CONSTANTINOPLE UNEASY.

Salisbury Tells Turkey That She Must Yield to the Powers.

Reforms Would Be the Signal for the Dismemberment of the Ottoman Empire.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 4.—It is officially announced that Hakkeen Pasha, the Turkish ambassador in England, has telegraphed the foreign minister that he had an interview relative to the Armenian question, with Lord Salisbury, who he assured the authorities that the Porte is not opposed to the reforms proposed by the powers, signatory to the treaty of Berlin, although Turkey could not permit the control of Armenia by an international commission. Lord Salisbury replied that matters. Lord Salisbury replied that under the circumstances it would be useless to continue the interview. He said, the Porte persists in its refusal, the powers will undertake the suggested reforms and rest satisfied. If, however, the Porte continued to resist, Lord Salisbury added, it will be the signal for the dismemberment of Turkey. The situation has caused the greatest uneasiness here.

Gold for Europe.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—W. H. Crossman & Bro. will ship $1,000,000 gold to Augusta Victoria tomorrow. Kessler & Fisher will ship $100,000 on the same steamer.

Arbuckle Bros. state that they will ship gold tomorrow, but they have not yet decided upon the amount. Subtreasury officials have been notified that $1,000,000 gold will be withdrawn.

Due to the amount of $1,700,000 has been withdrawn from the sub-treasury. This leaves the $900,000 of Arbuckle Bros., who have not up to this time reported the withdrawal of their engagement for tomorrow's steamer. No gold as yet has been deposited anywhere to make up the deficiency in the gold reserve which is below the $100,000,000 gold mark.

The bond syndicate deposited $2,000,000 gold in the sub-treasury.

Urging Wool Legislation.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 4.—The Ohio Wool Growers' association today urged the Fifty-fourth Congress to pass legislation favorably to the wool producers.

Fire Building Collapses.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 4.—The great machinery hall being erected at the state fair grounds fell this afternoon. Several men were buried under it. It is reported three were killed.

Overcome by Gas.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 4.—Six employes of Providence Gas company were asphyxiated in the cellar of the Westfield gas holder this afternoon. Their names dead are Colton, aged 18 years, single; Riley, 45, married, six children; Thornton Pike; McManus, 19, married; McManus, 30, single.

Several days leaking gas has been found in the holder. The company sent six men and a foreman to repair the leak, which proves to come from a defective valve. The men disconnected the valve and filled a cloth bag about the large main extending in front of the holder. The bag gave way and an immense volume of gas rushed out. Only one man managed to reach the fresh air.

Soon after 3 o'clock the gas company sent a gang of men to dig up the street to get at the main to shut off further leak. Foreman Charles Allen was overcome. His life is despaired of.

MATHEWS HELD.

A Prima Facie Case is Established.

The case of Nephi Mathews came up in the police court this morning. Attorney Oscar Moyle was counsel for the defense. He waived the reading of the complaint which charges Mathews with burglary, and entered a plea of not guilty.

Officer Pratt was the first witness. He said that for two weeks before Saturday last, Mr. Slater of the Anheuser-Busch bottling works had complained about the burglary of the building in which the business of the company was carried on. Several nights witness and Officer Shannon had watched, but without success until Saturday night when they succeeded in capturing the defendant. They lay near the place where the beer had been taken from before, and sometime after midnight they heard somebody ascend the roof and slowly open the skylight, then he slid down the gutter pipe to the floor. Witness saw defendant go to the front door, open it and go out, as if to get a "pal." He soon returned alone and proceeded to walk off with a case of bottled beer. Officers told him to put it down and throw up his hands. Demurred immediately obeyed and when recognized, pleaded to be allowed to go. Officers seemed determined to retain him, and he said he would give them $1,000 to be allowed to escape. This they refused.

Mr. Moyle admitted the ownership of the beer, and the defendant was bound over on a bond of $500 to await the action of the grand jury.

A case of exposure of person came up today. The defendant was William Walquist, a boy seventeen years old, who has been committed to the Reform school and is now out on parole. Officer Burbidge was the complainant. He stated that yesterday he saw the defendant at a window with the sash raised and blind up, and with his trousers down and shirt off. The defendant stated that he had been up the canyon shooting chickens and had gathered a large assortment of woodticks which were keeping him busy in hunting for them. He said he was engaged in this pleasant occupation when the officer saw him. He did not think any one could see him. Defendant was found guilty and fined $50 or twenty days. He stated that Superintendent Hamer he communicated with so he did not relish spending twenty days in the city jail.

William Jacob Burkard, who was fined $10 for maintaining a nuisance. This morning he variety what it has cost the city to prosecute the case.

F. H. Hamilton, a soldier, was fined $5 or imprisonment.

The case of George Argyle, charged with battery upon the person of Elias Tomlin, came up. The evidence showed that the complainant was in the house of his mother, at whose house Argyle resides, and received permission to have some lunch from the food on which the defendant lay. She passed a slighting remark and a quarrel ensued in which unmentionable epithets were hurled both from both sides. He swore free evidence that a broom in her hands had been used effectively, and her mouth will be fairly the marks of his "smallest." The court found the defendant guilty and fined him $5, and he and he believed the evidencing witness to be equally guilty and fined her $2.

