SCROFULA

and all scrofulous diseases, Sores, Erysipelas, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Boils, and Eruptions of the Skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood.

To cure these diseases the blood must be purified, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all traces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases.

A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores.

"Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, of which I have now taken three bottles, with the result that the sores are healed, and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me.

Yours respectfully, MRS. ANN O'BRIAN."

148 Sullivan St., New York, June 24, 1882.

☞ All persons interested are invited to call on Mrs. O'Brian; also upon the Rev. Z. F. Wilds of 78 East 54th Street, New York City, who will take pleasure in testifying to the wonderful efficacy of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, not only in the cure of this lady, but in his own case and many others within his knowledge.

The well-known writer on the Boston Herald, S. W. BALL, of Rochester, N.H., writes, June 1, 1882:

"Having suffered severely for some years with Eczema, and having failed to find relief from other remedies, I have made use, during the past three months, of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which has effected a complete cure. I consider it a magnificent remedy for all blood diseases."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Stimulates and regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, renews and strengthens the vital forces, and speedily cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, Catarrh, General Debility, and all diseases arising from an impoverished or corrupted condition of the blood, and a weakened vitality.

It is incomparably the cheapest blood medicine, on account of its concentrated strength, and great power over disease.

THE LIVER AND ITS FUNCTIONS.

It has become a well established fact that the larger portion of diseases to which the human family is subject arise in the first place from some derangement of the Liver. As its organ is not only the largest, but at the same time one of the most important. The venous blood, on its return to the heart, passes through this organ, and in its passage the impurities, as also the secretions which are necessary for digestion as well as for a cathartic to assist in the removal of waste material &c. are eliminated. From this it is easily seen that the Liver is liable to get out of order to a greater or less extent, and when this occurs it is impossible for it to properly fulfil its office of removing all objectionable matter from the blood, but allows it to pass through, carrying with it the poisons of which it should have been relieved. With impure blood the wholesystem becomes affected, and no organ can properly perform its function unless it is supplied with a PURE BLOOD to maintain its strength. So the liver becomes all important, and when people feel dull, drowsy, tired, languid, constantly tired, worn out, is constipated, with tendency to Piles, Headache, Sick Stomach, Sallow Complexion, Eruptions of Skin, etc., they may be sure their Liver is out of order, and a remedy is required to assist nature in relieving itself of all accumulations, and restore it to its original Strength and Vigor. For all the above complaints, and as a preventive against Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Piles, Constipation, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, Back, and Limbs, Female Complaints, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Low Spirits, Blues, Malaria, Chills and Fever, and all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, and Bowels, in a mild yet effectual manner, and is as pleasant to the taste as sugar, and is as easily taken by children as adults.

DR. R. F. SHERMAN'S

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS.

The result of years of study, experience, medical research and practice of Dr. R. F. SHERMAN, its originator, and, its success wherever used is satisfactory for its merit. Doubtless Pretenders and that class of remedies can have but one effect—that is by their violent action to derange and weaken the system.

PrickIyAsh Bitters acts directly on the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, & Bowels, in a mild yet effectual manner, and is as pleasant to the taste as sugar, and is as easily taken by children as adults.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS is a medicine of rare merit, and not an intoxicating beverage, and being purely vegetable in its composition can be used at all times with best of results. It is not claimed as a cure-all, but for derangements of the organs mentioned, it is a specific and as a BLOOD PURIFIER ranks above all other preparations. Ask your druggist for it, and give it a fair trial. If he has none on hand, ask him to procure it for you.

EVENING NEWS.

Saturday, - Feb. 9, 1884.

OUR DELEGATE TALKS.

INTERVIEW WITH HON. JOHN T. CAINE.

