

THE EVENING NEWS.

Saturday, May 25, 1872.

PRICE OF GOLD.

Received Daily by BANK OF DESERET,
SALT LAKE CITY, May 25, 1872.
Buying at $1.12; selling at $1.14.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

MEETINGS IN THE TABERNACLE TOMORROW AT TEN AND TWO O'CLOCK, AND AT THE VARIOUS WARD MEETINGS IN THE EVENING.

EXCUSE.—We understand there will be an excursion on the steamer City of Corinne to-morrow.

THE GOOD MEETINGS.—The First Presidency, some of the Twelve and a number of other citizens left this morning for the purpose of attending the two days' meetings to-day and to-morrow at Ogden.

EDUCATIONAL.—The summer term of Mr. Karl G. Maeser's school, and selected evening classes, 20th Ward, commences on Monday, May 27th. Brother Maeser has a thorough understanding of his business, and had been conducting it for some time past, one of the largest schools in this city. For particulars as to the different branches taught by him we refer our readers to his advertisement in another column.

THEATRE.—A large audience assembled at the Theatre last evening, at the benefit of Mrs. Bates. Two Romeo and two Julietts are not often seen in the same play the same evening. After the performance Mrs. Bates was presented with a beautiful floral testimonial and a gold watch and chain by and in behalf of some of her friends.

This evening, the last of the engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Bates, they will appear in the tragedy of "Lear." Mrs. Bates personating the title role and Mr. Bates personating the character of "Edgar." The farce of "Bamboozling" will conclude the entertainment. Mr. Bates as "Captain Mardon," Mrs. Bates as "Emily." During the evening Miss Adams and Mrs. Margaret, Thorne, and Marden also appear.

The Majilons are announced as the next attractions.

PECCULAR WAYS.—If ever any spot on the wide earth was, at any period of the world's history, afflicted with grosser judicial humbuggery than has Utah been during the past two years so, we would like some one to point out to us the record of it.

We have heard during that time a most peculiar judiciary, with most peculiar notions and most singular partialities to themselves, and they still play "such fantastic tricks" before high heaven as make the angels weep. No, we will take no notice of that quipulation but we doubt its aptness. It is a matter of grave doubt as to whether angels have any consideration as to such perverse individuals. The "fantastic tricks" part, however, there can be no doubt about, for that is the use they generally make of "their little brief authority."

We do not suppose that any body would be in the least surprised at the announcement published a few days since that a judge in the southern part of the Territory had recently been made a legitimate officer thereof—the deputy of the Territorial Marshal. Notwithstanding the reputation of a simple officer of court we are surprised that it is an attorney who has advised his intention of acting in accordance with the recent decision of the U. S. Supreme Court. In the face of his renunciation of this intention we are informed that he has been acting in accordance with the decision, with a deputy U. S. Marshal, when the Supreme Court of the U. S. distinctly stated that the U. S. Marshal has no legal right to officiate in the Territorial courts except in the case of business coming under the law of the United States.

His proper action in accordance with the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, we presume he considers quite a concession on his part. But how he can reconcile his action with the legitimate intention of his is rather a knotty point. In taking the course he has he places himself in so ridiculous a light that one might almost be led to feel sorry for him, "very sorry," for if there be such a man as this he would be pardoned in an individual to suppose that this judge had got it bad.

There are many reasons why such characters should inspire contempt people with a sense of pity. It is better to indulge in that kind of a feeling, where possible, in preference to one of contempt, yet sometimes people cannot help being animated with an admiration of both, although the latter feeling is one of the unadvised. Such characters as these have a seriously defective mental organization, measurably impelling them to a course of irreconcileable contradictions. In such cases people should predictably think they may be ignorant which should increase the sympathy. In cases where people go adversely, however, to their own convictions of right, the consistent individual will help leading a degree of contempt for those pursuing such a cause.

