FUSION TICKET TO BE RATIFIED

Platform and Candidates Presented at Special Convention In Theater This Afternoon.

REPUBLICANS ARE INCLUDED

It is Expected They Will Enter on General Ticket With the Exception of the Mayor.

The Citizens' and Democratic fusion ticket will be ratified at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Salt Lake theater, when the platform on which the candidates are to stand will be presented. In the pledges which have already been outlined a business administration is the foundation for the movement. With it, the platform carries the elimination of politics, reformation in the methods of handling the city's advertising, the manner of keeping accounts in the city auditor's and city treasurer's departments, and competent officials in every department.

On account of the interest manifested in the movement, it is expected that the theater will be filled to its capacity.

The call for the convention, as printed, states that the meeting is a reconvening of the Democratic convention which was held on Sept. 11 last. The Citizens, however, are invited to attend and all those who are interested in the fusion movement.

"DEMOCRATIC TICKET."

In view of the complications which might arise on account of the amendments to the election laws, the name of the fusion ticket will be known officially as the "Democratic Ticket." This is done in order that fusion may be accomplished all along the line without interfering with the election laws. The Democratic ticket, however, is the Citizens' ticket, which is accepted by the Democrats.

It is expected that the Republicans will enter into a fusion on the councilmanic as well as the general ticket, except on the mayor. There are a great many Republicans who are advocating and urging this now, and it is believed that the movement will be successful.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED.

The Citizens' committee held a meeting last night at which time the situation was gone over thoroughly. As a result the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, The Citizens' movement was begun solely for the purpose of giving to our city a clean, dignified and progressive administration and put an end to the factional turmoil that has for so long checked our growth and slandered our city; and,

Whereas, The promoters of said movement, from its inception planned and hoped for the fusion of the national parties and the placing of the most representative men in each party on a common ticket; and,

Whereas, This object seemed to be impossible until the Democratic city committee, perceiving the harmfulness of the continuation of the local strife, consented to submit the proposition of fusion with the Citizens' party to a reconvened convention, where the question of withdrawing their regular ticket could be considered, and placing a fusion ticket by petition as a substitute; and

Whereas, A more careful consideration of all of the problems to be met, and particularly the unfortunate wording of the new election law, inclines them to the belief that this would in a measure defeat the very object sought to be attained in this, that the new law precludes any hope of fusing after a ticket by petition has once been filed; and,

Whereas, Fusion on the councilmanic ticket would thereby be hindered and their most cherished hopes defeated; and,

Whereas, A strong public sentiment demands that they do nothing that will frustrate a fusion plan on any part of the ticket; now therefore be it

Resolved, By the Citizens' committee that the candidates heretofore mutually agreed upon for the Citizens'-Democratic ticket, because of said technicality, be placed upon the official ballot under the title, "Democratic Ticket," and furthermore, that this method be tendered as the most safe and practical method of fusion under the 1909 election laws.

TICKET AGREED UPON.

The ticket agreed upon at the conference committee meeting of the Citizens and Democrats was as follows:

Mayor—W. R. Wallace, Democrat.
City Attorney—George N. Lawrence, Republican.
Auditor—W. H. Lovesy, Republican.
City Treasurer—A. H. Peabody, Republican.
City Recorder—Hart J. Fitzgerald, Democrat.

As soon as this ticket is ratified at the convention this afternoon it will be filed with the city recorder. A fusion will undoubtedly be effected on the councilmanic candidates in all of the wards and tomorrow a vigorous campaign will begin for a business administration.

The soothing balm of Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, used in an atomizer, is an unspeakable relief to sufferers from Catarrh. Some of them describe it as a Godsend, and no wonder. The thick foul discharge is dislodged and the patient breathes freely, perhaps for the first time in weeks. Liquid Cream Balm contains all the healing, purifying elements of the solid form, and it never fails to satisfy. Sold by all druggists for 75c, including spraying tube or mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

New Opera Company Scores a Decided Hit

Sal Lake was given an introduction last night at the Colonial, to one of the big eastern opera companies, hitherto a stranger to us, and at the same time given a taste of the new school of opera which has sprung up in the last 15 years, and which, more's the pity, is displacing some of the standard favorites of the last generation. While the attendance was not all it should have been, the high prices and the lack of familiarity with the organization combining to keep down any clamor for seats, the turnout was brilliant, dressy, critical and representative.

After last night's beautiful presentation there ought to be no question as to the greeting the International Opera company will have for the remainder of its season and on its coming visits, for we understand Mr. Norcross, the manager, proposes to make annual western tours, if the encouragement he receives in any way justifies it.

