MERCUR IS ALL RIGHT

Conditions as They Now Are in the American Johannesburg.

PLENTY OF WORK GOING ON.

A Glance at a Few of the Mines—Today's Work With the Pulls and Bears.

Mr. E. O. Woolley, a prominent stock broker of this city, returned last evening from a two days' sojourn in Mercur, the American Johannesburg.

To a NEWS reporter today he stated that Mercur was all right. There is really more work going on in the district now than for a good while past. Some excitement prevails over the remarkably good showing made by the Uncle and Lo Cignio properties in the Western Foothills, and it has been the cause of many miners and prospectors leaving scenes of former operations and coming their lot in that particular portion of the district.

The Geyser people are running their mill extension with great vigor, and when completed the mill will be equipped with eight new tanks and have a daily capacity of 100 tons. The mine is in good shape and has large bodies of ore blocked out ready for treatment at the mill when it starts up with its modern improvements.

At the Gold Dust a good force of men are at work stocking out ore that the property is making a record in every way encouraging to its owners. The ore is of a quality which will yield rich returns.

The Hecla and Wonder are cogging away with unflinching persistency. At the former, operations are confined to drifting from the bottom of the shaft, while at the latter the shaft, now down 300 feet, is still being driven. The miners are into a tight seamed lime formation and it is believed they are within 200 feet of the vein. Work will be continued until the vein is reached, which it seems fairly assured, will be all absolutely know the property into great prominence.

The drift, which by the way is not a diamond drill, is still boring into the East Golden Gate property and one new reason is depth of 1,300 feet. The entrainment is into a black shale formation, but as yet no ore of paying values has been encountered. The contract now being worked will take the drill to a depth of 1,500 feet, after which it is not known whether the work will be pressed further or not.

At the Mercur mineverything is in flourishing shape—in fact in a better condition than ever before in its history. The new superintendent, Mr. Edwards, is deserving of great credit for the manner in which he is conducting affairs at the property. The stoping of high grade milling ore in 100-foot squares is going on, the squares being from 15 to 17 feet thick. The mill is working a good force, while there is but one man singing and taking out ore to the mine.

The Barnesville, Sunshine and Overland properties are looking well, and are being developed right along.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

Work at the Pulls and Bears to the Fire Today.

Trading on Chicago was not quite as active today as on yesterday, but nevertheless a good spirit prevailed among the brokers and lent a sister to the situation which remained unbroken throughout the call. Quotations on the leading stocks were held firmly and Bullion Beck scored an advance on both sides by selling bid for at $6.70 and offered at as low as $6.25. The Daly occupied good positions as did also Mercur which stood as an offering at $5.50 and was freely bid for at $5.25. Other dollars was the chief space for Ontario stock, but holders of it would not let go under $10.10. Silver King was bid for at $15 with no offerings, while Geyser sold at 97½ cents and Mammoth threw down 500 shares at $1.62½. These were the only stocks which took part in the city's trading.

For the unlisted stocks it can be said that they held their own nicely, Grand Central was in good demand at the closing and had bid for 50 cents short of that figure. Northern Light stock could have found takers at 40 cents, but holders made a demand for 42 cents per share. South Swansea stood at $1.80 with $1.81½ bid, while Lucky Boy had received a bonus day, and was offered at 22 cents.

The closing figures were as follows:

Size and Years.

The Geyser made a $2,000 shipment of cyanides yesterday.

Five tonnes of cyanides of the value of about $15,000 came from the Mercur yesterday. Quite a little work is coming up at the mine.

The Four Aces at Silver City is steadily developing into a great property. Its ore bodies widening out as work progresses.

A prominent stock-broker offered to bet a new hat today that the Daly dividend would materialize on the 25th of this month.

Things are reported to be humming in Deep Creek, the district being flooded with miners and prospectors. Some of the properties there are said to be showing up immensely in good paying ore.

A bond and lease on the Stonewall group of claims near Silver City has been secured by J. M. Phillips. The bond calls for the payment of $5,000 within one year and stipulates that a 100-foot shaft is to be sunk on the property immediately.

Miss Branting's Funeral.

