DESERET EVENING NEWS: SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1903.

It Will be That He Thought Gouzales Was Armed and Had His Hands on a Weapon.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 16, 6 p. m.-Mr. Conzales' wound has been dressed and was found to be in a satisfactory condition and freely drained. His condition, while extremely critical, is as good as could be expected under the circumstances. Pulse 120, temperature 101, respiration 29.

The excitement of yesterday has scalewhat subsided and the town is quiet, although the feeling against Tillman is very bitter.

Two of his counsel gave to the Assoclated Press, with a request that it be published, the following statement pre-pared by Mr. Tillman himself in re-sponse to a telegram from a New York Lewspaper.

"I can only say that when the truth of the unfortunate affair is known, my friends, as well as the people, will know how thoroughly I was justified in doing

The statements already published in "The statements aready published in the newspapers are untrue, and at the proper time I will be ready to show this, Beyond this I do not care to make any further statement. "JAMES H. TILLMAN."

It is understood here that Col. Till-man's line of defense will be that he thought Mr. Gonzales was armed, and that he had a weapon in his coat pock-et, and that he had his hands in his coat pocket. He is said to contend that coar pocket. He is said to contend that has had every reason to believe that Mr. Genzales was armed. Mr. Gonzales' friends state that he was not armed. Mc. Tillman also will claim that when Mc. Tillman also will claim that when he aimed his pistol the second time at Mr. Gonzales, he did so expecting Mr. Genzales to defend himself, and that he lowered his weupon because there was no response, and not because of any-thing Mr. Gonzales said. Mr. Tillman, it is understood, also will contend that he had not met Mr. Gonzales before. This is denied by Mr. Gonzales before. who say Mr. Gonzales and Mr. Tillman were in the senate chamber and state capitol together. Mrs. Tiliman and Mrs. George D. Till

TRIED TO BRIBE JUROR.

Unknown Man Sought to Get Secrets of the Grand Jury Room.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 16,-James Rig-Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 16, James Rig-dell, a member of the grand jury which is hearing Henry Youtsey's evidence as to the alleged Goebel murder con-spiracy, appeared before Circuit Judge Cantrell today and told of an effort made last night to get him to divulge the secrets of the juryroom. A strang-er, believed here to be a Cincinnati newspaperman, representing himself to be a detective from Indianapolis, ap-peared at Riddell's home in the country last night and offered him $400 for the story in full. On the refusal of Rid-Alell to tell the story, the stranger gave him §5 for his supper; and left. Riddell paid the money into court today and furnished a description of the man. Juror Rigdell stated that on his return home last night a man of medium height, with black hair, well dressed and of good address, was at his home. Rigdell continued: "The man me his name as McDowell, and Juror Rigdell continued: said his home was at Indianapolis, Ind. That he knew W. S. Taylor, that he knew Rigdell was a member of the jury which had the investigation of Henry E. Foutsey, that since the be-ginning of this case, and the testimony of Youtsey, 'Taylor was much worried and had grown thin and emaciated; that he (McDowell) knew who all the members of the jury were, had a dia-gram of their houses and knew where they lived. He said he wanted to talk privately with me, and said that he wanted information about Youtsey, a wanted information about Youtsey, a mony about Youtsey, and could get money for it, and that he would divide with me He called me outside of the house At called me outside of the house and stated that if there was enough evidence against Taylor to convict him (Taylor) that he, with others, would kidnap Taylor and bring him here and divide the reward with me. He then offered me money which he had in his hand, sind I refused it: then he should busers me money which he had in the hand, and I refused it; then he shoved some rednet in my vest pocket and told me to buy me a hat with it; that he saw there was no opportunity to get the information. He said he was stopping at the Couried head and had driven to at the Capitol hotel, and had driven to my house.

New York, Jan. 17 .- Seven patients upon whom Dr. Adolf Lorenz operated in this city and one on which Dr. Muller operated were shown at a meeting of the Orthopedic section of the Acad emy of Medicine last night and in each instance the condition was satisfactory The children were able to walk about without pain, but the retaining casts cannot be removed for months.

