The Pacific coast Counties conference will be held in Alameda, Cal., April 23, 24 and 25.

One hundred Great Danes are in Nebraska for John Cudy's Wild West show in Philadelphia.

During Monday's storm snow fell to the depth of ten feet at Palmer Lake, Colorado, blocking all trains.

Rev. J. H. Smith, the Philadelphia Methodist evangelist, is holding a ten days' revival in Oakland, Cal.

Philip Scott, a 17 year-old boy, was shot at Oakland, Cal., on Sunday, while playing with a pistol which he thought was not loaded.

The Tabernacle choir, of 175 voices, will be heard in the Sacred Concert in the Metropolitan Hall, San Francisco, this Wednesday evening.

Among the visitors to San Francisco on Sunday were J. Fenimore and Miss Fenimore of Beaver, Utah, who registered at the Grand Hotel.

Whitecaps are getting in their work at Tacoma, State of Washington. As a result a farmer named John Curry was beaten almost to death on Sunday night.

A firm of gardeners near Brighton, Arapahoe county, Colorado, are this spring setting a ten-acre patch to horseradish, having made a contract with a pickling factory for the product. A German gardener on the Platte a short distance above Denver has had fifteen acres in horseradish for years and has made money right along.

The wife of Hayward Hoyts, an English actor now in San Francisco, was divorced from him a few months ago on the ground of cruelty, and now she has taken leave to be estate of $600,000. A couple of weeks ago Hoyts married again, and now his second wife complains of his cruelty. He claims the English husband's "pastime" of chastising his wife by threshing her occasionally when he is out of humor.

In a fire in a dwelling in San Francisco on Sunday night, Frank Kemp, a seven-year-old boy, was burned to death, and his aged sire, Mr. Dinne, was so badly scorched that death resulted. The fire was caused by the boy's mother accidentally overturning an oil lamp. The father and mother succeeded in rescue the children and got them out, but the boy got dazed and ran back on the stairway. The parents were badly burned.

According to the Kingman, A. T., Miner, an electric railroad is to be built to Kingman and mining events north and south of it, and a company is being organized for that purpose now. It is estimated that the road and equipment will cost $150,000. As a result, the Miner says: "Kingman will be the center of one of the greatest mining sections of the United States and the projected electric line will be the means of making it one of the largest and most prosperous cities in the Territory."

Sacramento Bee-Union, April 13: A special train of eight Pullman cars and a baggage car will pass through the city tomorrow morning about 11 o'clock en route to San Francisco, containing 300 excursionists from Salt Lake City, Ogden. One hundred and seventy-five are members of the famous Mormon Tabernacle choir, and the remainder are friends and members who visit their company. The excursion is purely a pleasure trip, but eight concerts will be given by the choir on the coast, five in San Francisco, one in Oakland, one in San Jose and one in Sacramento. The excursionists, on their westbound trip, will stop in Sacramento long enough to take dinner. Returning in a week, they will give a grand concert in the Congregational church for which great preparations are being made.

Wm. Daley has large shearing and dipping pens near Pocatello, Wyoming. There is an alley way leading into his corrals and shearing pens that is 115 feet long and 10 feet wide. This lane was fenced last fall with green cottonwood poles. On December 23, a lot of lock sheep, which had been corraled in the pens, were driven out and turned in with the flocks and the gates of the alley way were securely closed, and no one will enter the pens until Friday, April 10, when one of Daley's men went out to the corrals to get a piece of paper. What was his surprise to find that one of the horses had been left in the alley way since December 23d, and was alive, though not very lively. He had eaten the bark off the trees and cottonwood poles, and gnawed his tether by hitching the snow in the alley way. The poles were stripped bare of all bark within reach and polished by the horse's teeth. He was taken up, washed and fed, and is a living illustration of the endurance of Wyoming climate and cottonwood bark, and is apparently none the worse for his temporary retention from active life.

CLAIM TOO MUCH.

But Has We Claim Too Much for the Success of Our Treatment Given at Zion's Medical Institute, Yet They Have Never Given Our Claims an Investigation, Much Less Do We Think Our Treatment and Medicines Are not They the Ones Who Claim too Much?

THE claim to have discovered some a thing of which they really know nothing. It is one we are claiming a good deal for our wonderful success in the healing profession and success of the remedies. Success that we feel we can prove to any intelligent and persistently cure all of those diseases, they claim and claim that cannot cure which have so long baffled the skill of our medical profession, and which have resisted the treatment of thousands upon thousands of other physicians, who have tried in vain to cure them. But we do not claim to do so in our case, but we do claim that we can cure all those diseases which we specialize on, and we do claim that we can do so with more success and success of success.

For proof of these claims we refer to the thousands of testimonials from those who have been cured by our treatment of the most famous specialists in the world.

Our success and our success are what our patients say of us.
