FRAGMENTS.

JUDGE ZANE has returned home, but held no court today.

THERE are no new developments in the Franks case up to the present time.

THE Utah Book and Stationery company have Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for September.

CLERK BADGER of the Supreme Court is busily preparing for the September session of the Judges.

F. A. WADSWORTH, Esq., assistant general passenger agent of the Denver and Rio Grande railway at Denver, called upon us this afternoon.

MR. J. H. BENNETT, general passenger agent of the Rio Grande Western railroad, is expected back from the East today.

PROBATE JUDGE BARTCH has gone to Idaho, and there will be no sessions of the Probate court until the end of the week.

NOTHING has yet been heard of the three convicts who escaped from Wyoming Territory a few weeks ago, at the penitentiary a few weeks ago.

ANDERSON CLUB is quite busy with the sending out of tax notices. In a few days the city board of equalization will sit to hear protests from dissatisfied taxpayers.

AT two o'clock this afternoon Joseph Tice, who lies in St. Mary's hospital suffering from lock jaw, was reported to be still alive, though but slender hopes are entertained of his recovery.

A COMPLAINT has been wrote out against William Cofield, a plumber, for emptying lime with his drain cleaning work without first obtaining permission of the city engineer.

GEORGE GOODRICH, chairman of the Utah Commission, left the city last night for his home in Des Moines, in Illinois. He was the guest of the Colonel's married department.

JAMES MARTIN, who was accidentally shot by Police Officer White during a fight with footpads on the night of the 10th inst., is reported to be in a bad way. He still lies at St. Mary's hospital, where every attention is being paid him.

SEVERAL members of the joint committee on ways and buildings of the city board of education met yesterday afternoon and examined the plans for the proposed school buildings and listened to what three more architects had to say.

THE last contest case of J. H. Wheaton vs. H. C. Gilbert et al., involving mineral application No. 2891, made March 1, 1889, for the Tenth placer claim, in Weber mining district, Weber county, is now going on in the United States Land office.

PROF. H. HOSCHKE, secretary of the central committee of the German-day festival, says that the German-day will be celebrated in a grand style. All the German speaking people are cordially invited to attend a meeting to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, at the Turner hall, Third South street.

THE New York "green goods" gentlemen have been written to Holden by a gentleman. Two of their catch letters, with other trash that usually accompany such communications, came to that postoffice last week. There is no end of warning the public against frauds of this character. One who could be caught with such a bait would deserve whatever imposition might result.

THE evening the regular meeting of the Young Men's Christian association literary and debating society will be held and the following question will be discussed: Resolved, That the "Monroe doctrine presents a source of danger to the United States and should be abandoned." Speakers in the affirmative Michael and W. A. Walker; negative, Dr. Peel and George Sandley.

MANTADO licenses have been issued to Richard S. James, Jr., aged twenty-five, and Janet Moir, aged twenty-four; Troost W. Salt, aged twenty-one, and Allie Ellen Hall, aged twenty-five; Christian Christensen, aged sixty-five, of the Commercial and Sophie Christiansen, aged forty, of Salt Lake City; James Wheeler, aged seventy-five, and Ann Hoodman, aged 65 years.

BENJAMIN FUNGERSTEN and Thomas P. Page, of Sedalia, have been arrested for perjury. Forrester is superintendent of the Pleasant Valley coal mines, and Page had charge of the company's store. They were arrested on indictments found by the grand jury on June 26th, and are accused of having given false testimony in filing the proof of some land entries in which the company is interested, before the United States Land office. Commissioner Grossman has admitted the accused to bail in the sum of $1000 each.

To Be Whitewashed.

The police committee, which so long emaciated the charges preferred against Captain Parker and Sergeant Glenn, will make its report at the City Council tonight. It is said that the accused officers are to be completely whitewashed. A minority report will, however, be brought in.

It is understood also that the majority will recommend the discharge of a number of the complaining officers.

The Next Move.

Bunco-sterer John W. Smith, who was yesterday sentenced to sixty days' imprisonment without hard labor for playing at his favorite little game at the expense of another, has a sturdy champion in Attorney Sloan. The intention of the latter is to apply to Judge Zane at the earliest possible moment for a writ of habeas corpus, setting forth that the police officers neglected to administer the Edmunds-Tucker oath to the jurors who tried Smith's case, and counsel's contention is that on that account the sentence passed is invalid.

