THEY WANT PEACE.

France, Russia and Germany Concerted for the Welfare of Asia.

MOVE THEIR UNITED PROTEST

Against the Occupancy by Japan of Chinese Territory on the Mainland.

London, April 26.—Direct and positive information from official sources of a joint remonstrance on exact negotiations between Russia, France and Germany on one hand and Japan on the other. The Russian, French and German ministers yesterday interviewed the Japanese minister for foreign affairs, under instruction from their respective governments, and presented memorandums in which it was stated that the governments of Russia, France and Germany, upon examination of the terms of peace imposed by Japan upon China, have found that the possession of the peninsula of Liao Tung, proposed by Japan, would be a constant menace to the capital of China, and at the same time would render the independence of Corea, and consequently the peace of the East, illusory and precarious in fact.

In the same, and for other reasons, it would be, if we state, a constant menace to the permanent peace of the East, and, consequently, the governments of France, Russia and Germany, coming to share their sincere desire for the government of Japan, and for the sake of the interests of the empire and the possession of the peninsula of Liao Tung. The occupation of the Liao peninsula would make it plain that they were prompted in the way of hostility advice to the Japanese government, and are not intended in any way to convey any open or covert menace.

The information is gaining ground that Japan will agree to the friendly counsel of the United States as the friend nominal. The governments of Great Britain and Italy have made it plain that they do not intend to follow the example of Russia, France and Germany, and the great commercial country of the United States is the last, which the Japanese would longer resent. Japan would be very sure that the concerted action of the United States towards Japan, has compelled to believe the United States, for the present, at least, is not in a position to offer to aid in a Monroe or will prevent Japan from being expelled from the fruits of her victory. The fact that the Russian fleet is expected by the emperor, and it would be extremely difficult to make any effort. The only effect of Russia, France and Germany's action, is to make it encourage the party in China which is opposed to any moderate and immediate settlement, and thus to prolong the war.

It may be stated in the most positive form that the reports that far circulated regarding Japan's reply to the powers are not correct. The reply which took sent on late as the evening of the 23rd, and that information received from the highest and most responsible here, it may be stated with equity, while moderate and conciliatory in tone, will not contain any concession from which Japan regards as vital to her cause.

London, April 26.—The formal note by Russia, France and Germany, to the Japan minister to Japan, is expected to be long postponed, in expectation of the consummation of the Japanese peace very severely. The government will find it difficult and impossible, to keep without great risk of international trouble. The representations are waived, while more opportunities, if the cause lies, it is believed that the government will be compelled to do so or cease to meet the European view.
