

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

MEETING IN THE NEW TABERNACLE.—It is the intention to hold meeting on Sunday afternoon in the New Tabernacle, and it is hoped that there will be a general attendance of the people. This is desired in order to test the acoustic properties of the house, the expectation being that the alterations which have been made will so improve them, that the speakers on the stand can be heard distinctly in every part of it. There will be door-keepers appointed, and the gentlemen in attendance will be requested to observe the same order of seating will be observed as formerly—the ladies in the centre, the gentlemen on each side. In the galleries the ladies will be seated on the north, and the gentlemen on the south side. The public are respectfully requested to observe this requirement.

In this connection it may also be well to notice that the times of holding Sabbath meetings have been changed: until notification to the contrary is given, meetings will commence, in the morning at 10 o'clock, in the afternoon at 2.

NOTICE TO PRESIDENTS OF SEVENTIES.—President Joseph Young, Sen., wishes all Presidents of Seventies' Quorums who desire to obtain licences, to apply for the same during the coming General Conference; and at the same time they may obtain any word of counsel they may desire in respect to them. Presidents not attending Conference can have licences transmitted by post, if they desire to do so, by making written application for the same.

THE THEATRE.—This is positively the last night of the Japanese troupe, and all parties wishing to see them in their perillous and extraordinarily sensational feats must avail themselves of the chance offered this evening, or not at all. Individually and collectively, from little "All Right," three or four years of age, to the "aged Hercules," and we are wondrous in their profession, and we believe, can not be surpassed.

On Monday night an entire change in the character of the performance at the Theatre will commence. On that evening Leo Hudson will make her appearance, and for one week will exhibit some of her daring feats as an equilibrist, in "Mazeppa" and other pieces similar in character.

THE "JUVENILE INSTRUCTOR."—Number 3, Vol. 5, of this popular juvenile paper is issued this day. Its table of contents comprises the following articles: The River Ganges, illustrated; a more than ordinarily interesting article from "Beth" on the "Chemistry of Common Things"; "Missionary sketches; original poetry; 'To the Sunbeam'; 'Watch Mother'; 'Editorial Thoughts'; 'An Eastern Fountain' illustrated; 'Biography of Joseph Smith the Prophet'; an interesting article on the rise and progress of the 'Potter's Art'; 'The Animal Kingdom,' illustrated, etc., etc.

A CHANCE FOR FREIGHTERS.—We learn that a hundred tons of freight, for Montana, have been received at Ogden, by Calder & Co., Transfer Agents, for the Rocky Mountain Express Company. Another hundred tons are expected in a few days. Here is a chance for freighters who want teaming to do. Apply early and make sure of the greenbacks.

MOVING.—East Temple Street experienced a momentary sensation this morning, caused by the presence of Company A, 7th regiment, U. S. Infantry, from Camp Douglas, preceded by a band of music, on the march to Montana. Wherever they go we doubt not that they will establish for themselves a reputation for being peaceful and orderly, awaiting their long residence in the environs of this city has won for them.

SUICIDE.—Carl Seever, a Norwegian, and a member of the art preservation, committed suicide, at Gold Hill, Nevada, on the 25th instant. Death was caused by the inhalation of chloroform. Deceased was formerly foreman of the Gold Hill News. He was a single man and about thirty-six years of age.

PERSONAL.—Elder A. F. Barron, of this city, last evening, from a mission to the East. He labored in Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia. He is a man of great energy and was well received by relations and strangers. He is in excellent health.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE.—The New North-west, of the 22nd inst., published at Deer Lodge, Mo., says that on the 14th inst., a whirlwind, the third that had occurred there, blew a Mr. Elliot and the roof of a building which he was finishing at the building the cyclone commenced, and to which he clung to save himself, a distance of 180 feet at an altitude of forty feet. The roof contained 1,300 feet of lumber nailed to heavy log rafters. The whole mass was blown intact for the above distance. The conclusion with the ground broke the roof to pieces, but Mr. E. escaped with a few bruises.

The same paper says the grasshoppers in great numbers have made their appearance in some localities, in consequence of which the farmers had determined not to cultivate so much land this season as they had intended.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT BY FIRE IN SAN FRANCISCO.—Last Sunday morning a shocking accident happened, resulting in the death of a baby boy not quite twelve months old, son of a man named Charles Bradley, who, with his family, resided in a frame house, No. 431 Goodsell place, east of First Street, between Bryant and Harrison, San Francisco. For several years they had used a petroleum stove for cooking purposes. On Saturday a leak was discovered in some of the apparatus belonging to the stove, which Mr. Bradley set about repairing. To prevent, as he thought, all danger, he removed the naptha from the kettle on the stove and placed it in a tin vessel on the kitchen table. He then procured a lighted candle in which he tried to heat a knife. He held a piece of solder to repair the leak. He held the knife thus but a few moments, when the gas generated by the naptha was exploded by the light of the candle. Bradley took the vessel containing the naptha, now burning, to try and throw it out of doors, but it burned him so severely that he let it drop on the floor, and the whole place was instantly in a blaze. He gave an alarm, and his wife rushed in to rescue her infant, but the fire was so intense, and the horror caused by the thought of the child's position, so great that both father and mother lost presence of mind and became all but frantic. The whole of the rear and upper portion of the building was consumed, and when the fire was extinguished and the child found most of his head and one of its arms were burned from its body. It addition to this loss the unfortunate people lost all their worldly possessions and both of them were severely injured.

