Special correspondence to the "News."

Ogden, Jan. 25.—Sheriff McDaid, of Humboldt county, Nev., and Detective Thacker of Wells, Fargo & Co's Express company, returned from Oregon yesterday morning in charge of the two men whom they arrested on suspicion of being in hold-up of the Southern Pacific train at Humboldt, Nev., on the Central Pacific railroad, last summer. The men are L. G. Ross and J. H. Boyle. They were placed in the county jail here and remained until the departure of the train for the west at 2:10 p. m. The men claim that they are innocent, but the officers are confident that they have the right parties.

PROVO.

Special correspondence.

Provo, Jan. 2.—The petit jurors empaneled for the January term of the Fourth district court, appeared yesterday and were examined after examination by the regular attorney and assistant county attorney Evans. The names of those accepted are: L. P. Lund, Dudley Hill, Pleasant Grove; John Bunn, John H. Schaub, Peter Jensen, Philip Stockert, O. H. Berg, Provo; John Stokes, Pleasant View; F. Lagan, J. W. Phillips, Provo; Jens Olson, Andrew Hutchings, American Fork; George Whitesell, Goshen; George Zimmerman, James Allen, Elkins Peck, Lehi; H. M. Dougall Jr., Springville; Albert S. Hinds, Payson; W. B. Allen, Mapleton. David Mitchel of American Fork was excused on statutory grounds, and Albert S. Hinds and Lawrence Hastings were excused on account of sickness in their families.

The case of the State vs John Herron, Hon Moland, Sidney Sheall, John Warnick and Noell West, was first called and a jury empaneled. County Attorney Evans appeared for the prosecution, and B. D. Beatz for the defendants. Defendants are charged with creating a riot at Pleasant Grove on the night of the 2nd of December, 1898, when Warren C. Foley of American Fork was badly beaten. The prosecution claims that defendants entered into an agreement to do the deed, and came over from American Fork with some other young people to attend a party, and that in pursuance of this agreement they attack Foley as he was leaving the hall room and followed the buggy in which Foley and his companions were riding, and dragged him from the hall room and directed its course into a blind alley, where they took Foley out and thrashed him. The defense claims that there was no agreement entered into between defendants, and that none of them beat Foley, except John Herron, who, because of provocation, struck Foley and did administer a thrashing to him. The reason for this is claimed to be that Foley had betrayed Herron's sister some three years before, and that the wrong his sister had endured from Foley caused Herron to be in a state of feeling which caused him to thrash Foley.

Mattie E. Nelson Vogel has brought suit against Orino & Co. et al, to recover a judgment in favor of plaintiff, recovered in the First district court (Territorial) January 27th, 1891, now amounting to $816.92.

Architect R. C. Watkins has gotten out plans for the Sanpete Stake academy to be erected in Ephraim. The building will be commenced as soon as the ground can be broken.

Sam Lee of Clear Creek came down last night on the R. G. W. No. 7, drain to have his right leg set, which was broken above the ankle on the forenoon of Wednesday while Lee was trying to get onto an engine. Dr. Allen set the broken limb.

LOGAN.

Special Correspondence to the "News."

Logan, Jan. 26.—The following marriage licenses have been issued: Hyrum B. Woodward of Alberta, Canada, and Mary Adamson of Wellsville; Hannis Petersen and Zina Hansen, both of Newton.

Mrs. Annie M. M. Funnebeck, who was divorced from her husband, Christian Funnebeck, in 1897, has commenced proceedings in the district court to recover the possession of her seven-year-old daughter, which was awarded by the decree of separation to Funnebeck. Mrs. Funnebeck alleges that, however, she has repeatedly refused to release the child from her custody, hence the suit. Arrangements on the motion for an order in the case will be made on the 7th.

SCANDINAVIAN REUNION.

The Scandinavians of this city held their annual reunion last night in the Palace hall, and the jollest sort of a time was had. There was a tremendous attendance, which was not entirely restricted to Scandinavian people, a number of prominent citizens of other nationalities being present. An entertaining program was rendered, including a cleverly arranged original farce, abounding in funny local hits. The orchestra of the evening was devoted to "keeping the light fantastic."

SHERIFF BROWNING CASE.

Judge Hart rendered his decision in the case of John H. White and J. E. Healy vs Jesse Jensen, awarding the plaintiffs damages in the sum of $15. The case occupied two days in trial and it was marked with the greatest interest by everyone, as it was a test case. White and Healy were a lot of bailiffs hung in the sheriffs office during the tenure of Sheriff Browning, and they denied the shareholders the right to cross with their herds the roads in the lands leased to the public domain. White not denying this right, Judge Hart thought that Jensen had not exercised the care he might have done, in preventing the cattle being herded on the lands in question, and consequently awarded damages to the plaintiffs. This leaves the real question at issue unadjudicated, and hence an appeal will be taken.

LOGAN, Jan. 27.—Dr. O. C. Ormsby received a call from Cottonwood last night to attend Samuel Capener's young man of Fielding who had been accidentally shot in the back with a shotgun. When last ready to start, the doctor received word that Capener was dead.

LEHI.

