Charged With Adultery.

William Tyrrell and a woman giving her name as Ellen Terry were arrested yesterday by Deputy Marshal Rolleatyne, on warrants charging the men with adultery and the women with fornication. Mrs. Tyrrell, wife of the male defendant, is the plaintiff in the case. The parties were taken before Commissioner Varnes, where they pleaded guilty, bonds being fixed at $500 for Tyrrell and $200 for the woman.

Mrs. Tyrrell lives at Benjamin, Utah, where she was abandoned by her husband. Since coming to Ogden, Tyrrell made the acquaintance of the Terry woman, with whom he has been living until his little game was spoiled yesterday. They were taken to the penitentiary last night, as bondsmen were not forthcoming.

Injured by a Runaway.

Yesterday afternoon Superintendent Knapp of the Southern Pacific railroad was taking a drive around the city, when one of the carriage wheels broke off, throwing the occupant to the ground with considerable violence, severely bruising his arms and limbs.

The horses, when freed from their driver, ran some distance, dragging the carriage, but were stopped by running into a fence near by.

District Court Items.

But one case was heard yesterday by Judge Miner, that of Charles Crawford against William Crawford and others. This suit has been on the docket for many moons. The probability is that the matter will not be concluded today.

Yesterday Anna Noel filed a suit in the Fourth district court against her husband, Cole S. Noel, for divorce, habitual drunkenness being charged by the plaintiff.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.

Whitlock Convicted of Robbing the Mail—Green Gets Three Years—Other Items.

The case of the United States vs J. Harley Whitlock, robbing the mails, was submitted to the jury about 10 Thursday. At 3:30 in the evening the jury had not agreed. The court called them into court, and they reported that the court reporter's notes of the testimony in the case, and the instructions of the court, would be read to them. This was done, and the jury again retired. At 11 o'clock on Friday morning, they finally came into court with a verdict of guilty as charged in the indictment with a recommendation to the mercy of the court. The defendant was remanded into the custody of the officers, and sentence was set for Monday, at 10 o'clock. The other three cases against Whitlock were set for the 1st November 6th.

C. H. Holland was tried with the charge of assault on the person of Mrs. Laura Wadsworth, in connection with Mrs. Laura Wadsworth, in Springville. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, after being out about hour. Mrs. Wadsworth has a suit for divorce from William Wadsworth pending. The charge against her for adultery was dismissed.

Henry Green's attorney made a motion for a new trial, which was denied, and Green was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Springville vs David Dibble, a waterstealing case, was tried, a jury empaneled, and several witnesses examined. The court, however, did not allow the case to go to the jury, but concluded it on the ground that a jumping civil action as to the control of the water in question, could first be disposed of.

A novel damage suit came on for trial—Michael Connor vs John H. Milburn. Connor seeks to recover $4,000 from Milburn in view of the following statement of alleged facts: On September 17, 1892, Connor was a constable at Provo, Emery county, and tried to arrest Milburn for disturbing the peace. Milburn not only resisted arrest, but took the officer's club from him, beat him and dragged him into his (Milburn's) house, and there kept him a prisoner for ten minutes. At the expiration of this time, while Milburn's back was turned, Connor sought to escape, but Milburn grabbed him at the door, pulled him back and retained him for twenty minutes longer, in the meantime cursing him and otherwise abusing him. The defense is that Connor had threatened to "lie up" Milburn and made an attack on him without provocation, and while Milburn was allegedly in his own house and in no way disturbing the peace. Court adjourned before the completion of the evidence in the case.

Sally A. Taylor was granted a divorce from Robert K. Taylor on the ground of failure to support.

In the case of the People vs Preston Nutter, the order before made discharging defendant was set aside and the case was resubmitted to the next grand jury.

The case of the United States vs Julia Peay was also resubmitted to the next grand jury.

George Davies et al., the tramps who are charged with stealing goods from the Lotz Creek, pleaded not guilty, and the case was set for trial November 24th.

A number of cases were set for trial and court adjourned until Monday morning, Judge Smith having business in Salt Lake.

NOTES.

Sheriff Brown has attached the building and stock of the Cluff, Roth & Co. blacksmithing establishment at the suit of James A. Bean. It is expected the matter will be settled by compromise.

Ward Stevenson, of Manti, is in the city. He has purchased a printing plant from Mrs. Johnston, and he proposes to resurrect the Manti Sentinel, to be the organ of the Sanpete Democracy.

The guilt of John Harley Wilbeck, revealed by the recent trial in the District court, has been a heavy blow to his parents and young wife. When the verdict of the jury was rendered to them at the hotel, they gave way to the most heartrending sobbings. Their grief knew no bounds. The young couple have been married a little over a year; Mrs. Wilbeck had a little babe with her.

Owen Johnson and Alice Hentchen, both of this city, were married Wednesday evening by Bishop Johnson, the father of the groom.
