CALIFORNIA'S DAY.

The Sons of the Golden West Hold a Celebration at the Fair.

STATE BUILDING DEDICATED.

A Magnificent Display Exciting the Admiration of All.—Unique Souvenirs.

CHICAGO, June 19.—The Native Sons of the Golden West were at the World's Fair today in large numbers. They wore gold badges, shaped like a grizzly bear, talked of "God's country" and the "paradise," and had a jolly good time, and made their guests have a jolly good time, too. The occasion of their gathering was the formal dedication of the California state building and they celebrated the event with that free, easy grace for which Californians are famous. The big building was lavishly decorated outside and inside with flags, flowers and plants, rare and beautiful, from the soil of the golden state, and from end to end, from top to bottom, the huge structure presented a picture pleasing to the eye. No less than 10,000 people had assembled when the hour for the formal ceremonies to begin had arrived. They were not all Californians, to be sure, but they all admired the building and the gorgeous display of fruits, flowers, gold and other products of the state.

The ceremonies opened with a concert by the Second regiment band, Illinois national guard. Then Hon. James D. Phelan, vice-president of the California World's Fair commission spoke of the work done by California towards making the great Exposition a success. He praised liberally the state in appropriating an amount sufficient to enable the state, famous for its wealth, its gold and fruit, to be creditably represented. As he concluded he turned to Governor H. H. Markham and formally delivered to him the keys of the building. The governor of the state in the name of the people of California, declared the building open to the public.

Director General Davis spoke in behalf of the Exposition officials. He said much of the success of the Fair was due to the energy and enterprise of California.

Hon. M. H. De Young, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle and national commissioner for California, responded to Director General Davis's remarks. Speeches were also made by J. M. Samuels, chief of the horticultural department, State Commissioner S. W. Ferguson and others.

After the ceremonies were over the invited guests were escorted to the dining room and served an elaborate luncheon. One interesting feature of the opening was the distribution of souvenirs by Southern California association. These consisted of seeds of various kinds of fruits, vegetables and grasses peculiar to that section of the state. The novel idea originated with the members of the association from the fact that they frequently noticed an evident desire on the part of the visitors to take away some little memento from the building. The counties comprising Southern California association are: Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, San Diego, Ventura, Orange and San Bernardino. All these counties have interests so nearly identical that they combined them in a special exhibit.

Next to the Illinois building that of California is the largest state building on the Exposition grounds. It is a unique structure and a combination of the characteristic features of the old mission buildings erected when Spain dominated the Pacific slope. Several bells that used to sound the vespers years before the forty-niners flocked into the gold fields, are hung in the quaint towers which distinguish the building. Date palms and other semi-tropical trees surround it and it is filled with varied products of the state said to have the finest climate in the world. The building has a total floor space of 100,000 square feet, and cost nearly $160,000; while $1,000,000 will not reach the value of the exhibits.

A USEFUL INVENTION.

Raising Water for Irrigating Purposes in the Platte River.

Special Dispatch to the News.

DOUGLAS, Wyo., June 19.—Thousands of acres of fertile agricultural land along the Platte river in this state now lie idle because of the expense of irrigating the same. F. H. Harvey and Albert Clough have just invented a plant for raising the water, which will reduce the cost materially. An undershot waterwheel placed in the river is made to propel a centrifugal pump which elevates the water over the banks of the river at the rate of 100 gallons a minute. The cost of the plant is less than $600. Ranchmen in this section believe these gentlemen have solved the question of irrigation in the Platte valley. Three or four of these plants would fill enough water over banks twenty feet high to irrigate thousands of acres.

Officers Appointed But Not Seated.

DENVER, Colo., June 19.—Governor Waite this morning appointed Jack Orr and A. J. Rogers members of the fire and police board, his city, vice C. D. Stone and A. C. Phelps removed. The new officers will be likely to have a difficulty in taking their seats, as the old officers positively refuse to vacate and have at their back the chief police and many of his men. If resistance is carried to any extent, the governor will call out the national guards.

THE CHINESE QUESTION.

A Supposed Ambassador from Peking Arrives in this Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—Advices from China indicate that the announcement of the Supreme Court decision sustaining the Geary act has caused little stir. The newspapers uniformly declare that there is no probability of any attempt by the Chinese government to retaliate if the provisions of the acts are enforced.

