ADJACENT CITIES

OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, - APRIL 4, 1894.

Gone to Evanston.

It was rumored about the city yesterday that Tom Twiggs, the negro who was arrested last Saturday charged with adultery with a white woman named L. A. Montgomery, would be taken to Evanston, and that he will his lady save about for that point to be joined to the bonds of matrimony in order to escape punishment from the court.

Fire.

An alarm was sent in from Box 35 at an early hour this morning to which the fire boys made a quick response. The fire was in a small frame building on 23d street. Damages amount to about $200.

In the Courts.

In the case of W. J. Carney (of winnery), alleged to have been connected with a Mrs. Parmley, the defendant was found not guilty by the jury and accordingly discharged.

The case of Frank Moran and Frank Hamilton, the alleged burglars and hold-ups, came up in the Fourth district court yesterday afternoon. Over two hours were occupied in impanneling a jury; the jury consist of all nonresidents of Ogden City. The defense will unquestionably make a hard fight.

Notes.

The county court held its regular weekly session yesterday with all members present.

Real estate transfers amounted to $1,411 yesterday.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, - APRIL 4, 1894.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.

Another Murder Case.—Mason Found Guilty of Passing Counterfeits.

The jury in the case of the United States vs H. F. Mason, passing counterfeit dollars, returned a verdict of guilty. Mason waived time for sentence and was sent to the penitentiary for six months.

The case of the People vs C. H. Hallet and James H. Smith, murder, came on for trial, and the empaneling of a jury was proceeded with. Judge Judd and W. H. King appear for the prosecution, and George Sutherland for the defense.

Hallett and Smith are charged with the murder of Hugh Grant at Woodworth on February 28th, 1894. It appears that Hallet and Grant had terms and ranches in close proximity. A land dispute arose between them, and Grant, who had been in the habit of using a part of Hallett's land as a highway, was by Hallett forbidden the premises. Grant, however, continued to traverse the land. On February 28th a quarrel ensued between the two, in which Smith, who was living with Hallett, took a part. During the controversy Smith drew his revolver, and shot Grant, killing him. The defense claim that Grant was the aggressor—that he started to draw a weapon with the threatened purpose of killing Hallett.

Re Stole Clothing.

Thomas Riley of P. V. Junction, has been sent to the county jail by Justice Crane, for stealing from a house in Clear Creek, coat, vest, pants, shoes, hat, etc. In view of his being a young man and a tribunal, a charge of housebreaking was not preferred against him.

OBITUARY NOTES.

PASSING FROM FIRST PARENTS.

ARIMON, SANPETE COUNTY, UTAH, April 3, 1894.—The subject name is Chronicle another death in my family, this time that of my honored and aged mother, who peacefully passed away at 4:45 a. m. March 29th, after an illness of eight months.

Her maiden name was Caroline Belle Pixon, born February 15, 1816, in the township of Gouverneur, St. Lawrence county, New York. At the age of 17 years she married Mr. Salmon Adamson Palmer, who died nineteen years ago. She was the mother of twelve children, eight of whom are living, and all married. She has thirty-two grandchildren living, forty great-grandchildren living, six great-great-grandchildren living.

Grandmother Palmer joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in December, 1843, and was one of the emigrants to Illinois that passed through Nauvoo and underwent the mobbing with the Saints in that state. Was called upon to assist her husband in the work of the temple, and helped to carry the stone from the quarries, and her husband was one of the workmen for the temple. Her home then was in Nauvoo, and she was one of those who had to flee from their homes in the middle of the night, and leave their all behind them, and go to the wilderness for safety. Grandmother Palmer was one of those who had to cross the Mississippi river in the winter, and she used to tell how the people had to chop a hole and feel their way with the poles, for it was so dark they could not see the ice in the river. Mother was at the organization of the Relief Society, and was most active in the battle of the Prophet Joseph Smith to save him from mobbers, and administered to the sick, sustained the wounded, fed the hungry, endured hardships, etc., in the Prophet's Nauvoo, and was called upon to be the family agent, and to her husband in jail on Carthage, and was present at the martyrdom of Nauvoo. Mother arrived in Utah in 1852, settled in Ogden city, and was present when the first corner stone of the Ogden temple was laid. Mother was a most energetic sister in Israel, and was most active in the work of the Lord. Mother was a most faithful Latter-Day Saint, and died in full fellowship in the Church of Christ
