The Evening paper is the paper of Today, the morning paper is the paper of Yesterday.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

5 O'clock -EDITION.-

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 233. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1893. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVI

Office Copy

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

A Temporary Victory for the Repeal Men in the Senate.

THE EISTEDFODD AT THE FAIR.

Bad Labor Troubles in England.—A Rest Day for the Army Veterans.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—In the Senate, Gallinger introduced a bill to repeal all acts for the creation and maintenance of a sinking fund. Referred.

Resolutions were reported from the committee on privileges and elections, granting $250 each to John R. Allen (Washington), Lee Mantle (Montana) and A. C. Beckwith (Wyoming) for the time and expense in prosecuting their claims to seats in the Senate. Referred to the committee on contingent expenses.

The Vice President laid before the Senate the resolution of Voorhees changing the hour for the meeting of the Senate to 11 o'clock.

Voorhees said: "After full and careful consultation with the friends on this side of the chamber of the bill to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman act and in whose judgment I have been accustomed to confide and whose wishes I cannot disregard, I will say that the resolution go over for the present believing that if we occupy the time of the Senate carefully and conscientiously, we can make as much speed, perhaps, as by its adoption, until at least a later day."

The resolution was therefore laid over, when the resolution of Morgan, Ala., providing for a joint select committee of finance was laid before the Senate.

Voorhees gave notice that he would ask, and if necessary move, that it be referred to the finance committee. A sharp debate occurred between Voorhees and Morgan as to the right of the latter to occupy the floor.

Morgan asserted that the rules had been changed during his absence and when informed by the chair that they had not, said he was in order and proceeded to address the Senate in support of his resolution. At its conclusion the Senate, thirty-seven to twenty-one, agreed to the motion by Voorhees that Morgan's resolution should go to the calendar and the business proceeded with the discussion of the repeal bill.

This is interpreted as a temporary victory for the repeal men.

The Tariff Hearing.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The tariff hearing before the ways and means committee opened this morning with a jam of the dealers in metallic bedsteads against the imposition of the tariff thereon.

THE EISTEDFODD.

The Competitors at the First Contest.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—In the Welsh Eisteddod at the World's Fair in the competition for choruses of male voices for prizes of $100 and $50, seven choirs entered as follows (each choir counting fifty to sixty voices): Cambrian male chorus, Pittsburg; Wilkesbarre, Penn., male chorus; Hamlyn male choir, North Wales; Intermediate male choir, Salt Lake City; Gwent male choir, Kewaskum, Wis.; Rhondda male choir, South Wales; Iowa World's Fair male party, Hiteman, Iowa. The awards will be announced on Friday night.

This is Wednesday day at the Fair, and the crowds of sightseers from the neighborhood appeared on the grounds early. Governor Peck held a reception at the state building.

OUR SWEET SINGERS.

The competitive program in the Welsh Eisteddod against this afternoon with a grand organ selection and mass choruses by Mormon musicians.

THE ENGLISH STRIKERS.

Disorders Again Reported.—Residences Particularized.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The colliery strikes were again restless today. Reports from Alliston and Chesterfield are to the effect that disorders have again broken out. The residents are panic-stricken, a mob besieging the public house, and helping themselves to what they want. A force of dragoons has been sent to the scene. Coal is becoming very scarce. The Midland railway will have to lay off 30 passenger trains after Monday, because of the lack of coal.

Six hundred miners marched to Hoyland colliery, Yorkshire, overpowered a small force police, drove off the officials and set fire to the mine, seriously damaging the machinery and boilers. They then marched to the brewery, but the brewer saved his property by rolling so many barrels of beer. The crowd then proceeded to Denby and repeated the earlier performances. There is great excitement in the district. The rioting in Leeds continues and several persons were injured.

THE G. A. R. VETERANS.

Report of the Committee on Legislation.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 6.—This was a lazy day for the G. A. R. veterans. The first session of the encampment at 9 a.m. was set down as the first session of the Woman's Relief Corps and Daughters of the Regiment. This afternoon there were scores of regimental and union reunions and tonight there will be a dozen or more public and private receptions, with electric and natural gas display outside. Among the reports to the national encampment is that of the special committee on legislation. The object of the appointment of this committee was to secure the enactment of two federal laws almost totally disregarded for many years. The first, providing that those discharged from the military or naval service by reason of wounds or sickness, should have preference in the appointment to public offices, the other recommending the veterans to hold these men and firms the country of incentive employment. The first always a bill to that end was introduced in the last Congress, but it was amended so as to destroy its effect in the Senate, subsequently it was completely amended in the House, but failed to pass; that this bill has been reintroduced in both Houses at the present session, and that it is necessary to keep up the fight with vigor till it passes.