Two foreign tailors struck town on Monday and commenced searching for people anxious to be told what good luck the future had in store for them.

It is likely that Lehi will soon have a troop of the National Guard as sure as that coal are being made. If the boys are treated right they will stay by the work it not if they are treated the same of the boys who live outside of Salt Lake have been, they will soon tire of it.

Miss Alice Gilchrist and James Trimnahan were married at the home of the bride on Monday afternoon. A reception was held in the evening at which the relatives of the bride and groom, in the evening a wedding bell was given to Garff's hall in honor of the event.

And so it is the rumor that have taken about 20 chickens in this vicinity since Christmas. Now, for some of the desert may have taken some of them but they did not go into the center of town and open chicken coops there and carry off chickens weighing after carrying off from one to twenty fowls. They were coyotes in human form. The hunt may rid this section of some of the coyotes, and outside hen coops will be made more safe, but something should be done to bring the other guilty parties to justice, and the sooner the better shall evil deeds. For over a month they have gone unmolested. The police have not captured them and it would seem when this court comes it will be a good time for the mayor to offer a reward for their apprehension.—Lehi Banner.

SPRINGVILLE.

The Young Ladies' Mutual of the Fourth ward held a sort of revival Tuesday evening, at which a short, entertaining program was rendered, and refreshments served. Forty-three young ladies were present. The object of the session was to secure a better attendance of the members, and the effort was highly successful.

A SUGAR FACTORY.

After several years of agitation, hoping and planning, Springville has within her grasp the means of securing the long desired sugar factory. The special features which make this city an ideal location for a sugar factory are: Sugar beets raised by men who have the means of utilizing them in their home.

The maximum estimates of the amount of beets needed in this enterprise is 27,000. It may fall short of that in Springville, Springville alone with her 2,500 people should be able to raise the amount easily. But Spanish Fork and Mapleton, whose people never do things by halves and who will benefit by this enterprise as much as Springville, will cheerfully put up their share. Compared with what other and larger cities throughout the West have given as bonuses to private sugar factories, $1,000 is a mere trifle.

A RESERVOIR.

One of the many necessities of this section of Springville at the present time is more water for irrigation purposes. It can be had in abundance by the institution of an adequate reservoir system. Counselor Oliver Huntington is devoting all his spare time and energy to the development of some such system, and every time the city fathers have a spare moment he talks reservoir to them. The gentleman thoroughly understands the utility of irrigation, and he can be depended upon to keep the question stirred up. A reservoir system with sufficient water would increase the arable land and its productiveness in this vicinity nearly 100 per cent.—Independent.

MARYSVALE.

Marysvale, Jan. 26.—During the absence of Representative Fullmer in Salt Lake, his nephew, Ed. Fullmer, has charge of the Deer Trail office.

A crew of Eureka men are working at the Crystal under the management of Marcus F. Jones. Mine Crew Carpenter is now employed there as cook.

A number of the prominent people of Marysvale have organized an amateur theatrical company and expect to put on a play some time during the coming month.

The case which was brought against Pat Ryan and others, of Salt Lake, by W. W. Wallace for trespass, was tried before the justice of the peace last week and the parties were found not guilty of the charge brought against them. They may now proceed to the mining property on Gold Mountain.

The case of Isora Easting vs Chas. W. Jones came up for trial before Justice Dorius on Tuesday, Jan. 17th.

The trouble originated in 1896, when Mrs. Easting, formerly Miss Isora Ware, was engaged in the hotel business with Frank A. King, the firm name being King and Ware. It seems that Jones owed a board bill of $162 and a judgment was obtained against him for that amount. Last year the partnership was dissolved and all bills, etc., were turned over to Mrs. Easting for collection. One day Jones met King on the street and effected a compromise with one for $100, but it is reported, he had some difficulty in getting the money in King's hands so the money was handed over to W. W. Wallace to hold in trust. After the affair was noised for the ears of Jedediah Walker, he claimed, forced the money over to Mr. M. J. Lynch. Upon hearing of this, Mrs. Easting placed an attachment on the slim bill for Mr. Lynch's fee in a funny, surprise and jolly of horses owned by Jones. When the case came up for trial one Tuesday, Mr. C. L. Page, attorney for Jones, asked that it be dismissed and as Mrs. Easting and property enough attached to satisfy the judgment, the case was dismissed. Further proceedings will be entirely against Pilot Pioneer.

Mr. Jones was in Richfield Friday last, seeing satisfactorily, through the court, for what he considers a malicious prosecution.

RICHFIELD.

Flocks of geese have been seen flying north. Weatherologists say this is a sure sign of an early spring. There are other indications as well.

Joseph A. Harris and John Musgrave of Monroe, late with Dewey's rough riders, and George S. Wallace of Richfield, of the Utah cavalry, spoke of the U. D. S. meeting held Sunday evening of their experience.

Thomas D. Adams, arrested at Junction a couple of weeks ago for obtaining the name on a check and impersonating it to be Joseph Adams, was given a preliminary hearing in Justice Chaffin's court a week ago Saturday and dismissed.

EDUCATIONAL LECTURES.