THE New York Tribune has the following report of an interview with the Delegate from Utah at the Grand Central Hotel:

"The anti-Mormon prejudice in the East is a sentiment which has arisen from misrepresentations studiously placed before the public for years. The statements I have just made concerning points in Governor Murray's message are intended to call attention to such misrepresentation. Governor Murray recommends the repeal of laws that have been repealed for six or eight years. Every citizen is obliged, as a fundamental principle, to know the law. How shall we find excuse for a Governor, whose duty it is to execute the law, if he is thus ignorant of it? I am not imputing any wrong motive to Governor Murray, but he is mistaken. And it is by such mistakes, when unchallenged, that the people of the east gain their ideas about the Mormon people."

"What is being done in Congress on the Utah question?"

"Two bills have been introduced. The Edmunds bill, which is supplemental to the bill which created the present Commission, is one. The other is the Cullom bill, which is a most outrageous one. It proposes to abolish the Legislature and place the legislation in the hands of a Commission. It is unconstitutional, we hold. The foundation of our government rests in the consent of the governed. Because I remove from a State to a Territory is no reason why that right should be taken from me. This bill was suggested by Governor Murray. It would give him the appointing power in 500 official positions. Such an increase of power of position would not be despised, even in the eastern States."

"Is polygamy on the increase in Utah?"

"I can hardly answer that question with a yes or no. Every Mormon subscribes to polygamy as an article of faith. Polygamy is a matter purely of religious belief with us. The Mormon church is growing. But it may be said truly that a very small proportion of Mormons practice polygamy. Ascertain this from positive statistics. There are 130,000 Mormons in Utah. The Comission, in its report, says it has disfranchised 12,000 persons. Now, this disfranchisement extends to every person who ever practised polygamy, even if they are not now polygamists. The widows of a dead polygamist are disfranchised. If a person had two wives twenty years ago, but for fifteen years has had but one, he is disfranchised. Take for the 12,000 a fair percentage for such cases. Say that there are 2,500 males in Utah having each two wives, which would count for 7,500 more, and you can see something of the actual practice of polygamy. The men in Utah who keep up this agitation about polygamy care really nothing about that matter per se. They use it as a club to beat the Mormons and retain political power."

"What is the political drift?"

"I can only tell of what I learn in Washington. Utah having no vote does not take much interest. The Republicans and Democrats alike seem at sea for a Presidential candidate. Payne is most talked about by the Democrats. But every man who is elected Senator has a little boom nowadays."—New York Tribune.

THE ALASKA VOLCANOES.

A MORE DETAILED ACCOUNT OF THE ERUPTIONS IN OCTOBER.

Through the kindness of the Alaska Commercial company, Prof. Davidson has received Alaskan information of much interest, and has verbally heard from Capt. C. T. Sands a full account of the volcanic activity displayed in October, near the entrance to Cook's Inlet, in Alaska.

On the 6th of October the settlers and fishing parties of Graham or English harbor, on the east side of Cook's Inlet, heard a heavy report about 8 o'clock in the morning. The weather was beautifully clear, the wind light from the southwest, the time of tide dead low water. The opposite or western coast of Cook's Inlet was in clear view at the distance, sixty miles and more.

In the Bay of Kamischak lies the Island of Chernabourn, seven or eight miles in diameter, and rising to a high peak near the north-eastern part that is called Mount Augustin. The north shores are high, rocky, and bordered by numerous rocks and hidden dangers. The south shore is low. The peak is distant fortynine miles nearly west from the settlement at the south point of English harbor.

When the heavy report was heard vast columns of smoke were seen rolling out of the summit of Mount Augustin and moving to the north-east under the influence of the lower stratum of wind. Then they had gradually risen, and were spreading over the visible heaven and obscuring the sky overhead under the influence of a higher and probably north-east current. Fine pumice dust soon began to fall; some of it very fine but gritty, and some without any grit.

At 8:15 a great earthquake wave, estimated from twenty-five to thirty-five feet in height, came upon the point where the settlement is, carrying away all the fishing boats and deluging the houses. The tide being fortunately low saved the whole settlement from being swept away. This was followed by two other waves, fifteen to eighteen feet high, and during the day several large and irregular waves came into the harbor. These earthquakes were felt at St. Paul Kadiak. The pumice ashes fell to the depth of four or five inches in the vicinity of English harbor, and the day became so dark that lamps had to be lighted. At night the flames can be seen issuing from the summit of Mount Augustin, and during the day vast volumes of smoke roll from it. Ordinarily it is covered with snow, but at this time it is completely bare.

