THE SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS

The Great Country Paper of the West.

Issued Mondays and Thursdays and Contains All the Cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Telluride Plant Working—The Telluride Power Company has repaired its damaged flume in Provo canyon, and the plant at the mouth of the canyon is once more in commission.

Veteran Firemen Meet Sunday—The Veteran Firemen's association will meet at their Canyon road house at 3 p. m. Sunday to arrange a program for Washington's birthday.

Three Hundred Convicts—There are 300 inmates of the state prison. No visitors are allowed at the institution on account of the continued prevalence of smallpox in the city.

Death of Helen B. Reed—Mrs. Helen B. Reed, aged 85, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. White, 1014 Ninth East street, from general debility. The funeral was held this afternoon. The deceased had lived in this city seven years.

Veterans Elect Officers—At last night's annual meeting of the Indian War Veterans, C. P. Arnold was re-elected post commander; James Hague, vice commander, and Samuel W. Richards, chaplain. W. W. Cluff, Thomas E. Jeremy and John R. Jones were elected as representatives of the state council of Indian War Veterans. Geo. C. Lambert was chosen assistant adjutant-general, and John M. Chamberlain assistant quartermaster-general.

Lynds Chapel Affair—Rev. P. S. Simpkin was the speaker at the Lincoln and St. Valentine entertainment given by the ladies of Lynd's chapter, No. 1, Order of the Eastern Star, in the banquet room of Masonic hall, yesterday. In an eloquent manner the speaker set forth the life and labors of the martyred president, and the address was listened to with marked attention throughout. Mrs. J. E. McCarthy was the matron of the evening, and valentines were delivered by uniformed messengers.

Edmund Vance Cooke Lecture—Announcement is made that Edmund Vance Cooke, poet and lecturer, will appear at the Methodist church Tuesday evening, Feb. 23. Mr. Cooke was heard in M. I. A. recitals several years ago and made a lasting impression on his auditors. He is called an apostle of the bright side of life, brimming with happiness and good cheer, and is said to combine the pathos and sympathetic strains of Eugene Field and Whitcomb Riley, with the humor of Bill Nye, but withal original.

Funeral of Actress—The funeral of Mrs. Marie Clifton Phillips, who, prior to her illness, was a member of the theatrical company playing "Shore Acres" at the Colonial here last week, and who died at the Groves Latter-day Saints hospital Thursday morning, will be held from the Evans' undertaking establishment today. Four of the children are on the stage playing with companies away from here and two are living in New York, so that it will be impossible for any of them to attend the funeral. Mr. Phillips is now in the city.

Speaks to Scientists—Hon. Frank B. Stephens made a stirring address last evening, in the Christian Science church, on Abraham Lincoln, the large auditorium being filled to its capacity. In his introductory remarks, Mr. Stephens gave considerable attention to the numerous articles and poems that have been written about the martyred president. He called attention to the fact that the president's mother was a Christian woman, whose sterling influence might be seen all through her great son's life. The speaker held that God was with Lincoln all through his work.

SKATING CLUB.

During the past week a number of society people of the city got together and discussed plans for the organization of a roller skating club. The first session of the game will be held at the Auditorium Club on Richards street next Tuesday evening, following which a permanent organization will be effected and the names of the officers and members announced. The club will be patterned after that organized by Mrs. Shorb White of San Francisco and like the ones in Los Angeles, Denver and Pittsburg. The club will not ask for an exclusive night until the membership is great enough to demand it.

DRY FARM EXPERTS AT BIG CONGRESS

Provisional Program Arranged For Transmissouri Arid Lands Convention.

IMPOSING ARRAY OF TALENT

Roster of Speakers Includes Governors, Lieutenant Governors, State Engineers and Agriculturalists.

Special Correspondence.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 12.—A provisional program has been arranged for the Transmissouri Dry Farming congress at Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 23, 24 and 25, and a partial list of the speakers announced by Secretary John T. Burns of the board of control. All of the gentlemen who are expected to address the congress have not yet notified the secretary what the formal titles of their addresses will be.

Governor George Curry of New Mexico will be introduced as the permanent chairman of the Congress after Governor Bryant B. Brooks of Wyoming, president of the organization, calls the congress to order at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, Feb. 23, delivers his address of welcome and hears the responses from the delegates.

The list of speakers includes governors, lieutenant governors, state engineers, heads of agricultural colleges, experts in various lines of agriculture, officials of various departments and bureaus of the federal government, practical farmers who have practised dry farming methods and can give actual results of experience, and in addition to these from the United States, representing practically every state and territory west of the Mississippi river and many of the eastern states, there are a number of distinguished scientific men from across the seas. The men who have notified the secretary that they will address the congress are:

George W. Day, land commissioner of Idaho.

W. L. Carlyle, former dean, Colorado Agricultural college.

H. H. Schwartz, chief of the field service, general land office, United States department of the interior.

C. L. Seagraves, land commissioner, Santa Fe system.

C. E. Wantland, Union Pacific railway land department, Denver, Colo.

Governor John F. Shafroth, of Colorado.

George L. Farrell, president Farmers' association of Utah.

Col. E. J. Bell, representing the National Woolgrowers' association, Laramie, Wyoming.

Col. R. E. Twitchell, Las Vegas, N. M.

J. D. Tinsley, Agricultural college of New Mexico.

Karl F. Kellerman, United States department of agriculture.

W. N. Jardine, U. S. department of agriculture.

John Henry Smith of Utah.

George W. Holdrege, V. P. and general manager, Burlington railway.

