having left the baby early in the morning. Late at night some chimney sweeps in a buggy and took her to the place where the wedding should take attention was called to the child, he went down to the farm and found the baby sitting in a corner where it had fallen from the wagon, and the baby was lying on a box inside the wagon in a bloody condition, being badly injured from the effects of trying to walk, and he is had was otherwise. The little one was taken to the home of the woman Foley, one of whom wishes to adopt it, but the Italian mother will not agree to this, as she says, in broken English, "My do no like the baby, but he makes me lots of money."

It is likely legal steps will be taken to remove the child from her inhuman parent.

BENSON.

Co-op of Cache County—Big Irrigation Enterprise—Health and Prosperity.

Special Correspondence.

Benson, Cache Co., Aug. 11.—This ward is about eight miles in length and four in width and is situated across Cache valley, at the center of Cache valley. It was named after the late Apostle Ezra T. Benson, first president of the Cache Stake of Zion. Bishop H. W. Ballard presides over this ward. The ward is a farming and well cultivated farm. Last year 13,000 bushels of wheat was raised besides oats, corn, etc., and the lumen crops are always large.

FINE SCHOOL HOUSES.

Benson has two handsome brick school buildings, situated so as to be in the center of each of the two school districts.

NEW MEETING HOUSE.

This little band of people and most the summer, small and substantial church to be built of brick and cost between three and four thousand dollars. There is one of the finest brick cycle boat that can be found in the State.

HALF A CROP.

The crops this year will be only half that of last year. The grain is short, and is being cut with a header.

BIG IRRIGATION ENTERPRISE.

The land situated near Deer river has been very dry for years, and the use to which this year has caused the people of Benson and Trenton wards to combine to take out water of the Bear river, at Riverdale, some miles north of Preston, Idaho, and bring it a distance of five miles. The canal will cost about $12,000. The work can be done mostly with plow and scraper backed by good old fashioned "Mormon" pluck. It is intended that the water will flow on the first day of the year of our Lord 1900, and irrigate 10,000 acres of fine farming lands. It will be brought from Riverdale to the bench land at Cannon station on the Oregon Short Line railroad, and be turned back into the river at Benson ward.

HEALTH AND PROSPERITY.

Any fruit that can be raised in any part of Cache Valley can be raised here. There are no poor here. All are able to provide for themselves and a few poor; peace, comfort and plenty abound. Cattle and sheep flourish here in large numbers. All the weed organizations are in good working order and the good reputation of the people is also good.

SPRING CITY.

Remarkable Recovery of Charles Allred from Effects of a Terrible Fall.

Special Correspondence.

Spring City, Sanpete County, Aug. 14.—About three weeks ago Charles Allred, son of Bishop N. Allred, was engaged with his brother Peter in digging a well. After the hoist was prepared to hoist, "Here we go," and as he was the last "I didn't get off of the hoist." When he got to the top, he fainted and fell to the bottom, thirty-five feet. His brother called twice, but getting no answer he went to help, and at the end of half an hour he was let down and found the injured man in a pool of blood, unconscious. They then hoisted unexpectedly alive, and Dr. Money dressed the wound, taking twenty-eight stitches to replace the scalp. There was not a bone broken. The wound healed rapidly, but his mind was shattered, and at times was so bad that he cursed, swore, and had also been called a suspected that he be taken to Dr. Parkinson, which was done on the 6th of August. The doctor says that what had been done was well done, and all that was needed was a little time to allow nature a little blood that has caused such the brain, and a little rest. The patient would be alright. We are happy to say that he is fast recovering, and is now able to ride out in the open air with the men, and in a short time he will be able to resume business.
