CHINA AND JAPAN.

Ye Chang Taken After a Fight of Two Hours' Duration.

THOUSANDS DEAD AND WOUNDED.

The Chinese Empire Convulsed to Its Very Change—An Era of Reform Likely to Follow.

SHANGHAI, March 7.—A dispatch from General Nodzu, chief Hai Cheng, says the two divisions of the Japanese army attacked New Chang proper at 7:30 that day and gained the city at noon. A portion of the enemy's forces at once fell to the Yu Hsu, a New Chang hill whence the remaining Chinese were soon driven in retreat, scattering in terror in the city. Some fighting followed and the Chinese were completely routed at 11 o'clock, leaving 1,000 killed upon the field.

The Japanese captured his pistols and thirteen guns, together with a quantity of ammunition of war and cotton, and declare that we twenty-six thousand wounded.

A war dispatch says that at 8 a.m., Nodzu's troops under General Oyama entered upon flying chase, and were joined by the Japanese cavalry. The Chinese entrenched near Ye Chang.

FIGHTING AT THE HEAD.

LONDON, March 7.—A special to the Times from Tien Tsin says: The general of China has completely vindicated Li Hung Chang from the charges brought against him. The enquiry conference into the trying charge he found Li Hung Chang guilty of neglect of duty in failing to obey the orders of Tientsin to fight Japan in Corea and to treat with Japan for the protection of peace. The central government put Li's services entirely in abeyance for the condition of his national decree, which is the result of Tientsin on the part of the Emperor in the progress of the war. This is the action of the emperor place of future reforms in the hands of Li Hung Chang.

She alleges that the young man's father forced him up to a large dinner party, and kept him there until the time set for the wedding passed.

STEAMING FOR HAYWARD.

Irwin Addresses the Jury in Behalf of Himself.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 7.—Irwin resumed his long effort before the jury in the life of Harry Hayward this morning. He took up the work in the case of convention—confidently expected by the state—immediate evidence would be solved. The defense contends that Hayward's motive for a very and appeal. Irwin is expected to finish at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and if he does so, Judge Smith will at once charge the jury. Not a third of the client applying for admission this morning got into the room, which was packed to suffocation.

Irwin, standing at the testimony of Hunt, White, he admitted, was the very local point of the case. It was full of most well in contradictions and inconsistencies and inventory of evidence, he said. The testimony promised by the state to Hunt and Mary Hayward for the sake of convicting Harry, he declared, was false. Hunt, he said, was given way after a sharp resistance. Very interested and were taken prisoner. The government troops lost one killed, nothing and wounded.

The government troops numbered no men, and numbered the patriots in several detachments.

Arzamas, Arzamas, Novgorod Province, says Russian troops have arrived.

PRESIDENT A. O. SMOOT.

A Prominent Character in Utah History Passes Away.

Hon. A. O. Smoot, president of Utah stake, the mention of whose death was reported in yesterday's News, has been a prominent character in the history of this Territory, having arrived here in 1847. A more detailed account of his life will be included hereafter, when a biographical sketch can be furnished by his family.

President Smoot was born Feb. 17, 1815, in Owen county, Kentucky. He entered the Church in 1836 and the following year removed to Kirtland, Ohio. He passed through the trials with the Saints in early drivings and persecutions, and when the move was inaugurated he was in succession with President Lorenzo Snow, placed in charge of the second company, which arrived in Salt Lake valley in the fall of 1847. He was the first bishop of the ward in Utah, and upon the death of Joseph H. Grant, he was appointed president of Utah stake, and Dec. 2, 1880, was chosen to fill the vacancy in the executive bureau. He succeeded himself as chief executive, which position he held until his release to preside over the army, and until 1896, when he declined renomination. He was a member of the council of the Territorial legislature for twelve years. In 1880 he was called by President Young to take charge of Utah stake, and afterwards held the position of Mayor of Provo for two years.

The body will be in state at the Stake tabernacle, Provo, on Sunday next, from 9 to 11 a.m., and 1 to 3 p.m., when the funeral services will commence.

The Union Pacific and Rio Grande railways will honor the deceased to Provo at their late, I. F. Dunley only. The D. & R. G. leaves the city at 7:45 a.m., and the R. G. W. at 8:05 a.m. Trains will leave Salt Lake at 1 p.m. after the funeral services close.

ATLANTA AND MEXICO.

Requests For the Governor to Name Commissioners to the Expositions.

He Appoints a Committee on Arrangements Also Into Management on Commissioners Ladies Literary Work.

Today Governor West received communications from the City of Mexico and from Atlanta, Georgia, inviting Utah to take part in the respective expositions to be given at those places, and requesting the Governor to make certain appointments. Upon these requests the Governor took prompt action.

