GEN. LEE WILL TESTIFY

Will Follow Gen. Wheeler's Appearance Before the Investigating Committee.

THE BROOKLYN EAGLE WILL EXPLAIN.

A Letter Has Been Sent to that Journal Concerning an Editorial, "Medical Murders, Their Victims and Their Cause."

Washington, Sept. 30.—The war investigation commission today decided to ask Gen. Lee to follow Gen. Wheeler in giving testimony concerning the charges made against the war department, and suggested Wednesday of next week as a date when he could be heard.

Gen. Wheeler will be before the commission on Tuesday and will be interrogated about Camp Wikoff and the Santiago campaign, the examination concerning Santiago covering especially the facilities for caring for the sick and wounded and the precautions taken to preserve the health of the men in the trenches.

The commissioners state their purpose to be to make a very complete investigation of these features of the military stage, but Vice Chairman Denby stated today that the policy of calling Gen. Miles or Gen. Shafter had not yet been under consideration. The decision to call Gen. Lee at so early a date was reached because he is in the city and is liable to be soon ordered to Cuba.

The commission today continued its examination of letters bearing upon charges of mismanagement, calling the attention to such charges and others attempting to refute them. Many of the letters referred to newspaper reports of abuses, and in most cases such letters were sent to the editors in question, asking them for precise information.

Among other newspapers written concerned was an editorial from the Brooklyn Eagle, making various charges concerning the abuse of sick soldiers by subordinate officers, and referring especially to the death of Lieut. Lafferty, under the heading: Medical Murders, Their Victims and their Cause.

The secretary was instructed to send an specially prepared letter to Hon. M. Clair McKelway, the editor of the Eagle, reading as follows:

"I am directed by the presiding officer to ask you whether you have any facts within your personal knowledge upon which you have based the charges set forth in the article, and whether you will oblige the commission by furnishing them with these facts in complete and explicit form.

"The commission would be glad to have the testimony of a kind that can be used in this investigation, not only relating to the circumstances attending the death of Lieut. Lafferty at Camp Wikoff, as alleged in the article under consideration, but also relating to the other incidents to which you make reference. Such testimony is exactly what the commission wants. Will you oblige this body with what you have at your disposal or can obtain for the purpose?"

Today's letters deal especially with the conditions at Camp Wikoff. They relate to the lack of preparation of the camp before the soldiers were received. A minister wrote that he had pointed out the inaccessibility and exposed condition of the location and the poor condition of the water before the place was selected. The members of the commission express their determination to make a complete inspection of affairs at that point, and will visit the place before completing their work.

The Great Reaper.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Gen. Boynton, commanding at Chickamauga park, sent the following dispatch to Washington today:

Of this number fourteen were deaths from accident. These figures also include deaths at Chattanooga hospitals.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 30.—The Wisconsin battleship commission today decided on Miss Elizabeth Stephenson of Hartford to christen the battleship Wisconsin, the launching event which will take place at San Francisco on November 30th.

It was also decided to use wine at the ceremony.

A silver service and a design of a badger, emblematic of the state will be presented to the battleship. The officer detailed and other state officers, besides a large number of prominent citizens of the state will accompany the commissioners to the trip.

Missionary Welcome at Centerville.

A very pleasant affair indeed was the party given last evening at Chase Park, Centerville, in honor of Elder James Smedley, who has just returned from a mission to the Southern States. The affair was tendered by Miss Kate Chase, a sister-in-law, and the invited guests numbered almost scarcely of refined musicianship and high culture. The former relating experiences in the mission field during the evening. A number were present from Salt Lake, and a most delightful evening was spent in singing, conversing and partaking of dainty refreshments. It was a fitting missionary welcome and from 75 to 80 people were in attendance.

Australian Realm.

Active preparations are being made by local Elders who have labored as missionaries in New Zealand, Tasmania and Australia, for the annual reunion which will be held under the auspices of the Elder's Mutual association, in the Fourteenth ward assembly hall, on Friday evening, October 7th, commencing at 7:30 p. m. Invitations have been mailed to returned Elders and Saints who have emigrated from the above named colonies and if any have failed to receive them, the committee extends them a cordial invitation and requests them to send their address to the secretary, Peter R. Oster, Main street, Salt Lake City.

An excellent program will be rendered and refreshments will be served by Elders who have recently returned from the colonies, including Elder Harry F. Richards, ex-president of New Zealand mission, Elder Andrew Smith Jr., ex-president of Australia, Elder Wm. Armstrong from Queensland and Elder Hyrum Barton from Tasmania.

It is sincerely hoped that these gatherings will continue to be well attended as great good results therefrom and they afford an excellent opportunity for Elders to renew acquaintanceship formed under exceptionally good circumstances.

INDIANS DRUNK ON DIXIE WINE

They Draw Their Knives, Break into a House and Get Arrested.

While Men Taken Into Custody for Supplying the Fire Water—Four Plead Guilty, Others Hide.

Special correspondence of the "News."

Parowan, Utah, Sept. 29, 1898.—Yesterday closed quite a busy session in Justice McGregor's court, the cause of which is as follows:

On the evening of the 20th inst., at Edwards' homestead near Paragonah, some Indians who had come into the possession of some Dixie wine engaged in a drunken bout and caused considerable disturbance in their vicinity, frightening Mrs. Edwards and family to quite an extent and when James N. Holbrook a young man who was in the neighborhood went to try and stop the row, two of the young "bucks" went after him with their knives with a "one kind of a row" following. Being armed, most into the Edwards house and the Indians after him, and they not being able to get through the door, broke one of the windows and made their way in. Holbrook did not remain in the house but set out for town to get some help and soon returned to the scene. As a consequence the young bucks were arrested, and the Paragonah justice not being at home they were brought to Parowan to give an account of their doings. Next morning when they became sobered up, they began to realize what they had been guilty of and of course plead that they might not be dealt severely with.

They agreed to identify the parties who let them have the wine and the Indians in question gave the names they went to Paragonah and in about three hours they returned bringing with them two men, pointed out as those they alleged gave them the wine. Thereupon the Indians were given a good talking to by the justice and allowed to go on promising faithfully to pay for the damage done to Mr. Edwards' house, and the boys, James Jones and Albert D. Rich in preliminary hearing, were bound over to keep the peace and were bound over to await the action of the district court.

Later developments disclosed the fact that the party who sold the wine to the two young men had left Parowan that day on his way home to Toquerville and he accordingly sent a telegraphic dispatch to Cedar City where he was arrested and brought to Parowan. Upon arriving here Mr. Pierpoint entered a plea of guilty to the charge and had to be promptly paid and again set out for his sunny southern home.

This should be a lesson not only to our "Dixie" friends but more especially to the authorities of the two other counties of allowing Indians to get intoxicated by perhaps "unthinking men," as it may be in this case, when there is danger of serious acts being perpetrated by our "Indian friends" which in fact the cowed Redmen is that which impels them to commit such rash acts.