Crushed in an Elevator.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Jan. 17 .- Miss Caroline Kelly, a young society woman of New York, has suffered shocking injuries in an elevator accident in the Potter hotel. As Miss Kelly entered the car she tripped and fell. The elevator for some unexplained reason, shot up-ward, crushing Miss Kelly against the for some unexplained reason, shot upfloor above. Amputation of one of her legs will be necessary and the shock may prove fatal. She is a sister-in-law of Louis Givernaud, a wealthy silk manufacturer of New York and New Jersey, who is staying in Santa Bar-bara for the winter.

Dr. Bancroft of Denver Dead.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 17 .-- Word has just been received here from San Diego, Cal. of the death from heart failure of Dr. Frederick J. Bancroft of Denver. Dr. Bancroft was one of the most prom-inent physicians in the state and has a national reputation for his writings upon the effects of climate upon certain diseases. Dr. Bancroft served as a sur-geon with Union forces during the Civil war. He was born at Enfield, Conn., in 1834, and came to Colorado in 1866. Three children survive him. The re-

Was Winnie Mercer Murdered?

East Liverpool, O., Jan. 16.-Intimate riends in this city of the late George Barclay Mercer, known to the baseball world as "Winnie" Mercer, and his mother, are firmly of the opinion that Mercer did not commit sulcide, but was murdered.

murdered. After much discussion on the part of George Y. Tavis, manager of the team on which Mercer first played: George Carr of the Washingtons, and other close friends, a telegram was sent to night to the chief of police of San Francisco asking him to make a close investigation nvestigation. Friends declare that the letters given out were not written by Mercer, who never signed himself "Winnie," and that the recent attempt to rob him of $8,000 shows that desperate men wer after him. The letter to his mother mentions his sisters, and he had none. As for a shortage, they scout the idea, as he had property and also friends by the hundreds, who would have backed him for any amount.

Jackson, Mich., Jan: 16 .- Tom Na vin, who was released from the Michigan state prison in 1890, will be appointed a member of the state prison board of control by Gov. Aaron T.

In 1881, at the age of 26 years, Thomas J. Navin was elected mayor of Adrian, one of the most enterprising of Michigan's small towns. He was one of the leading citizens of the state. On March 1, 1885, he was taken a prisoner to the state prison at Jackson, and he served for nearly five years. He was released in 1890. On Feb. 15, 1903, rumor has it, Mr. Navin will, by appointment of the governor of the state of Michigan, become a member of the board of control of the very institution in which he suffered punishment, to succeed H. S. Holmes of Chelsea, the present member. Gov. Bilss does not deny the rumor. It is doubtful if real life has an in-stance of a more interesting romance than is included in the foregoing para-graphs. It recalls Victor Hugo's mas-terpiece, the story of Jean Values, the Taphs. A recails victor Hugo's mas-terpiece, the story of Jean Valjean, the immortal convict and magistrate. Tom Navin 20 years ago was a popu-lar "Kid Mayor" of Adrian. As such he won the confidence of the people, and was thus enabled to work some he boldest frauds in the history of the state.

There was a long string to his kite of criminal doings, and when the crash came people who never knew Tom Navin personally found that their farms had been covered with forged mortsomewhere in the far west for about three years. However, never was he satisfied to settle down and spend the satisfied to settle down and spend the fil-gotten gain, several thousand doi-lars. Haunted by his misdeeds and the impression that officers were always after him, Navin returned to Michigan and gave himself up. He was sentenced to serve 10 years, but earned plenty of good time by his good behavior, and Warden Hatch was more than cool it. Warden Hatch was more than good to Navin always had a faculty of galning people's confidence, and it worked with the warden to the extent that Na-vin nearly ran the prison while an inmate of the institution. Since he was liberated Navin has been Since he was liberated Navin has been an attorney in Detroit. He has never lost his suave manner and nis ability of winning people. He is now a popular political manager and has shown marked ability: He has won the friend-ship and confidence of Gov. Bliss. The Republicans in some parts of the state are bucking the plan to ap-point Navin, on the ground that his record is a serious reflection upon the Republican party in Michigan. Nothing in a long tipe has so stirred the leading Republicans as Gov. Bliss' alleged purpose to appoint Tom Navin.