Among the passengers on the steamer City of Peking from China was Chen Shu Lum, said to be an ambassador of the Chinese government to the United States, for the purpose of ascertaining the actual state of public opinion relative to the Chinese residents here, and the intentions of the government in the enforcement of the Geary act. Interviewed by a reporter, Chen Shu Lum refused to make any statement as to his identity, place or object of his visit.

LIZZIE BORDEN.

Governor Robinson's Argument for the Defense.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass, June 19.—The day's argument in the Lizzie Borden trial opened with a great crowd at the court house; scarcely one bottle of whom could gain admittance. A large proportion of those in attendance were handsome ladies in holiday attire. The defendant appeared fresh and smiling.

Governor Robinson opened the proceedings with an argument for the defense. He began by declaring that the defendant was physically unable to commit a crime in the manner committed; that aside from that, it was only possible for a maniac or moron to do it. He asked the jury to retire their houses, hearts and intellects into the decision of the case.

Another Addition.

Special Dispatch to the News.

RAWLINS, Wyo., June 19.—The Union Pacific railroad has laid out another addition to the city of Rawlins. It joins the city on the north and west.

New York Stocks.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Stocks were extremely dull after 11 o'clock with fractional declines. At noon the market was nearly at fractional recovery.

THE THEATER INQUEST.

Colonel Ainsworth Not Summoned as a Witness.

Rumors as to Whom the Jury Will Hold Responsible for the Sad Accident.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The coroner has declined to summon Colonel Ainsworth as a witness in the inquest into the Ford's theater accident. Though the inquest is not completed it is stated the jury will hold Colonel Ainsworth and Contractor Dant, and probably Superintendent Cavers and Engineer Shaw responsible for the accident. The jury retired at 2:30 to consider the verdict.

MORE FAILURES.

A Bank with More Assets Than Liabilities.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The Bank of New Haven has failed. The assets are a million and a quarter and the liabilities eight hundred thousand.

A notice on the door of the bank says, that owing to the withdrawal of $320,000 in deposits and notice of the withdrawal of $150,000 more and because of inability to realize quickly on the assets, the bank has decided to assign. The depositors will be paid in full. The failure was caused by the run on the Wilmington Savings and Trust company. Thirty days' notice is required on sums over $50 under the law. It is believed the bank will be entirely solvent.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Hecht Bros., importers of lace and laces goods have confessed judgment for $37,000.

DEATH NOTICE.

Mr. Wantelle of the Union Pacific, in Philadelphia.

Special Dispatch to the News.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 19.—A dispatch just received from Philadelphia announces the death of Superintendent C. E. Wantelle of the Wyoming division of the Union Pacific, which occurred at that place at 12:30 o'clock this morning. The interment will be made at Evanston, Wyo., Mr. Wantelle was in Philadelphia under treatment for dropsy.

New Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Presidential postmasters have been appointed as follows:

James Howell, Porterville Calif.

J. W. Schwartz, Granite, Montana.

E. C. Amos, postmaster at Snohomish, Washington.

The president has made the following appointments:

Collector of internal revenue, Albert L. New, Wyoming, for the district of Colorado.

Charles M. Shannon, Arizona, for the district of New Mexico.

Indian agents: John F. T. Bretano, Oregon, at Grande Ronde agency, Oregon.

W. L. Powell, Washington, at Neah Bay agency, Washington.

Lewis T. Erwin, Washington, at Yakima agency, Washington.

Wm. L. Hargrove, of Missouri, at Navajo agency, Indian Territory.

J. Rue Young, Kentucky at Pima agency, Arizona.

Ready for Any Emergency.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., June 19.—The city at noon was completely encircled over the arrival of five companies of militia with revolvers and carbines. They are believed by some to be members of the Starr gang bank robbers. The second and third stories of the buildings near the banks were occupied by citizens with guns, ready for any emergency.

Refugees Arrive Started.

DULUTH, June 19.—The train bearing the destitute refugees from the fire in the mining town of Virginia, numbering 250, mostly women and children, arrived here this morning almost starved. They were at once supplied with food. They report that the house burned like tinder and the whole town was in ashes inside of an hour. All the way here the train came through a belt of burning fire.

Another train of about 200 arrived from the burned city of Meeker at noon. The reported death there are not confirmed. Two score were taken into the burning forest and have not since been seen. A woman who tried to rescue a child is also missing. Many are injured.

