THE LEHIGH TROUBLE.

Indications of Difficult of the Switchmen Unless Something Happens.

NON-UNION MEN ARE GIVEN REVOLVERS.

THE RAILROAD STRIKERS.

They Seem to be Defeated.—Trains Again Moving.

BUFFALO, Aug. 20.—There need be no more suffering of women and children of the striking switchmen here than is the same which prevails tonight among the men of the Lehigh Valley. Unless the labor leaders shall adopt decisive measures in new directions the switchmen in the Buffalo yards will unconditionally be defeated. They know it themselves, but still adhering to the conviction that something will happen. Their faith is on their leaders. They hope the firemen may come out.

This evening a railroad man said: "The engineers and firemen are going out within forty-eight hours. This is positive. I am in a position to know what I am talking about. I feel certain that the engineers and firemen will join the strike, and Erie trainmen are going in again." They are well organized. The Lehigh trainmen are not well organized and will likely stay at work. The firemen may strike without the consent of the engineers."

This is the view of an afternoon paper of the switchmen's campaign.

THE PLAN OF GRAND MASTER SWEENEY'S CAMPAIGN.

is gradually coming to view. The lines drawn here are not so much on the question of the result of the present strike, but he is not greatly disturbed at the probability of failure. If the yards are cleared here, it is said, there will be a stoppage of work at Rochester, then one at Syracuse and then at West Albany, where over 1[illegible] men are employed.

During the afternoon non-union switchmen on the New York Central were all supplied with revolvers and given orders to use them only on extremities. Manufacturers and business men in the neighborhood of the switch yards have taken alarm at the menace of apparent danger and asked the sheriff for protection.

An attempt was made to wreck a Lehigh train on Buffalo Creek this morning, but fortunately the train other leave the track.

An unknown member of the Twenty-second New York regiment, with a mount in his hand, rushed up to a fellow's stand today and demanded what money he had. He said he was looking for a job at the proprietor. A policeman was called upon the scene and authority to arrest the man. He asked the merchant to give the man some change. He did so, but the half-crazed man attempted to stab bystanders. At last by main force he was turned to the regiment and placed in the guard house.

THERE WAS A SKIRMISH

with the strikers at East Buffalo last night on account of the strikers stoning non-union men on the Erie tracks. A company of the Twenty-first regiment came up, and when the strikers continued stoning, orders were given to fire. The strikers scattered in almost every direction and escaped.

The New York Central cleared its yards of livestock and perishable freight today.

SET TO WORK.

At precisely noon a Lake Shore switch engine backed out of the roundhouse and set to work, while a large crowd of switchmen and friends gathered and quietly watched the new men at work. They looked sullen and ugly, but made no demonstration.

Three additional locomotives were set to work with non-union crews by the Lehigh company.

ENGINE DISABLED.

An engine of the Erie express train which left New York at 8 o'clock this morning had to run here at 10:30 last night to be derailed at Pitzen, near Alice, at 10 o'clock tonight. No one was hurt. Wrecking trains left Buffalo for the scene. The accident is attributed to strikers.

ENGINEER RAISED.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Aug. 20.—"The Dickens at Sayre, Pa., and Waverly, N. Y. was virtually raised today. About 200 this morning the bell was set ringing at Waverly when a freight on the Philadelphia & Reading from Sayre was stopped on the switch by strikers. The military were notified and they marched to the railway tracks, formed in line two abreast and marched up to the tracks to clear the street. Thousands of people lined the tracks and the banks along the railway, yelling at and gaying the militia.

The picket line formed, but while they were forming the fire in the engine was mysteriously dumped and grate was pulled. The fire was rebuilt and a policeman turned the switch, as no switchman dared to do it. The train pulled out on the Erie tracks and passed the depot all right, closely followed by a delegation of strikers. Lines of military guarded the train on either side. They soon found that some fuse had been pulled and the train stopped again, but eventually got off without further trouble.

Three trains more also passed out between the lines of military and the company claim the blockade is raised. Michael McNamara, leader of the strikers, was arrested this morning on a charge of interfering with the movement of trains and was released on $1000 bail for examination next Tuesday.

