THE First Militia band will accompany the Tenth ward Sunday school excursion to Garfield next Tuesday. A large turnout of the people of the ward is expected.

THE laying of the 16-inch watermain pipe has been completed from Thirteenth East to East Temple street, along First south street and paving on that thoroughfare can soon be commenced.

THE city jail has fewer inmates now than for a long time past, only seven inmates now being confined there. Several times during the past seven years eighty prisoners have been crowded into the building.

CHANGES have been made in the closing of mails as follows: The Union Pacific fast mail going east, 7 a. m. instead of 8 a. m. Stockton and intermediate points, 5:10 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. instead of 6:45 a. m. and 5:30 p. m.

THE officers' meeting of the Stake Primary associations will be held on Friday, September 2, at 2 p. m., at the residence of Mrs. E. C. Dawson, 127 east South Temple street. It is expected that every organization will be represented.

A DOG fight in front of the Colton Hotel attracted quite a crowd of people last night. The canines growled savagely and fought desperately and were not separated without a strong effort. Neither of the dogs was registered. Galloway, it is said, was informed of the affair and at once sent his deputies in search of them.

THE Democrats of the Eleventh ward will hold a grand rally on Tuesday evening next in the old ward meeting house. There will be addresses by prominent speakers. On the following evening (Wednesday) the disciples of Jefferson residing in the eastern portion of the above named ward will organize a campaign club.

THE NEWS enjoyed a pleasant call this morning from Mr. Court Boyd, representing Perkins Bros. Co., of Sioux City, Iowa, and Mr. W. H. Sammons, of the Sioux City Journal, who are visiting Salt Lake for the first time, and who are greatly surprised at the evidences of material development which they have witnessed since their arrival as well as what they have learned of Utah and its early settlers.

A STYLISHLY dressed young man wearing glasses, presumably accidentally stepped on the trail of a lady's dress on Main street last evening near Cohen Brothers' dry good establishment and then proceeded to apologize to a characteristically dudish way, but the lady indignantly walked away as the young man with glasses turned hastily and strode off in the opposite direction, muttering to himself.

Crushed to Death.

Word was received in Ogden yesterday that little Raymond, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Jude Young, who left that city about three weeks ago, to make a new home in Canada, fell from the wagon when about three miles from Jefferson, Montana, and was killed instantly by the wheel passing over its body. The child was playing with his brothers and sisters in the back of the wagon and crawled out behind. No one noticed the little fellow was gone until one of the other children called to his mother and asked where Raymond was. Mr. Young jumped out and ran back about two blocks, where he found the lame lying in the road dead. The funeral took place at Jefferson, but when the stricken family reach Canada the father will return and get the remains, as they will not be left among strangers.

A LITTLE FOUNDLING.

A Deserted Baby Girl Discovered in a Union Pacific Passenger Train.

A wee bit of humanity in the form of a deserted baby girl not more than four or five days old was found on the Union Pacific Cache Valley passenger train, due in this city at 10:50 this forenoon, by Conductor Gallagher. The little infant was very sparsely and poorly clad and the closest inquiry failed to elicit how it got there. The fact that it was wrapped in a Logan newspaper caused some of the passengers to believe that it had been placed on the train at that point. The paper was dated the 1st instant.

Of course this unexpectedly discovered traveler was not provided with funds to pay her fare, but Mr. Gallagher for once found in her a passenger that he could not eject, fare or no fare. But what could he do with her was the question that whirled around in his brain for a considerable length of time. Finally he was relieved by a kind-hearted lady, who it is said, lives at Provo, volunteering to take the little waif off his hands by taking it home with her.

THE CREAMER SHOOTING.

The Preliminary Examination Before Justice Kesler.

TESTIMONY OF WITNESSES.

The Prosecution Sets Up That Richardson Was the Assailant.—The Arguments.

The case of John Creamer charged with the attempted killing of Jerry Richardson, was resumed in the police court before Justice Kesler today.

At the hearing last evening testimony was introduced by the prosecution tending to show that Richardson was the aggressor at the shooting in front of the Walker House; that he admitted that he had killed Miss Creamer and that it was his intention to "tide up" her father and immediately struck him with a slung shot or some other heavy instrument.

The defendant was represented by Kaighn and Anderson while county and assistant county attorneys Murphy and Elchner appeared for the prosecution.

At 11:45 this afternoon Sergeant Randolph was first called. He testified that he had known the defendant for eighteen or twenty years; on the evening of his arrest he complained of a severe pain in the head. There was a swelling on the left side of the head, presumably caused by a heavy blow. He was almost in a fainting condition a short time after being placed in jail. He took him out to allow him to get a little fresh air. He gave him a drink to "brace" him up, and offered him something to eat, but he refused to partake of anything.

Cross-examined—The blow might have been caused by his head coming in contact with a table or any other piece of furniture. He knew defendant in Nevada. So far as he knew he was a peaceable man.

Desk Sergeant Castellaw's testimony corroborated that of Sergeant Randolph.

Mr. Weiser, commander of the Gen. H. Maxwell Post, testified that he had recently met the defendant at Wagner's grove.