About Irrigation.

Governor Thomas has received the following letter:

NEW YORK, August 12, 1891.

Hon. Arthur L. Thomas, Governor of Utah:

We are you have addressed a call to the Governors of some fifteen States and Territories west of the Missouri river to consider the subject of irrigation.

After careful study we are satisfied that the larger portion of the arid area of the United States has its flowing streams of water, but they are beneath and not on the surface.

We are prepared to make contracts to locate these under-flowing streams of water unerringly.

That there remains no room for any rational doubt who has made the stratification of the earth's surface a study. Respectfully yours to command,

A. H. HIGHLANDS,
For the Locating and Developing Company, 35 Pearl street, New York.

THE CANVASS.

The Committee Begin the Count of the Votes.

SEVERAL COUNTIES COMPLETED.

The Exact Figures as Far as the Count has Proceeded.

Messrs. Elijah Sells, C. P. Mason, R. W. Young, S. J. Kenyon and Judge Boreman, who comprise the committee appointed by the Utah Commission to canvass the returns of the recent election, so far as they relate to county and precinct officers, met at the headquarters of the Commission yesterday and completed the county of Beaver, Box Elder and Cache counties, and a portion of Davis.

Owing to some question in regard to the sheets of Beaver county, they were held in abeyance for the time being.

The difficulty in regard to Beaver county was occasioned by the fact that officers had been voted for that should have been appointed by the county court.

The Utah Commission began the canvass of the legislative vote today, and finished Beaver county before going to lunch. The count will be made by counties, and not by legislative districts, and the counties will be taken in alphabetical order. Hence it will be some days before the legislative vote can be completed and published in tabulated form.

Following are the figures so far as the canvass has gone.

THE SALINA EXCURSIONISTS

Royally Entertained Along the Route of Travel Yesterday.

HEAVY FLOODS IN SANPETE.

Eight Hundred Guests of the R. G. W. Have a Splendid Time.

A grand complimentary special excursion so munificently tendered the leading business men of our fair and prosperous Territory, by the Rio Grande Western Railway company, to Salina and return is now over. It was a huge affair, carefully planned and splendidly managed.

Altogether it was the greatest joint outing of commercial men and prominent citizens that has ever occurred in Utah. It was gotten up for the express purpose of giving the business men of the chief cities of Salt Lake, Weber and Utah counties an easier demonstration of the manifold benefits and of Sanpete and Sevier valleys. The route traversed is famous for its scenic pictures, fertile vales and thrifty people.

As briefly mentioned in a special in last evening's NEWS, less than forty Ogden merchants and other citizens took advantage of the splendid inducement for a day's combination of business and pleasure offered by the "Little Giant," while nearly five hundred Salt Lakers boarded the train at the depot in this city. Before the merry throng of excursionists had reached Sutton, the junction terminus, the number of more than eight hundred men were upon the train, most of them comfortably seated to temporarily splendid cane bottom chairs of the two hundred and eighteen French plate cushion flush from the sides and ends of the cars. The upholstered seats are roomy and easy, and perhaps the most comfortable and elegant designs. At one end of the car is a gentlemen's toilet room, and at the other a ladies' retiring room, both fitted up with all the usual appurtenances. In addition, the cars are lighted by gas to the extent that rending a paper becomes almost as easy as by daylight.

On entering Spanish Fork canyon the sun broke forth and dispelled the clouds that had for several hours threatened rain and spoiled the pleasure of the excursionists. The contrast between the of granite, lime and sandstone and the rich valley just left behind, with its superbly cultivated farms and farm products, was indeed great.

Notwithstanding the recent storms, venturesome clumps of lesser Wahsatch lingered in some deep ravines and crevices with red and red, and were seen enhancing the fancy dominos from the wake of the train moved heavily over the steep grade up the canyon. Time was gratefully being lost and it soon became apparent that the special schedule would not be maintained. The "Little Giant" reached Thistle and Sanpete valleys was crawled at 15 p. m., or nearly an hour and three-quarters late.

Some little disappointment prevailed among the passengers on account of the unsuccessful effort to make a short stop at Lehi in order that the might be visited, but that was soon forgotten. The railroad officials would willingly have acceded to the request had it been made in time.

