John Bulletti, aged 35, a native of Switzerland, died Tuesday night as the result of an accident at Loveridge's creamery on Mad river Cal., in the afternoon. While attempting to throw a belt off a pulley wheel his clothing was caught on a screw, and, after being whirled around the shafting several times, he was thrown to the floor, a distance of twelve feet, sustaining severe injuries.

An amusing as well as disastrous accident happened in Monterey, Cal., Tuesday night. Dave Donaldson, a local shoe-dealer, was displaying some circus tents on the vacant lot, when, in making a turn, he ran over the edge, falling with his wheel some twenty-five feet into the water below. But for the timely aid of some Fisherman Dave Gilson would have been drowned. As it was he escaped with a scalp wound. His bicycle was fished out.

Percy Moore, while shooting ducks at Mintorn, Cal., last Saturday afternoon with a party of friends who had enlisted themselves around a small lake, was shot by Hed Chinn, who came up later and was in ignorance of the location of the sportsmen. Chinn fired at a duck that was in range with Moore, the latter being concealed by some brush. A portion of the charge struck Moore in the face, and he fell unconscious. It was found that both eyes were injured, and he was removed to the home of his mother. It is doubtful whether his sight can be saved.

Dr. A. Rosse Thorpe, a well-known young dentist of Los Angeles, Cal., met a hand Tuesday by the accidental discharge of a shotgun. With Dr. W. H. Smith he went to Cahuenga valley to shoot doves. While alighting from the buggy his gun went off, shattering his hand so badly that it had to be amputated. A peculiar thing is that Thorpe does not, as is usual in such cases, remember that he took hold of the muzzle of the gun to draw it out of the buggy. It is supposed the hammer caught in the lap robe and was discharged when that was cast aside.

The man who was struck by a Southern Pacific train near Sargent's, Cal., Tuesday morning, died in the afternoon without regaining consciousness. He has not been identified. He was about forty years old, dressed in a neat gray checked suit and had a ruddy complexion and a brown moustache. He had on a flannel shirt and good underclothing. He had a little over $3 in silver in his pocket and a watch. He did not appear to be a tramp. No participants are known here as to how the accident occurred, though the train men are quoted as saying that he was sitting on the end of the cross ties when struck. Death was due to an indentation in the back of the skull, and probably internal injuries as well.

Cass and John Cummings of Riverside, Cal., will suffer the death penalty at San Quentin September 25th upon the same scaffold. The brothers were convicted of murdering T. C. Narramore of Los Angeles, and as the Supreme Court has passed on their case unfavorably they have no hope except a pardon from the governor. That is not likely to be granted. Narramore owned a ranch near Riverside, which was rented by the Cummings brothers. He visited them to collect the yearly rental of $850, and they conspired with a Mexican to waylay and rob him. Narramore was killed in the holdup. They have admitted their guilt and are resigned although not religious. John Cummings was one time a soldier in the Salvation Army. Narramore was a capitalist and well known in Los Angeles.

Tuesday night the Prescott, Arizona, penitentiary was robbed. It is supposed the burglars entered soon after the commissary and his assistant left, about 11 o'clock. The burglars bored two holes in the combination and picked the lock, obtaining about $300 in stamps and the same in money, overlooking about $10 in stamps in the cash drawer and some registered letters. The work is supposed to have been done by the same parties who robbed the Williams Post-office about two months ago. The work was well done and showed the thieves knew what they were at. It is supposed they obtained entrance from the jail, but there is no sign. Next day the cash box and stamp book never were found back of the Cabinet school. The officers are watching a couple of suspicious characters and think they have the right men shadowed.

The stockholders of the San Francisco Pioneer Woolen Factory met Monday for the purpose of making their stock assessable. At one time the mills did a very large business, but the demand for the product fell off, largely because of the substitution of full goods for red flannel shirts, used in the mines, and the increasing competition by eastern factories, and some years ago the mills were forced to shut down. It has never been profitable to begin again, and the property of the company has been gradually disposed of for various purposes. The buildings at Black Point will be devoted to the uses of a fruit cannery, and the machinery is being removed for shipment to Japan. The proceeds of the property have been divided among the stockholders, and the dissolution of the company is now but a matter of observing certain legal forms.

A shocking accident was averted on the local broad gauge road Tuesday afternoon at Alameda, Cal., by a chance which was one in a thousand. As the 4 o'clock train from Park street was nearing Bay station the engineer caught sight of a little girl who had fallen in front of the engine and stumbled and fell right alongside of the rail. The brakes were applied and Conductor Hancock jumped through the baggage car door and rescued the little child, who was lying as her face, crying, and almost under the wheels. Her name is Alice Rice, a child of Mrs. George M. Rice, and she was behind whispers into the arms of her mother, who was almost hurled in the narrow escape from death. The child is but a year and seven months old and had escaped into the street opposite her home as she was about to place a pebble on the track, so she, her two older children, who were on the train then, and down upon her.

At San Luis, Obispo, Cal., Thomas S. Young was arrested Thursday night on a charge of assault to murder. Tuesday night Mrs. Young came to city from a ranch near the city with a mutilated child, and he told a story that she had been a happy and attack upon her child, which he saw on the road. This story was strange, and it developed that Young struck his wife with a rock when drunk and killed the injured. Mrs. Young is in a very serious condition and may die at any time. Young is in the county jail. A visit to the home of the Young family showed a scene of gloom. A very uncomfortable condition, and a dilapidated parlor stuffed and towels in the bedroom window. It is thought Young came to his wife before bringing her to this city. Young served 100 days in the county jail in Los Angeles in 1890 for beating a former wife.

Sacramento, Cal., Round-Table Elder A. S. Mesnick, long from Utah, delivered an address last night in Typhian Castle on "Church Organization." After a few introductory remarks he read from Ephesians iv., and argued therefrom that the Church of Christ was built upon the foundation of revelation, instead of upon Peter. Quoting from the Ephesian (chapter iv.), that "God set the members, every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased Him." And He gave some Apostles and some prophets, and some evangelists and some pastors and teachers," the speaker asked "where on earth can we find a church today with these same officers, except in the Mormon Church?" To show why they are needed in the church at present he continued to read from the same chapter: "For the perfecting of the Saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ, till we all come to the unity of the faith and the knowledge of the son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ." Mr. Mesnick asserted that the primitive Church of Christ was to be taken from the earth for many hundred years, notwithstanding some of the present empire state to have received their power direct from the Apostle. He cited the audience to I Tim. iii., 1-3, Isaiah xxv. 1-5, Acts xx. 29, 30, Mark, xiii., 9, and Amos vii. 11, 12. He stated that according to the Prophet Daniel, God was to restore to the earth His church at Kingdom, never more to be destroyed, and that it would be built upon the same foundation as the primitive; that it would have the same offices, and that the same gifts and blessings that followed the believers anciently were to be with the believers in the last days.
