B. Y. Summer School.

The Brigham Young Academy summer school will hold its third session in Provo, beginning August 7th next. An excellent corps of teachers, both home and eastern, have been secured, among whom are Dr. J. Baldwin of the University of Texas, author of school management and psychology; two of Col. Parker's leading primary teachers; Dr. Karl G. Maeser, Dr. J. E. Talmage, Prof. W. M. Stewart and others.

Special leading features of this year's session will be actual class work by the primary teachers, practical kindergarten work, a Sunday school normal class and a M. I. A. normal class.

While the summer school aims especially to benefit the practical teacher, all who desire to become acquainted with the general principles and practices of education will find it profitable to attend.

ALL OVER IN HALF-AN-HOUR.

Judge Zane, Having Supreme Court Work on Hand, Adjourns Unexpectedly Today.

Chief Justice Zane disappointed quite a large number of attorneys who had assembled in the Third district court room this morning upon announcing, after sitting about twenty-five minutes, that he would then adjourn court for the day. The reason for this, his honor explained, was that he had some important Supreme court work to do, and he further stated that probably the only matter he would be able to take up tomorrow was a hearing on a rule to show cause, in which some important business was involved.

Judge Zane made the following orders, and then Bailiff Sprague announced the adjournment:

In the case of F. R. Ellis vs. Thos. J. Ellis et al., the demurrer was sustained and ten days allowed in which to amend.

Zetta H. Coffin vs. Sarah A. Campbell et al. Demurrer to amended answer and counter claim overruled; twenty days given in which to answer.

Arthur Meads vs. James Thomson et al. Motion for a new trial overruled and an exception taken.

Henry W. Watson vs. the Utah Nursery Company. Demurrer overruled; fifteen days to answer.

James Spillett et al. vs. Christian Jensen et al. Motion to retax costs submitted. One-third of taxed costs allowed against Casto and Hatley, by consent; $71.55 retaxed.

Utah Title, Insurance & Trust Company vs. John A. Groesbeck et al. Answer in this case was withdrawn and by consent decree entered for plaintiff, and $500 attorneys' fee—$250 each.

J. R. Burnham et al. vs. D. Alexander et al. George W. Towle was granted permission to intervene.

Lindsay vs. Lindsay. Leave given to defendant to answer within five days.

Court Jottings.

The damage suit of Nellie Kingsley against the Salt Lake Dramatic association came up in Justice Whitehorn's court yesterday afternoon. The sum claimed was $199. On March 16th the plaintiff and her counsel went into court and submitted their evidence. The defendants were not present, and judgment was accordingly rendered in favor of plaintiff for the full amount. Later the defendants made a motion that the default and judgment be set aside and the motion was granted. Hence the hearing yesterday. The plaintiff demanded damages on the ground that the defendants refused her admission to the Salt Lake Theater on March 2nd, after she had purchased a ticket entitling her to a seat. After the evidence and arguments had been heard the Justice took the matter under advisement until tomorrow (Saturday) morning.

Charles Rich and Peter Kiefe, charged as accomplices of J. W. Ratcliffe and J. W. Happel in the stealing of certain portions of an article on the from the Metallurgical Works in North Salt Lake recently, appeared for preliminary examination before Commissioner Greenman yesterday afternoon. His honor considered the evidence sufficient to warrant him in holding the defendants to the grand jury. Their bonds were fixed at $500 each.

Berdena Miller was granted a decree of divorce from J. P. Miller by Judge Hatch yesterday afternoon on the ground of failure to support. The defendant was in default.

The motion for the appointment of a receiver in the case of Margaret Kelly et al. vs. L. C. Clark et. al. was taken up in the afternoon and proceeded with up to the hour of adjournment.

In the case of Charles Hewes vs. S. P. Carlson, a stay of proceedings was granted pending a decision on a motion to set aside default and judgment.

World's Fair Notes.

The ladies of Springville have sent their exhibit to President Emily S. Richards of the Ladies Board of Territorial World's Fair Managers. The specimen of Utah linen, home-made from native flax, is the great feature of the display. There is in the entire piece twenty-three yards of unbleached linen, interwoven and trimmed with embroidery hand-made by Springville ladies and by ribbons of brilliant color. Among the other contributions from the same source are a number of antique relics and souvenirs, including a seventh century candle holder, with smoller attached; a pair of English slippers, worn by royal feet in England over a century ago, a souvenir ring ornamented with the picture of John Wesley; an inscription tells his time of birth and death and the date of the foundation of Methodism.