EXCURSION TO DRAPER.—A large number of children and others who had tickets for the former school excursion and who had not an opportunity of going on that excursion, left the depot for Draper this morning, to spend the day recreating at that place. The weather could scarcely be more propitious for the excursions than it is to-day.

PERIODICALS.—"Scribner's Monthly" is a really elegant magazine. The woodcuts are neat, elaborate and artistic, and the reading matter is varied, interesting and instructive. There is an illustrated description of the ancient city of Warwick, and a profusely and beautifully illustrated continuation of the paper on Traveling by Telegraph, besides many other articles.

"Lippincott's Magazine" contains Scrambles Among the Alps and Constantinople, both illustrated, also "Père Rousard, A Draught on the Bank of Spain," London Clubs, and a number of other interesting articles. "Little's Living Age" for May 11 and 18 contain Kidnapping in the South Seas, A Country of Great Poets, Monks of La Trappe, English Civil War, The Jews as Poor Men, The Possibility of War this Year, and other articles selected from the ablest British periodicals.

For sale at Dwyer's Salt Lake News Depot.

BEE-KEEPING.—According to announcement a meeting of bee-keepers was held this morning at half past one o'clock. Moses Thurston, John Morgan, W. D. Roberts and S. H. Patman delivered addresses connected with bee-keeping. It was stated by the speakers that, owing to the unusual lateness of the season, and the stormy nature of the weather, but little honey had been produced the present year, that the bees had lost a great deal, nevertheless, that what had been lost in this way in the spring would be regained in the fall. Bee-keepers were recommended to sow alfalfa, and to be armed with a small proportion of timothy.

The meeting adjourned to re-assemble on the last Saturday in June.

UP AND DOWN.—Last evening John W. Pagan, a shoemaker, and another man quarreled and fought on East Temple street. The last mentioned individual was arrested by the police, and officer Phillips followed Pagan into his shop to arrest him.

He, however, struck the officer, threw him to the ground, and kicked him when he was down, and also attempted to bite him. As soon as Mr. Phillips could right himself he struck Pagan with brass knuckles and succeeded in arresting him. The case comes off on Monday evening June 12th.

Cases of resisting the officers in the discharge of their duties have been a great deal too prevalent lately, and we think the application of punishment to the full extent of the law might prove salutary as a preventive.

ABOUT AGAIN.—We were much gratified to see our friend, Brother N. H. Felt, to-day, who has so far recovered from his late long spell of illness as to be able to go out for an airing occasionally. As the number of his warm-hearted, sympathizing friends is "legion" and it would consequently be next to impossible for him to go around and express to each, individually, his appreciation of their kind attentions, he desires us to say that, through the news, that he feels exceedingly grateful to each and all, for the many manifestations of good feeling towards him during his illness.

Brother John Van Cott, who has also been sick lately, is convalescent.

ARRIVALS.

TENNESSEE HOUSE—May 21, 1872.

A. J. Nicholson, J. B. Arnold, Pittsburgh, Joseph Homer, Birmingham; F. Chalmers and wife, Liverpool; F. Henry and wife, Charleston, S. C.; Geo. Nowell and wife, Boston; John S. Parkington, wife and two children, Indianapolis, Ind.; Francis Cronin and wife, S. Lowell, Peabody, Mass.; Mary North, San Francisco; F. M. Roots and wife, Connersville, Ind.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

MEETINGS IN THE TABERNACLE TOMORROW AT TEN AND TWO O'CLOCK, AND AT THE VARIOUS WARD MEETINGS IN THE EVENING.

EXCUSE.—We understand there will be an excursion on the steamer City of Corinne to-morrow.

THE GOOD MEETINGS.—The First Presidency, some of the Twelve and a number of other citizens left this morning for the purpose of attending the two days' meetings to-day and to-morrow at Ogden.

EDUCATIONAL.—The summer term of Mr. Karl G. Maeser's school, and selected evening classes, 20th Ward, commences on Monday, May 27th. Brother Maeser has a thorough understanding of his business, and had been conducting it for some time past, one of the largest schools in this city. For particulars as to the different branches taught by him we refer our readers to his advertisement in another column.

