COMMON POINTS VIA OGDEN.

A New Southern Pacific Rate to the East Effective September 2

Contracting Freight Agent H. R. Biere, of the Santa Fe railroad, received a telegram today (Sunday) says the San Francisco Examiner, from General Freight Agent H. C. Barth advising him that commencing September 2nd, a rate of 65 cents per 100 pounds on canned goods (minimum weight, 24,000) would be put into effect from all California terminals to Chicago, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and all intermediate points over the Santa Fe route via Mojave.

Two weeks ago the Santa Fe people put the same rate into effect from points on the Southern California line to Pittsburgh, Buffalo and intermediate points, and at that time asked the Southern Pacific to operate with them on a 65-cent rate from points in California, as they desired to place all shippers of canned goods in California on an equal footing as far as rates were concerned. However, the Southern Pacific declined to operate on the 65-cent basis just at that particular time, but have since notified the Santa Fe officials that they would agree to accept their proportion of a 65-cent rate per 100 when shipments are routed over the Santa Fe system via Mojave.

Today Mr. Smurr notified the Southern Pacific freight agent here that, commencing September 2, a rate of 65 cents a hundred pounds on canned goods from California terminals, including San Jose, would be put into effect. The rate is to apply on a minimum carload of 30,000 pounds, via Ogden and the Union Pacific, Chicago and Northwestern, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and Wabash railway to Chicago, Mississippi river and Missouri river common points; also by the El Paso, Sunset and New Orleans to Cincinnati, Detroit, Pittsburg, Buffalo and common points. It will be an intermediate and will apply to Colorado common points via Ogden and to points west of New Orleans, but will not affect the 50-cent rate now in force to Galveston, New Orleans and New York via the Sunset route. It will not apply via Mojave.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS CALL.

For the Fourth Annual Session to Be Held at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

By the authority of the national executive committee, the fourth national irrigation congress is hereby called to meet in the city of Albuquerque, N. M., for four days beginning September 16, 1895.

The present year is proving to be the most remarkable in the history of American irrigation. It has seen a wonderful awakening of popular interest in the cause throughout the East, resulting in the organization of most potential forces for the purpose of cooperating with the western people; the enactment of well considered laws in eight states, and the creation of administrative systems in five of them; the recognition of the pressing nature of the problem by the departments of interior and agriculture, under whose direction a national board of irrigation has been formed from officials in various departments of the government.

These splendid evidences of the triumphant progress of the irrigation cause demand a large, representative and effective session of the irrigation congress of 1895. A further reason for such a gathering is the fact that the presidential campaign of 1896 will be inaugurated previous to the assembling of another session of this body, and that it is thus necessary to formulate, at Albuquerque, the demands which the friends of irrigation will desire to make upon the great political parties of the nation.

In view of the nature of the opportunity, a program of extraordinary variety, interest and importance will be arranged, and it is anticipated that this session of the congress will be more widely useful and influential than the previous conventions at Salt Lake in 1891, at Los Angeles in 1893 and at Denver in 1894. The friends of irrigation throughout the United States—for today the movement is national in its scope and interest—should unite in an effort to obtain a worthy result at Albuquerque.

BASIS OF REPRESENTATION.

In accordance with a resolution of the third annual irrigation congress at Denver, Colo, September 8, 1894, the fourth national irrigation congress will be composed as follows:

First—All members of the national executive committee.

Second—All members of state and territorial irrigation commissions.

Third—Five delegates at large, to be appointed by their respective governors for each of the following states and territories: Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

Fourth—Three delegates at large from each state and territory not hereinbefore enumerated, to be appointed by the governors of said states and territories, or in case of the District of Columbia, by the President.

Fifth—One delegate from each regularly organized irrigation, agricultural and horticultural society, and society of engineers, irrigation companies, agricultural colleges and commercial bodies.

Sixth—Duly accredited representatives of any foreign nation or colony, each member of the United States senate and House of Representatives, and each governor of a state and territory will be admitted as honorary members.

The use of proxies and the manner of casting the vote of delegations will be regulated in accordance with a resolution adopted at Denver and printed on page 89 of the official report of that meeting.

By order of
THE NATIONAL EXECUTIVE COM.,
WM. E. SMYTHE, Chairman,
Box 1078, Chicago, Ill.
FRED L. ALLEN, Secretary,
119 So. Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal.

Scofield Notes.

SCOFIELD, Aug. 26, 1895.—Scofield and Winter Quarters are very quiet these days and the people here are anxiously awaiting the brightening up of the coal trade. Except for the development work being done at No. 1 there would be no life in the place at all.

A few of our citizens took in the R. at P. excursion to Castilla on Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Meeuwether gave birth to twin boys a few days ago; they weighed nine lbs each.

Letter for Frank Anderson.

A letter has been received at the News office addressed to Frank Anderson, Salt Lake, Utah, or Twin Lakes, Colorado. It comes from Stockholm, Sweden, and the envelope bears the imprint of E. A. Stromberg, of that place. The letter has been sent to 159 Second East street and also to 57-58 Board of Trade building, and not being claimed at those places, has found its way to the News office, the mail carrier presumably thinking that the owner of the letter would be found there. No such party is employed by the News, however, and the proper party can obtain the letter if he will call and get it.
