ANOTHER ROBBERY.

Masked Men Hold Up a Train and Secure $100,000.

RAILROAD HANDS SUSPECTED.

In Streams of the Outrage by the Express Messenger—Dynamite and Bullets.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Seven men comprised the gang that held up a south bound express train on the Baltimore, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad at Quantico last night. They numbered in the way bill, when the express messenger declared the sale was empty, and the robbers then gave the fireman about twenty-five minutes to uncouple the engine and tender and run ahead. The express car was then entered, the messenger covered with pistols and the safe opened and robbed. The runaway locomotive was stopped at Quantico by obstructions on the track. It is stated here that there was an unusually large amount of money on the train, probably $50,000. The robbers, seven in number, were masked, and did not blow open the safe, as at first reported. They forced the messenger to open it. The railway company has offered $1,000 reward for the arrest of any of the robbers.

The express messenger, E. H. Crutchfield, and his helper, H. H. Murray, testified that the doors, safe and they were blown open with dynamite.

After the robbery the thieves made off with their booty in the direction of the Potomac river, where it is supposed they had a boat in waiting to take them to Maryland shore. None of the robbers entered the passenger coaches.

LOVE FOR A WAY.

Has Strategy and Victory on the Part of the Young Husband.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Oct. 13.—Charles Martin has secured further quarter in his suit by the divorced in which he has won a victor. For several years he has courted Lia Bess, but he has been strictly opposed to the girl's parents. It was very natural to serious, that the young couple, whose love was mutual, stole away. The day after Thursday, they eloped to Cedar Lake, where they were married. The girl's father locked her in the room and drove home in a buggy. In the meantime he had a buggy standing near by, into which they loaded the money and then set fire to the barn. Where they had a confederate waiting with a team, by which they drove to Kokomo, where they secured a license and entered the city from the north at east side. Traces of a buggy in the soft ground near the railroad track have been discovered.

Another circumstance in line with this theory is that a buggy has been missing from a stable in the city since the afternoon preceding the train robbery.