THEATRE.—A large audience assembled at the Theatre last evening, at the benefit of Mrs. Bates. Two Romeo and two Julietts are not often seen in the same play the same evening. After the performance Mrs. Bates was presented with a beautiful floral testimonial and a gold watch and chain by and in behalf of some of her friends.

This evening, the last of the engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Bates, they will appear in the tragedy of "Lear." Mrs. Bates personating the title role and Mr. Bates personating the character of "Edgar." The farce of "Bamboozling" will conclude the entertainment. Mr. Bates as "Captain Mardon," Mrs. Bates as "Emily."

During the evening Miss Adams and Mrs. Margaret, Thorne, and Marden also appear.

The Majilons are announced as the next attractions.

PECCULAR WAYS.—If ever any spot on the wide earth was, at any period of the world's history, afflicted with grosser judicial humbuggery than has Utah been during the past two years so, we would like some one to point out to us the record of it.

We have heard during that time a most peculiar judiciary, with most peculiar notions and most singular partialities to themselves, and they still play "such fantastic tricks" before high heaven as make the angels weep. No, we will take no notice of that quipulation but we doubt its aptness. It is a matter of grave doubt as to whether angels have any consideration as to such perverse individuals. The "fantastic tricks" part, however, there can be no doubt about, for that is the use they generally make of "their little brief authority."

We do not suppose that any body would be in the least surprised at the announcement published a few days since that a judge in the southern part of the Territory had recently been made a legitimate officer thereof—the deputy of the Territorial Marshal. Notwithstanding the reputation of a simple officer of court we are surprised that it is an attorney who has advised his intention of acting in accordance with the recent decision of the U. S. Supreme Court. In the face of his renunciation of this intention we are informed that he has been acting in accordance with the decision, with a deputy U. S. Marshal, when the Supreme Court of the U. S. distinctly stated that the U. S. Marshal has no legal right to officiate in the Territorial courts except in the case of business coming under the law of the United States.

His proper action in accordance with the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, we presume he considers quite a concession on his part. But how he can reconcile his action with the legitimate intention of his is rather a knotty point. In taking the course he has he places himself in so ridiculous a light that one might almost be led to feel sorry for him, "very sorry," for if there be such a man as this he would be pardoned in an individual to suppose that this judge had got it bad.

There are many reasons why such characters should inspire contempt people with a sense of pity. It is better to indulge in that kind of a feeling, where possible, in preference to one of contempt, yet sometimes people cannot help being animated with an admiration of both, although the latter feeling is one of the unadvised. Such characters as these have a seriously defective mental organization, measurably impelling them to a course of irreconcileable contradictions. In such cases people should predictably think they may be ignorant which should increase the sympathy. In cases where people go adversely, however, to their own convictions of right, the consistent individual will help leading a degree of contempt for those pursuing such a cause.

EXCURSION TO DRAPER.—A large number of children and others who had tickets for the former school excursion and who had not an opportunity of going on that excursion, left the depot for Draper this morning, to spend the day recreating at that place. The weather could scarcely be more propitious for the excursions than it is to-day.

PERIODICALS.—"Scribner's Monthly" is a really elegant magazine. The woodcuts are neat, elaborate and artistic, and the reading matter is varied, interesting and instructive. There is an illustrated description of the ancient city of Warwick, and a profusely and beautifully illustrated continuation of the paper on Traveling by Telegraph, besides many other articles.

"Lippincott's Magazine" contains Scrambles Among the Alps and Constantinople, both illustrated, also "Père Rousard, A Draught on the Bank of Spain," London Clubs, and a number of other interesting articles. "Little's Living Age" for May 11 and 18 contain Kidnapping in the South Seas, A Country of Great Poets, Monks of La Trappe, English Civil War, The Jews as Poor Men, The Possibility of War this Year, and other articles selected from the ablest British periodicals.

