FRAGMENTS.

TODAY'S court news and other local news will be found on page three of this paper.

THERE will be a meeting of the members of the Utah Women's Fair Commission this evening, when matters of importance will be discussed.

A MAN named Cornelius Hansen has reported to the police that he was held up and robbed of a gold 25c and $5.30 in cash on Sunday morning late at night.

THE annual stockholders' meeting of the Burton-Gardner company was held yesterday afternoon. The old officers of the company were re-elected, as follows: William S. Burton, president; George F. Felt, secretary and treasurer; William C. Burton, manager.

A FINE entertainment will be given in the Tabernacle Music Hall on Monday, February 20th, under the auspices of the choir, for the benefit of Carl Larsen, Jr., Jesse Pop, Jr., and Eugene M. Cannon, missionaries called to go to the Society Islands.

THE Sunday school of the Fourth ward will give a social party in the meeting house on Monday evening, February 20, in honor of Elder Frank Cutler, who is about to start on a mission to the Society Islands. All friends are invited. There will be no special admission fee charged, but donations will not be refused.

THE county clerk has issued marriage licenses to the following: Karl H. Mayer and Georgia E. Brookover of Salt Lake; W. M. Harmon and Mary A. Bridge of Salt Lake; Robert A. Foster and Sarah E. Burton of Salt Lake; Peter Peterson and Ellen Gallatin of Salt Lake; Thos. H. Turner and Pauline Brown of Salt Lake.

BUTTON & GRAY, a Washington, D. C., firm of attorneys, last evening filed an action against Frank Hoffman and Isaac Wolfe in the Third district court to collect $500 said to be due for legal services. The suit in which the plaintiffs were engaged was that of Patrick Condon vs. the Nanemoah Mining company, which some time ago came before the notice of the Third district court.

LAST evening the James B. McKean Post, G. A. R., held their regular monthly meeting. Captain J. W. Greenman, department commander, names and installed his staff of officers as follows: Assistant adjutant general, C. O. Farnsworth; assistant quartermaster general, Dr. N. Ewing; medical director, Dr. Miller; inspector, W. D. Gaige; judge advocate, J. M. Bowman.

AS FORESHADOWED.

Mayor Baskin This Afternoon Vetoed the $25,000 Land Purchase Appropriation.

As foreshadowed in the NEWS a few days ago Mayor Baskin this afternoon vetoed the action of the City Council in appropriating $25,000 for the purchase of land from the real estate dealers of the city. His honor has spent the last few days, he says, in examining into the question and his disapproval of the transaction is the result.

A NEWS reporter interviewed his honor on the subject at 3 o'clock this afternoon and he said his veto was based on four grounds.

First, that the action of the council was sub rosa first, second, that it was delegating power to a board of trustees which the law did not confer upon the council; third, that it was a violation of the statutes giving the mayor a qualified veto power; fourth that it was against public policy and an exceedingly dangerous and bad precedent to establish.

"I have," said the Mayor, "pended extensively from legal authorities to my veto and my position is simply unassailable. I know that I have none against public sentiment and have set myself against my best friends of this city but I do not care for that. I did my duty—nothing more and nothing less. The influence of aspirants or cliques will not and cannot make me swerve from the stand I have taken because I know I am right."

"Don't you think, Mr. Mayor, that the council will pass the appropriation over your veto?" asked the reporter.

"Just let them dare do it and I'll make a record that some of them will not relish," said his honor with an earnestness that is characteristic of the man.

The veto, which covers nine closely lined pages of typewritten matter, will be presented to the Council tonight. Look out for the result.

Buried at Fort Douglas.

A telegram was received at Fort Douglas today from the relatives of the late Lieutenant Vance. It advised interment of the remains here and the funeral occurred at 2 o'clock today, the body being buried with military honors in the Fort Douglas cemetery.

The Proposed Boulevard.

Editor Deseret News:

Your issue of yesterday (February 13th) contained an article which presented two propositions regarding the route of the intended boulevard over the North Bench. One was to have the drive emerge from the canyon at Anderson's tower and run eastward along Sixth street. The other was that it should come out of the canyon at the western end of Ninth street and run easterly along that thoroughfare. Your article concludes by stating that it is probable that the Sixth street proposition will carry.

