AMNESTY GRANTED

By the Spanish Government to a Number of Military and Political Exiles.

ZORILLA REFUSES TO ACCEPT THE PARDON.

He Hopes to Unite With the Portuguese in a General Revolution.

By Telegraph to the News.

SENOR ZORILLA

Refuses the Offered Amnesty and Works for a Revolution.

MADRID, July 25.—A majority of the military exiles will accept the amnesty granted by the government and return to this country. Senor Zorilla, the exiled Republican leader, with a few other prominent political exiles, refuse to accept the amnesty however, being immediately to act in concert with the Portuguese revolutionists in a general Iberian Republican uprising.

Revolution of Xima on Easy Terms.

BERLIN, July 25.—The Tory press concede that the recent Liberal victory greatly narrows the anti-union cause.

The Times, commenting on the result of the Wisbeck parliamentary election, says: "This defeat is the worst the unionists have sustained. Gladstone has at length obtained an argument supporting the predictions he has made of Liberal success at the general election. The reverse is not due to popular adoption of home rule, but rather to the Union-Liberals withdrawing their support from the Conservatives under the belief that the time had come when they can again exercise the freedom of choice in politics."

The Chronicle says: "The result is due to the Conservative candidate adopting the protection cry. The laborers recognize that protection for farmers will not increase their wages. They voted for the Gladstonian candidate, believing the radical measures had better be entrusted to a radical government."

The Daily News is jubilant and says: "The result is a proof that the country generally is willing to reverse the decision of 1886."

The Behring Sea Difficulties.

LONDON, July 25.—Sir James Fergusson, political secretary of the foreign office, says he has reason to believe, very shortly, satisfactory arrangements will be made with the United States Government in regard to the arbitration in the Behring Sea dispute.

The Money Stringency in Portugal.

LONDON, July 25.—The British savings banks issued here on Twenty-two per cent. premium. The bank of Portugal is supplying the employes of labor with a limited amount of silver currency, and further supplies will be necessary to pay the troops and laborers on public works.

The Copyright Law.

LONDON, July 25.—The official correspondence relating to the copyright law has just been issued. Lord Salisbury, in a communication to United States Minister Robert T. Lincoln under date of June 15 says, that the contemporaneous publication in a foreign country does not prevent the author from obtaining English copyright; also that residence within her majesty's dominions is not necessary to an alien to obtain English copyright.

England Wants to be Protected.

LONDON, July 25.—At a crowded meeting in this city, at which Bishop Bedell presided, resolutions were adopted protesting against the unrestricted influx of destitute aliens into England and demanding the government to take such measures as would prevent the entrance into the country of such undesirable persons. The resolutions were supported by a number of prominent members of the House of Commons who were present.

The Wheat Trust Combine.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Today a reporter interviewed W. C. Crum, general manager of the New York bureau of the National Farmers' Alliance and Press Association, touching the so-called wheat trust combine among the farmers. He denied that any such combination had been formed. The suggestion was made, he said, some time ago that farmers would do well to hold their wheat for remunerative prices, in preference to allowing it to fall into the hands of speculative speculators. On this advice word was sent out through the bureau of the reform press a few weeks ago, advising farmers to hold their wheat.

Several sub-alliances in Illinois met and passed resolutions to this effect, which were published in the Alliance papers, there being no effort to conceal the fact whatever. Crum said an attempt to make it appear now as if something had resulted from the matter prematurely was in keeping with many similar attempts to invest certain ambitious leaders with an air of importance by claiming their ability or worth.

Editor Crum, who is practically a farmer himself and thoroughly posted in the schemes as narrated, says he does not believe intelligent farmers will be caught with such chaff. He is convinced that certain schemes are trying to work the Farmers' Alliance for all it is worth, for selfish and political purposes. As for a combination among the farmers, Crum said:

"I would be very glad if the farmers could, by combination, secure good prices, especially for wheat. A report coming from St. Paul states that Ignatius Donnelly was opposed to the wheat trust among the farmers, betrays the demagogery of the whole plot, for while championing the cause of the farmers, he is well known as a Knight of Labor leader in the West. He is looking for the presidential nomination in 1892. He hesitates to urge the wheat combine which would effect the price of bread of those whom suffrage we must have.