When the train reached the "Farmers' Paradise," it was entered the atmosphere was alive, transparent and bracing. The fields of golden wheat and heavy harvest, as far as the eye could see, in industrial array could been seen perfectly at work, gave a bilingual exhibition of Uncle Sam's bounties. On either side of the valley were beautiful canyons for the artist, well stocked streams for the fisherman and timber for the hunter.

Before leaving Utah county, the stock of the ever distributed among the company's invited guests, on which was printed "Compliments and Souvenir of the Rio Grande Western Railway, complimentary to the representative business men of Utah, to Salina, August 17, 1891," had been exhausted and consequently there were none to give to the Sanpete delegations.

Evidences of heavy rains and the marks of destructive floods were observed along the Sanpete river.

Manti was not reached until nearly 4 o'clock p. m. The schedule time was 3:45. Now the citizens had themselves proud by the giving of a fine lunch to their hungry visitors who remained eight seeing, in the town, for an hour and a half. The Temple which stands on an elevated spot above the city was the object of much comment and admiration by hundreds who had never before witnessed that magnificent stately pile of granite which commands as excellent a view of the greater portion of the county in which it stands.

Two hours after schedule time, the excursionists, excepting a few who missed the train, proceeded to Salina, the objective point. At that town the visitors were given a splendid reception and were nightly entertained for only five minutes. The fire of revive and the booming of guns announced the arrival and departure of the train. Salina has a population filled with energy, business, pluck and thrift, as the visitors left they gave for the G. O. W., which was responded to by the excursionists giving three cheers and a tiger to the inhabitants of Salina. The return trip to Ogden was made without any unusual accompaniment.

Several passengers, however, whose lines of the "yachting" was greater than their judgment were left at way-side stations. Salt Lake City was reached this morning at 4 which is an hour and 15 m. as at first announced.

The Salt Lake Street Car company's cars were at the depot and most of the wearied travelers were soon carried to their homes, highly delighted with their experiences.

POLICE COURT.

A Sorrowful Crowd of Drunkards Called Upon to Labor.

This has been quite a drunkards' day in the city Police court, no fewer than eight woodpipers at the shrine of Bacchus helping to swell the morning's total on Justice Goe's docket. They were as follows: Arthur Brown, fined $10; John Cahill, $10; James Clark had left $5 and this was declared forfeited; J. H. Riley, $5; Heather Wells, $5; James Shields, $5; Mike Ryan forfeited a $5 bill.

In nearly all the cases the defendants were unable to find the money and went to jail to default.

E. Jones and James Hill, charged with disturbing the peace, will have a hearing on Tuesday. They deposited $5 each as security.

George Spencer keeps a gambling house, and this brought him at last within the iron grasp of the law. He was gathered in by the police, and left prisoner on assurance that he would come up and face Justice Goe today. But his courage failed him. He was sent out when his name was called this morning, and the money was declared forfeited.

LABOR DAY.

Governor Thomas' Reply to the Utah Federated Trades and Labor Council.

TERRITORY OF UTAH, } ss.
Executive Office.

To the people of the Territory of Utah: We have received from the "Utah Federated Trades and Labor Council" the following communication, dated August 11, 1891:

"The first Monday in September being the day set apart by the majority of States as a legal holiday, and known as Labor Day, we, the undersigned, the Territory has so long neglected the day in question, therefore be it resolved, That it is the sense of the undersigned, the workingmen of the Territory of Utah that we observe that day as 'Labor Day,' and we request that you issue your proclamation to your Secretary to proclaim the forthcoming first Monday as designated by us to be known and observed as 'Labor Day.'

"Hoping to see it would be a general act on the part of the people if they would make a special effort to make the occasion of labor by observing the day now known through the habits of 'Labor Day.'

"Therefore, in compliance with the request of the Labor Council, respectfully recommend that, so far as possible, Monday, September 7, 1891, be observed as a public holiday.

"In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the territory to be affixed. Done at Salt Lake City, Utah, this 15th day of August, A. D. 1891. ARTHUR L. THOMAS, Governor.

By the Governor:
EDWARD SNOW,
Secretary of the Territory.

Cruelty to a Horse.