The Mexican communication is from the officials of the American-Mexican Exposition which opens in the City of Mexico on April 6, 1895, and to which extended notice was given by the News a few weeks ago. Utah is given an urgent invitation to make a display at that place. The Governor is urged to appoint exposition commissioners.

The Atlanta communication is from the directors of the Cotton States Exhibition which opens at Atlanta, Georgia, on Sept. 18, this year, and continues to the end of the year. The request was for a display and appointment of commissioners for the exposition from Utah.

The Governor gave both requests consideration, and decided to appoint a board of commissioners to examine the advisability of having Utah take part at either or both of the great fairs. For this purpose he named the following gentlemen:

Arthur L. Thomas, Heber J. Grant, Richard Mackintosh, Thos. G. Webber, James H. Moyle, Salt Lake county; Ed. M. Allen, Weber; Varnum L. Halliday, Utah; and Amos F. Fox, Cache.

These commissioners are authorized, should they deem it advisable for Utah to accept the invitation to exhibit either at Atlanta or Mexico, the City Attorney to formulate a plan therefor, and to carry it into effect.

In addition to the foregoing, the Governor also acted upon the request of the board of lady managers of the Cotton States Exposition that he name a board of lady managers on behalf of the State of Utah, which commissioner is present and desire to be exhibited a representative collection of the literary efforts of the women of Utah.

The board of lady managers named by the Governor consists of Mrs. W. B. McKinnon, Mrs. F. S. Richards, Mrs. J. Sanford Rich, Mrs. N. W. Kinney, and Mrs. C. W. Penny, of Salt Lake county; Mrs. Electa Bullock, Utah; and Mrs. F. J. Hoel and Mrs. Tom. A. Walden, Weber.

For commissioners on ladies' literary work, Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells, editor of the Woman's Exponent, was the Governor's selection.

The ladies and gentlemen named will give the special affairs assignment early attention, and information will be given the public of the course that may be decided upon.

Thrown From the Buggy.

About 4 o'clock this afternoon there was a runaway on First South street. A horse attached to an open buggy, in which a boy about 15 years of age was standing, making a vain attempt to control the animal, passed the city hall. Circumstances went in between First and Second. West streets the boy was thrown from the buggy, but was not seriously hurt. A short distance farther on the horse was stopped, without any particular damage being done.

AN AMENDED RECORD.

Proceedings in the Constitutional Convention This Afternoon.

MAY HAVE A NEW MEETING PLACE

Through Revision of the Grand Jury System—Prospective Merry War on Sunday.

When the hands of the Constitutional convention timepieces—which up to date has not been seen by the house—indicated two o'clock p. m. on this the third day's session, President Smith's recently presented gavel fell on the oaken desk and at once as the members had seated in their seats Clerk Christensen called the roll which showed an attendance of ninety-seven delegates.

President Smith announces that he had requested Bishop Scanlan of the Catholic church, to be present and open the session by prayer, but had received a note from the bishop that he was unable to be present, and requested a member of the Catholic church to officiate in his stead. Prayer was then offered by F. A. Simmons of the Salt Lake delegation.

Presidents Hall Lake and Howard of Emery, then presented their credentials and were sworn in, after which the minutes of yesterday's proceedings were read, corrected and accepted.

MAY GIVE US NEW QUARTERS.

The committee on ways, Jacob Moritz, chairman, reported that it had carefully examined the different locations and was unable to find any place more suitable than the quarters now occupied. It however recommended that the pending proposition of the Salt Lake County court be accepted. Also that the County court and Mayor be asked to drape the sleeve behind the speaker's chair to shut out the strong light. It further recommended that the Convention extend an invitation to the ministers of the country to join in the opening in the "Father of the Convention."

Judge Zane, of Salt Lake, moved that action on the report be suspended at the present place of meeting was difficult of access, that it was hard work for the delegates to climb three flights of stairs, and lastly that the public desired very much to be in attendance from day to day and been in the proceedings. He had a place in mind that would answer that purpose—it was the Continental Market hall where the Christensen Opening hall was located.

Judge of Salt Lake seconded the motion saying he understood a petition would be presented asking the convention to move to some such place as indicated by Judge Goodwin.

Several members opposed the motion saying that there were no conveniences in the Continental Hall. The motion, however, carried.

ALSO REFERRED BACK.

The committee on furniture, Jacob Moritz chairman, reported that they were unable to find sufficient suitable seats for the use of the convention but that they would obtain thirty-one from the secretary of the Territory state, and also thirty more at a reasonable rental, the balance (forty-one) they would get made for 25 each, to be ready for use, Tuesday March 12th. The report was also referred back.

COMMITTEES NOT MADE UP.