When the schooner "Cadiak," Capt. Cullie, approached the island from English harbor on the 10th of November, it was found that the mountain had been split in two from summit to water by a great rupture extending across it from east to west, and that the northern slope of the mountain had apparently sunk away to the level of the old cliffs. Smoke was issuing from the peak at a short distance to the south of the great rupture.

But another extraordinary discovery was made in seeing a new island, about seventy-five feet elevation and one and a half miles in extent, lying in the tenfathom passage between the island and the main shore to the west. This passage is six to eight miles wide, and was sailed through by Vancouver, who describes the mainland and mountain. This new islet has therefore arisen during this cataclysmic action. This new island lies to the north-west of Chernabour, and was distinctly seen as the vessel lay ten miles to the north east of Augustin.

To show the violence of the volcanic action, two extinct volcanoes on the peninsula of Alaska, and about west from the active volcano Illiamna—twelve thousand feet elevation—have burst into activity, and during the day the volumes of smoke are distinctly seen and columns of flames at night.

This season a party of seven or eight Aleutes had settled on Chernabourn island to pursue otter hunting this Winter. Two of the wives refused to stay on account of the violent noises in Mount Augustin, and they were carried to St. Paul, on Kadiak island. Since the eruption none of this party has been seen, nor any signs of their bidarkas, although a rescuing party of natives had gone along the coast to learn of their whereabouts. It is feared they are lost.

Vancouver placed Mount Augustin in latitude 59 degrees 22 minutes, and Wrangoff places it in 59 degrees 30 minutes and longitude 153 degrees 30 minutes west.—San Francisco Bulletin.

FEEDING ON THE DEAD.

A STRANGE BEAST IN OHIO WHICH AFFECTS GRAVEYARDS.

The strange animal which has been disecrating graves in Perry township, Wood county, has again been seen. A gentleman whose veracity is not questioned, gives this description of the novel graveyard ghoul: Its neck and breast are white and the rest of the body is black; the tracks of its front feet are about eight inches long and three wide, making impressions in the snow with its claws about twice the length of a man's finger. The tracks made by the hind feet are nearly round and about the size of a large dog's, except the claws, which are longer and sharper. The animal is about three feet long and 18 inches high.

It burrows into the ground in the graveyard, and penetrating the coffins there contained, devours the contents thereof. Its tracks are in such quantity that all attempts thus far to kill it have proved futile. The man who last saw the animal says it was in the middle of the road, having gone from a farm by literally tearing the fence to pieces. His dog gave chase to the beast, but soon returned, scared almost to death.

The people living in the vicinity have frequently heard loud noises, which are now supposed to have emanated from this peculiar, unnamed, unknown beast. The animal is said to be slowly working its way toward Toledo.—[N. Y. Tribune, Jan. 22.]

PRESENCE OF MIND.

In moments of peril there is nothing like presence of mind, unless it is absence of body. One moonlight night old Dr. Bazembee was returning from a patient, near Mission Bay, when he discovered that his steps were being dogged by a burly ruffian, evidently intent on robbery. They were in a lonely part of the town, when the doctor, after buttoning up his coat to the chin, turned up his collar and pulling his hair over his eyes, suddenly turned back, and, walking up to his pursuer, said:

"Please give me a dime to get a cup of coffee, sir. I don't want to buy whisky; indeed I don't. I've just walked up from San—"

"Great king!" growled the sandclubber, with intense disgust; "to think I've been piping off a cussed old pauper for over a mile!" and he walked off, swearing like a pirate in the last act.—San Francisco Post.

"Well, I should say so," was the reply: "But, between you and I, the most complete piece of deception I ever saw was a woman, young, pretty, and I would have sworn she was an angel."

"But she wasn't?"

"I should say not. She has a temper like a whirlwind, and when she gets mad, the very earth seems to shake."