TO SUZZARO'S BAY.

The President and Family Leave the Capital.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—President Cleveland and family have left Dubois's Bay Sunrise morning. The President will return now after a few days, but will go back later and spend most of July and August there.

Out of Its Depth.

Special Dispatch to the News.

BARANOF, Wyo., June 19.—The Platte river is again out of its banks on account of the heavy rains and the melting of snow in the mountains. Several bridges have been washed out and considerable damage done to growing crops.

Geo. P. Cundill, the mail carrier from Fort, Co., to the North Park, had a narrow escape from drowning in attempting to ford the river. His rig was upset, and he escaped by hanging to the lines while his team swam to the shore.

The Cowboys Heard From.

WAUSA, Neb. June 19.—All the cowboys have injured here and proceeded. After the three leaders had departed last night, the others arrived as follows: Albright and Smith, 7:00 p. m.; Berry, 8:10 p. m.; Jones, 1 a. m.; Campbell 2:45 a. m. Campbell has only one horse, having been compelled to abandon one.

Traded His Ranch.

Special Dispatch to the News.

LARAMIE, Wyo., June 19.—Chas. A. Chase has traded his ranch on Mill creek in this county to Chas. E. Nash, of Chanute, Kansas. The consideration was $15,000. Mr. Chase took a hotel at that place in part payment, and will remove there with his family.

A Hundred Applicants Out.

NATRONA, Pa., June 19.—W. P. Disert, a Philadelphia barber, had one hundred around him at bay all night at Clearfield, and only surrendered when fifty determined men burst open the door of the building he was in and overpowered him. For two hours a steady fire was kept up on both sides. When captured one of the robber's eyes was shot out and the left arm disabled by a bullet. Disert is supposed to be implicated in fifty robberies in Western Pennsylvania committed during the last two weeks.

The Armor Bill.

BERLIN, June 19.—Lieutenant, the well known liberal democratic leader, in an interview today, admitted that the government would get a majority in the reichstag for the army bill by effecting a compromise with certain political factions. The compromise would consist in increasing the numerical strength of the army by sixty thousand, and reducing the period of service to 169 years.

Changed His Mind.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The President's announcement of pension policy indicates has decided not to accompany Mrs. Cleveland to Buzzard's Bay.

Declines the Invitation.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—National Democratic Chairman Wm. F. Harrity has sent a letter to Richard Croker, New York, declining the invitation to address Tammany Hall on July 4th.

Receiver Appointed.

NEW YORK, June 19.—On application of one of the directors a receiver has been appointed for the Cassell Patenting company on allegations of insolvency caused by President Dunham floating $100,000 worth of notes for his own obligations. It is said that he has disappeared.

Critically Ill.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Associate Judge Samuel Blatchford of the United States Supreme court, was taken critically ill yesterday. His family is greatly alarmed.

For Common Assault.

LONDON, June 19.—A young girl employed as a servant in a boarding house in London has received summons against John Dillon, Member of the house of commons, who lodged in the house in which the girl is employed, for common assault. Dillon is a member of the anti-Parnellite section of the Irish party and acts as one of the whips.

ONE MORE FAILURE.

The Sandberg Furniture Company at this City Goes Down.

The Sandberg Furniture company made an assignment today, George H. Brown being named as assignee. The papers filed gave no statement of the amount of liabilities. The president of the company is John C. Sandberg. Elect case is secretary. The company has been doing a furniture business on South Temple street, just west of the corner of West Temple. None of the creditors of the institution are classed as preferred, but all are placed on an equal footing. The assets of the company consist of their building at 108 and 110 West Temple street and the land upon which it stands, 248 rods, the tank monument, promissory notes, delivery horse and wagon, and merchandise in stock. The liabilities are not known, but the assets are in excess of the available assets, and the company admits its present inability to meet all of its obligations. When the whole business is settled up, however, there is sufficient company property to cover all the indebtedness. The principal creditors are the Dinwoodey Furniture company, for $2000, and the Taylor-Dinwoodey-Armstrong company, for $1400. The remaining liabilities will bring the total up to about $6000. The real estate of the company is worth more than that, while the outstanding accounts which can be collected will amount to $2000.

SUPREME COURT.

Three Opinions Were Handed Down By the Judges this Morning.

BLACKBURN SUSTAINED FOR ONCE.