Should your prognostication be confirmed a mistake will be made. The any person can ascertain by a visit to the north bench.

Anderson's tower is located at the west end of Sixth street, on an elevated point. From the base of that structure for a distance of one block eastward there is a sudden declension—from A to B street. That depression would deprive the people driving along Sixth street—should it be transformed into a boulevard—of a view of a portion of the interior of the city. Besides this disadvantage it is most quite clear that it would be appropriate to have the boulevard on the same street as an electric car line. In addition to the danger of runaways from this cause, the North Bench streets are comparatively narrow.

On the other hand there is an abrupt incline from a considerable portion of Sixth street to Seventh. Some of the most attractive objects of the boulevard is to enchant our citizens and the strangers who come within our gates with a magnificent view, why should this greater elevation, obstructs within a distance of twenty rods, not be utilized?

There are other streets than Seventh that would be suitable for the proposed boulevard, but they are all above Sixth, which has not the necessary altitude. Should the latter be decided upon, as you appear to believe, it will not be on account of its superior eligibility.

JOHN MCCORNICK.

Laid to Rest.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Jos. D. Edwards were held in the Sugar House ward meeting house on Monday, Feb. 13th, at 1 p. m. Bishop A. O. Driggs presided. The opening prayer was offered by Elder H. H. Harris. Consoling and appropriate remarks were made by Elders Jos. S. Lewis, Hyrum Smith and Geo. G. Bywater. They spoke of the devotion of the deceased to the principles of the Gospel, and his faithfulness in discharging his duties. They also bore testimony to the noble character of Brother Edwards, and gave good advice and counsel to those of his family who remain. Elder Jos. H. Smith pronounced the benediction, after which all that was mortal of Brother Edwards was consigned to mother earth to await the coming of the 1st resurrection. The meeting house was well filled with friends and relatives of the deceased, showing the high esteem in which he was held by those who knew him.

Another Failure.

E. Rhinelhelmer and C. F. German, doing business under the title of the Rhinelhelmer Grocery company, made an assignment today, the assignee being J. C. Frankenburg. The company carried on its business at 410 west, second South street.

OGDEN CITY NEWS.

Interesting Court Cases.—A Burglar Captured.—The Carr and Callahan Assignment, etc.

[Update Received.]

At the board of education meeting last night, the only business of importance transacted was the refusal of the board to accept the assignment of Messrs. Carr & Canahan, contractors on the Grant avenue school building. City Attorney Kimball stated that the acceptance of the assignment would, in his opinion, invalidate the bond given by the contractors and make the board responsible for claims against the building. Acting under his instructions the clerk drew up a notification to the contractors that the board refused to accept the assignment, and that unless they went ahead with the construction of the building within three days the board would complete it at the expense of their bondsmen.

For the purpose of testing the Territorial statute governing such matters Sheriff Gilbert H. Bishop commenced suit against Weber county for $410.66, salary since September, 1892. On October 1st the county court decided to investigate the matter, some doubt having been expressed as to the legality of the $1000 yearly payment of salary of the sheriff and the county attorney was selected for his opinion. None was given until the new administration assumed control, when on February 1 this year County Attorney Weber gave as his opinion that no salary should be paid, and acting under that advice the court has refused to allow the claims of the sheriff. The case may be called up on a demurrer.

At the city council last night the rules were suspended and E. H. Bridgely was permitted to present a matter of interest to the people of Ogden, which he presented by reading two petitions, regarding the cattlemen's congress and the Trans-Mississippi congress, which convenes here during the month of April. On motion an appropriation of $1000 was made to defray the expenses of the two congresses, and a committee of six, with the mayor as chairman, was appointed to act in the matter as to disbursement of these funds. The Utah and Ohio Natural Gas & Oil company offered to sell its hose and derrick to the city for $650. The proposition was laid on the table. Two hundred dollars was granted to the mayor for charitable purposes.