The court in stated that it was more deplorable that in a country like this a man to use such language as she admitted being, as it was not that women were naturally a better restraint than men.

Political Points.

The Republican Territorial committee gave it out today that the formal opening of the State campaign for that party would occur about September 15th, in Northern Utah, when the candidate for governor and representative would commence their tour, working southward until Dixie was reached.

A large Republican gathering at Payson last evening was addressed by C. E. Allen.

Those were in the city today many delegate from Southern Utah, en route to Ogden to attend the city Democratic State convention to be held tomorrow.

U. S. Commissioner Morris Shooter will not hold court in Salt Lake City tomorrow. He goes to Ogden to see that his party nominates a national ticket composed of Hire, Thurman and Mahoney. At another little way Morris figures it.

It is expected that the Republican city convention will be held on October 15, though the date is not definitely fixed.

Among the candidates for Mayor of Salt Lake is the name of a new man is being urged, that of a man whose qualifications would gather around him the solid support of substantial citizens, and who would be a source of strength to his party. Mr. Sharp is not seeking the nomination, and is keeping perfectly quiet in politics.

The officers train to carry Democratic delegates from this and Utah and Davis counties has taken that Ogden tomorrow at 8:30 a.m., it takes 45 minutes run to Ogden, where the delegates will engage in the preliminaries of their state convention.

Today R. H. Rivers and W. H. King were being canvassed as very possessing the qualifications of carrying off the plum of a nomination for Congress by the Democratic convention tomorrow. As candidate for governor, W. H. Preston was freely spoken of today, as were John T. Caine, C. W. West and A. C. Ivins. But there is not even reasonable assurance of the result in advance of the convention's action.

Land Office.

The following filings were made in the local land office under date of Sept. 4:

George F. Potts, of Woodland, homestead entry of 80 acres in township 2 south, range 7 east, in Summit county.

Joseph O. Moore, of Lawrence, homestead entry of 160 acres in township 17 south, range 9 east in Emery county.

For Housebreaking.

Ah Jim, a Chinaman, was before U. S. Commissioner Greenman this afternoon on the charge of housebreaking. The commissioner's office was so packed with a Chinese audience assembled to hear the proceedings, that the court and Attorneys Sutherland and Hald were completely hemmed in so no one could approach them. The hearing will be concluded this evening.

Will Appeal.

The county court has decided to appeal from Judge Merrill's decision in the spraying law.

LITERARY NOTE.

"Sun and Shade," now in the course of compiling its seventh volume, is one of the most artistic publications and a large number of very excellent works of a similar character. A special number, descriptive of the "Cup Challenger and Defenders," will command great attention. It is a press of the story of the celebrated America's Cup, and is illustrated by views of the most celebrated yachts. As a beautiful illustrated history of the interesting story, it stands alone, and should prove of value to all interested in the story of our progress in yachting.

OLD KICKAPOO GUN.

AN ANCIENT CANNON THAT HAS A REMARKABLE RECORD

It Played an Important Part in the Struggle Over Slavery in Kansas—Was a Bone of Contention—Dated From the Pioneers in a Historical Relic.

There was recently shipped from Chicago to the Kansas State Historical society one of the most valuable relics of the border ruffian days. It is an old Kickapoo cannon which did service at Old Kickapoo, Lawrence and other points along the Missouri border during Kansas' early struggle for free state government. The old gun played the role of contention in such a hot bitter contest between proslavery and anti-slavery forces, and a large number of the old citizens of Kansas remember the stirring events clustering about the history of this remarkable instrument of warfare.

Of late years the whereabouts of the old gun has been a mystery of conjecture, and for some time it was thought to have been lost, but it is due to the efforts of Colonel R. Hills Moore and Captain J. G. Williamson of Leavenworth that Old Kickapoo has been recovered. It now rests in the state of the state Historical society in Topeka.

The gun is a six pounder capable of being fired twenty times per minute from the United States arsenal at Liberty, Mo., and then have enough to spare. The gun was made in the arsenal and foundry of the old Fort Leavenworth at Lawrence, the fortifications being at it was believed by the proslavery grand jury at Lecompton and subsequently used as a rendezvous by Joseph Cook, who had the will this, and to Sheriff Jones, who commanded the posse, mostly from Missouri, in case of executing an writ.

The Lecompton at which Colonel Cook was one of the prominent citizens of Lecompton, which was the proslavery capital of Kansas, and the Missouri Lawrence, supported and backed up the Old Kickapoo. The gun was used in the battle of Franklin, and in the sieges of Lawrence and Hickory Point, and Colonel Cook, who had the will this, and to Sheriff Jones, who commanded the posse, mostly from Missouri, in case of executing an writ.

Colonel R. Hills Moore has suggested to Captain Williamson that the gun be kept in the state of Kansas