For sale at Dwyer's Salt Lake News Depot.

BEE-KEEPING.—According to announcement a meeting of bee-keepers was held this morning at half past one o'clock. Moses Thurston, John Morgan, W. D. Roberts and S. H. Patman delivered addresses connected with bee-keeping. It was stated by the speakers that, owing to the unusual lateness of the season, and the stormy nature of the weather, but little honey had been produced the present year, that the bees had lost a great deal, nevertheless, that what had been lost in this way in the spring would be regained in the fall. Bee-keepers were recommended to sow alfalfa, and to be armed with a small proportion of timothy.

The meeting adjourned to re-assemble on the last Saturday in June.

UP AND DOWN.—Last evening John W. Pagan, a shoemaker, and another man quarreled and fought on East Temple street. The last mentioned individual was arrested by the police, and officer Phillips followed Pagan into his shop to arrest him.

He, however, struck the officer, threw him to the ground, and kicked him when he was down, and also attempted to bite him. As soon as Mr. Phillips could right himself he struck Pagan with brass knuckles and succeeded in arresting him. The case comes off on Monday evening June 12th.

Cases of resisting the officers in the discharge of their duties have been a great deal too prevalent lately, and we think the application of punishment to the full extent of the law might prove salutary as a preventive.

ABOUT AGAIN.—We were much gratified to see our friend, Brother N. H. Felt, to-day, who has so far recovered from his late long spell of illness as to be able to go out for an airing occasionally. As the number of his warm-hearted, sympathizing friends is "legion" and it would consequently be next to impossible for him to go around and express to each, individually, his appreciation of their kind attentions, he desires us to say that, through the news, that he feels exceedingly grateful to each and all, for the many manifestations of good feeling towards him during his illness.

Brother John Van Cott, who has also been sick lately, is convalescent.

ARRIVALS.

TENNESSEE HOUSE—May 21, 1872.

A. J. Nicholson, J. B. Arnold, Pittsburgh, Joseph Homer, Birmingham; F. Chalmers and wife, Liverpool; F. Henry and wife, Charleston, S. C.; Geo. Nowell and wife, Boston; John S. Parkington, wife and two children, Indianapolis, Ind.; Francis Cronin and wife, S. Lowell, Peabody, Mass.; Mary North, San Francisco; F. M. Roots and wife, Connersville, Ind.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

MEETINGS IN THE TABERNACLE TOMORROW AT TEN AND TWO O'CLOCK, AND AT THE VARIOUS WARD MEETINGS IN THE EVENING.

EXCUSE.—We understand there will be an excursion on the steamer City of Corinne to-morrow.

THE GOOD MEETINGS.—The First Presidency, some of the Twelve and a number of other citizens left this morning for the purpose of attending the two days' meetings to-day and to-morrow at Ogden.

EDUCATIONAL.—The summer term of Mr. Karl G. Maeser's school, and selected evening classes, 20th Ward, commences on Monday, May 27th. Brother Maeser has a thorough understanding of his business, and had been conducting it for some time past, one of the largest schools in this city. For particulars as to the different branches taught by him we refer our readers to his advertisement in another column.

THEATRE.—A large audience assembled at the Theatre last evening, at the benefit of Mrs. Bates. Two Romeo and two Julietts are not often seen in the same play the same evening. After the performance Mrs. Bates was presented with a beautiful floral testimonial and a gold watch and chain by and in behalf of some of her friends.

This evening, the last of the engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Bates, they will appear in the tragedy of "Lear." Mrs. Bates personating the title role and Mr. Bates personating the character of "Edgar." The farce of "Bamboozling" will conclude the entertainment. Mr. Bates as "Captain Mardon," Mrs. Bates as "Emily."

During the evening Miss Adams and Mrs. Margaret, Thorne, and Marden also appear.

The Majilons are announced as the next attractions.