President Smith announced that he had not been able to complete the personnel of the standing committees although he had worked patiently and diligently since yesterday to do so. He thought, however, that by 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon he would be ready to submit his report. For the present he named the following committee on rules: J. H. Smith, C. S. Varian, W. H. Alder, Charles H. Hart and David H. Evans.

WANTS DAILY SESSIONS.

Hart, of Cache, offered a resolution providing that from now the Convention meet daily at 10:30 a.m., Sundays and holidays excepted, until otherwise ordered.

Pierce, of Salt Lake, moved to adjourn until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Lost.

Pierce, of Salt Lake, moved that Hart's resolution be referred to the committee on rules. Carried.

TO AMEND THE RECORD.

Roberts of Davis asked for the reading of the resolution offered by Lawler of Salt Lake yesterday, and the report indefinitely postponed. He said he believed he could point out to the members of the Convention imperfections that should be remedied. The request was granted and Lawler offered the following amendment to the record to be inserted immediately after the Elector resolution:

"The resolution was unanimously adopted. The respective members declared to have endowed to that part of the enabling act requiring the adoption of the Constitution of the United States on behalf of the people of Utah, and the Convention was declared authorized to form a constitution "contingent upon the ratification of each proposed State."

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Hart, of Cache, offered a resolution requiring the sergeant-at-arms to call upon Territorial Librarian Roche for such books of reference and pamphlets as he may have in place at the disposal of members during the life of the convention. Adopted.

OFFICIAL STENOGRAPHERS.

Wells, of Salt Lake, chairman of the committee on official stenographers, reported process and asked for more time. Adopted.

At this an adjournment was taken until the convention tomorrow afternoon.

A MORMON'S PARTIAL PURCHASE.

Eighty more days have passed deadlines will arise and measures will be presented which will give the leading politicians better opportunity. Judge Zane, lawyer and ability of the Constitutional Convention, for second term of the legislature on the democratic side of the house, early, more and thorough work will begin at once.

Many members have been engaged for weeks and some for months in reading and researching matters, and in several instances, it is reported, also the instruments, which in instruction should be incorporated either in part or in whole into the Constitution upon which the laws, liberties and aspirations of Utah's people are to be based. But it is the good to understanding, reading to expand, say the many, to think that one man's genius or the efforts of three, four or a dozen or even a score will prevail, and that the great industry shall longer facility to room wide wants and hopes. It is a great body and each part will be required to perform its function and the simple wish of one that "this constitution" is my—is all others will be content to be—prominent.

A Press reporter in quiet consideration these today in being the name of the members with reference to the policy of congress of the Territory of Utah, and the delegate opposition connected with the framing of the Constitution, and from a compute with reference to the majority who put forward measures for publication, and the popular that he has some sound and the strategic.

"I know of no party, program or plan that contemplates partisanship in the Constitution. I believe it to be fair, safe and honorable, as far as I know. It, however, is to be presumed that there will be many interesting questions to be discussed, and there will be some other controversy and feeling around when the Democrats introduce a resolution, as I believe they will, providing for the giving of the right of suffrage to private individuals, corporations or any persons whatsoever on the founding and maintenance of industrial schools. That resolution will raise a merry war and as whether but it will not be long first owing to the superior numerical strength of those whose interests and aspirations are to be antagonistic to such a proposition.

"Then there will probably be considerable trouble when it comes to the question of appointment of committees of legislative and senatorial districts—not much so as to the judicial, for as far as the latter are concerned, we are all in a good mood and we will get together on common ground. The people in remote parts of the Territory will have sober and sober experience so far justified the little time said today. But again referring to legislative and senatorial apportionment, I wish to say that there will be absolutely no unfairness attempted.

"Regarding the compact of the United States there will be no difficulty in another between the Mormons and Gentiles. The Lessing Act lays down the obligation to that and it will be adopted. The grand jury system will be a very sober question and one that will occupy a good deal of time to settle. There can be no partisanship here either. So far as I know the complete adjustment of the system will not be attempted, but will be revised very carefully, and in all probability the presiding judge will be called upon to decide whether any whether a jury is necessary in any case. If he determines that it is best for the jurors good time to be called out, but it will be entirely discretionary with him.

CONVENTION CHIPS.

"Criminal Court" is the legend that stands out clearly in letters of gilt body and black frieze over the two doors above the lobby to the Convention chamber, and a would-be way who passed the outdoor today observed that unless they were armed wrong the occasion would be thirty to go on concerning the members and proceedings.

The Convention has put itself on record as being against paying for prayers, which of course means that there will be no official chaplain. The ministers of the various denominations of the city will be asked to take turns in offering invocation from day to day and to President Smith has been delegated the duty of securing their services in this direction.