Colonel Kaighn—What was your opinion at that time as to the motive of non-mortal condition of his mind?

Mr. Murphy—I object unless you wish to show that he was temporarily insane.

Colonel Kaighn—I admit it.

The witness then stated that Creamer seemed melancholy and acted strangely.

The defendant was placed on the stand.

Colonel Kaighn—When did you reserve in the war?

Mr. Murphy—I object.

Colonel Kaighn—On what ground?

Mr. Murphy—Because it is irrelevant.

Colonel Kaign—I want to show that he was a moral and brave soldier.

Mr. Murphy—He may have been a bold and gallant defender of his country and yet be a villain of the deepest dye.

The Court—The question is incompetent.

Colonel Kaighn was sworn and testified that he had long known the defendant; since the death of his daughter he had been very gloomy and morose.

The defendant was put on the stand and attempted to detail the particulars of his daughter's tragic death and the connection of Richardson therewith, but it was ruled out.

THE ARGUMENTS.

Mr. Elchner made the opening argument for the prosecution. He said the particulars of the present difficulty were more or less covered with mire. Richardson may have been responsible for the death of Miss Creamer, but that did not in the least degree justify the defendant in take the law in his own hands. The Supreme Court of this Territory had held that when a man's wife, daughter, or sister had been defiled, twenty-four hours was sufficient time to allow his passion to cool.

ATTORNEY ANDERSON

followed for the defense. He said the present shooting was the termination of a horrible tragedy committed in this city five years ago. Mr. Creamer had come to this city on his way to Washington to place a marble slab over the grave of his dear deceased child. On his arrival here he was struck down with a slung shot by the presumed murderer of his daughter. He had a right to defend himself. He should be discharged. There was no jury or judge that would find him guilty. The honor of the home should be maintained at all events.

COLONEL KAIGHN

said that he took it for granted that he was addressing a court learned in law, a man who had the backbone to do his duty. He spoke in the painful hush of the fifth anniversary of the terrible murder of a beautiful and accomplished young girl who had been sent down to a dishonored grave, neither maiden, wife nor widow.

Counsel then graphically portrayed the death of the horrible crime. "What" he said "does not know Jerry Richardson. His career has been such that the very utterance of his name would crimson the cheeks of respected and injured womanhood wherever he was known. Who was the unfortunate girl who was the victim of his criminality and lust? She was innocent, tender and trusting until she met this enemy of virtue and morality.

This human rattlesnake, not content to murder an innocent and helpless girl, tried to rob her father of his life, and announced his intention so to do. In closing his long and able argument he said: "Your honor, we are not here to plead for mercy, but to ask for what is right and just, and request that you will prove yourself a man and discharge the defendant."

ATTORNEY MURPHY

carefully reviewed the case at length. He said the court had only three questions to consider. They were, first, was the defendant insane? secondly, did the shooting occur under the legal assault? thirdly, did he act in self-defense?

Mr. Murphy closed his argument at 12:45 after which the court adjourned until 2 p. m.

AN ELECTION DIFFICULTY.

Richard W. Young et al. Vs. Louis Cohn and W. J. Noble

IN THE TITLE OF A SUIT FILED TODAY.

It Arises Out of the Municipal Election of February, 1890.—Other Court Matters.

In the Third District Court this morning, Richard W. Young, J. Fawson Smith and Wm. J. Tuddenham, planted a suit against Louis E. Hall, arising out of the Salt Lake municipal election on February 18th, 1890. The complaint states that at that election the plaintiffs were duly elected to hold the office of councilmen for the Fourth Ward, for a term of two years; that the defendant Hall, one Louis Cohn and one Warden J. Noble, each pretending to have been elected as councilmen from this same ward, unlawfully usurped and intruded into said office, and unlawfully acted for a period of seventeen months; that under the laws of the Territory and the ordinances of Salt Lake City each of the plaintiffs was entitled to receive for his services as Councilman the sum of $250 per annum, and the further amount of $5 each for every special meeting of the City Council. But the defendants, pretending to act as Councilmen, unlawfully drew this allowance, claiming the same as salary, the aggregate amounting to $416.35. Plaintiffs had made demand upon the defendants for such money illegally drawn by them, but they had not returned it, nor any part thereof. Hence judgment is demanded for $416.35, legal interest, and costs of suit.

Le Grand Young is the plaintiffs' attorney.

JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT.

In the case of Elizabeth Bedell vs. W. M. Rydalch et al., judgment was rendered in the Third District court this morning by default of the defendant, in the sum of $300 and interest from January 17th, 1888, at 10 per cent.

ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP.

Victor Erfurt, a German, now residing in Salt Lake, was this morning admitted to citizenship by Judge Anderson.

A GUARDIAN AD LITEM.

In the matter of Wm. E. Hubbard vs. John Woodruff et al. a suit to quiet title, Anthel H. Woodruff was this morning, by Judge Anderson, appointed guardian ad litem, who now filed an answer to the complaint. Attorney Frank Dixon appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney T. Adams for the defendant.
