A MAN'S REPLY.

I stood at the bar of your town's tribunal
Charged with the crime that you think
My only defense in the simple recital
Can you be blame me for better, not dead.

You consider that man's love a crime in the earth,
Though formed by the hand from above,
He will find more cause, yet shall wait
And be glad
At the coming of Infinite love.

So I'm bold enough to answer your question in rhyme,
And offer you "A Man's Reply."
That for the price of a free woman's free
I am ready to live or die.

You say that the man who enters your home
Must be honest, and true and good,
Forgetting that she that takes her head
Must be as upright and true.

You say that you want a "man and a lady,"
A very pattern of the sexes,
I'm a man and a lady and a common heart,
And am for a common sense.

You propose "all things that are good and fair
For
All things that a man should be,"
I am for a woman, with all true English,
And that is sufficient for me.

I'm not for a man without a lady,
To live with a man's heart and soul,
I am for a woman, honest and all,
For my faithful man judge of worth.

I ask for a woman modest or old,
A sister or friend or wife,
Who is confidant, judge, adviser and friend,
As the occasion may be.

A woman who has an aim in life,
Who feels she is worth the living,
Who makes the world better for her being,
And for others her life is spending.

I will not respond that I have added
Anything to the world's good,
I only pray that you may to all
That that can be defined you.

For your heart and life and love
Are of value to me,
And "I'll make my life" that I'll be to you
Whatever I ought to be.

—Second Hyde in Life.

A WEATHER PROPHET

Miss Sophia Nichols was a lady of great modesty and of a very retiring disposition, and as she had passed the age of "fifty, fat and forty," wanted few glances on men.

She had lately established herself in a suite of rooms on the southeast corner of Laurel street, facing the lovely little Beech park. It was just the place for a quiet spinster who loved nature and retirement, and she enjoyed it with undivided quiet for a few days.

Opposite her new abode was a quiet old house with four immense windows, wherein were set tiny panes of glass, to each room. The inhabitants seemed very quiet persons, and she seldom saw them except in the evening.

After she had been domiciled about a week in her new place her attention was attracted by a very queer action of an old gentleman who lived in the quaint house.

After finishing her 1 o'clock dinner she always established herself really with work at hook at her front window, and the old gentleman would as regularly appear in his yard, and, drawing out of his pocket a red handkerchief, raise it solemnly high in air. He did not seem to wave it, but it was as the own errant will, or the wind's will.

On moonlight nights, always about 10 o'clock, he repeated this mysterious rite, or whatever it was. His eyes were nearly always turned toward her window, and stared fiercely. Sometimes he did not use the handkerchief at all, but gazed steadfastly at her window.

The performance he kept up every day, until Miss Sophia began to be fearfully nervous. She was really afraid it would draw down the gossip of the neighborhood on her. So she tried in many ways, well bred ways to let the old gentleman understand that she did not like his very open attention.

She pulled down her blind, and on peeping out to see what effect it had found it had come, he still waved. Or she would retreat to the furthest corner of the room, out of his range of vision, and her mirror told her he still gazed.

Finally her nephew came to make her a week's visit. Every evening he a twenty times or so, she, and Jack Brown was Miss Sophia's name. She assured his truth (he was only twenty-four), his courage, his well shaped body, and even his importance to get it mildly temper. He was rather good looking, too, although his hair was black, his eyes black, his mustache, such as it was, undeniably red.

The first day of his visit Miss Sophia kept him engaged by showing him her photograph albums, of which she had half a dozen. But she couldn't keep this up a whole week, so the second day Jack remarked on the furniture and its owner appeared.

"What a queer old chap! What's he doing?"

To which Miss Sophia tremulously replied, "I don't know," which was miserably true, for she had her back carefully turned to the window.

The next day Jack observed the same performance and said:

"Confound the old numskull! Aunt Sophia, I really believe he's trying to flirt with you or else he's a lunatic."

Jack was a senior at college and had taken his degree in the art of flirting.

The following day Jack's ire reached a climax as the old gentleman appeared as usual, and not only waved the handkerchief, but actually gazed fiercely at Miss Sophia's window for fully five minutes.

He pulled up his hat and said to his aunt, "I'll know the meaning of this unmodest impudence or my name's not Jack Brown!"

He dashed down stairs, paying no attention to his aunt's pleadings. "Don't, Jack, don't! you will only make matters worse!" She pulled down her curtain and peeped from behind it to see what Jack would do.

He was striding angrily across the street, and in a few moments was at the old gentleman's side. With a wrathful face and sturdily determined manner, he said:

"Sir, what is the meaning of your immodest impudence? It is a fact, thing that a quiet lady cannot sit at her window without being insulted."