The cast of "Fedora," presented last evening, introduces two of the real stars of the organization, Mme. Therry, soprano, and Mr. Colombini, tenor, while the lesser characters were all in capable hands. Therry is the artist chosen eight years ago by the composer, Giordano, to create the part of Fedora, and her beautiful work last night, both in singing and acting, showed that the choice of a creator was well made. It would be difficult to picture any finer dramatic work than that done by Therry and Colombini in their duets, especially in the tragic moments when Fedora is denounced by her lover as being responsible for the death of his brother and mother. Colombini is one of the rarest of those rare birds—a tenor who can act; indeed it ought rather to be said that he is an actor who can sing, and his facial expression of horror when he learns of the death of his loved ones, and of grief over the prostrate form of Fedora, were eloquent to the most moving degree. The two artists had some tremendous recalls.

The minor members of the cast did some excellent work in singing and acting, the best being the old coachman of Mr. Oteri, the De Siriex of Mr. Cervi, and the countess of Mme. Donner. Miss Kaplan as the planist also did some excellent playing. The chorus unfortunately, as is so often the case in the new school, had little to do, but in the other bills of the repertoire, notably "Lucia," "Carmen" and "La Traviata," they will be in strong evidence.

"Fedora," like the others of its class, depends largely on the orchestra for the expression of the ideas of the composer. For this reason it would have been better had another work been chosen to open the engagement in Salt Lake, because the orchestra, good as it is, should have been three times its size to bring out properly the passions which the composer intended to convey.

People who did not have the English libretto last night wandered in a good deal of a maze, and even some of those who did, were puzzled because the names of the characters in the program and those in the libretto did not agree. We shall have another opportunity of seeing and hearing Therry and Colombini in "Carmen" tomorrow afternoon; tonight, in "Lucia," the Swedish nightingale, Mme. Norelli appears, while Colombini sings the part of Edgar; tomorrow night in the always favorite "La Traviata," Norelli will be the soprano, DiGiacomo will be the tenor, and Bari will have the great role of the baritone. During the remainder of the altogether too brief season of the International Opera company, it ought to be welcomed with a rush of enthusiasm by our musical public.

AMUSEMENTS.

G.O.P. DRUM CORPS IN A SORE DILEMMA

No Drums—No Fifes—Plenty of Players But Nothing to Make A Noise With.

While the Republican drum corps, led by S. N. Randolph's baton, is beating a tattoo in the air and the fifers are whistling through their fingers, the splendid equipment ordered in Chicago, and valued at $1,500, lies in a boxcar on a sidetrack somewhere in Indiana, near Frank Sefrit's old home. In the drum corps' headquarters on Richards street, the members are marching four abreast every evening and the pace is getting hotter and more impatient every night. The telegraph wires have been tingling with messages every day to hurry up the equipment. From all appearances, it will arrive here about the day after election.

Behind all this Parley P. Jensen, secretary of the Republican city committee, has discovered a plot. He declares that there is no reason in the world why a drum corps' equipment should be left on a sidetrack in Indiana unless there was some scheme behind it. This dark, deep plot is being worked out now in the Republican headquarters and developments are expected at any moment.

In the Republican drum corps are 25 members of the "American" drum corps. S. N. Randolph, the leader, was a charter member of the "American" drum corps. He enticed the members of the "American" organization to come into the Republican ranks. The uniforms would be new, he said, covered with more braid, and the pay would be better. With this inducement the "American" drum corps was depleted and now they believe they have been "stung" on inducements.

STATE LAND LAWS.

Secretary Farnsworth Is Preparing Pamphlet on the Subject.

W. H. Farnsworth, clerk of the state board of land commissioners, is busy preparing for publication a pamphlet bearing on provisions of the government and state with especial reference to Carey act filings. The pamphlet will contain a copy of the state land laws as amended by the last legislature, also a copy of the Carey act, with the requirements of each fully set forth. So many inquiries have been received at the office of the land commissioners regarding Carey act entries that it was deemed necessary to issue such a booklet. In the past many applications for segregation of lands under the Carey act have been made in improper form, and for this reason some of the applications have been held up by the land board. Hereafter, however, there will be no necessity for submitting improperly gotten up applications, as the booklet will contain all the requirements of the government and state laws on the subject. Mr. Farnsworth expects to have the pamphlet ready for distribution about the first of November.

CHOIR REMEMBERS VETERAN LEADER

Evan Stephens the Recipient of Presents From Singers on Twentieth Anniversary Last Night.

There was an unrehearsed intermission during the weekly practise of the Tabernacle choir last evening when Heber J. Grant entered the big building bearing a mysterious package. The swelling sound of the chorus died away leaving Director Stephens somewhat at a loss to account for the apparent incipient mutiny on the part of his singers.

Elder Grant then took the floor and delivered a speech, the burden of which was that Evan Stephens on this occasion was entering his twentieth year as leader of the Tabernacle choir and the male members of the choral organization desired to present to him a token of their esteem. Elder Grant stated that the singers loved Evan Stephens and the Church appreciated his efforts and labors in general.

Evan Stephens replied in his characteristic strain averring that he was doubly delighted that his boys loved him. He appreciated their loyalty in the past, and their presence. The presentation consisted of a handsomely framed large picture of the Tabernacle choir and organ.