The two ancient cases of the United States vs. Sidney Sivets, Abraham Chadwick, Henry Tribe, George H. Tribe and Thomas J. Stevens, were dismissed, on motion of District Attorney Varian. Sidney Stevens was arrested and indicted on the charge of making false returns as assessor of North Ogden, during the period between July 1, 1888, and March 31, 1887. The remaining defendants were sureties on two of Stevens' bonds.

In Judge Miner's court yesterday a sealed verdict was handed in in the case of John Farrell vs. George G. Griffith. It awarded $1000 to the plaintiffs. The case will probably be appealed. The plaintiff claimed $5000 damages for the defendant having failed to keep certain ice ponds near the mouth of Taylor's canyon full enough of water to allow them to harvest a full ice crop, being, he alleged, 2000 tons short.

On Saturday afternoon the residence of Will Greenhalgh on Twenty-fourth street near Monroe was entered by a housebreaker. About $100 worth of clothing, jewelry and watches, in addition to a hand made, enameled mounted bracelet which has been in the family for 200 years and upon which no value can be placed, were taken. A man giving the name of A. G. Davis has been arrested, and he makes no effort to conceal his guilt.

Interest in the Utah university of the Methodist church has been revived by the announcement that the New West Educational society may take charge of the enterprise and if unincumbered and equip the institution properly. The New West people have $400,000 to put into educational institutions in the west and greatly favor Utah as a location for several of them.

The case of Albert E. Emerton vs. Ogden City, complaint on of the day and went to the jury at 5 o'clock. Emerton sues for $5000 damages for injuries said to have been caused to him by reason of his falling upon a defective sidewalk on the north side of Twenty-third street between Washington and Adams avenue.

Whitelaw Reid and party arrived in Ogden this morning at 5:15 o'clock on the delayed Union Pacific passenger train in the special car Osceola. The party includes Mrs. Reid and two children and the governess, D. O. Mills and Ogden Mills of California.

MINING AND REAL ESTATE.

Wm. Newton, who claims to have discovered a valuable deposit of tin in Emigration canyon, says that arrangements are being made with eastern capitalists for the erection of large reduction works.

The real estate men held a meeting in the board of trade building yesterday afternoon, J. H. Watts being chairman and W. A. Hughes secretary. Speeches were made by Messrs. W. H. Lett, J. H. Watts, W. C. R. Allen and R. F. Spencer. These advocated an effective organization, and pointed out the benefit the real estate men were in showing investors the advantages of this city and locality and in ratingling in large amounts of outside capital. A committee was appointed to invite all real estate men to be present at another meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon. An invitation was also extended to property owners to be present, but the inconvenient hour and short notice will probably militate against any considerable attendance.

WITHIN OUR GATES.

W. F. Walsh, hailing from Lehi and here on business, put his full name in a big round hand on the register of the White House yesterday.

* * *

J. S. Painter, the Republican cyclone of Ogden, who made such a great fight in the late campaign and seems quite ready to make another, in fact quite desirous to do so at the earliest practicable moment—well, he was in the metropolis for a few brief, fleeting hours.

* * *

John M. Coombs, attorney at law and candidate for county attorney of Box Elder on the Republican ticket in the election last fall—failing to arrive at the station on time however—did not find a cool down here on some business and was looking around among friends and acquaintances between times.

* * *

William Rucker, the genial superintendent of the People's Co-operative store at Lehi, was in the metropolis today, mingling among our merchants. William is full of humorous, and finds a good deal of comfort in the fact that things are picking up a little in merchandise affairs in the town that possesses the sugar works.

* * *

John S. Mosby, of San Francisco, accompanied by his son R. C. Mosby, of Ogden, made the NEWS a pleasant call today. It may be that among our readers will be found one here and there that does not know or fails to remember that the first named wore the gray and the stars and cuarsons of a general in the late misunderstanding between the North and the South; he fought a duel, fell somewhat out himself being knocked out, then he took to civil pursuits and held some important state s, the most prominent of which was consul to Hong Kong by appointment of President Grant. They are at the Knutsford and are as pleasant gentlemen as one would meet in a day's drive. Call again!