PECCULAR WAYS.—If ever any spot on the wide earth was, at any period of the world's history, afflicted with grosser judicial humbuggery than has Utah been during the past two years so, we would like some one to point out to us the record of it.

We have heard during that time a most peculiar judiciary, with most peculiar notions and most singular partialities to themselves, and they still play "such fantastic tricks" before high heaven as make the angels weep. No, we will take no notice of that quipulation but we doubt its aptness. It is a matter of grave doubt as to whether angels have any consideration as to such perverse individuals. The "fantastic tricks" part, however, there can be no doubt about, for that is the use they generally make of "their little brief authority."

We do not suppose that any body would be in the least surprised at the announcement published a few days since that a judge in the southern part of the Territory had recently been made a legitimate officer thereof—the deputy of the Territorial Marshal. Notwithstanding the reputation of a simple officer of court we are surprised that it is an attorney who has advised his intention of acting in accordance with the recent decision of the U. S. Supreme Court. In the face of his renunciation of this intention we are informed that he has been acting in accordance with the decision, with a deputy U. S. Marshal, when the Supreme Court of the U. S. distinctly stated that the U. S. Marshal has no legal right to officiate in the Territorial courts except in the case of business coming under the law of the United States.

His proper action in accordance with the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, we presume he considers quite a concession on his part. But how he can reconcile his action with the legitimate intention of his is rather a knotty point. In taking the course he has he places himself in so ridiculous a light that one might almost be led to feel sorry for him, "very sorry," for if there be such a man as this he would be pardoned in an individual to suppose that this judge had got it bad.

There are many reasons why such characters should inspire contempt people with a sense of pity. It is better to indulge in that kind of a feeling, where possible, in preference to one of contempt, yet sometimes people cannot help being animated with an admiration of both, although the latter feeling is one of the unadvised. Such characters as these have a seriously defective mental organization, measurably impelling them to a course of irreconcileable contradictions. In such cases people should predictably think they may be ignorant which should increase the sympathy. In cases where people go adversely, however, to their own convictions of right, the consistent individual will help leading a degree of contempt for those pursuing such a cause.

EXCURSION TO DRAPER.—A large number of children and others who had tickets for the former school excursion and who had not an opportunity of going on that excursion, left the depot for Draper this morning, to spend the day recreating at that place. The weather could scarcely be more propitious for the excursions than it is to-day.

PERIODICALS.—"Scribner's Monthly" is a really elegant magazine. The woodcuts are neat, elaborate and artistic, and the reading matter is varied, interesting and instructive. There is an illustrated description of the ancient city of Warwick, and a profusely and beautifully illustrated continuation of the paper on Traveling by Telegraph, besides many other articles.

"Lippincott's Magazine" contains Scrambles Among the Alps and Constantinople, both illustrated, also "Père Rousard, A Draught on the Bank of Spain," London Clubs, and a number of other interesting articles. "Little's Living Age" for May 11 and 18 contain Kidnapping in the South Seas, A Country of Great Poets, Monks of La Trappe, English Civil War, The Jews as Poor Men, The Possibility of War this Year, and other articles selected from the ablest British periodicals.

For sale at Dwyer's Salt Lake News Depot.

BEE-KEEPING.—According to announcement a meeting of bee-keepers was held this morning at half past one o'clock. Moses Thurston, John Morgan, W. D. Roberts and S. H. Patman delivered addresses connected with bee-keeping. It was stated by the speakers that, owing to the unusual lateness of the season, and the stormy nature of the weather, but little honey had been produced the present year, that the bees had lost a great deal, nevertheless, that what had been lost in this way in the spring would be regained in the fall. Bee-keepers were recommended to sow alfalfa, and to be armed with a small proportion of timothy.

The meeting adjourned to re-assemble on the last Saturday in June.

UP AND DOWN.—Last evening John W. Pagan, a shoemaker, and another man quarreled and fought on East Temple street. The last mentioned individual was arrested by the police, and officer Phillips followed Pagan into his shop to arrest him.</p