ORDERED FORWARD.

CHATTANOOGA, Aug. 20.—Sorley's infantry, consisting of twenty men, Gatling rifle guns and one Gatling gun, which have been in this city since yesterday, were ordered forward to East Creek tonight and left on the 12:20 regular passenger train. It is thought that the company was ordered forward simply to bring their guns.

LIFE ON THE GUARD.

KNOXVILLE, Aug. 20.—The following is the list of the killed at East Creek: John Worrell and Hale Givens, of Knoxville; Sidney Wasserman and Frank Smith, of Memphis.

At Fort Anderson the killed among the miners is placed at ten, the wounded at twenty.

The volunteers were relieved from duty by Regulars at noon this morning. Soldiers are searching the houses for arms and concealed minors and are bringing in prisoners continually.

Fifteen dead miners have been found in the vicinity of the late battle and there are probably more in the woods.

MORE TROUBLE.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 21.—It is rumored tonight that there will be a general tieup within the next twenty-four hours in the Lehigh Valley, Delaware & Hudson and the Central Railroad of New Jersey, but nothing definite can be learned at the Lehigh Valley office tonight. They say they heard the rumor. All trains are moving today and tonight on time.

THE WORK OVER.

BUFFALO, Aug. 21.—Since the resumption of work yesterday the Central has moved more cars than strikers ever, and the prospects of events among impeding further progress is mostly diminishing. At East Buffalo the outlaws in western freight is practically removed and can hold back on the Michigan Central are interested series the international trouble in numbers than exceed the ordinary indoor. The Erie made the first attempt to start freight out of the Black Rock yards. It met over another the Lehigh trouble. The Central, Erie and Lehigh are all working vigorously.

At East Buffalo the soldiers still remain, the yards in which there has been trouble and have had to deal more with crowds of spectators who flocked around the yards than with disaffected railroad men during the day. The Lake Shore is moving some freight and made several deliveries in the Central this morning. The Nickel Plate is not attempting to move much but perhaps and stick to line.

Chief Grand Chief Telegrapher A. D. Thurston of Vincent, Ia., arrived in the city last evening. His visit is nearly as can be learned is to ascertain the local situation and to consult with members concerning the pending trouble. With the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western the trouble is understood to be regarding wages and it has been reported that General Manager Dalton is expected.

To supply food to non-union men on even strikers is regarded by those in sympathy with the strikers as a high crime. When the home in the neighborhood of the Lake Shore tracks on Erie street attempted to get something to eat the mobs threatened they were repulsed at many of the doors even though they offered pay for food.

THE CHIEF MILITARY OFFICIALS

now located here tonight are satisfied that the striking Buffalo of over half the Saturday glorious of the Sabbath was a wise and necessary move. Adjutant-General Porter, with General Doyle and other officers, made a tour of all the switching yards today and their observations resulted in the conclusion that the force here, considering the great amount of territory to be guarded, is not excessive. Not only this, but doubt was left in the minds of all the party whether sensibling more than would not be necessary. General Porter check his beat when asked how long the troops would remain here. General Doyle today ordered an extra company of militia from Jamestown. "The Brakes leave the whole thing in their hands," said a railroad man to an Associated Press correspondent today. "If they go out you will see the greatest strike the world ever saw. It will not be confined to freight in no alone, but passenger trains will be involved. When the firemen go out the engineers will be practically out, too. Chief Engineer Arthur does not believe in strikes, but he will not allow the men to go on the road with green firemen. When they strike the roads will be tied up."

At military headquarters today captain Roe reported that a sentry on duty saw a couple of women coming into a freight car standing on the track. He ordered to parcelt, and seeing him approach the women hurriedly climbed an escape. The sentry emptied off and called into the car, where he found bushes of shavings saturated with oil, to which a match had been applied, but fortunately and some out before any damage was done. The women were not caught.

The preparations being made indicate that the troops will not be withdrawn for some days at least. Talk about of getting away before October is seen in some circles. The men are becoming uneasy about their business possessions.