A few days since a complaint was lodged by Captain Greenman against a local grocery and fruiterer named George F. Brooks, charging him with cruelty to a horse. The allegation was that for some weeks the defendant had been working the animal when in a totally unfit state. Outside its mouth was a large gaping wound, and the flesh was covered with small sores, causing the horse to evince pain when the iron bit was placed between the teeth. A warrant was issued, and the morning Brooks appeared before Commissioner Norrell to answer the charge. Captain Greenman conducted the prosecution, and after hearing the witnesses the Commissioner ordered Brooks to pay $5 and costs. The opinion of those who were acquainted with the facts of the case is that the defendant got off too lightly.

Bishop's Counselor.

At the local conference held in the Fourteenth Ward on Sunday evening, August 16th, 1891, Brother Jesse W. Fox, Jun., was unanimously sustained as Second Counselor to Bishop George H. Taylor, and he was duly ordained to act in this capacity. Owing to Brother Henry P. Richards, the former Second Counselor, having removed to another ward, and on account of his being a High Councilor, it was deemed proper to release him from the Bishopric, hence the change.

Amusements.

"The Charity Ball" by the authors of the well known and well liked play "The Wife" begins the Lyceum company's engagement at the Salt Lake Theatre Wednesday night, and will be repeated as a matinee next Saturday afternoon. Thursday night will show the Lyceum Company in another new play, and one which is said to be stronger than any thing yet seen in Ogden. It is one of Mr. Frohman's English purchases, and it had the distinction of being played in America before it was seen in England. Haddon Chambers is a young Englishman who made a fair success out of a play called "Captain Swift." He next wrote the "Tyranny of Tears" which Frohman produced in New York, and it was well received. It will be given on Thursday by the Lyceum Company.

J. W. NEFF DEAD.

He Expired Suddenly in a Fit of Apoplexy.

Between two and three o'clock yesterday afternoon J. W. Neff, manager of the Salt Lake Abstract Title and Investment Company, died suddenly at his home at 67 E. Fifth South street, by a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Neff is well known in this city though he has been a resident of Salt Lake only two years. Before coming here he was located in Denver where he was prominently connected in the stock brokerage business. On arriving in Salt Lake he became the manager of the Abstract Title and Investment Company to which he has devoted his energies since.

Mr. Neff was born in Beaver county, Pa., in 1839, making him fifty-two years of age. He leaves a wife, daughter and several other near relatives to mourn his loss. Telegrams have been sent to members of his family in the East and the time for the funeral will not be set until they are heard from.

A FEARFUL DEATH.

A Park City Boy Accidentally Shot Near Mount Olivet Cemetery.

A most unfortunate and fatal accident happened yesterday afternoon, about half past four o'clock, near Mount Olivet cemetery, the victim being Lorenzo Davis, aged 19 years, the stepson of Barney Riley, of Park City.

The circumstances are those: The deceased and his friend Murray, who is nine years old, recently came to this city to spend a part of their school vacation with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright, and their uncle, Mr. J. D. Wright, the last named being sexton of the Mount Olivet cemetery. Lorenzo has had a companion here a twelve-year-old boy named Billie Judson, who resides with his widowed mother. A short distance from the cemetery, Judson and the deceased have been in the habit lately of going on shooting drives with an old army pistol, and although they had been warned repeatedly not to use it, they do not seem to have heeded the admonitions given.

Yesterday the lads were again out for "sport," and according to Judson's story, he himself shot a bird, so handed the gun, and then imposed little Lorenzo's hold in until he had got the bird. Lorenzo took the weapon and a minute or two later it went off accidentally. His companion was almost frantic with grief as he helped the nearly dead form of his friend lying upon the ground. The charge entered the middle of his forehead and went clean through the head, scattering brains and blood in all directions. The face was almost unrecognized.

An alarm was given and the body was removed to the cemetery undertaker, but before it had been reached the poor little lad had breathed his last. The parents of the unfortunate boy were telegraphed to and are expected to arrive from Park City today. All the facts of the sad affair having been reported to Coroner Harris, he did not think it necessary to hold an inquest.

The funeral will take place at 2 p. m. tomorrow, at Mount Olivet cemetery.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtiss, Plainfield, Ill., writes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was confined for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption, and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she took one bottle, and her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued to use, and after taking ten bottles found herself cured and able to attend to her household duties and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at A. C. Smith & Co's Drug Store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00. 3