"While I favor any plan which will contribute honestly to the farmers' welfare, I have doubts of the efficiency of a policy of the farmers holding too long upon their wheat. It takes money to move as well as to buy wheat, and if held too long and the world's crop turns out larger than anticipated, a crash would be inevitable, more disastrous in its consequences than dreamed of in the philosophy of the most pronounced Alliance doctrine."

Senator Plumb with the President.

CAPE MAY, July 24.—Senator Plumb of Kansas had a conference with the President this morning. Secretary Foster left for Philadelphia this afternoon. Heavy rain prevented the President from going out this morning. For an hour or more he was busily engaged with Secretary Halford. The President appointed the following postmasters: California, Wm. J. Baggerstaff, Lake Port; Oregon, James S. Howard, Medford.

Relating to Copper Production.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The census office today issued a bulletin relating to copper production in the United States. The production shows that the United States is the largest producer of copper in the world, the product for the year 1889 being 526,046,202 pounds, or 113,028 short tons. The total expenditures involved in the production were $12,962,189. The total capital invested was $40,623,525, and the employes 8121. The five leading States in its production of copper are Montana, 98,222,444 pounds; Michigan, 80,455,871 pounds; Arizona, 74,664,185 pounds; New Mexico, 9,000,317 pounds; Colorado, 1,170,061 pounds.

The bulletin says since the tenth census report Arizona and Montana have made wonderful progress in the mining and production of copper, and today Montana leads all other States in this production, its product exceeding that of Michigan, which has heretofore been the leading producer, by 16,591,760,769 pounds.

Other States producing copper were: Idaho, 18,400 pounds, Nevada, 25,436; Utah, 66,937; California, 151,535; Wyoming, 100,000; Vermont, 12,000; Southern States, 16,144 pounds.

Lead smelters and refineries produced 7,249,442 pounds.

The Situation at Lima Serious.

PANAMA, July 24.—Owing to the Chilean government having prohibited the exportation of wheat and flour to the northern ports, the situation is assuming a serious aspect at Lima, and is being taken into serious consideration by the Peruvian government. The Peruvian consul at Valparaiso has been requested to give the authentic information on the subject in order to decide the course to be adopted. Undoubtedly the question is one of great importance, as it will concern all the whole Peruvian coast is made of foreign wheat grown in Lima mills, and the greater part of the wheat comes from Chile, but all that the Peruvian Government can do is to give official notice of the fact to the public and let each one find for himself the means to meet the difficulties that will naturally arise.

Owing to Balmaceda's prohibitory decree, the price of bread has already risen considerably, but this will probably not last long, as orders were sent immediately to San Francisco for a large supply of wheat that should arrive about the middle of the present month.

A Compromise Effected.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 24.—The miners' committee, at a meeting this afternoon, adopted resolutions which afterwards were signed by the Knoxville committee of citizens and also approved by the governor and attorney general. In the resolution the miners agree to allow the convicts and guard to return to the cabins and promise the use of all ordinary caution and honorable means to prevent any further interference, expressing confidence that the Legislature will repeal the obnoxious law. They agree to connect themselves as law-abiding citizens so as to maintain the confidence and sympathy of the public. They express their thanks to Governor Buchanan for "considerately holding the militia in Knoxville, thereby preventing a conflict which might have resulted in bloodshed." They also express gratitude to the citizens' committee for counsel and advice in the adjustment of the difficulties.

The militia will return to their homes tomorrow and the convicts will be returned to Brimstone and Coal Creek. The miners' committee will accompany the latter so as to guarantee protection to the convicts. This ends all the trouble.