Hanged to a Telegraph Pole.

SANTA ANA, Cal., Aug. 20.—Francisco Torres, the murderer of Captain Wm. McKelvey, foreman of Malacio Mendejas's ranch in San Diego co. yesterday, was taken out of jail by a mob of twenty-five men and hanged to a telegraph pole. It was done in a quiet and orderly manner, the city knowing nothing of it till daylight. Well organized conditions, the lynching is the result of a tedious trial for Mexican prisoners intended to swear him free, and that the court would be unable to punish him.

At a minister's funeral on Torres' body Robert Cornell, night watchman at the jail, testified that just before 1 o'clock two men came to the jail door and demanded admittance. He refused, and they battered in the door with a sledge hammer. Marshal then entered and took the keys to the cells away from him. Torres fought like a mother when they attempted to take him from the jail, but he was finally gagged and bound hand and foot. Torres was given no time to pray, but the house was adjusted and he was hung up to the nearest telegraph pole. The coroner's verdict was "Hanged by parties unknown." On Torres's breast was pinned a placard labeled, "Charge of venue."

Complaints of Inhuman Treatment of Prisoners.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 20.—A letter was received by the Department of Justice today from J. W. Hanks, general secretary of the Knights of Labor, complaining of the alleged inhuman treatment of United States prisoners at Bonne City, Idaho, now awaiting trial in connection with the recent riots in the Coeur d'Alene mining district. He says that a prisoner named Peter Brush has been the victim of brutal treatment. Acting Attorney-General Aldrich replied to Mr. Hanks this afternoon saying the matter will be investigated at once. He also telegraphed at once to Mr. Crowninshield, examiner of the department, to see that the cruelty of which was complained on any United States prisoners ceases.

Suicide.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Gerard Prince, 55 years old, who claimed to be a retired American army officer and a descendant of the late General Robert E. Lee, committed suicide at Nice yesterday. It is possible that the man was fringe the General Henry Prince. If this is so, he was born in 1811 at Dedgett, Md., and was one of the most gallant officers of the Mexican war and the War of the Rebellion.

Bulletin Afloat.

VALPARAISO, Aug. 20.—News from Iquique reports the discovery of a secret cache of opposition cartridges and ammunition in the custom house at Iquique. The discovery created immense excitement and President Espinosa issued a proclamation stating that it was deemed necessary to declare the whole republic in a state of siege, and continue the siege as long as the government may deem it advisable. The government intended to make a revolutionary movement. A very uneasy feeling exists throughout the entire republic.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—A few nights ago William Rigby, alias Billy Mann, a sidewalk editor of Company H, First United States Infantry, and Max Tenger, known as "The Terrible Swede," fought at the Florence Club in this city. He is now reported to be in a dangerous condition. Rigby is placed under arrest.

A Town in Danger.

JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 21.—Woodville, three miles west of this city, is in danger of sinking into the earth and the inhabitants are greatly alarmed. About ten days ago the Standard coal mine became flooded and had to be abandoned. Since then several crevices have occurred over the coveted mine. The Michigan Central track has sunk in somewhat and the company has men watching day and night for fear the track will go through. The area covered by the holes extends over perhaps fifty or sixty acres square, while the underground section is probably one-half mile square.

Great Cities for the Cure of Trusts.

The following rules for the cure of the trusts and gases are by no eminently successful New York dental surgeon: To begin with go to a dentist and have your mouth put in a healthy condition.

Cleanse teeth night and morning with a soft brush and tepid water. Brush lengthwise of the teeth, not forward cutting edges. Rinse the mouth after each meal; use floss silk if necessary; waxed floss silk is preferable. If compelled to take food medicinally, use a glass tube or pipette with a weak solution of soda, or soda and cream of tartar, or boracic, drawing cools, etc., with the teeth.

If wearing a partial plate leave it out at night and cleanse after each meal. Avoid tooth soap and fever dentifrices; use nothing which your dentist does not recommend. For acute pain, gums, gargle two or three times a day with Listerine, a compound to half a glass of water. Consult a dentist at least every six months; prevention is not only better than cure, it is less difficult, painful and expensive.

