EDITORIAL NOTES.

The New York Bible House reports that not a single copy of the revised New Testament has been sold in four months.

The national council of the Cherokee nation, now in session, has a majority in both houses against the administration of Chief Bushyhead. This is at least the claim of the Unionist, led by Charles Thompson, and they promise a general stirring up of administration affairs and the overthrowing of the record of the last council.

A New York professor of music says banjo playing has come to be a fashionable diversion with young ladies of society, and that he has a number of pupils from among the alleged aristocracy. It must be interesting to see the young women as they sit in the parlor with one knee high above the other, thumping a plantation breakdown.

The recent Florida enactment for bidding licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors, except upon a petition of a majority of the voters of the election district, has been considered by the Supreme Court and the constitutionality of the act affirmed. The people in any election district may hence declare absolute prohibition if they choose.

Among the latest batch of erratic suicides are these: A Texas lawyer, because he lost a case; a Kansas miller, because a dam he had just built did not hold enough water to turn his wheel; an Indiana man, because an old woman would not get well; a Maryland woman, because she got religion; an Illinois farmer, because the plowing did not suit him.

There is a prevalent German story of recovery from a trance. A man died, as it appeared. He was about to be buried when he came to life and burst the lid of his coffin. He was hastily removed from the grave, and rapidly recovered health. During his seeming death he heard all that was said about him. He changed his will.

New York society receives Henry Irving with open arms, but frigidly refuses to accept Miss Terry, of his company, upon any terms. Both are married, but have separated from their lawful companions, and in claims to social recognition they are upon the same ground. To punish in one case and condone in the other is individual injustice and demoralizing to society.

After a temperance sermon had been preached in an English country town two weeks ago, a collection was taken up for the benefit of one of the temperance societies. Three gentlemen passed the plates; one was a wine merchant, one an excise officer, and one a brewer's traveling salesman. About as consistent as those who utter swelling words about freedom and then clamor for a legislative commission for Utah.

Mr. Henry Irving, in his "Stage Door," gives an amusing picture of his failure as a reader in the autumn of 1858, when only two years on the stage. The "Lady of Lyons" was the reading announced, Lindbergh the place, his manager, Mr. Baker, the audience. In the autumn of 1873, just twenty years after, he gave a lecture near the same place for the sufferers by the Glasgow Bank's failure, and realized a large amount.

Good Methodists will do well to mind their p's and q's at prayer meeting. Last Tuesday five pious Louisianans got into a fight which came near being of the Kilkenny sort, all because last Sunday night one of the brethren shouted amen at the wrong time. Words led to blows, and flags to weapons, until both parties—three on one side and two on the other—were besmeared with blood and crippled with broken bones.

The late Dr. Edward Smith, F. R. S., has pointed out that "Tea is not adapted to sustain exertion; it is hurtful in the absence of food, after a long fast, (as at breakfast) to the poor and ill-fed, the spare and the young, to prison dietaries, to low temperatures or to hot climates, when the appetite is defective and the skin active, or to those who perspire too freely. Neither should it be taken with our principal meal. It is useful to the corpulent and the over-fed, after a full meal at the end of the day, acting as a fillip to digestion. For the sedentary, for those who do not perspire freely, and for those who eat much starchy food, it is clearly not a flesh former.

A Chicago writer declares that, in a New York theatre, he was struck by the extra vigor of the noise at a point back of the balcony seats. Straightaway he went up stairs and got to the place in time to investigate. An usher was in a condition of wild yet methodical activity. The amount and variety of the sounds which he was making were astounding. He was clapping his hands, and so changing the contact alternately from fingers to palms that the effect of a dozen different hands was produced. He was stamping on the floor with one foot and kicking the back of the seat with the other. He was crying "Bravo!" and only interrupting his repertoire of exclamations when he shrilly whistled. His aggregate of sounds was estimated by the observer as equal to the loudest applause of a hundred men.

THE LATEST EXTINGUISHER.

The season's crop of remedies for the cure of "Mormonism"—especially polygamy—is unusually full. Some of the specifics are watery, while others give evidence of a solidification of sense.

Dora Danmore, who visited this city some time since, imagines she has discovered a potent extingisher. She is out in an article in the latest number of Dio Lewis's Monthly. Discarding all the other prescriptions, she says: "Send out to Utah not an army of school marms, or milliners, but an army of moral, indu-rour, intelligent young men to marry these bright 'Mormon' girls, and you have solved the problem of polygamy. Give these girls a chance to throw off the fetters of the 'Mormon' Church. It is the young women of Utah, and not the men, to whom you must look for the solution of the 'Mormon' question. Another generalization with it settled in this way, will see polygamy wiped out of the land."