Died:

At Kayville, Davis county, Utah, on the 22nd of April, 1870, drover, James Bevan, aged 54 years and 20 days; son of Evan and Mary Bevan.

Deceased was a native of Ely, Herefordshire, England. He embraced the gospel in 1840, and emigrated to this country in 1850. He died in full faith of the gospel.

MR. HOLLISTER AND THE OMAHA "HERALD."

The collector of Internal Revenue for this city, Mr. Hollister, is evidently troubled with what the Latins call caecities scribendi. Individuals thus morbidly afflicted must scribble, no matter how ridiculous they make themselves by so doing. This mania in Mr. Hollister's manifests itself in writing about "Mormonism." A subject with more difficulties to him, he could not have chosen, nor one upon which he could more effectually display his ignorance, prejudice and spleen. The following, his latest effort, is from the Omaha Herald of last Tuesday. We think our readers will agree with us that the composition is neither brilliant nor original, and that it would not do credit to a school boy:

SALT LAKE CITY, April 19.
To the Editor of the Herald:—Sir—You seem to wonder that I delivered use of your columns to present what I conceive to be a correct view of the issue between the United States and the Mormons to explain anything personal to myself. In doing that, all personal explanation I cared for was instantly made. Nobody, but I am aware of, ever cared to deny that the Cul-de-barril, as it was first introduced, was drawn up in Salt Lake. The reason I didn't care to discuss the question in all its bearings with you, was, I know from experience that there is no discussion with an editor, especially if his name is Geo. L. Miller. I write you again to notice briefly your position, which you state as follows, to wit:

"Our position denies both the right and expediency of Congressional interference in the affairs of Utah, and denounces, without reserve, as a libel on Christian institutions and Christianity itself, the miserable assumptions upon which that interference is based."

First, as to the right: The Constitution of the United States says: "The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the Territory or other property of the United States." Utah is a part of the Territory of the United States, is it not?

Secondly, as to the expediency: You, yourself say that the enforcement of the laws of the United States "means war and bloodshed." If so, I would ask what then is to be gained by delay? And answer myself—the same we gained by delay in the case of African slavery.

Third, as to the influence of Christianity, except as embodied in laws and backed by force, in beating Mormonism. I point to the past. From 1830 to 1844, just about half its life, it increased from six to 20,000 souls, in the midst of your Christianity, in the heart of the Christian States of Ohio, New York, Michigan, and Illinois; and this in spite of the four total dispersions of its disciples. From 1844 to 1870, it has only increased from 20,000 to 100,000, in the most complete isolation, perfectly undisturbed, and including at least 30,000 converts brought bodily from Europe. An increase of more than 8,330 fold in twenty-four years in the midst of Christian influences, and of only one-fold in twenty-three years, in the midst of perfect isolation.

"The fact is, they represent an idea—that of universal ecclesiastical supremacy—of preaching and ruling the earth. Albert Sidney Johnson saw it in 1838, and said that a battle, then, might settle easily, what in the future was likely to become a most troublesome political problem. The battle didn't occur; the future is here with this troublesome political problem."

The longer it is postponed the more troublesome it will be found.

Very respectfully,
O. J. HOLLISTER.

Upon the above, the Herald makes the following editorial comments:

MR. O'HOLLISTER AGAIN.
"Mr. O'Hollister's latest article will be found in this morning's issue of the Herald. It calls for no extended reply. So far as the constitutional argument is concerned, it is something worse than contemptible, it is stupid and absurd. The clause of the Constitution which Mr. O'Hollister quotes in defense of the fullom bill has no more bearing on the principle of religious freedom which is guaranteed to the people of this country by that instrument, than it has upon any other subject which may be known to make an ass of himself—no personal disrespect intended to Mr. O'Hollister—without just cause or provocation."

"As to the expediency argument, it is nothing more than a reiteration of what Mr. O'Hollister has said before, and has been already answered. It is based on premises which assume that military force supporting arbitrary and unconstitutional laws is required to prevent this nation from becoming Mormon in its civil polity, Mormon in religion, and Mormon in its social life and practices."

"It is astonishing to us that a man can be found in all this land of Christian enlightenment and civilization who has the hardihood to stand up before the world and perpetrate this foul libel upon a great Christian nation and people. If we did not know the contrary, we should be driven to suppose that this man O'Hollister, if not mad, was a secret missionary of Brigham Young himself, whose frantic vagaries and dreams of future power he changes so gently of the Golden Rule on all occasions, for the reform of 'the heathen' in Utah."