A Celebrity Stole.

There was a lull the other evening at one of the mansions in a west end square. Just before it wound up about a dozen cabs were drawn up at the front door. By accident the night was fine, and the cabmen, or drivers, who had spoken to the footman, came back to his fellows and told them that all the guests lived in the neighborhood, and that there was little chance of their being wanted. One of the drivers, however, was equal to the emergency. He borrowed a couple of tumblers and asked the footman to get him a pail of water for his horse.

The water was brought, and just as the guests were coming out only passed the water over the pavement and on the tops of the two umbrellas. The latter, believing it to be raining hard, called for cabs at any rate, and it was only after they got inside that the trick was found out.—London Tit Bits.

The Sphinx and the Moon.

The Saracens called the moon Caber the Great, and the crescent still surmounts the Turkish mosques and is continued on the greenstudded of the project. Schlegel mentions a story that Mohammed "wished to pass with his disciples as a person transformed in a supernatural light, and that the credulity of his followers saw the moon, or the moon's light, descend upon him, pierce his garments and enshrine him."

That veneration for the moon which still forms a national or rather religious characteristic of the Mohammedans may perhaps have its foundation in the older superstition of ancient Egypt.—Mistry of the Arabs."—Leisure Moment.

CAPRIVI'S EFFORT.

The Military Bill of the German Chancellor Not to be Considered.

CHICAGO WILL OPPOSE IT.

A Biography of Parties.—Bismarck Favors Shorter Term of Military Service.

By Telegraph to the NEWS.

DIVERSE OPINIONS

Germans Do Not Agree on the Military Question.

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—The Emperor's declaration that the government did not intend to adopt the proposal for two years' military service, forms of three in the Reichstag, is regarded as the signal for the immediate retirement of Von Caprivi.

The Conservatives and the National Liberals are to meet Prince Chancellor tonight and more tonight. But it is an open secret that the Emperor is set against the main proposal of the Minister of Military Affairs. Count von Waldersee agrees with the Emperor, while most of the other military officials side with the Chancellor in favor of short service. In consequence of the disagreement no great army bill will be passed before the Reichstag in the coming session.

Another result of the internal dissension will be a regrouping of the parties.

Prince Bismarck has adopted the two years principles. Every party except the extreme Conservatives support the short term, which will be the main issue of the next election. The immediate consequence attending the abandonment of the Army bill is the resignation of the Ministers in charge of the Ministry of the Interior.

It is reported that the government will withdraw from the Reichstag the bill for the suppression of the socialists. It is probable that the failure of the measure relating to Sunday repose makes withdrawal easier with other measures in the same direction.

The weather is intensely hot throughout Germany and fatal sunstrokes are occurring everywhere in the Empire. The thermometer registered 104 in the Grunewald, near Berlin, yesterday. The drought which prevails is ripening cattle and crops.

The Reichstag is announced for consideration of the commercial treaties between Germany and Spain, and Venezuela requires in the assumption that American influence in Spanish-America will thus receive a check.

VICTORIA IN DANGER.

A Crook Says She Must Resign or Die.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Globe this afternoon reports that Mr. Labouchere issued today to the Queen while she was driving near Osborne House. As the royal carriage was proceeding along the road a man making violent gestures advanced towards it. The outriders stopped and the man approaches the Queen. He said he was a foreign Count and he and many others had sworn that if the Queen did not resign they would kill her. Her Majesty replied in a calm way to the Count, "I never have betrayed my servants." The Count and his associates are the men who recently sent a dynamite bomb, and though she did not mention the matter, she would be tempted to call his attention to his words she returned her presence of mind and quiet calmness at this, never uttering a word. The Count turned pale and left quietly taking the man removed him from the Queen's presence. He was handed over to a detective and taken to Cowes. There is no doubt that he is insane.

A LITTLE CALCULATION.

An Interesting Subject of Some Relative Importance.

Perhaps many readers have been favored with a letter from a friend in Europe, or from a friend in Europe, or from a friend in Europe, or