The idea of the committee on rules and furniture to move the presidential chair from the east side to the south end of the convention hall, to "turn things upside down" and generally rearrange matters as they now exist, was all but abandoned today as being impracticable and inexpedient. By tomorrow it is believed that the last vestige of this industrial movement will have been relinquished.

Arranging the personnel of the twenty-six standing committees which the Convention agreed upon yesterday, has cost a task of no inconsiderable proportions and it was reported President Smith, Chief Clerk Christensen and their associates far into the hours of last night. The matter of determining the qualifications and fitness of 103 delegates to serve in different capacities, is not nothing of their different political complexion is the matter of arrangement, seems to be a far more colossal as the work progressed.

NATURAL GAS MAINS.

They Are Laid to the Corner of East and South Temple Streets.

Work has been rapidly pushed during the last few days in the laying of the natural gas mains, and today they were completed to the southeast corner of the Temple block. It is expected that the pipes will be extended from the same row laid to other parts of the city as fast as the demand calls for them. The intention of the company is to have a Bunsen burning this afternoon, when the gas can be turned on, which will machines stirred around in the office of the gas company, however, will not likely be given until Conference week.

Matrimonial.

Probate Judge McNally officiated at another marriage this morning, this being his second act in that direction since his accession to office. The contracting parties were James P. Olsen and Louisa Lunn, both of Mill Creek.

Marriage License.

County Clerk Stanton issued a marriage license today to John R. Holm, 23, and Anna M. Carlson, 23, both of Park City.

ROYCE LOST AN EYE

While Working with the Chain Gang in City Creek Canyon.

HE SUES THE CITY FOR $20,000.

Alleging that Proper Safeguards Were Not Provided for the Prisoners.

While working with the chain gang in City Creek canyon on or about the 21st of February, 1893, Guy C. Royce was struck in his left eye with a piece of rock, the sight of one eye was totally destroyed and that of the other greatly impaired. He attributes the cause to the carelessness and negligence of the authorities, and hence planted a suit against the City Council for damages in the sum of $20,000.

The trial of the case began before a jury in Chief Justice Merritt's court this morning, the plaintiff being represented by Attorneys L. S. Armstrong and D. N. Straup. For the defendant appeared City Attorney Hall and Assistant City Attorney Van Horne.

According to Royce's story, he was sentenced to the police court on January 23rd, 1893, of the offense of trespassing, and sentenced to sixty days' imprisonment in the "chain gang." On the date above named, in the following month, he was sent up City Creek canyon with a select party of fellow prisoners and put to work at stone breaking. He needs, however, that they were crowded together and compelled to work in a place where their safety was endangered; further, that there was but choice of stone or tool for the hands of them with proper tools and safeguards, the latter word signifying nothing to the protection of the face and hands. Royce says that while so engaged a piece of stone or rock flew off and struck him in the eye, with the result before stated—the loss of sight of one eye and serious injury to the other.

The defendant enter a general denial to the plaintiff's allegations, and alleged in repetition the fact that the injury was due to any negligence on the part of the officers who had charge of the gang.

The hearing proceeded until about 2:30 this afternoon, when it was discovered that the police court record gave Royce's name as "G. C. Dawes." Thereupon some discussion ensued, and eventually leave was given the plaintiff's counsel to amend the complaint, the case being continued for the term.

SUIT ON A NOTE.

The case of the Union Pacific Coal Co. vs. W. F. Hopkins, John A. Groesbeck and Wm. Groesbeck, was then taken up, a jury being waived. Williams, Van Cott & Sutherland for the plaintiffs, Marshall & Royle for the defendants. Suit is to recover the sum of $1,500 on a promissory note (with interest at 10 per cent) executed by the defendants (Groesbeck in favor of the plaintiff, and afterwards sold over by the latter to the plaintiff company.

The hearing was proceeding when the News went to press.

Chlorine	1.00
Silica	1.00
Iron oxide	1.00
Phosphoric acid	1.00

Thus the percentage of minerals is shown to be very small, and that of phosphoric acid very high, while the infusion of siliceous matter, which operates against the gluten as a fertilizer, is considerably more than half of the whole.

The Walker House Leased.

Mr. George E. Johnson, late of McCook, Neb., has leased the Walker House for one year, with the privilege of two more, and the place will be thoroughly renovated and repaired at once.

Some Good News.

Mr. Larson, on his Bingham mines, has found a rich vein of lead five miles west of Highfield, says the Bingham Times and four other men are now sinking a shaft. The croppings were found low down in a deep gulch, but on account of the danger of flooding the shaft is being sunk from the surface. Mr. Larson, who understands his business, says it is a rare thing and will supply all the surrounding country with coal of a good quality.