The Summit County Election Dispute Comes Up for Argument Again.—An Aggrieved Passenger.

The judges of the Territorial supreme court were in full force at the opening of this morning's session, all of them being present. Several opinions were handed down and the cases argued before the noon adjournment.

DECISIONS MADE THIS MORNING.

Judge Smith delivered the court's opinion in the case of John W. Smith, respondent, vs the Rio Grande Western Railway Company, appellant.

The only question presented by this appeal was whether or not the evidence was sufficient to justify the jury's verdict. The action was commenced by the plaintiff to recover $15,000 for personal injuries, alleged to have been occasioned to a collision with one of the company's trains, while plaintiff was riding in a wagon on the public highway at Springville, at a point where it intersects the railroad. The verdict was for $7500, which plaintiff voluntarily reduced to $5000, but the company appealed, notwithstanding, against Judge Blackburn's refusal to grant a new trial.

The court did not feel authorized to set aside the verdict and affirmed the judgment of the court below.

Judges Zane, Miner and Barton concurred.

RE HEARING DENIED.

Judge Miner acted as the court's mouthpiece in the case of R. Dinger et al, plaintiffs and respondents, vs. St. Y. Lo Street, Geo. Cannon appellant, on appeal from the judgment of the Fifth district court in denying extension's motion for a new trial.

The appeal in this case was heard in this court at the January term of 1897, and a decision rendered subsequently in favor of appellant, granting him a new trial. Respondents afterwards filed their petition for a re-hearing and the court granted the same. After a full re-hearing their honors now decided not to change the former decision. The judgment of the district court, they say, should be reversed with costs and a new trial granted. Case remanded, therefore for further proceedings.

Judges Zane, Barton and Smith concurred.

REINSTATED AFFIDAVITS.

Thomas Hosner, plaintiff and respondent, vs the Inter-Mountain Abstract company.

Opinion by Judge Miner. It was an appeal from an order of the Third district court in denying appellant's motion for a new trial.

The motion was based upon the ground of "misconduct" of the jury while in the jury room, in improperly examining page 274 of the book of account between the parties when page 275 only was in evidence. In support of the motion the affidavits of two of the jurors were offered. The court declined to receive the affidavits and overruled the motion for a new trial. This was the only error assigned.

The Supreme court now held that the affidavits were properly rejected, and affirmed the judgment of the court below.

Justices Barton and Smith concurred.

MOTION TO SET ASIDE.

In the case of M. Rosh Warner vs the United States Mutual Accident Association, a motion was made to set the judgment of affirmance and to recall the remittitur was made and submitted by the appellant association.

SUBMITTED ON BRIEFS.

The case of the Societe Anonyme des Mines des Lexington vs the Old Dominion Mining and Milling company, appellants, was submitted on briefs.

WHO WAS RIGHT?

The case of Rose Burtes, respondent, vs the Union Pacific Railroad company, appellant, was argued by Attorney W. Van Cott for the appellant and Attorney Parkins for the respondent.

Mrs. Burtes brought suit against the the railroad company to recover the sum of $300, on account of her being, as she says, put off a passenger train just north of the Hot Springs on October 18th, 1897. Plaintiff resides at Willard, Box Elder county, journeyed to Hot Springs, distant five miles from that place, and thence obtained a round trip ticket to Salt Lake City. On the return journey the same day the train was very much crowded. She did not get off, however, when it reached Hot Springs, which was as her ticket entitled her to ride, and after traveling about a mile and a half further, as plaintiff declared, the conductor insultingly put her off, although she had in her possession enough money to pay the extra fare, 25 cents. The ejectment was denied by the other side.

The jury in the Fourth district court awarded the plaintiff the sum of $50, and against this the railroad company appeal.

BECAUSE BLACKBURN WAS DEPOSED.

The Summit county election dispute—George W. Young, plaintiff and respondent, vs J. H. Dooling, defendant and appellant—was re-argued and submitted. Attorney Arthur Brown representing the appellant, and Attorney W. Van Cott appearing for the respondent.

Readers of the News are quite familiar with the facts of the case by this time. It is an appeal from a judgment of Chief Justice Zane in favor of the plaintiff and contested against the defendant and contestee in an action brought under the special statute for contesting elections.