The old gentleman cleared his throat, wiped his mouth with the offending handkerchief, smiled gently, raised his hand to his ear and said in a soft, silky voice: "Hey! please speak a little louder. I'm quite deaf."

The young Jack, as is customary with people who are unaccustomed to talking with the deaf, raised loudly and roughly, enforcing his former inquiry with "I say," concluding that he was making a spectacle of himself, and that in all probability the whole neighborhood heard him.

Still the old gentleman shook his head deprecatingly and said: "Speak into the house. My daughter will make me understand; you talk too rapidly and loudly."

Jack as he said it a door opened softly and a girl's face, twinkling with laughter, said: "What is it, father? Does the gentleman want something?"

"I think he does, Bertha, but I cannot understand what."

After one glance at the girl's face Jack seized himself by the throat. "I'm sorry I have expressed it, as I he knew the hot overheard the whole interview. He really had not the courage to tell her outright that her father inadvertent of flirtation with his Aunt Sophia, or else he was a lunatic, and that neither he nor his aunt approved of his conduct.

The girl let him founder and get out as best he could, but enjoyed to enjoy the situation so much that she actually gave Jack a little pity for a woman, with all true English, and that is sufficient for me.

For a woman without a lady,
To live with a man's heart and soul,
I am for a woman, honest and all,
For my faithful man judge of worth.

I ask for a woman modest or old,
A sister or friend or wife,
Who is confidant, judge, adviser and friend,
As the occasion may be.

A woman who has an aim in life,
Who feels she is worth the living,
Who makes the world better for her being,
And for others her life is spending.

I will not respond that I have added
Anything to the world's good,
I only pray that you may to all
That that can be defined you.

For your heart and life and love
Are of value to me,
And "I'll make my life" that I'll be to you
Whatever I ought to be.

—Second Hyde in Life.

A WEATHER PROPHET

Miss Sophia Nichols was a lady of great modesty and of a very retiring disposition, and as she had passed the age of "fifty, fat and forty," wanted few glances on men.

She had lately established herself in a suite of rooms on the southeast corner of Laurel street, facing the lovely little Beech park. It was just the place for a quiet spinster who loved nature and retirement, and she enjoyed it with undivided quiet for a few days.

Opposite her new abode was a quiet old house with four immense windows, wherein were set tiny panes of glass, to each room. The inhabitants seemed very quiet persons, and she seldom saw them except in the evening.

After she had been domiciled about a week in her new place her attention was attracted by a very queer action of an old gentleman who lived in the quaint house.

After finishing her 1 o'clock dinner she always established herself really with work at hook at her front window, and the old gentleman would as regularly appear in his yard, and, drawing out of his pocket a red handkerchief, raise it solemnly high in air. He did not seem to wave it, but it was as the own errant will, or the wind's will.

On moonlight nights, always about 10 o'clock, he repeated this mysterious rite, or whatever it was. His eyes were nearly always turned toward her window, and stared fiercely. Sometimes he did not use the handkerchief at all, but gazed steadfastly at her window.

The performance he kept up every day, until Miss Sophia began to be fearfully nervous. She was really afraid it would draw down the gossip of the neighborhood on her. So she tried in many ways, well bred ways to let the old gentleman understand that she did not like his very open attention.

She pulled down her blind, and on peeping out to see what effect it had found it had come, he still waved. Or she would retreat to the furthest corner of the room, out of his range of vision, and her mirror told her he still gazed.

Finally her nephew came to make her a week's visit. Every evening he a twenty times or so, she, and Jack Brown was Miss Sophia's name. She assured his truth (he was only twenty-four), his courage, his well shaped body, and even his importance to get it mildly temper. He was rather good looking, too, although his hair was black, his eyes black, his mustache, such as it was, undeniably red.

The first day of his visit Miss Sophia kept him engaged by showing him her photograph albums, of which she had half a dozen. But she couldn't keep this up a whole week, so the second day Jack remarked on the furniture and its owner appeared.

"What a queer old chap! What's he doing?"

To which Miss Sophia tremulously replied, "I don't know," which was miserably true, for she had her back carefully turned to the window.

The next day Jack observed the same performance and said:

"Confound the old numskull! Aunt Sophia, I really believe he's trying to flirt with you or else he's a lunatic."

Jack was a senior at college and had taken his degree in the art of flirting.

The following day Jack's ire reached a climax as the old gentleman appeared as usual, and not only waved the handkerchief, but actually gazed fiercely at Miss Sophia's window for fully five minutes.

He pulled up his hat and said to his aunt, "I'll know the meaning of this unmodest impudence or my name's not Jack Brown!"