Prof. Byron Cummings lecture at the opera house Saturday evening, Jan. 14, on the subject, "The Duty We Owe the Greeks," was a very interesting number of the series now being delivered in the interests of the High School. There was a good crowd of interested listeners present, and they were well repaid for their presence.

Prof. Cummings is a very entertaining talker, and with the illustrations he used to make the main points of his discourse clear, held the attention attention of his audience throughout.

On next Saturday, the 28th of this month, the third of the series of lectures proposed by the High School will be given by Prof. D. R. Allen of the University of Utah. Prof. Allen's lecture will be on "Yellowstone Park and Its Wonders," and will be illustrated by lantern views thrown upon canvas.

DISTRICT COURT.

City of Monroe vs Irrigation Co. A petition of interested parties that disqualifications of Judge McCarty be waived and that he entertain proposal to settle dispute by agreement. This matter was tried before the district court before, and the parties against whom the decision was rendered appealed to the Supreme court, where the case is now pending. The judge not the case had stated when this court could take action as prayed for.

W. H. Dunker vs John W. Cozine.—Demurrer to complaint sustained. In this case the plaintiff alleges that the defendant seized upon and sold, under execution, land, home, and other property belonging to plaintiff, to satisfy a judgment in favor of Consolidated Implement Co., said property being exempt from execution. Plaintiff asks for possession of property and $100 damages. Plaintiff asked leave to amend complaint, which was granted. C. W. Collins, by courtesy, prepared defendant's demurrer.

IN THE OLD FOOT STABBING CASE.

State of Utah vs James Johnson; demurrer to the information, charging defendant with assault with a deadly weapon, overruled, and plea of not guilty entered. The bond for the appearance of the defendant at the May term of court fixed at $1,000.—Richfield Advocate.

HYDE PARK.

A farmers' meeting was held on Saturday to take into consideration the question of sugar beet culture. After discussing the question for some time they came to the conclusion that if the Ogden Sugar company will be good enough to meet them half way, raise beets this year. The following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, That we will raise sugar beets at the following price: $5.50 per ton, providing the factory will buy according to the required test: 12 per cent sugar and 80 per cent coefficient purity, and 25 cents for each extra per cent, up to 14 per cent. Also be it further provided, that if the beets do not test 12 per cent, 25 cents be deducted from $5.50 per ton.

RICHMOND.

We are told that the Relief Society is to give one of their famous suppers with a dance in the near future. As no benefit dances are allowed in the meeting house, the party will be held at the new school building. Everybody should go, and a good time is guaranteed.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week, several sleigh loads of our married people and so scribe set out for Logan to participate in a masked party at the residence of Prof. J. F. Griffin of the A. C. Upon our arrival at Logan, we met at the residence of County Treasurer Hendricks, and adorned ourselves for the occasion and proceeded to the home of Griffin. The characters were numerous and well sustained. A beautiful supper of choice edibles was served, and the remainder of the time was passed in all having a good time. It was a most pleasant occasion and will be long remembered by all present. The party was composed of business men, professional men, workmen, farmers and their wives. Toward morning we all started for home and arrived there in safety, except, strange to say, our professional horseman and crack driver, who had the misfortune to overturn his sleigh and one horse just at the edge of town. His wife and the two other ladies who were with him found the snow more than ankle deep, and no one moved till one of the ladies asked if the city marshal's neck was broken, and his wife said, "Oh! no, it is not broken." One more lay on the back in the ditch and it was not until the "one-armed fiddler" came along, that the marshal was able to get righted. A doctor happened to be coming that way, but the sound of his bells caused the injured party to depart rapidly for home. No one was injured, all enjoyed the affair greatly. The entire session was one of joy and pleasure.—Logan Journal.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

GARCIA, MEXICO.

Garcia, Mex., Jan. 19.—Weather here ranges from breezy balmy as April to high winds in the afternoon, three or four days in the week. No snow. Farmers plowing.

School has adjourned the week as both teachers are laid up with bad colds, the same complaint being quite prevalent throughout the settlement.

Mr. Hyrum Nelson killed a large mountain lion in the edge of the timber just outside of town a short time since.

Mr. J. W. Hinckley, of the Chihuahua Land company, passed through town on his way home this morning. He has just received word from his partner in Utah that a considerable number of immigrants expect to move to the Chihuahua country in the spring.

Mr. Nelson expects to move his sawmill somewhere in the vicinity of Seven Rivers mine, as he has an order for half a million feet of lumber from the mountainous.

DOING, NOT THINKING.

Doing, not dreaming, is the source of success. Thinking that there will not enough to anything make the thought be followed by determined will to execute. Not the faithful letter, but the faithful labor, leaves the broad mark of work accomplished. Not to that sixty Lord, Lord, but to that doeth my Father's will. Not to those who say that pleased, but to that want, not the one who received the reward. This one thing I do," said Paul, "this thing I think, make a Paul. "Whatsoever ye do, do it heartily." Doing about continually on the good work the example left by Christ, and the promise given, "Let us do good, let us continue to well doing, seek for glory and honor and immortality, eternal life."—Pocket Vade-mecum.