There are a few considerations which Dora appears to have overlooked.

Before prescribing for the extingishment of polygamy in Utah, she should first ascertain whether any plural marriages are being consummated. The Commission have reported to the effect that, from all they could learn, but few if any have occurred for some time.

Then about the army of exemplary young men who are to enter into the solution business. By what process are the fit and virtuous to be mobilized? Are they to carry certificates of good conduct from Dora or some other excellent woman willing to answer for their good behavior?

Should the idea be carried out we would be pleased to receive due notice regarding the particular train by which they would arrive, that a few juvenile brass bands may have time to turn out and play on the platform "See the conquering heroes come."

The young ladies would, if due warning were given, have an opportunity to view the gallant army, as they marched single file or two abreast from the railroad depot. Single file would be the better way, as those who comprised the intelligent moral, industrious host would be thus induced to exhibit to the admiring gaze of the interested on-lookers.

Perhaps it is premature to suggest details, but would it not be a good plan to have them ranged in rows along East Temple Street, that the young ladies who wanted any of them might have the opportunity of making a selection, the same as some of them do when they examine most of the stock on the shelves of a store when they wish to purchase a dress pattern or a few yards of ribbon?

Each member of the proposed "salvation army" should have a badge with an inscription such as—"This moral, industrious and intelligent young person belongs to the army of anti-Mormonism. Unionists, according to the 'Marriage Relation,' none but bright young 'Mormon' girls need apply."

THE WORK OF PREPARATION.

Since the outbreak of the persecution of the Jews in Russia, the Jewish population of Palestine has considerably increased. It is now computed at about 39,000, of whom 18,000 are in Jerusalem and vicinity, and from 10,000 to 15,000 in Safed and the surrounding neighborhood.

We believe the hand of Providence to be in the present antagonistic attitude of some of the leading nations toward the Hebrews. The abuse and, in many instances, horrible atrocities to which they have been subjected in Russia and Poland, and the vindictive spirit exhibited towards them in Germany are not likely to have any rapid abatement. If the Jews are allowed no rest for their feet in the countries in which they are the most numerous, the situation may lead them to consider more and more strongly the feasibility of forming an organized nationality in the land of their fathers. During the last few years numerous societies have been formed in various parts of Europe whose object is the operation of measures for the colonization of Palestine by the Jews.

According to the prophecies of Joseph Smith, the process of establishing the Hebrews in the promised land will soon be in active and extensive operation. In connection with that department of the great latter-day work there will be some startling contemporaneous situations, as it will proceed at a time when there will be great commotion among the nations, a condition that according to every indication, is now imminent.

The gathering of the Jews will soon be one of the most prominent and interesting events of the age.

ANTICIPATING WAR.

The other day, General Wm. T. Sherman attended a meeting of the Military Service Institution on Long Island. In the course of a speech delivered on the occasion, the clear-headed veteran said:

"America is only on the threshold of her history, and the American government is to play the part of protector of the human family. The whole world turns to us to see what the result of our experiment in government will be. We do not believe in the divine right of kings to rule, but we do believe that the Almighty rules, and by laws almost too infinite for us to understand. We are the first people who try as a people to understand these laws. We have passed through the measles and the whooping cough of history, and now national manhood begins."

"As I said before, there will always be war on the earth. If a large war should come to us, that would be easy to take care of. It is the civil war which is worse. May be it will be between labor and property."

There is a good deal of the statesman as well as soldier in the grim humor of the composition; it is not an ordinary man's. He reasons clearly from cause and effect, and apprehends that the fierce antagonisms now existing in the social body will ultimately culminate in a ferocious struggle for supremacy. The occasional outbreaks all over the country are but the gathering of the clouds before the bursting of the storm. We are afraid that the anticipations regarding the future expressed by General Sherman are only too well grounded.

THE COUNTY CLERKSHIP.

The fact of there having been no change of incumbent of the office of the clerkship of Salt Lake County since the late general election, has been the subject of considerable current remark. Mr. John C. Cutler duly qualified some time since, and was prepared to assume the duties of the position, but Mr. Bookholt, the out-going clerk, has explained that it would be inconvenient and difficult for him to turn over the affairs of the office to his successor in the midst of a term of the County Court, and desired that he be allowed to continue until the 1st of December. His request was acceded to, and on the date named Mr. Cutler will assume the active duties and responsibilities of the office to which he was recently elected.