Between San Francisco and Australia.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Postmaster-General Wanamaker has informed the postmaster-general of New Zealand that under the recent act of Congress to provide for ocean mail service between the United States and foreign ports, limiting the compensation to outward voyages, he is endeavoring to arrange for a fast fortnightly service between San Francisco and Australia, via New Zealand, calling alternately at Wellington and Auckland. He says he transmits this information in order that the postmaster-general of New Zealand, if he so desires, may co-operate. In second, quicker communication and regulating the return voyages in the interests of his country.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

THE ROAD OPENED.

The Hot Springs Railway in Running Order.—Mr. Beck's Projected Improvements.

On Thursday evening the Great Salt Lake and Hot Springs railway was formally opened. The celebration took place at Beck's Hot springs. There were fully 500 invited guests present, representing the merchants and business men of Salt Lake City, as well as the farmers and business men of Bountiful and Centerville. Trains left the Union depot, Salt Lake City, at 7, 8 and 9 p. m., each bringing a large contingent to the springs.

At the springs a long bar was extemporized, over which a dozen white-aproned waiters presided. There was an abundance of refreshments of all kinds. Piles of sandwiches built up like cannon balls in an arsenal graced the board. Then there was claret punch, lemonade and other liquid refreshments. Everything was free and unfettered. The genial face of Mr. Beck was noticed here and there as he exhorted visitors to make themselves at home and not to be at all bashful about appreciating the viands. After the visitors had fully satisfied themselves with the good things provided, they were prepared for something intellectual.

Mr. Simon Bamberger opened the oratorical symposium by extending on behalf of Mr. Beck and other owners of the road a hearty welcome to all present. Continuing he said: "This road is as well equipped and well-conducted as any in the United States. We have adopted all the modern improvements in the way of chamberlain cars, air-brakes, etc. The road will be extended to Centerville as soon as circumstances will permit. We have adopted a train service schedule that will meet the needs both of our traveling public and of the health or pleasure-seekers. Trains will be run at regular intervals from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. I wish to express my thanks to the City Council, city engineer, superintendent and to the people along the line for the help and assistance given me in pushing our enterprise to completion."

The speaker then closed by assuring the public that the new road would never get mixed up in pools, or combines, or trusts with other companies, and that it would always maintain its individuality, and be operated for the benefit of the community.

Colonel Lett next took the stand. He said: "I am full," which here was a general laugh among the crowd, several saying that if not "full" it was its own fault. But the gallant colonel concluded that saving the illuminee which are his outer characteristics and resumed by saying: "I am full to admiration and commending the Gentiles who have completed this enterprise in a time of money stringency unparalleled in the history of our finance. There has not been a number of committees and conventions this year in the whole country. This road was entirely the work of home capital and home enterprise. I am glad to live among a people who is such men exist."

The speaker then alluded to the beautiful repast provided for the visitors, and complimented the promoters of the enterprise on their generosity, liberality and push. He also alluded to the benefits which would accrue to the city of Salt Lake by the extension of this road into the agricultural districts further north. It meant fresh milk, butter and vegetables in plenty for the citizens.

Mr. Wendell Benson of the Knutsford hotel was the next speaker. He dwelt on the difficulty of obtaining money this year for enterprises of a kind, hence the builders of the Hot Springs road were entitled to all the more credit for the work accomplished.

After the speaker closed one train started for Salt Lake. A goodly number returned, while others preferred to enjoy the cool zephyrs and the mild refreshments. Altogether the opening was a splendid success. Everything passed off pleasantly. Republican and Democrat, Liberal and non-Liberal, Saint and sinner, Fisherman Club and Central Drum Corps all joined greatly increasing the squadron in home waters.

The following frank statement from J. E. Hale, of Trenton, Texas, will be of interest to many of our citizens: "My little boy was very bad for two months with diarrhoea. We used various medicines, also called in two doctors, but nothing did him any good until we used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave immediate relief and soon cured him. I consider it the best medicine made, and can conscientiously recommend it to all who need a diarrhoea or cholera remedy." For sale by E. G. M. I. Drug Dept. 6&8