Governor Matthews, Senator Sullivan and Colonel Lilly, chairman of the executive committee, delivered addresses of welcome. Commander-in-chief Weissert responded. Then the encampment went into executive session to hear the report of the officers.

Commander Weissert in his report and address, reviewed the progress of the order during the year and referred to the loss to of General Rutherford Hayes and Thomas Hitler among the illustrious soldiers who had passed away, and to the excessive mortality among the rank and file. The report showed a total membership of 410,541, of whom 397,028 were in good standing. The gain in number was 24,013. For relief $777,849 had been expended during the year. The Women Relief Corps had disbursed $19,620.

PIRACY IN CHINESE WATERS

A Steamer Captured by a Gang of Bloodthirsty Robbers.

The Crew and Passengers Cruelly Massacred.—A Dutch Ship in Pursuit.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 6.—The steamship Empress of China brings news for many months. The coast of Acheen has been infested by native Chinese pirates. In July the private steamer of the Chinese consul at Penang all into their hands. Twenty-four men on board were murdered and fifteen seriously injured, and they carried off $20,000. The gang consisted of twelve Acheenese who had smuggled arms aboard and embarked as passengers. Opposite Hin Pang Hum they murdered the wounded and a man named Alexander, of Brooklyn, standing near. Then they turned the vessel around. A general massacre followed. Passengers and crew were indiscriminately slaughtered, including Captain Wood. Having secured $20,000 in American money the pirates left the vessel in two of the ship's boats, taking with them some of the passengers including two American women. Those of the crew who were left alive lowered another boat to go to their assistance, but the engineer remaining passengers were afraid to be left behind and rushed into the boat, sinking it. All were drowned. Subsequently the Dutch gunboat Macium appeared and rescued the remaining persons aboard. When the pirates returned they were fired on by the nine junks and driven off. Ten were killed. The Dutch warship is in pursuit of the pirates.

The Committee on Rules.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The committee on rules, presided over by Speaker Crisp, was this morning forced to publicly acknowledge the defeat in the House in the effort to lead the democratic majority and secure the adoption of a rule making a hundred members a quorum in the committee of the whole. When the House resumed the debate on the rules the announcement was made that the committee had agreed to the adoption of a rule making a hundred members a quorum in the committee of the whole. When the House resumed the debate on the rules the announcement was made that the committee had agreed to the adoption of a rule making a hundred members a quorum in the committee of the whole. Dockery (Mo.) moved to strike out the enacting clause of the rule. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the tenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eleventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the twelfth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the thirteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fourteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fifteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventeenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eighteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the nineteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the twentieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the twenty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the twenty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the twenty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the twenty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the twenty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the twenty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the twenty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the twenty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the twenty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the thirtieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the thirty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the thirty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the thirty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the thirty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the thirty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the thirty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the thirty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the thirty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the thirty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fortieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the forty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the forty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the forty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the forty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the forty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the forty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the forty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the forty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the forty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fiftieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fifty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fifty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fifty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fifty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fifty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fifty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fifty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fifty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the fifty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixtieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the sixty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventy-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventy-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventy-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventy-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventy-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventy-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventy-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventy-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the seventy-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eightieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eighty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eighty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eighty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eighty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eighty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eighty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eighty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eighty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the eighty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the ninetieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the ninety-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the ninety-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the ninety-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the ninety-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the ninety-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the ninety-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the ninety-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the ninety-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the ninety-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and tenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eleventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twelfth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fourteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventeenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and nineteenth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twentieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twenty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twenty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twenty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twenty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twenty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twenty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twenty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twenty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twenty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirtieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fortieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and forty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and forty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and forty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and forty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and forty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and forty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and forty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and forty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and forty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifty section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixty section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventieth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventy-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventy-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventy-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventy-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventy-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventy-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventy-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventy-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventy-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighty section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighty-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighty-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighty-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighty-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighty-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighty-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighty-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighty-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighty-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ninety section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ninety-first section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ninety-second section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ninety-third section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ninety-fourth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ninety-fifth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ninety-sixth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ninety-seventh section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ninety-eighth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ninety-ninth section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and two section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and three section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and four section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and five section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and six section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seven section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eight section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and nine section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and ten section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eleven section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and twelve section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and thirteen section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fourteen section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and fifteen section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and sixteen section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and seventeen section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays 116. Dockery then moved to strike out the one hundred and eighteen section of the rule, providing that the committee may sit during the sessions of the House. Adopted, yeas 135, nays