von Schlitz are leading in the race southward. Lieutenant Von Schlitz is an officer married to Miss Roosevelt, an American girl.

CLEVELAND IN NEW YORK.

Convention of Anti-and Democratic Clubs in the Music Hall.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The national association of Democratic clubs convened today in the Academy of Music. Long before the hour for assembling, the delegates began to arrive and take their seats. The entire orchestra and the boxes were reserved for the delegates. They were divided into sections by States and Territories with placards affixed to sticks designating assigned positions. The room was profusely decorated with flags, banners and portraits of Cleveland and Stevenson. The boxes were filled with fashionable people. As the prominent members of the party filed in, one after another, they were heartily cheered.

CLEVELAND IS THERE.

About 11 o'clock Lieutenant-Governor Chauncey F. Black of Pennsylvania, president of the association, entered the hall, followed by ex-President Cleveland. Mr. Cleveland was the signal for tumultuous applause.

Black called the convention to order and delivered the opening address. He said, in part: "We assemble in this first quadrennial national convention of Democratic clubs under circumstances which augur well for success. Within the memory of this generation has the Democratic party given into the battle so full of principles at stake or with so clearly defined, and never before has such magnificent organization as this appeared to support them. Not only are the standards lifted before our hosts in this last great struggle for the redemption of the land touched with those very legends of liberty which inspired our forefathers, but they are borne by candidates worthy the best days of the republic. In Cleveland and Stevenson we follow leaders who typify the spirit of American life and the genius of American institutions,—men who in their personal character and public service are not surpassed by the noblest statesmen of any age."

The speaker then took up and dwelt at length on making a strong and unmistakable free trade argument, declaring the government had no right to levy any tax except for the necessities of its support, and that the power to levy any tax which favored any special industry without restraint made the men who possessed it masters, and the people slaves.

THE TARIFF,

The speaker then took up

THE FORCE BILL,

which he declared of even greater importance than the tariff question, because it abolished itself. He declared it the product of a wicked, deliberate conspiracy between the monopoly oligarchy and its political servants in Congress, devised with satanic ingenuity to keep the parties to the conspiracy in power in spite of the people's will. He closed by pledging the election of Cleveland and Stevenson.

President Black then presented Grover Cleveland who was received with cheers.

CLEVELAND SPEAKS.

The ex-President then proceeded to deliver his address of New York, an address of welcome. He said:

"As a citizen of this proud municipality I am glad to assure you that our hospitality is always open and generous. In behalf of community distinguished for Americanism and tolerance in its manifest of belief and practice, I know I may extend a cordial greeting to those here who represent political thoughtfulness and sincerity. As an unyielding, consistent believer in Democratic principles, I trust I need not hesitate to pledge the organized Democracy the good will and fraternal sympathy of this Democratic city. Your meeting is the council of war which precedes the decisive battle. Your deliberations should be a preparation for a stormy conflict. All your weapons, your equipments, will soon be needed; you have assembled, organized, warshed, planned to ensure your readiness for the final engagement now near at hand. This should be no holiday assemblage, but an impressive convocation for the furtherance of the designs and purposes, for the accomplishment of which you and those you represent are here brought together. These designs and purposes as declared by your constitution are the preservation of the Constitution of the United States, the autonomy of the States and freedom of elections; the opposition to the imposition of taxes beyond the necessities of the government economically administered and the promotion of economy in all branches of the public service. The principles embody the purest patriotism and the loftiest aspirations of American citizenship. At all times they should engender and inspire the fondest obligation to political effort; their motive force, as incentives to political activity and watchfulness, should be irresistible at a time when the constitution is held in light esteem, as against the accomplishment of self-purposes, when state governments are hardly a match for centralized power, and local self-government, and freedom of elections the sport of partizanship.

"Those who submitted to the creed of this association and make vision to security can hardly excuse themselves for lack of effort at a time when the necessities of the government economically administered have borne little relation to the taxation of the people and when the extravagance in the public service has become a contagious plague.

"This convention of Democratic clubs is a bright promise of reform. Unorganized and uncoordinated efforts cannot successfully end for the mastery with the combined forces of private interest. Nor are those organizations most useful which have the widest extent. The real benefits of political organization are realized in the nearness to the people. Harmony and unity of purpose are absolutely essential. In this view your assembling is most important in so far as it promotes harmony and unity by conferences and by consideration of methods, and in so far as it inspires and enthusiasm which will make more effective your work at home. Therefore, I can in nothing better than wish that your conventions may be productive not of that, at its conclusion, you may resume your places in the home organizations with great success.