Mr. Young ran upon the Democratic ticket in county treasurer of Summit county and Mr. Dooling on the Liberal ticket. The former received 651 votes and the latter 626. Mr. Young claimed that seven votes cast in two precincts at Coalville which should have been counted for him were by mistake dropped in the wrong box. Had these been counted in he, Young, would have stood in a majority of two over his opponent, but owing to this slip he lost the day.

The case was taken under advisement. When it was formerly argued before the Supreme court the writing of the opinion fell to Judge Blackburn, but owing to his subsequent removal from the bench it became necessary to reargue it. Hence the traversing over of the ground in the more this morning.

CURE SUITS.

Ephraim P. Little filed a $500 damage suit against the Rio Grande Western Railway company in the Third district court on Saturday evening. He alleges that the defendant, through negligence, killed eighty-one of his sheep.

In the case of A. R. Bean, filed in Commissioner Greenman's court on Saturday afternoon, he stated in that day's News) on the charge of having appropriated to his own use certain goods belonging to the Utah Clothing & Manufacturing company, the leading company sold after an attach. An hour later the jury returned a verdict of acquittal. P. L. Smith, charged with a similar offense, will be tried tomorrow.

In the matter of the preferred claims of H. E. Anderson et al, in the assignment of the Salt Lake Pirate company the motion for an order directing petitioners to hold prior liens upon the funds now in the hands of the officers, has been referred to Attorney J. H. Hurd to try and report. The case was mentioned in Saturday's News, being in course of argument when our reporter left at 5:30.

Shortly before in ending of the Third district court on Saturday afternoon, William Dorey was granted a decree of divorce from Margaret Dorey, on the ground of desertion. Plaintiff said he returned home some months ago and found that his wife had left him. Since that time she has persistently refused to return to him. The plaintiff's son stated that he had visited with the defendant twice who his way mother after her desertion and she gave a set reason for the same that Dorey was not "high-toned" enough for her and that she wanted a "high-toned!"

THE RACES.

Saturday's Meeting and the Program for Tomorrow.

The attendance on Saturday was very good, everything considered, the day being unfavorable on account of the strong wind and clouds of dust that at times shut the horses from view. The 2:20 pace was particularly interesting from the fact that Mattana, the favorite, only obtained third money. The struggle between Jayney, a San Luis horse, and Bitter Tricks, an Ogden horse, was a magnificent one, proving enough of the element of uncertainty to keep foot players on the hotter hooks of suspense during the whole five heats of the race. Jayney should have won in the one, two, three heats.

The 2:30 trot, with John R. against the field, was simply a procession, Dennis and George L. crowding him only had enough to demonstrate the fact that the winner could have shut them out had he been so inclined.

The two-year-old trot was of the same order, Manchurian the favorite winning easily in two straight heats.

The three-fourth mile dash was a surprise, Al Watts being backed heavily to win, but for some reason, either accountable or otherwise, lost the race to slow time to Manitou.

Messrs Jennings, Keogh and Thompson were the judges, L. J. Stearnback selling as starter.

Tomorrow's program is 2:11 trot for a $1000 purse; 2:15 pace a $1000 purse; 2:24 pace purse $500, and a half mile dash for a $300 purse. The association certainly cannot be accused of niggardliness in the size of its purses, and from the entries this meeting should be a notable one in Salt Lake racing annals.

Two of the greatest races of the meeting will come off tomorrow at the track of the Driving Park association.

THE 2:20 TROT FOR A $1000 PURSE

will be one of the events of the meet and a very exciting contest. Among the noted horses entered are Ollinger, the pride of the Keeling & Ollinger stables, Keeting, who drove Jayney on Saturday, will hold the reins on the brown gelding. The other horses are Dolly m., entered by F. S. Byers of Denver; Mamitrio Thorne, entered by Tom Harris of the city; Marquis, entered by Lew Hinkley of Denver; and McLeod, by John Nolan, of Denver.

But the greatest of all the races will be the 2:15 pace, for in it are to be found nine famous flyers, whose past performances are a part of the history of the turf. The entries as given by Secretary Park's book are as follows:

Jayney, b. h., untrained; entered by W. H. Grant of American Fork, Utah; Strathberry, by Hoscberry, dam by Cheviot; entered by J. W. Mercer of Salt Lake City.

Geraldine, b. m., by Mount Vernon, dam by Major McClellan; entered by A. Clark of San Francisco.

Bawley, b. g., by King Pharoah, dam Belmont; entered by A. D. Holm, Salt Lake.