The funeral services over the remains of Miss Lena Branting were held in the Second ward meeting house on Sunday at 12 m.; long before the time set the house was filled with mourning friends. A great many were unable to gain admittance. The stand had been nicely decorated by the members of the Y. L. M. I. A., of which the deceased was a faithful member. The singing was by a male quartet—Thos. E. Ainsworth, John Robinson, Herbert A. White and Peter Stalker; a quartet of male and female members of the choir also rendered some selections very nicely.

Elders Willard Done, Jos. H. Felt, Hosea G. Ballard and Joseph E. Taylor addressed the congregation and spoke of the many good qualities of the departed and offered words of comfort and consolation to the bereaved family. Miss Branting was a faithful member of the Y. L. M. I. association, also a member of the ward choir and was beloved by all. A large concourse of people followed the remains to the grave. After singing Clarence Paul Olsen offered the dedicatory prayer.

That Tired Feeling

Makes you seem "all broken up," with out life, ambition, energy or appetite. It is often the forerunner of serious sickness, or the accompaniment of nervous troubles. It is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The success of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a tonic for that tired feeling is unsurpassed by any one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember

AN ERRONEOUS COUNT

Alleged to Have Been Made in Precinct Fifty-Seven.

STATEMENT OF ELECTION JUDGES.

One a Woman, Reports the Error—Commissioners Allow a Claim for Improvements.

The board of commissioners met at 10 o'clock this morning and listened to a protest from Mill Creek.

Jos. Sutherland, presiding judge of election of precinct 57, made a statement under oath that certain Populist votes were erroneously counted for Democratic candidates for district judges and precinct officers. Following is the written statement from the precinct named:

MILL CREEK, Nov. 16, 1896.

The undersigned hereby certify that this statement is a correct list of Populist party vote cast at the 57th precinct for precinct officers which was counted for the same by mistake, the total number of votes being seven and the same was counted for the Democratic candidates for justice and constable.

JOS. SUTHERLAND,
ALMEN M. MERRILL,
Judges of Election, Salt Lake County.

The statement and protest were filed inasmuch as the correction in the returns would not affect the result of the election.

It was also contended that seven votes in another precinct in that district were similarly counted, making a total of fourteen erroneously counted for Democratic candidates, but as the lowest majority was twenty-two the change could not overcome it.

Commissioners' Work.

The board of commissioners adjourned and held a session as a county commission, and John M. Whittaker of sugar appeared on behalf of the vendors (Jones and school authorities of the Wood and asked for an additional allowance for having built a retaining wall in front of the meeting house, to drive a necessary fill, and to drive down on the road in front of the building. The people had come a great deal of work to improve the highway and there was a little indebtedness still left which it was desirable to liquidate. The county had already paid $100, said Mr. Whittaker, but the amount had proved insufficient and the sum of $25 additional was therefore asked. The amount was allowed, upon filing of a proper claim therefor, Messrs. Geddes and Roberts voting aye and Mr. Christopherson voting in the negative.

A large number of claims were allowed after an adjournment taken, the board to meet again this afternoon as canvassers to hear the county attorney's opinion on the election.

THE GREEN BAG.

Juror C. H. Parsons has been excused for the term.

Today Judge Street set the case of Bowman vs Salt Lake City peremptorily for December 7.

C. P. Christiansen of Mercur and Mrs. Emma Shepard of this city drew a marriage license today.

Judge Street announces that a setting from the law calendar will be made in the civil court tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Judge Hiles will hold court tomorrow. The hour for the commencement of business in the criminal court is 9:30 a. m. and attorneys are expected to be ready at that time.

Notarial commissions were issued by the secretary of state today to James W. Cherry of Sanpete county and Philipp H. Schober of Sevier county.

The county clerk issued marriage licenses today to Herman Johnson and Kittie Burrows of Logan and to William H. Smith and Harriet Newton, both of Sugar ward.

Rosa Barry entered suit in the Third district court against her husband, David Barry, to obtain a decree of divorce. The grounds alleged in the complaint are cruelty and failure to support.

Judge Ritchie was engaged today in hearing the case of Annie M. Hazelline, administratrix, against John H. Howard and others. The suit was brought to establish title to a piece of farming property against which Mr. Howard holds a claim of $1,350.

AMUSEMENTS.