Universal Railroad Wrath.

CHICAGO, 14.—The general passenger and ticket agents of the roads trans-Continental, Great Northern, and Union Pacific, have issued a circular in accordance with the Topeka convention, directing connecting lines to withhold the sale of tickets via San Francisco to points in Oregon, Washington Territory and British Columbia, and all tickets to San Francisco via St. Paul, Portland, Portland, General passenger agents of roads west from this city are in receipt of information that Commissioner Pierson has ordered New York trunk lines to discontinue selling through tickets from the East to points west of Chicago and St. Louis. This is to overcome alleged abuses growing out of ticket scalping, the new regulation of the Topeka Convention compels travelers to repurchase their tickets after reaching the two cities named, and the action is indignantly resented by the officials of Western roads.

All Saved but Two.

SAUGATUCK, Mich., 14.—All the men on the tug Protecion are safe except two. The schooner was sunk off Racine early on Sunday morning. The Protecion was disabled while taking off the crew of the Arab, by a rope catching in her wheel. Of 19 men on the two vessels 17 were saved. The captain went down with the Arab.

A Good Gun.

WASHINGTON, 14.—An Ordinance Department officer stated to a National Republican reporter, last evening, that the contract for manufacturing 100 2 1/2-inch bronze life-saving cannon of the Lyle gun type, this supply is intended to complete the equipment of the new life saving stations, as well as to furnish several of the old ones and to have a reserve on hand. The Lyle gun was invented in 1873, and foreign governments say it is the most superior life saving gun ever invented.

The projectile, also invented by Captain Lyle for life-saving purposes, is known as the "grapple shot." It is fired through the rigging of a stranded vessel with a life-boat attached, and the peculiarity is that the shot invariably "grapples" somewhere. Its peculiar whistle which can be heard far above the roar of the sea, shrieking of the winds, and cracking of the masts, is a cheering sign to unfortunate seamen.

Snow.

MONTREAL, Quebec, 14.—The snow storm has continued here all night and it has not ceased to snow to-day.

Unhappy Evidence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., 14.—Garland resumed his testimony on the Protes court of inquiry. He said he never saw the instructions given Capt. Wilber of the Yankee until his return to St. John. His own instructions ordered him not to stop at Littleton Island on the way up and he obeyed them. He went south in hope to meet the Yankee and find some way of returning to help Greeley.

Stocks.

NORFOLK, Va., 14.—A fire broke out in the freight warehouse of the Norfolk & Western Railroad depot to-day, and rapidly extended to other freight houses, consuming 7,000 boxes of cotton, 50 car loads of lumber, 12 cars and a quantity of miscellaneous freight. The warehouse of the company are badly damaged. Loss estimated at $300,000.

Russia and Germany.

Berlin, 14.—The National Zeitung says: Bismarck expressed warm friendship for Germany and declared he stopped at Berlin by the express wish of the Czar in order that he might convey to the Emperor of Germany and Bismarck expressions of the friendly feelings of Russia toward Germany.

O'Donnell the Slayer.

London, 14.—The preparations for O'Donnell's defence are well advanced. Roger A. Fryer had a long and satisfactory interview with the prisoner to-day, the first since his arrival. McNery, of O'Donnell's counsel, has brought from Ireland a mass of evidence, and he feels confident that the verdict will not be a wilful murder. The witnesses from the Cape of Good Hope are expected to arrive in London on Saturday.

Wm. J. Hopkin, Secretary of the American Legation, in the absence of Minister Lowell, visited O'Donnell and formally ascertained the fact of his American citizenship.

Dr. Stocker on Bismarck.

Dr. Stocker, Chaplain to the German Court, lectured upon "German Socialism" to-day, at Memorial Hall, instead of the Mansion House. A large and unruly crowd was present. They frequently cheered, hissed and groaned, and the lecturer was interrupted by hissing cries and epithets. Finally the disturbance became so great that Dr. Stocker indignantly left the hall and the meeting ended in confusion.

Chief Ju, the Apache, who has made so much trouble down on the Southwest border, has been killed again. The last time he was killed he fell from his horse while drunk and broke his neck, but he didn't stay dead. This time he was being pursued and attempted to leap a gulch that was too wide.
