water and had then been examined. Any indications of that kind I consider would bring the class under the head of suspicious water.

The fourth class would be impure water, which would include any turbid and bad smelling water, with suspended matters not easily separated by coarse filtration, also dissolved organic matters above two grains per gallon especially if of animal origin, or large indications of its presence, ammonia, etc., all of which indicate the passage of organic matters, animal in all probability, into such waters.

To sum up I would propose as a popular division:

1st—Pure and wholesome waters, such as are found at West Bountiful in our largest and best flowing artesian wells.

2nd—Usable waters, such as our City Creek and Emigration Canyon waters from which our city supply is largely taken.

3rd—Suspicious, waters as the Salt Lake and Jordan Canal and the Jordan River water above the sewer outlet.

4th—Impure waters, such as we find in the Jordan River below the sewer outlet. This latter meets all the indications of the 4th class, turbid and bad smelling, for this water, as we gathered a sample below the sewer outlet, showed a dark and turbid condition and smelled so badly that the operation of taking the water from the stream was anything but a pleasant one, and the appearance of the stream, at best a sluggish one, thickly studded through all its perceptible parts with large and small fecal masses so plentifully that in dipping for the specimens for analytical purposes we could not secure a finger full without these masses being largely apparent in each part taken.

You state in your paper on the analysis of this water from the Jordan, that in your opinion a human being would be greatly exposing himself to take a drink of the Jordan water below the sewer outlet, and we think this will be readily taken for granted, I may state here that the stench from this sewer-polluted river will endanger the health of all people living contiguous to it and not only these but the entire city will be made to suffer if this menace to life and health is not in some manner stayed.

You further ask my opinion as to the effect it would have upon milk taken from cows who constantly drink this sewer impregnated water. I will give my opinion in the following statement, and I make the statement without fear of successful contradiction: There is not a civilized community in the world that would knowingly permit such milk to be brought into the city limits; much less allow it to be sold daily for consumption among its community. To what extent this same milk may be diseased would belong to the field of the bacteriologist to determine, and the nature of the bacilli there found.

Very truly and fraternally yours,

SEYMOUR B. YOUNG.

LEGAL RECORD.

Case After Case Continued in Judge Zane's Court.

AN EARLY ADJOURNMENT.

The Grand Jury Make Another Formal Report and Go Home.

ACTIONS FOR UNLAWFUL ARREST

A Suit to Quiet Title—C. L. Blasse is Believed to Have Shipped—Judge Anderson's Morning, Etc.

The first case called up in Judge Zane's court this morning was that of William Durden, who stands indicted for sheep stealing. Prosecuting Attorney Stephens stated, however, that the defendant's counsel were not present, Judge Powers having gone to Nebraska to defend in the Irvine murder murder trial, and Attorney Ogden Hiles being engaged in the Cass Hite murder case at Provo. Under these circumstances Mr. Stephens consented to the matter going over for the term.

ALLEGED FALSE PRETENSES.

R. E. Moulton's name stood next on the criminal calendar for today. The defendant is charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, his alleged offense, as stated by Prosecuting Attorney Stephens, consisting of the alleged selling of a draft for $100 on the defunct Farmers and Mechanics' bank at Ogden. The affairs of the late bank are being now investigated, and pending that investigation counsel asked that the case, by request of the attorneys for the defense, be continued. The Court so ordered.

ANOTHER CONTINUANCE.

John Cramer is indicted for shooting at one Jerry Richardson with intent to murder, and he was to have had his trial today. It was explained, however, that the defendant is in Idaho (being out on bail) and had been living there ever since the hearing before the United States Commissioner. His attorneys had written him to come down, and he is expected to be here shortly. Prosecuting Attorney Stephens therefore asked that the case be continued for the present. Counsel intimated that he would probably make another setting of criminal cases toward the latter part of the present term.

HERE'S ANOTHER.

William A. Morrow is indicted for selling liquor without a license; but upon the application of Judge McKay, who will defend, the case has been temporarily continued.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

The grand jury came into court and reported that they had held indictments under the Territorial laws and two under the laws of the United States. They ignored the charge of adultery against John Girard and that of assault with criminal intent against Alfred Roberts.

ADJOURNED.

The day's programme having been run through by 10:15, court adjourned until ten a. m. tomorrow.

JUDGE ANDERSON'S COURT.

Judge Anderson this morning went on with the law and motion calendar, and by noon quite a number of cases had been wiped off on short order. None of the matters which came before his Honor were of a public interest.

COURT NOTES.

The case of James Austin, charged with shooting at his son with intent of murder, occupied the entire time of Judge Zane and a jury yesterday afternoon. The facts were briefly stated in Monday's NEWS. The accused, who appeared to feel his position acutely, was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon. Sentence will be pronounced on October 17th.

Effie Smith, committed from the Third District Court on December 5th, 1891, for one year, for grand larceny, will be released from the penitentiary October 5th.