Ned Hoyle's New Play—Never before in the history of the Grand Opera house has it held such a brilliant audience as that which greeted the initial production of Ned Hoyle's new play, under the title of One Plus One Equals Three." The attention element of Salt Lake's theater-going public was there and the utmost breathless attention merely showed the intense interest that was being taken during the four acts of the play. It has been a problem for some time how to so write plays that the entire interest does not center upon one character, but to distribute it among all, each contributing to the final climax his or her individual effort, and to this end Mr. Hoyle has made an illusive effort in his latest play produced for the first time last evening. It was a happy thought on the author's part to sketch out the possibilities of a plot and then to make to the little actors and professional life, and make it not so crude as to be improbable, on the contrary, decidedly possible, probable, but, however, of such a character as to be easily comprehensible and readily appreciated by the audience, and yet, in the pleading of the heart where it is numerous, though heartless—both where the skill of the surgeon is required. The conventional play has to pieces by depicting the worst and grossness of some little unfortunate twin, finally brought together by a chain of extraordinary circumstances, and in contrast to the vast number of these Mr. Hoyle's play comes with that note of newness that is delightful, though to other lines a cultured audience a feeling of relief would perhaps prevail. It is not different to his other plays, "Friends" and "Marion," that one would hardly recognize in them the same author and for this just alone he deserves unstinted praise. Of those who interpreted the various parts much of praise can be said, the author and his wife assuming what would ordinarily be termed the hard and the heroine, while Miss Ada Dwyer did well a particularly exacting part. Of Mrs. Hoyle's Miss Fisher it can be said, that she created the role with great success, Miss Hoyle with every requirement, giving it a condition worthy of her known capabilities. A splendid bit of acting and what was conceded to be the best of the night, was Mr. Chas. Wyngate's condition of the wild and reckless son, who had contracted consumption and with the usual heavy cough made a double effect. Following him closely with the honors came Mr. George H. Edson, as the Jerkum dealer, and as in this as in one everything—well, while Walter Edwards, though not so happily cast, certainly gave a fine assignment of a characteristic interpretation. The indifference of Miss Lorraine the old lady was well sustained, while Miss Marshall, the screaming and fond mother, and Mamie Dupont, as the lazy villain, together with Blakemore, the Englishman, and S. S. Simons as the tutor, made up a good supporting cast.

Mr. Hoyle will now see wherein the pruning knife is needed and where to apply it. Miss Dwyer's role does not need the crutches to make it more effective, in fact they tend to make it deceptive and while Mr. Blakemore's effort is good, it would perhaps be better appreciated if the accented gruff voice were modified and a more English impersonation made. For a first performance and an original production, a cordially cause is presentation was given. Mr. Hoyle is to be congratulated upon the success of his, while now with and after the very favorable manner in which his friends have received it, he should not hesitate to attach to his other accomplishments of general production, for in the new one of ideas will in all probability make it popular. One Plus One Equals Three will be given for the balance of the week and big business will surely attend each presentation.

Theater—Tonight Tennessee's Pardner comes to the Theater for an engagement of two nights. The play is well recommended and is said to be very interesting. It was suggested to the author by Bret Harte's romance of the mountains, is well staged and capably interpreted by a good company.

The Lyceum management certainly has an eye to business when they closed with the Town Topics company for a week's engagement, and if the limited seating capacity of the house is not taxed to its utmost during the remainder of the week it will be because Salt Lake music lovers are not aware of the fact that Town Topics is one of the brightest, liveliest and most laughable skits imaginable, and is presented by a company really good in every instance. The witty dialogue, the funny situations, the popular songs and the really pretty girls make an entertainment without a dull moment from beginning to end. Queen as the cook, Keller as the landlord, Tennyson as the German, Ott and Eldridge as the star boarder, are all very clever comedians and were the recipients of any amount of laughter and applause. The singing of Beatrice Norman and her twenty on the modern school of acting, the wonderful acrobatic dance and the whirlwind dance by the Misses Bennett, Nugent and Hatcher received rounds of applause and were encored well, the latter of course, Mr. Phil Ott's funny bicycle act wherein he rides off the front of the stage, suspended by a pole over the heads of the audience in the front row was cleverly done. Town Topics runs the balance of the week and we look for crowded houses, as it is worth seeing more than once.

Ballantyne Released.

H. B. Ballantyne, one of the enlisted soldiers, who was jailed yesterday for drunkenness was made free this afternoon. A lieutenant from the Fort came down and paid his fine. He said Ballantyne was a splendid fellow and this was the first time that he had found him in such a predicament. As the private emerged from jail the superior officer saluted him with the remark: "Well, Ballantyne, this is a pretty place for you to be in." Ballantyne answered, "Yeh, it is a pretty place for a United States soldier." Hum, the other fellow, still languishes in jail.