W. W. F., ch. g. Ben Lomond, Jr., dam Donnetmaid; entered by DuBois Bros., Denver, Col.

L. C. Lee, blk. h., by St. Elmo; entered by Barney Sinck, Denver, Col.

Laura B. ch. m., by Membrino Willes, dam by Chieftain; entered by Keeling & Ollinger, San Francisco.

Lady H., b. m., by Sidney; dam, Sultana; entered by Los Carritos Stock Farm, Cal.

Bitter Tricks, b. h., by Membrino Willes; dam by Patchen Vernon; entered by J. L. Carlson, Ogden.

NOTES.

Bitter Tricks and Jayney will again come against each other tomorrow.

All the business houses are disposed to close on Derby Day, which is not far near Friday.

The trotting races tomorrow ought to attract 10,000 people.

The Driving Park directors are to be congratulated for making the admission Fifty cents.

W. W. F. is a great horse. He made his record of 2:13 on the Driving Park association grounds last year. Jayney made a mile this year in 2:17½.

The races are a great success.

Utah "scenic" were all right on Saturday.

J. C. Lee will go tomorrow in the 2:15 pace.

Lee Shaver will drive George Wood-Bridge in the 2:20 trot tomorrow.

Wonderland.

A very fine program is announced by the house for the week commencing Thursday, June 22nd. The Irwin Opera company will present Balfe's beautiful opera, The Bohemian Girl. A fine production will be given.

Patrons of this house should bear in mind that the close of the season will be observed by giving to the person holding the lucky number a lady's gold watch. Persons attending the opera as advertised will receive a numbered coupon, entitling them to a chance in the drawings.

The management are justly entitled to credit for the class of attractions that has been given at this house, and no doubt large audiences will attend the closing performances.

Garfield Trains.

Beginning Wednesday next a change will be inaugurated in the Garfield time table. Thereafter beach trains will run as follows: Leave Salt Lake 10:30, 11, 2, 4:30 and 6:30 o'clock p. m.; returning leave Garfield at 12 noon, 3:30, 6, 8, 7 and 10:30 o'clock p. m.

TIMELY TALK OF THE FAIR.

A Ten Days' Trip for Man and Wife Need Not Exceed $200.

Sparks of the Great Show—How the Cables Can be Taken Along and Well Cared For.

Special Correspondence of the News.

CHICAGO, June 16.—The question that seems to bother many Utah people is, "How can I see the World's Fair?" It is a hard question to answer to the satisfaction of every person, yet in a general way I will try and give the people a few pointers. In the first place I will say that it is not necessary to spend a fortune to see the World's Fair, yet it is worth a fortune to most any one who does see it.

The matter of railroad fares is as easy one to get at, but allow me to say that I believe there will be a great reduction in round trip fares from Utah before long.

A good comfortable room can be had convenient to the grounds for $1.50 per day for two people and good meals for two people need not exceed $2.00 per day, and they can be had for much less. The admission to the grounds is 50 cents for each person and 25 cents for children. It will therefore cost $4.00 per day for two people, or say $80 for ten days for two people. You can get along on much less by buying cheaper meals and taking cheaper rooms. But I am giving you a medium rate, such as I know the majority of Utah people can stand.

With the present rate of railroad fares it is possible for a man and his wife to come from Utah and get a fair impression of the World's Fair in ten days, and the total expense need not exceed $200. Such a sum could not be expended to better advantage. For young people it is an invaluable experience and is worth a great sacrifice on the part of themselves or friends in order that they may see this greatest of all expositions.

Many Utah people are bothered with small children, and the mothers while anxious to come, do not know what to do with the babies. I say, bring them along, not in doubt, however, but later in the season, and you will find a place to keep them. Among the many things that has not been overlooked is the comfort of the little folks. You can place the baby in the children's building, where it will have better care than it can possibly get at home to leave when away from home. In fact they will take well care for as they could possibly be if at home.

Miss Maria M. Love, of Buffalo, N. Y., is conducting a creche or nursery where very young children have the very best of attention. A kindergarten for older ones, and a kitchen garden for still older boys and girls, provides for all the little folks who are too young to be benefited by the Fair. The care of the little folks costs 25 cents per day and includes the attention of nurses, baths, two meals and a nap, so that they have all the comforts of home aside from having a most enjoyable time, as toys of every description are provided, and studies from all countries keep the little ones quiet when they require rest.

