PROVO, UTAH, March 12, 1897.

Citizens' Railroad Meeting.

There was a large and spirited meeting of the citizens held last night in the opera house, to give expression to their sentiments in regard to granting or denying the petition of the Rio Grande Western Railway company for a right of way along H street, (the Factory street) which is now beyond the city connes.

W. H. Dusenberry was elected chairman and R. Bateman secretary.

The fellow ne resolution was introduced by Mr. S. S. Jones who moved its adoption, and spoke earnestly in favor of granting the company the desired franchise, pointing out the advantages that would come to Provo through being the junction, and of the suitability of H street with its water power (or a railroad street.

Resolved, That it be the sentiment and wish of this citizens' meeting that the city council of Provo City, grant the petition of the Rio Grande Western Railway company for the right of way on H street on such conditions and regulations as in their judgment may seem best.

Mr. John G. Graham moved to amend by striking out the portion referring to H street and inserting First West street (the street west of the city where the company first asked for a franchise.) Mr. Graham spoke earnestly in favor of the amendment, waiving his objections to the original resolution on the grounds of the danger it would be to have a railroad run through the center of the city.

Mr. G. W. Jacques also spoke against granting the franchise unless owners of frontage on property on H street could be remunerated for the depreciation which he held would result to the property.

Col. A. D. Gaff, Reed Smoot, R. A. Barney, William D. Roberts, Newell Knight and L. D. Holmes spoke in favor of the resolution and it was carried by an overwhelming majority.

Wayne Stake Conference.

The Wayne Stake quarterly conference convened at Loa, Wayne county, Utah, Saturday and Sunday, February 27th and 28th, 1897. There was present on the stand the Stake president, Patriarch, High Councilors and a good representation of the Bishoprics of the several wards.

After the usual opening exercises, Elder Willis E. Rowlen, president of the Stake, made a good report. The health of the people generally throughout the Stake is good, the Saints during the past year have paid a good tithing, and the people are measurably living up to their privileges. The school taxes are greatly lessened, so that there was some indifference on the part of the young people to disregard the counsels of their superiors, to prolong their school term, and to partake of these things that are strictly forbidden by revelation. The Elders at Lehi should be on the watch tower and present to the young by example as well as by precept.

Elder Hans M. Hansen endorsed the report of President Rowlen. A great change has taken place, since the speaker came to Fremont valley. The work in the Lord's vineyard and he acknowledged with gratitude, the blessings bestowed by God upon the people. We should prize our calling as ministers of the Gospel above all other things, and live to merit the favors of the Almighty, that His spirit may be with us in our administration.

Bishop Hansen reported his wards as a special Stake missionary in connection with Elder Carmon T. Bailie. The Lord has greatly blessed them; they have received the Gospel in power, healed the sick, comforted the distressed and enjoyed many manifestations of the power of God. The people have listened to them kindly and listened eagerly to their counsels.

Elder George Hunt was the first speaker in the afternoon, he gave a good report of the missionary labors of himself and Elder Charles Lee in the western part of the State. Never in his life had he enjoyed a greater portion of the Spirit of God than on the mission just completed, and he felt confident their labors would result in good to the people, both in and out of the Church.

President Franklin W. Young said he had visited nearly every settlement in the Stake since last conference in the interest of the home missionaries and High Priests; had given a few sermons and greatly rejoiced in his labors. The Saints have some exercise (not many) in the young people present, spoke upon the subject of tithing, the necessity of obeying the law strictly; said he he rejoiced with Elder George A. Smith that "the withering curse is the Almighty will rest upon any man who sells intoxicating liquors." He relates several incidents showing that the prophecy of Elder G. A. Smith had been fulfilled.

Bishop Walter E. Hanks and Levi C. Wattis reported the Catmwille and Giles wards in excellent condition, spiritually the Stake had never fared better, all meetings were well attended and the ward organizations were in good order. The people felt grateful to the Saints of Lehi and Provo who had rendered them aid and admonished to heed the necessities in the north-ward. They had been damaged much by the Bloomington dam; fail to get a walk to repair and thus up their devastated farms.

Elder Gomer S. Bailie spoke briefly upon the subject of charity. He said the interest of the youth of heart, and felt it to be the duty of all to labor for the young and do all possible to save them from the pit falls that lie in their path.

On Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the Sunday school met in joint session. After roll call and opening exercises, Sacrament was administered, during which time Elder Hans M. Hansen made appropriate remarks upon the sacrament. A Book of Mormon lecture was given by David Rust, subject "The Prophecy of Samuel the Lamanite," closed Lassley recited Eliza R. Snow's well-known poem, "Home." Elder Andrew Kimball gave a sketch of the life and labors of President Wilford Woodruff. Elders W. H. Jeffrey, Sidney A. Hanks, Gardner B. Bailie, Bishop M. W. Mansfield, B. F. Brown and Putnam Lassley recited Elder's well paid a high tribute to the sterling worth and noble character of President Wilford Woodruff, relating incidents and telling stories illustrative of some noble characteristic or virtue of this Prophet. The Spirit rested mightily upon the meeting, and many of the Saints, good men, and said fine talks as a pattern for the youth of Zion.

At the afternoon meeting Sacrament was administered, President John H. Blackburn spoke about the days of Nauvoo, and the exodus to the Rocky Mountains, related many properties made by the saints, Elder Joseph Lee and Israel Evans, encouraged the people to store up grain for times of familiar, and warned that those who fight against the authorities of the Church are in great danger of being led astray from the fold of Christ.

The general and Stake authorities were presented by Elder Hans M. Hansen, and were unanimously sustained.

Elder Hansen was pleased to see the fifty tithings; felt to bear a strong testimony to the great latter-day work.

Elder Joseph Kesterley discussed upon the Word of Wisdom; referred to the great promises made by the Lord to all who will obey that law, and pointed to President Wilford Woodruff as an example of the fulfilment of these promises.

Elder Willis E. Rowlen said it was received benefit from attending the conference; felt it was very refreshing to practice the teachings given.

The Lord has not required at man's hands any labor we are unable to perform; we should guard against our sympathies and be not overcome with complaints. He invokes God's blessing upon all the interests of the people.

Benediction by Elder Thos. A. Jeffery. JOSEPH KESSERLEY, Clerk of Conference.

NOISY TELEPHONES.

THE DISTURBED CONDITION OF SOME of the telephones in this city is due to the circuit control of the Utah Power and Light company, which operates the Light Office in the Union block. The circuit control is used to regulate the electric current so that the lights will not flicker, but the telephones are not affected by it. The electricians are doing every effort to overcome the noise of the circuit, and we believe it will be overcome in a few days. In the meantime we must ask the indulgence of telephone users, and assure them that the company is doing a remarkably generous work in furnishing the light at cost, and that every effort is being made to overcome the difficulty.

The telephone company is provided with an automatic circuit, so that if any person thinks the noise is due to other causes than the light company, it can be tested in a few minutes, after the current has been cut off. The telephone company is not responsible for the noise, and we believe it will be found that the light company will do all in its power to remove the difficulty.