Frank Jackson will have a hearing in the police court tomorrow on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. George McDonald is the complaining witness in the case. The defendant is now out on $25 bonds.

"DR. MILES,

Through His Nervine Is a Benefactor to Thousands."

A WIDELY known Wisconsin publisher, who resides at Oconto, Dec. writes March 6th, 1896, as follows:

"Two years ago I became so nervous that my mind was broken. I could not rest at night on account of sleeplessness. My attention was called to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and I commenced to use it. I took two bottles and it cured me. I have kept a bottle in my house and use it whenever my nerves become nervous, with always the same good results. My son also takes it for nervousness with the never failing success. I have recommended it to many and it cures them. All who suffer from nervous troubles should try it. It is free from narcotics, perfectly harmless, and yet quiet and strengthens. Dr. Miles' Nervine is a benefaction to thousands." A. C. LERMAN.

A PREACHER IN COURT.

Jack Malcohey, the Cowboy, Before Justice Wenger Today.

The Charge Preferred Was One of Drunkenness—Found Guilty and Sentence Suspended.

Jack Malcohey better known as the "cowboy preacher," was one of the principal figures in the police court today. He is the man, who, attired in a mercury suit, a green cutaway about the neck, a red necktie, set off with a necklace of badly worn silver dimes, and his legs encased in high-heeled boots, has been preaching the "true unpolluted Gospel" on the streets of this city for a week past.

The charge against Jack was drunkenness—falling which pays a fine, while feeling a better fine, he had often succumbed to, but which in late years, Jack says, had played no part in his career. Jack's little wife sat beside him in the court room, but when arraigned he left her side, and, facing the court with all the dignity he could command, uttered an emphatic plea of "Not guilty, sir."

Then followed the hearing of the case. Tom Hilliam was the arresting officer and his version of the affair was that the preacher was drunk last evening and therefore. He arrested him about 8:45 o'clock last evening in the Valley House saloon while Jack was attempting to leave the place. Cross-examined by defendant—

"You said I was drunk did you not?"

"Yes, sir."

"Didn't I ask you to notify my wife that I had been arrested, and to tell her not to worry?"

"You did."

"Didn't I also take my hat off and hang my head when placed in the dungeon, so as to avoid being recognized?"

"I believe you did."

"Do you think then that a drunken man could possess sense enough to do those things?"

"O, I don't know; drunken men as a rule pretty much do what strikes them."

The prosecution had no further testimony to offer and rested its case, whereupon Jack called upon O. A. Moore to testify in his behalf. Mr. Moore said that he had been with Malcohey about two hours yesterday afternoon, and he was quite sure the defendant was not intoxicated when arrested. They had drank together but not to excess.

Then came Jack's turn. He stated that shortly after noon yesterday he started for the depot to ascertain what train he could leave the city on. He stopped at the 10 to 1 saloon on the way down, there to peruse a railway timecard, and was asked by a friend to take a drink. As he had not imbibed much for years, he was rather reluctant at accepting the invitation, but finally "for sociability's sake" he succumbed to accepting the invitation and took a glass of rum. He afterwards had several other drinks, but was not intoxicated when he left Lake Shore. There was a time in his career, said he, when he could stand a barrel of whiskey without a wink.

The defendant was found guilty of the offense charged, but as he desired to leave town sentence was suspended on a promise of a quarter in which his party appeared to be so bad as to offer, hence the discharge of the defendant.

Funeral of Elder Wm. H. Stevens.

The remains of William Henry Stevens were tenderly laid to rest on Sunday the 15th inst. in the Ogden City cemetery, he having died on the Thursday preceding.

The funeral services were conducted by Bishop Robert M. Quarrie in the Second ward meeting house. The large congregation in attendance was addressed by Bishop James Taylor, Elder Robert F. Neelen, and Bishop McQuarrie; closing prayer by Joseph Hill and benediction by Elder C. F. Middleton, of the Stake presidency.

Each of the speakers paid a high tribute to the noble life that Brother Stevens had lived, and spoke of the esteem in which he is held by all with whom he had come in contact.