He dashed down stairs, paying no attention to his aunt's pleadings. "Don't, Jack, don't! you will only make matters worse!" She pulled down her curtain and peeped from behind it to see what Jack would do.

He was striding angrily across the street, and in a few moments was at the old gentleman's side. With a wrathful face and sturdily determined manner, he said:

"Sir, what is the meaning of your immodest impudence? It is a fact, thing that a quiet lady cannot sit at her window without being insulted."

The old gentleman cleared his throat, wiped his mouth with the offending handkerchief, smiled gently, raised his hand to his ear and said in a soft, silky voice: "Hey! please speak a little louder. I'm quite deaf."

The young Jack, as is customary with people who are unaccustomed to talking with the deaf, raised loudly and roughly, enforcing his former inquiry with "I

GO TO MIDGLEY & CO.,
102 E. Second South Street, Tel. 495,
FOR THE VERY BEST
PICTURE & LOOKING GLASS FRAMES
PRICES ASTONISH
AND REGILDING WITH GENUINE GOLD LEAF. They will this month only sell picture frames from cost up. All kinds of mirrors done. 4-1-1m

WASHBURN
Guitars, Mandolins & Zithers
Are unsurpassed in quality of tone, workmanship and finish. Illustrated catalogue, containing much valuable information, sent free on request. Mention this paper. Sold by leading music dealers everywhere.
LYON & HEALY, CHICAGO.

TONS REDUCED
PATIENTS TREATED BY MAIL. CONFIDENTIAL. Medicine sent everywhere. Consultation free. Sick or well, write for Question Blank. DR. E. B. SANDEN, WOODMAN'S TEMPLE, CHICAGO, ILL.

LEGAL NOTICE.

In the Probate Court of the County of Salt Lake, Territory of Utah.

In the matter of the estate of Mary Yates, deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A.H. Rowe, administrator of the estate of Mary Yates, deceased, has filed in said Court his final account and report of his administration of said estate, and that the hour of 10 o'clock a.m. of the 2nd day of April, A.D. 1892, at the Court House of said County, in Salt Lake City, has been appointed by the Judge of said Court for the hearing of said account and report, when and where any person interested may appear and contest said account and report and be heard thereon.

Dated March 26, 1892.

C. E. ALLEN,
Clerk of the Probate Court.
By CHARLES HOWETT, Jr., Deputy Clerk.

LEGAL NOTICE.

In the Probate Court of the County of Salt Lake, Territory of Utah.

In the matter of the Estate of Charles E. Ferguson, deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the undersigned, Administrator of the estate of said deceased, has filed in said Court his final account and report of his administration of said estate, and that the hour of 10 o'clock a.m. of the 2nd day of April, A.D. 1892, at the Court House of said County, in Salt Lake City, has been appointed by the Judge of said Court for the hearing of said account and report, when and where any person interested may appear and contest said account and report and be heard thereon.

Dated March 26, 1892.

C. E. ALLEN,
Clerk of the Probate Court.
By CHARLES HOWETT, Jr., Deputy Clerk.

LEGAL NOTICE.

In the Probate Court of the County of Salt Lake, Territory of Utah.

In the matter of the Estate of Gerard Brown, deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the undersigned, Administrator of the estate of said deceased, has filed in said Court his final account and report of his administration of said estate, and that the hour of 10 o'clock a.m. of the 2nd day of April, A.D. 1892, at the Court House of said County, in Salt Lake City, has been appointed by the Judge of said Court for the hearing of said account and report, when and where any person interested may appear and contest said account and report and be heard thereon.

Dated March 26, 1892.

C. E. ALLEN,
Clerk of the Probate Court.
By CHARLES HOWETT, Jr., Deputy Clerk.

LEGAL NOTICE.

In the Probate Court of the County of Salt Lake, Territory of Utah.

In the matter of the Estate of Mary Ferguson, deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT W. H. H. Dwyer, Administrator of the estate of Mary Ferguson, deceased, has filed in said Court his final account of said estate, and that the hour of 10 o'clock a.m. of the 2nd day of April, A.D. 1892, at the Court House of said County, in Salt Lake City, has been appointed by the Judge of said Court for the hearing of said account and report, when and where any person interested may appear and contest said account and report and be heard thereon.

Dated March 26, 1892.

C. E. ALLEN,
Clerk of the Probate Court.
By CHARLES HOWETT, Jr., Deputy Clerk.

LEGAL NOTICE.

In the Probate Court of the County of Salt Lake, Territory of Utah.