Same Short Orders.

Judge Zane yesterday afternoon made the subjoined orders:

James Spillett et al.; motion to retax and disallow costs argued and submitted.

Benedict Forrester vs. J. M. Kennedy et al.; demurrer withdrawn and twenty days to answer.

Arthur Meade vs. James Thompson et al.; motion for new trial argued and submitted and case dismissed as to defendant Maggie B. Thomson; judgment against other defendants to stand.

White River Loan & Savings company vs. E. J. Forrester; demurrer overruled and five days to answer.

M. H. Collin vs. S. A. Campbell et al; demurrer to amended answer argued and submitted.

Catherine Lail vs. the Herald Publishing company; demurrer overruled.

THEY MAY INCORPORATE.

This Refers to the Petitioning Residents of Sandy Town.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the County Court the petition of Sandy residents, asking that that town be incorporated, was taken up. The Mingo Bowler company appeared by their attorney, W. C. Hall, and opposed the petition on the ground that their property would be taken in the city limits and excessively taxed. C. E. Allen appeared for the petitioners. After listening to the arguments for and against the incorporation, Selectman Morris moved that the prayer of the petition be granted and the county attorney was instructed to draft a resolution for the action of the court at the next meeting. On roll call all members voted in the affirmative and the motion was declared carried.

PLEASE TURN IT OVER.

The county attorney was instructed to take what steps he deems necessary to compel the county collector to turn over to the county treasurer the sum of $28,000 collected from the banks of the city and paid under protest.

MISCELLANEOUS.

E. B. Wiess petitioned for relief from a double assessment. Referred to the county attorney.

The application of Fritz Miller of Bingham and J. A. Connelly of Murray for licenses to sell intoxicating liquors were granted and bonds approved.

The court will meet again tomorrow, (Saturday) afternoon.

Wool Growers' Meeting.

M. R. Parsons and W. H. Haigh, president and secretary of the Salt Lake County Wool Growers' association have sent notices announcing that their regular annual meeting will be held in this city tomorrow, April 8th, at 2 p. m. at the L. O. F. hall, 301 south, West Temple street.

The Stamp Problem.

"It's a shame," said the economical wife, "I thought I had a splendid idea, but these new postage stamps are too small!"

"Too small?" echoed her husband.

"Yes. I wanted to use them for window shades."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The Girl We All Love.

You will find she is frank, girlish, with an old-fashioned sentiment, charmingly developed, which recognizes her duty as a daughter toward the woman who stands her mother. The lovable girl understands that every day and all day cannot be devoted to holiday making, but that life holds duties without number.

She is a cheery little party, and so she goes about them in a brave and whole-hearted way that is simply irresistible. She can tread with a step light and gladsome when on an errand of mercy, as if shod with a pair of silk slippers, and bringing over a sweetness from

Ah, this is the girl who will brighten and not exhaust the life of the man she married. She can accept the thorns with the roses without a murmur. Submitting to the inevitable has prepared her to become a companion well worth the wooing and the winning.—Detroit Free Press.

ONE CENT

How Much will you Risk for One Cent?

THIS difference is gone between the PUTNAM NAIL and cheaper brands amounts to one cent to each purchaser.

Are you willing to use the cheap rubbish and thereby make with six fine hobbled disaster lines, in order to save that one cent?

The success of these manufacturers is marvelous. They are proud, determined, the iron and science to force, or coerce, so that after the point is sharpened and the nail is driven home that head is as necessary, hence a waste, and with a reliable brand, why pay that extra penny?

Now, this is what you can make the two or three hundred blows you should have to pay for a good house, but you will not save good nails.

Use the Putnam Nail.

It is Blue-Forged from the best Swedish iron rods, which is a working base, by the action of Hammers alone, and then Hammer-Painted.

Thus, the old hand process is followed, which was but forging nails under hammers, and hammer painting them by the stroke, cold, without any clipping or showing shabby.

AND THE NAIL CANNOT SPLIT.

But it will send you one cent more for each nail you drive!

The clerk will ever be found, and pass regular one cent for each nail.

ALL THIS ONE CENT.