Brother Stevens had been a patient sufferer for about 20 years, having been deprived the use of his eyes, all that time as the result of a stroke of paralysis, but although infirm and decrepit he did not lose courage. In fact he was never known to murmur or complain. Being naturally a very independent disposition, he succeeded, through all these years of ill health, by his own labors, in rendering sufficient for the support of his family.

The immediate cause of death was pneumonia, which overtook him one week prior to his demise. He seemed to fully realize, from the beginning of his sickness, that his days were numbered and he perfectly submissive to the infallible decree of an Almighty Providence.

The floral pieces were numerous and elegant, the same being contributed by the intermediate study, the Second Ward Y. L. M. I. A., and by friends and relatives of the family. The interment was attended by a large number of relatives which followed the remains to their last resting place was nearly three blocks in length, indicating the high esteem in which deceased was held by all.

Brother Stevens was born in Cardwall, Ayrshire, Scotland, August 1, 1826. He came to the city of Bristol with his parents when about two years of age, was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints when eight years old, arrived in Utah in company with his parents and Joseph Bishop Taylor's Ox Train, Sept. 5, 1864, in Warren Snow's train. He was called to Ogden in the endowment house, Salt Lake City, in Nov., 1867, to Ellen J. Sommers. Four children have been born to them, two girls and two boys, the youngest a boy about 16 years of age; the oldest daughter, who was the wife of Reuben Wright of Brigham City for one short year, having preceded her father in the spirit world one year ago the 19th of this month; he died at a ripe old age, being 70 years, 10 months and 18 days.

The interment was not to consist solely in the burial of an Aaron Priesthood and yet a Melchizedek Priesthood was conferred upon him.

Prof. Joseph Nelson presided at the gathering. A very enjoyable time was enjoyed, and especially interesting were the remarks of J. S. Gibson. He gave to the students a word of warning, and then spoke briefly upon the Ogden Education and Humility.

The assemblage then went to see the football games on the Eighteenth ward square. The contesting teams were composed of boys from the 10th Ward. The junior player was well on the defeated, score 4 to 6 in favor of the seniors.

To close the exercises the students and their friends were given a reception and ball by the faculty. The Seventeenth ward hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion. At 9 o'clock the people commenced to gather. Dr. Karl G. Maeser led in grand march. Until 9:30 the crowd increased. The college colors, gold and blue, were worn by most of those present. The family spent the evening in receiving the guests and laying the night of seeing the students made happy. By the kindly spirit that prevailed it was evident that all had had a pleasant time, not soon to be forgotten.

MINOR MENTION.

James Foulter and Joseph Berry were given thirty days each in jail today for drunkenness.

Sentence was suspended in the case of B. S. Glenenny, who was in the police court today charged with begging. He was ordered to leave town forthwith.

A meeting of the members of the M. I. League will be held at the association hall, 41 south State street, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 18th, at 8 o'clock. It will be to the interest of all members to attend.

STOCKS AND MARKETS.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Nov. 17.—Speculation was devoid of feature this afternoon. Values were a little higher than last night, but the volume was very light.

Who in all the world suffers more severely than the mother of little children? The affection of her babe is so intertwined with her life that she is almost crushed by the bereavement. In her girlhood she had dreamed of the time when a source of comfort would be her portion, and in the anticipation of realizing them she felt proud of them. College Celebration.

Yesterday was a day long to be remembered by the students of the Latter-day Saints' College. At 11 o'clock sharp, the teachers and students assembled to take part in the "hand shake." Prof. Joseph Nelson presided at the gathering. A very enjoyable time was had. Especially interesting were the remarks of J. S. Gibson. He gave to the students a word of warning, and then spoke briefly upon the Ogden Education and Humility.

The assemblage then went to see the football games on the Eighteenth ward square. The contesting teams were composed of boys from the 10th Ward. The junior player was well on the defeated, score 4 to 6 in favor of the seniors.

To close the exercises the students and their friends were given a reception and ball by the faculty. The Seventeenth ward hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion. At 9 o'clock the people commenced to gather. Dr. Karl G. Maeser led in grand march. Until 9:30 the crowd increased. The college colors, gold and blue, were worn by most of those present. The family spent the evening in receiving the guests and laying the night of seeing the students made happy. By the kindly spirit that prevailed it was evident that all had had a pleasant time, not soon to be forgotten.