In the matter of the estate of Mary Ferguson, deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT W. H. H. Dwyer, Administrator of the estate of Mary Ferguson, deceased, has filed in said Court his final account of said estate, and that the hour of 10 o'clock a.m. of the 2nd day of April, A.D. 1892, at the Court House of said County, in Salt Lake City, has been appointed by the Judge of said Court for the hearing of said account and report, when and where any person interested may appear and contest said account and report and be heard thereon.

Dated March 26, 1892.

C. E. ALLEN,
Clerk of the Probate Court.
By CHARLES HOWETT, Jr., Deputy Clerk.

LEGAL NOTICE.

In the Probate Court in and for Salt Lake County, territory of Utah.

Order to show Cause why Letters of Administration should not be granted.

BARLOW TRUSTON, the administrator of the estate of Jane Hall, deceased, having filed his petition herein, praying that letters of administration of the said estate of said deceased be issued to him, it is ordered by the Judge of said Court, that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, appear before the Probate Court, on Tuesday, the 5th day of April, A.D. 1892, at the hour of 10 o'clock a.m. of said day, at the Court House of said County, in Salt Lake City, to show cause why said petition should not be granted.

Dated March 31, 1892.

C. E. ALLEN,
Clerk of the Probate Court.
By CHARLES HOWETT, Jr., Deputy Clerk.

LEGAL NOTICE.

In the Probate Court in and for Salt Lake County, territory of Utah.

Order to show Cause why Letters of Administration should not be granted.

BARLOW TRUSTON, the administrator of the estate of Jane Hall, deceased, having filed his petition herein, praying that letters of administration of the said estate of said deceased be issued to him, it is ordered by the Judge of said Court, that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, appear before the Probate Court, on Tuesday, the 5th day of April, A.D. 1892, at the hour of 10 o'clock a.m. of said day, at the Court House of said County, in Salt Lake City, to show cause why said petition should not be granted.

Dated March 31, 1892.

C. E. ALLEN,
Clerk of the Probate Court.
By CHARLES HOWETT, Jr., Deputy Clerk.

NOTICE OF FORFEITURE.

TO JOHN ROWLAND, YOU ARE HEREBY notified that the following sums, expended and paid out by the undersigned, for labor and improvements upon the mine known as the Ontario Fraction, No. 1, Ontario Fraction, No. 2, Ontario Fraction, No. 3, Ontario Fraction, No. 4, Ontario Fraction, No. 5, situate in the Ontario Mining District, County of Salt Lake, Territory of Utah, in order to hold said mines under the provisions of Section 2324 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, are due and delinquent, viz.: Ontario Fraction, No. 1, one hundred dollars; Ontario Fraction, No. 2, one hundred dollars; Ontario Fraction, No. 3, one hundred dollars; Ontario Fraction, No. 4, one hundred dollars; Ontario Fraction, No. 5, one hundred dollars, being the total sum due and delinquent upon said mines for the year 1891, and that if said sums are not paid to the undersigned within ninety days after the publication of this notice, your interest in said mines will become the property of the undersigned, in accordance with the provisions of said Section 2324 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 12, 1892.

W. W. TAYLOR, Partner Judge.

ASSESSMENT NOTICE.

OFFICE OF THE SALT LAKE MINING CONSOLIDATED, Salt Lake City, Utah, March 2nd, 1892.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT AT a meeting of the Directors, held on the 1st day of March, 1892, an assessment of twenty dollars per share was levied on the capital stock of the company, payable on or before Saturday, April 20, 1892, in Room 3, Atlantic Block, Salt Lake City, Utah. Any stock upon which this assessment is unpaid on that day will be delinquent and advertised for sale at public auction, and unless payment is made before will be sold on the third day of April, 1892, to pay the delinquent assessment, together with costs of advertising and expense of sale.

By order of the Board of Trustees.

J. E. JENNINGS, Secretary.
Deseret National Bank Building.

TAYLOR, ROMNEY, ARMSTRONG CO.
LUMBER!
Sash, Doors, Mouldings, Etc.
Planing Mill and Yard, Sec. Block East of U. P. Depot, Salt Lake City, Utah.
GEO. ROMNEY, Manager. GEO. ROMNEY, Jr., Asst. Manager.
Office: Rooms 11 and 12, Templeton Block, 167 and 169 W. South Temple Street.

THE BALANCE of the World Smoke SEAL OF NORTH CAROLINA Why Don't You?
Packed in Patent Cloth Pouches and in Foil.

MONEY FOR LAND.
MANY PERSONS WHO DO NOT OWN THEIR land, but have once had a warrant perhaps, do talk to the point a not unfriendly ear, and have decided to locate land adjoining their present farms. Many people want to do so, but they do not know how. We can do it for you, and we can do it cheap. Write us your wants, and we will do the business for you. Address
CHAS. S. CRANE,
Attorney at Law,
Box 114, Washington, D. C.