After mutual congratulations the weekly practise was about to be resumed when some Shakespearean student was heard to murmur "Fear not, till Birnam wood do come to Dunsinane, and now a wood comes toward Dunsinane. Arm, arm, and out!"

Prof. Stephens gave one glance over his shoulder and caught a vision of the wood approaching of a surety, with a pair of brisk feet beneath the branches. From between the evergreen foliage appeared the well known features of President John R. Winder. Slightly out of breath the veteran churchman deposited his burden and then made a neat little presentation speech. The valuable evergreen in the big pot was a present from the sopranos and contraltos of the choir to their leader.

Once more Evan Stephens responded and then Bishop C. W. Nibley made a few remarks in which he undertook to take back the statement attributed to him that Evan Stephens was the homliest man he had ever seen, "for he is much better looking than he was a year ago," said the speaker solemnly, amid the merriment aroused.

Briefly, the occasion took upon itself the features of a love feast, after which the choir sang for the visiting churchmen the program which will be rendered Sunday afternoon, including "Worthy is the Lamb," "God of Israel," "Inflammatus," with Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edward as soloist, and "Arise, Up, Arise."

If Palpitation, Stuffy Breathing or other signs show its risky to keep on with coffee.

LAND OFFICE DECISION.

A decision has been rendered by the registrar and receiver of the United States land office in the case of the United States vs. the State of Utah, list 113 reservoir selections. The case involves a small acreage of land near Bingham which had been selected for reservoir site and the decision is that the land is more valuable for mineral than for agricultural purposes.

HALL GETS FOUR MONTHS.

Flagman on Oregon Short Line Who Rifled Passengers' Grips Sentenced.

J. J. Hall, formerly a flagman in the employ of the Oregon Short Line, was tried in Judge Bishop's court, found guilty and sentenced to serve four months in the county jail on a petty larceny charge of having stolen a grip from Mrs. W. A. Griffith, a passenger on the train bound for Pocatello, Ida., on Oct. 5. The grip, it is alleged, contained toilet articles valued at $12.50 and about $3.50 in cash. The stolen articles were found in Hall's room in the Wellington hotel, according to a railroad special agent. It is said that Hall is a member of a Texas gang, and that he stole three tickets good from Milwaukee to Seattle, which had been placed in a locker on a Pullman by the train auditor.

DAVIDSON EXONERATED.

Watchman Who Shot Tramp at Montello Released From Bail.

R. J. Davidson, an Oregon Short Line watchman, has been exonerated by the action of the grand jury in Elko county, Nev., which released him after investigating his case. Davidson, while clearing the railroad yards at Montello of tramps, Sept. 1, discovered several babes hiding under a boxcar. The officer ordered them to get out, and fired off his revolver under the car for the purpose of scaring them, he says. One of the bullets accidentally struck and killed Charles Schwindler, one of the tramps. Davidson was arrested and bound over for trial by the district court of Elko county on a charge of manslaughter, under $5,000 bonds. Investigation developed that Schwindler had robbed boxcars in Milwaukee, hence the grand jury's exoneration of Davidson.

FIRE DESTROYS PLANT.

Mineral Rubber Factory Burns Through Overheating a Vat.

The mineral rubber goods factory of the Salt Lake-Pittsburg Oil company, at Fifth West and Fifth North streets, was burned to the ground by fire that started at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon and lasted until 8 o'clock in the evening, the damage being $2,000, according to A. N. Taylor, chairman of the executive board of the company.

The company officers claim that the fire was caused by the overheating of elaterate compound which was being melted in a vat for later moulding into the complete products. Once the flames got headway, it was impossible to extinguish them until they had devoured all the highly inflammable elements in the oil and mineral rubber, and the plant was a total wreck. The fire department stretched hose from a slough, in order to pump water on to the blazing building.

Fires are not unusual with the Salt Lake-Pittsburg Oil company. The plant burned down about eight months ago, with heavy loss. According to the officers, the plant which burned yesterday was intended to be merely temporary shelter for the machinery, pending the erection of a larger permanent building.

DISCUSS NEW QUARTERS.

Manufacturers to Move Into Vermont Building With Exhibit.

Plans for the occupancy of the new quarters in the Vermont building were discussed at last evening's meeting of the directors of the Manufacturers' association. Eleven of the 15 directors were present, and President McAllister presided. It was stated that application for space had been made by many manufacturers all over the state, owing to the favorable location for the attraction of tourists thousands of visitors will be sure to call at the new quarters. The association will have a membership meeting on the evening of the 28th inst., when all of the members with those interested in steam or electric power are urged to be present. Three talks are to be made by experts. A representative from the Silver Bros. Iron Works will talk on steam power; one from the Utah Light & Railway company will address the meeting on electric lighting and power, and a third, who will be a representative from the Utah Gas and Coke company, will treat the subject of gas.

A campaign will be started in two weeks to push consumption of Utah made products.

Speakers will be sent to the ward meetinghouses in the Pioneer stake who will address the parents' classes of the Latter-day Saints church on the importance of encouraging home industry. Much benefit is expected to accrue from this line of work.