I have devoted some attention to the children's building especially for the benefit of the readers of the News, because I know it is a serious question for many people who wish to visit the Fair and don't know what to do with the little folks. There is a bureau of public comfort, with departments scattered all over the grounds, where mothers can go and rest with their children and care for them themselves. There is no charge for these accommodations, so that there is no reason why mothers should not come and see the Exposition.

I shall write of the exhibits in my next letter, and try and tell the News readers about a few of the things they can see at the World's Fair, and how they can best view the various departments. TIMOTHY.

DIED LAST NIGHT.

President C. E. Wantelle of the Park City Bank Passes Away.

A VICTIM OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

The Deceased an Old and Popular Union Pacific Official.—His Death Particularly Awaited for Months.

A private dispatch received in this city this morning brought the information that President C. E. Wantelle, of the Park City bank, which recently collapsed, died at Philadelphia last night. While this news was received with sorrow it was not unexpected by Mr. Wantelle's friends and associates.

At the time of his death he held a responsible and lucrative position under the Union Pacific—that of superintendent of the Wyoming division. For more than twenty years Mr. Wantelle has been in the employ of this road. He commenced as telegraph operator and successively filled the positions of train dispatcher, train master, conductor, assistant superintendent and superintendent. His knowledge of Union Pacific affairs in Wyoming was more thorough, it is said, than that of any other man. He was a favorite with President Clarke and General Manager Dickinson and very popular among the employes, and his death will be keenly regretted by his railroad associates.

His taking off was immediately due to Bright's disease, he having been a constant sufferer from that terrible malady for the past three years. His home and official headquarters were at Evanston, Wyoming. His physical condition for months past was such as to enable the appreciative of his friends and his wife. Although it was generally known that his case was as incurable one he patiently submitted to several operations with a view of itself of securing temporary relief. About a month ago he went to Philadelphia to consult with an eminent physician regarding his condition. He was given to understand that the end of his earthly career was near at hand and he hopefully resigned himself to his fate.

As the failure of the Park City bank he is said to be by far the heaviest loser. His friends are of the opinion, however, that that fact did not hasten the termination, as he was a man of large and varied property interests and had a splendid annual income.

He was about 50 years of age and leaves a divorced wife, Mrs. Dr. Pinkham, a stepdaughter of Mayor Gaskill, and one son, a student at the Ogden military academy. His body will be forwarded from Philadelphia to Evanston for burial, and several of the Union Pacific officials from this section will go out to attend the funeral.

THE UTAH COMMISSION.

First Session of That Body this Morning and Several Subjects Taken Up.

At the executive office this morning all the members of the Utah Commission met and under the chairmanship of Judge Williams sat and discussed various matters until noon, when an adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

THE AMNESTY PROCLAMATION.

The first subject considered was the proper construction to be placed upon the amnesty proclamation of President Harrison as to the right to vote of those heretofore disfranchised. After a lengthy discussion the commission resolved to communicate with the attorney general of the United States with a view of obtaining from him an official opinion. Chairman Williams will at once put himself in correspondence with that gentleman.

COUNTY REGISTRATION LIST.

The amended law in regard to the revision of the county registration list was next taken up without definite action.

WOMAN'S INDUSTRIAL HOME.

The Woman's Industrial Home on Fifth East street was another theme of the members. The Utah commission has been constituted a board of trustees of that institution and will have to consider what disposition might be made of it in the event of the house being discontinued, Congress having made no appropriation in its behalf. No conclusion was now reached on the matter, the commission's intervention being necessary only in case the institution is abandoned.

SEQUEL TO AN ASSIGNMENT.

Mrs. M. A. Coombs Takes Legal Steps To Secure Her Rights on a Promissory Note.

Martha A. Coombs this morning, in the Third district court, instituted proceedings against the Utah Paint and Oil company and M. J. Jones, assignee, to recover $300 on a promissory note, with interest at 8 per cent per annum, secured by a chattel mortgage. Plaintiff prays that such mortgage be decreed a lien upon certain of the defendants' property now in the hands of the assignee prior to any lien, right and interest of the assignee or any creditors provided for in the deed and assignment. It is asked that the defendant Jones be therefore enjoined and restrained from selling or otherwise disposing of said property until the further order of court.