John Stringam, convicted in the Third District Court on December 10, 1891, (one year, for grand larceny), will be let out on October 5th.

Robert Young, sent up from the First District Court at Ogden, June 25th, 1888, (five years, for burglary), will be free on October 25th.

Ed. S. Part, sent up from the Third District Court on December 20th, 1891, (one year, for grand larceny), will be let out on October 20th.

D. W. Benton has filed a petition for a writ of review in the Third District Court to compel U. S. Commissioner Pratt and Justice J. Hunt, sitting at Park City, to certify all proceedings in an action brought against the petitioner by one Peter F. Gess up to this court from said justice's court. Judge Anderson issued the writ according to the prayer of the petition, and made it returnable on October 8th.

Frank E. McGurrin and Elmer R. Darling have begun suit against C. E. Collin, administrator, et al., in the Third District Court to collect $1,156.45 on a promissory note secured by a mortgage. The usual decree is asked.

Prosecuting Attorney Stephens is today looking up the Dan McCarthy "Spanish commissioner" case, mentioned in yesterday's NEWS. Meanwhile the two sentenced youts continues to languish at the penitentiary. That "suspension was thereby" is clear; but nobody seems inclined to accept the responsibility. Mr. Stephens "believes" the case was sentenced; Warden Parsons holds no order of commitment; Clerk Miller says he has no record of the sentence, and rightly holds that it is no business of his to direct the accused's detention of labor. In a word, he entirely wipes his hands of the business, leaving the Press using Attorney and Warden Parsons to settle the matter between them.

So great be the noise caused by the train cats and vehicles generally rattling past the Dooly hall (so that it is often difficult to hear what judge, witnesses and counsel are saying. This is especially the case when the windows are open for purposes of ventilation; and there appears to be no remedy at hand just now.

The grand jury have adjourned over conference and the fair.

George Wilson, the alleged Grand Junction burglar, who was yesterday arrested by Deputy Sheriff Lowry, was taken to Grand Junction last night by Sheriff Innes, of Mesa county, Colorado, the defendant having expressed his willingness to start on the journey at once, without waiting for the arrival of the extradition papers.

BLAINE HAS DEPARTED.

C. L. Blasse seems to be a rather slippery individual. He gave bonds a few days ago, his sureties being Capitale Davis, of Westwater "Jones," and Mrs. Anne Van Bogher, an Ogden lady. Davis, however, subsequently withdrew, and it seems that soon after this the defendant was missing. Some of his friends thought he may be searching for another surety, but the officials incline to the opinion that he has taken a longer step than that.

NEW SUITS FILED TODAY.

W. T. Aylesd, jr., and Randel Roberts, jr., this morning brought suit against S. S. Howard and John Parkins to recover $2,000 and costs. The complaint alleges that the defendants, on August 20th, near South Bountiful, Davis county, by force imprisoned plaintiffs for a period of three and a half hours without probable cause or authority. They were thereby prevented from attending to their business affairs, the latter, it is stated, and their credit, they say, has been injured. C. G. Gardiner is the plaintiffs' attorney.

Rhoda Shadford also brought suit today against Judson L. Shadford and sixteen other defendants of the same surname in which she seeks to quiet title to a piece of real estate in Davis County, said land being located in Farmington. She alleges that the claim of the defendants thereto is without any legal right, and asks that they be debarred from all claim of court, thus asserting such claim. Thomas Adams is the plaintiff's attorney.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

John T. Kelley, the clever Irish comedian commences a three nights' engagement at the Theatre on Thursday. The piece to be presented is his new comedy "Shamus O'Brien." Kelley is one the best comedians of his class and he is supported by a strong company. The new play is well recommended by eastern critics.

"TOUTHEMANGENS HEYM."

Monday, Oct. 10, the Theatre will be occupied by the Scandinavian Dramatic club who will play a new drama in four acts, entitled "The Prisoner's Revenge." The piece has been presented in various places in the Territory and is well spoken of by those who understand Danish.

"THE EMIGRANT."

Not many times in a year is the Salt Lake Theatre filled as it was last night at the opening of a three nights' engagement. The "Emigrant" has been extensively advertised for some weeks and comes here highly recommended and those who expected to witness the presentation of a play of a high order were not disappointed. It is strongly American and has many pretty pictures and patriotic sayings. It is melodramatic in its composition though it must be remembered that there are times when it approaches comedy in its condition. The country was beautiful and wonderfully realistic and called forth numerous outbursts of warm applause. The acting was quite evenly balanced, being neither the best nor the worst. The historic personages—with the exception of Abraham Lincoln—were not presented as true to nature as we expected, but in the main there is not much room for complaint.

The play goes again tonight and tomorrow night. Theatre patrons should remember that the curtain now rises promptly at 8 o'clock.

WONDERLAND.

Only two more days remain of the present programme, as new features will be introduced on Thursday as usually. These will undoubtedly be received with the same warm welcome as ladies' souvenir day luncheons and children's matinees on Saturday.