H. M. Campbell, known as the father of dry farming, Lincoln, Neb.

E. R. Parsons, Parker, Colo., eminently successful as a dry farmer.

J. D. Towar, director of the Agricultural college experiment station, University of Wyoming.

W. S. Palmer, section director, United States weather bureau.

J. A. Griffith, land commissioner, Union Pacific railway.

Former Governor James H. Peabody of Colorado.

E. A. Burnett, dean of the Agricultural college of Utah.

W. P. Snyder, experiment director, Agricultural college of Utah.

Dr. John A. Widtsoe, president Agricultural college of Utah.

G. A. Martin, managing editor of the Herald, El Paso, Texas.

Prof. F. B. Linfield, director of experiments, Agricultural college of Montana.

Samuel H. Lea, state engineer of South Dakota.

C. T. Johnston, state engineer of Wyoming.

Dr. V. T. Cooke, director Wyoming state experimental dry farm, Cheyenne.

M. A. Carleton, cerealist, U. S. department of agriculture.

L. J. Briggs, physicist, U. S. department of agriculture.

E. C. Chilcott, in charge of dry land experiments of the department of agriculture.

F. N. Meyers, foreign explorer, United States department of agriculture.

O. W. Bryant, manager of irrigation investigations for Wyoming.

From foreign countries:

Senor L. Basta Neves, Brazil.

Joseph A. Rosen, in charge of the American bureau of the imperial department of agriculture, delegate from Russia.

Senor Enrique Dominguez, Mexico.

Senator James H. McColl, Australia.

Sir William MacDonald, the Transvaal, representing the British government.

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Doupe, British Columbia.

The program for the first day of the congress will include reports from Salonica, Turkey and Chile. Greetings will be read from President Roosevelt, Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, and from several governors of states, who will be prevented from attending the congress by the legislative sessions in their own capitals.

A MATTER OF CHOICE.

Really, as a matter of choice, we would rather have ten persons deposit $1 each than one person $10; or ten persons deposit $10 each, than one person $100; or ten persons deposit $100 each than one person $1,000; or ten persons deposit $1,000 each than one person $10,000. True, these smaller deposits give us more labor in caring for them—still we prefer them. No one, therefore, should be at all timid about bringing in small deposits. Make our bank your bank.

IS EIGHTY YEARS YOUNG

Phil Margetts, the Veteran Comedian, Celebrates His Birthday Surrounded by His Family.

Phil Margetts, the veteran actor, celebrated his eightieth birthday this week. Surrounded by members of his immediate family he was the recipient of numerous congratulations on Wednesday evening when the birthday event was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rudd, 518 north First West street.

Mr. Margetts' career has been an eventful one and filled with interesting experiences, and as well preserved is he that in appearance today he does not differ materially in appearance and has not altered much from the days when his name was a household word as leading comedian for the old stock company.

Mr. Margetts left England, his native heath, Jan. 6, 1850, and after a trip of eight weeks aboard the Argo he landed at New Orleans, March 8,

PHIL MARGETTS.

1850. After some little preparation he left New Orleans aboard a river boat, arriving at St. Louis the latter part of March, 1850, thence to Council Bluffs, Iowa, where he engaged to drive an ox team in the employ of Livingstone & Kingcade from that point to Salt Lake City. Leaving Council Bluffs the fore part of June, 1850 he arrived in Salt Lake City, Sept. 1, 1850. Mr. Margetts on arriving at this point entered the blacksmithing business and was responsible for some of the first grist and saw mill irons, constructed from scrap tire iron secured from abandoned trains left on the plains, that were made in this section of the country. The people in those early days found means of entertainment limited and with a view to lightening the toils and hardships of the day the idea of home theatricals led to the formation of a company and the first play presented in this city by an organized company was the piece of "Robert McCaire" and was presented in the Old Bowery then situated on the southeast corner of the Temple block, Mr. Margetts being a member of the cast. The start had been made which eventually led to the building of the old Social Hall in 1853, then followed the now famous old play house, the Salt Lake Theater, built in 1862, where for a period of 50 years Mr. Margetts appeared in at least 250 different characters, supporting all, or nearly all, of the shining lights of the theatrical firmament who have risen to fame in the last half century. Among whom were Edwin Booth, Lawrence Barrett, John McCullough, Edwin Adams, E. H. Sothern, E. L. Davenport, C. W. Couldock, James A. Hearn, Denman Thompson, George Paunceefort, Adelaide Neilsen, Julia Dean Hayne, Rhastori, Lottie Crabtree and Lucile Weston.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Dr. William McIntyre, who died in Ogden, on the 5th inst., was born at Queen's Ferry, Chester county, England, Jan. 1, 1849. Her maiden name was Mary Roscoe. She embraced the gospel while residing in Liverpool, in 1861, and emigrated to Utah in 1863. Was married to Dr. McIntyre, a Nauvoo veteran, in 1865, and, when he died, in 1887, she was left with three children, who are now living; there are also a number of grandchildren. She was married to William Hodge six years ago.

MRS. DR. WM. McINTYRE.

Notwithstanding many distressing experiences that Mrs. McIntyre had in life, she always retained the cheerful disposition which made warm friends of all with whom she associated, and established eternal affection in the hearts of her bereaved ones.

HIS DOG SAVED HIM.

Saved by a faithful dog after being lost for six days in the mountains sounds like one of the stories told to children, yet such is the actual facts in the case of Herman W. Day, a mine owner and promoter from Centerville, Idaho. Mr. Day is visiting in the city for a few days. In company with his dog he set out for a point in the mountains in northern Idaho, but became lost in a blinding snowstorm. For six days he wandered about in the mountains and finally lay down to die. But the dog would not give him up. Wildly up and down the trail he chased and his frantic barking finally directed the searching party that had been organized to the man. It is needless to say nothing could induce Mr. Day to part with his faithful dog companion.