"Cheerful and generously applauded, especially his closing injunction.

Hon. Patrick A. Collins was then chosen temporary chairman, and Martin A. Mellon, Boston, vice-chairman. On taking the chair Collins delivered a stirring speech. Various committees were then appointed. Resolutions of sympathy with President Harrison in his affliction in the illness of his wife and expressing hope that she will be restored to health were unanimously adopted. Recess.

THE ANGLICAN CHURCH.

A Protest Against Ritualism in England.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Anglican church congress opened at Folkestone today. After an address of welcome the procession formed headed by Mon. Rev. Edwin Wyndham Bloom, strong bishop of Canterbury, and marched through the crowded streets to the church. A hooter-flow churchmen took a position near the passing procession with a banner inscribed: "We represent Bishop and laymen at the risks, rebuilding churchmen is withdrawn, blood episcopal, ritualism and popish processions." They tried to follow the procession, but were not on them and tore the banner to ribbons.

WEBSTER, Oct. 4.—A. S. Pinhorn, a wealthy rancher in McLeod district, was found shot dead in bed last night. The affair is surrounded by mystery. The deceased is a nephew of Sir Stanley Hill of London.

Joel Bassett, who has just taken his office as a member of the Northwest cabinet is dead.

AGAINST THE CHOLERA.

What the Sanitary Commission at Paris Will Do.

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—The sanitary commission at Paris has rejected the proposal to close the public schools, but resolved to erect new barracks, flush the channels, and, if necessary, to distribute food gratis. There are only available hospital beds in the city. The commission as well as the municipality, treat the outbreak of cholera lightly. This increases the apprehension felt at Vienna. Count Von Taafe says it is too late and almost impossible to close Vienna against the pest, as the malady is expected here soon. The epidemic is spreading throughout Galicia.

CONFERENCE WITH INDIANS.

A Very Unreasonable Spirit Manifested.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 4.—About a hundred Spokane Indians gathered here held a conference with Special Agent Hardman, employed by the government to remove them to Cœur d'Alene reservation. At present they are vagabonds, homeless and landless. It was thought they would be eager to accept the government's offer. At the pow pow held on Saturday, however, Chief Lout urged the people to demand on the spot cash instead of promises, and the whole band joined in the conference a very unreasonable spirit developed. The Indians said they would go on the land but they must have money to spend, themselves. Their heads had been turned by the display made recently by their old time neighbors, the Coeur d'Alenes. Hardman told them they had better remember their action and ask for another midsummer.

The Spanish Divided Between the Fighters.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The directors of the California Athletic Club announced the decision in the Smith-Siddons fight, stopped at the end of the fifty-fifth round, on Thursday night. The directors declared it an unsatisfactory contest and awarded each fighter six hundred dollars.

Conspiracy to Defraud an Order.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 4.—The grand jury indicted R. J. Godfrey, supreme treasurer of the Order of Solons, for the embezzlement of $5,000 belonging to the order and against Godfrey, J. M. Bell, the supreme president, and A. S. Manner, chairman and supreme Solomon, for conspiracy to defraud the order.

In Honor of Bessie.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—It has been decided to give the late Ernest Renan a state funeral on Friday.

RUSSIAN PILGRIMS.

Thousands Go to a Monastery in Devotion to the Memory of a Hero.

MOSCOW, Oct. 4.—Thirty thousand pilgrims started for Troitza to celebrate the 500th anniversary of the death of St. Sergius, accompanied by 1000 clergymen bearing sacred symbols and images. They sleep in the open air and present a most wretched appearance. It is expected that 100,000 in all will participate at Troitza monastery. St. Sergius was the leader of the 14th century struggle to throw off the Tartar yoke.

Mrs. Harrison Not So Well as Last Week.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Harrison's extreme nervous condition has distinctly gone back since last Friday night, so she is not feeling as well as last week, though it is said no alarming symptoms have developed and her condition is about what it has been for weeks past.

A REVIVAL MEETING.

Four Persons Killed and Several Wounded.

CENTRALIA, Mo., Oct. 4.—Word has just been received that a disturbance occurred at a revival meeting held at Stevens Stone, Callaway county, last Sunday afternoon, in which three men and one woman were killed and a number wounded. No particulars.

It is said the fight grew out of an old feud among the negroes and a general free fight took place in the church.

A PRAYER NOT ANSWERED.

The German Catholics Did Not Get the Pope's Blessing.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 4.—It has been discovered that though the late German Catholic convention at Pittsburg sought the Pope's blessing, it never came. This is taken as a certain evidence that Cahensleyism has no favor in Rome—that it is under ban.
