SCHOOL CONVENTIONS.

Citizens' Mass Meetings to Nominate Board of Education Candidates.

CALLED FOR NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT.

An Address to the Citizens of Salt Lake—Excellent Standard of the Present School System.

The address to the citizens of Salt Lake on the school question to which reference was made in the "News" a few evenings since, is published in full in these columns this evening, together with the original signatures of prominent persons who endorse its sentiments. It was formally considered at a meeting held at Hamberger & Miller's office last evening and partial arrangements made to carry its recommendations into effect. This part of the work will be left to Judge Henderson, chairman of the meeting, who is to appoint the necessary committees to assist him. The address is as follows:

To the Citizens of Salt Lake City—The time is at hand when you are required by law to select ten persons who shall constitute a board of education. Five of these are to be elected one from each municipal ward for the term of one year. The remaining five are to be elected one from each municipal ward for the term of two years. To the board so constituted is committed primary powers and responsibilities of the entire public school system within the city. It is most important that the selection of citizens for this weighty and responsible station should be made with reference to their qualifications for the trust, and their belief in and loyalty to the entire public school system.

The public schools of our city are in order and glory. The apex of the system is the high school, the goal of our institutions which in their progression among the ways of knowledge. The continued efficiency and usefulness of the graduates must rest in very large be imparted. Results are not to be measured in comparisons of a parsimonious economy, which fail to include the qualities and environments of teacher and pupil.

Even small economies in a free school system, if they are not in accordance policy, our public schools have become factors in the present and future progress of city and State. Today their excellence, or nothing else, can give character to our city and people and invite new population and capital. There must be—there shall be—no step backward. We believe that the parents and friends of the 12,000 children and youth now enjoying the advantages of our neighborhood system will express and support a determination to continue the educational privileges now offered the children of the people including the high school so as to lay the foundation for the future so broad and deep, that the feet of those yet unborn in our Zion may find safe and sure resting place.

There has not been any failure in the administration of school affairs. There need not be; there must not be. Let it be neither necessary nor wise to commit the administration of the children's trust to partisan politics.

We cannot believe there is any doubt of the people to avoid the progress of the schools. The hopes, the ambitions, the affections of the children are all bound up in the prosperity and welfare of the schools. But there should be no uncertainty. The fathers and mothers of the city should not leave the question at all in doubt. Therefore, believing firmly in the strength of our position, and with all confidence in the purposes of our people, we, taxpayers and citizens, earnestly recommend that on Thursday, the 18th day of November, all citizens, irrespective of party or creed, who affirm the principles herein set forth, do meet in mass convention in the respective municipal wards, at the hour of 8 o'clock p. m., or at a time to be hereafter designated, and there nominate three members for the office of member of the board of education, one person for the term of one year and one person for the term of two years.

And we do further recommend that the chairmen of primaries be instructed by the chairman of the committee and all persons participating in or acting at such mass conventions, shall be so informed.

We hereby affirm our belief in and loyalty to the public schools, and pledge ourselves to the best of our ability to support and maintain the entire public school system of Salt Lake City, including the high school, at the least at the present standard of efficiency and usefulness.

And we further recommend that committees be selected in each municipal ward, by the citizens thereof, in divers ways and modes as the convention herein recommended.