PLEASE REMEMBER!
That we will open a Complete Line of
Disstons' Celebrated Saws,
Consisting in part of
Cross Cut, Drag, One Man Length, Mill, Kind, Rip, Panel, Tenon, Pruning, Compass, Keyhole, Cook, Keyhole, etc., also Circular, both Solid & Chisel Point Teeth And TRIUMPH.
For Sale by Tool Sets and are Selling at LOWER PRICES THAN EVER.
Also a Full Line of Other Standard Makes and FILES of every kind.
Remember HAPPS and FILES, 74 Main Street and 76, 78, 80, 82.

CONWAY CABINET CO'S
HARDWOOD MANTELS
THE BEST IN THE WORLD
WATSON BROS., Corner Main and West Temple Sts., Salt Lake City, Sole Agents for Utah.

HENRY WAGNER
SALT LAKE CITY
CALIFORNIA BREWERY.
LAGER BEER, ALE AND PORTER.
Wholesale and Retail.
Nos. 50 East First South Street.

Utah Cracker Factory,
MANUFACTURERS OF THE
SILVER BRAND of SNOWFLAKE SODAS
AND FINE CAKES.
Packed in 1 and 2 Pound Boxes for Picnic Parties, Travelers and Families.
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

GUNPOWDER.
Full Stock and Prices on Hand. Orders Filled Promptly.
HAZARD'S "Sporting Rifle."
HAZARD'S "Duck Shooting."
HAZARD'S "Duck Shooting."
HAZARD'S "Rifle Shooting."
HAZARD'S "Sporting and Blasting."
HAZARD'S "Duck Shooting" Powder.
Ask your Dealer for Hazard Powder.
THE HAZARD POWDER COMPANY,
Hazardville, Conn.
Represented by Paine & Lyne, Utah.

WESTERN
BILL POSTING
COMPANY.
(Incorporated)
The Only Bill Posters, Distributors & Railroad Advertising Agents in Utah.
GENERAL OFFICE: Salt Lake Theatre, Salt Lake City.
BRANCH OFFICES AT Ogden, Provo, Park City and Logan.
S. W. ANDERSON,
GENERAL MANAGER.

SPRING STYLES DAILY ARRIVING
GOLDSMITH & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Fine Tailor-Made CLOTHING
READY TO WEAR.
Spring Wants.
The advent of Spring brings its changes and wants. One of the essential changes will be the laying aside the Winter Overcoat and or something lighter to take its place.
Spring Overcoats.
Here we are particularly well equipped to supply your wants, and feel that it will be to our mutual benefit for you to see our previous display of newest fabrics and newest styles. Prices, $5 and up.
Children's Department.
To Parents—We make its special study in the making up of our garments, to use none but the best material, good and reliable workmanship, always bearing in mind that essential point—moderation of price. Some exceedingly pretty novelties in Reefer Coats just arrived.
Hat Department.
All the New and Fashionable Blocks have arrived at prices that will discount anything in Utah. It is the universe quantities—buying in one lots, that give us this leverage.
Children's Shirt Waists.
We have received and opened out 1000 dozen of the MOTHERS' FRIEND, in all the Latest Fabrics and patterns.
SEE DISPLAY IN OUR WINDOWS.
Goldsmith & Co.
MENS BOYS & CHILDRENS CLOTHING
G. & CO.

GRANITE IRONWARE.
IS LIGHT HANDSOME WHOLESOME DURABLE
Manufactured only by the ST. LOUIS STAMPING CO. ST. LOUIS.
For Sale by all Stoves, Kitchenware and House Furnishing Dealers.
FOR BROILING BAKING BOILING PRESERVING
The BEST Ware
MADE FOR THE KITCHEN.
Cook Book and Price List FREE on application.
Be sure to enamel this paper.

RATHBONE, SARD & CO.
ALBANY · CHICAGO · DETROIT
ACORN STOVES AND RANGES
SOLD EXCLUSIVELY BY THE UTAH STOVE AND HARDWARE CO.,
210 and 41 East First South Street.

MISS POLLY GOLIGHTLY HAS DOZENS OF BEAUX
THE REASON WHEREOF I WILL TELL:
IT IS NOT BECAUSE OF HER BEAUTIFUL CLOTHES,
BUT SHE'S LEARNED HOW TO COOK ON THOSE CHARTER OAK STOVES
THAT'S HOW SHE BECAME SUCH A BELLE!
FOR SALE BY
Z. C. M. I. - Sole Agents in Salt Lake City.