On the Free List; Some Reductions; What the Increase Will Bring.

THE AMENDED CHINESE ACT.

Hawaiian Items.—No More Definite News Till Next Month.—Powderly and Knights, Etc.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Herald's Washington correspondent claims to give an accurate outline of the new tariff bill, as far as determined. These are the most salient points of reform: The free list includes nearly all raw and crude materials which enter into the manufacturing of wools, hair of the camel and goat, bituminous coal, iron ore, lumber, salt, silver lead ore, flax, hemp and jute and a large number of chemicals, all to be free. The woolen and linen manufacturers also get the benefit of an extension of time from three to six months to work off their finished products.

The steel rails will probably be put at 40 or 20 a ton. Pig iron will be put at 5 per cent ad valorem, and tin plate will be reduced at least 50 per cent. The plate will be charged 1 cent per pound.

The specific duties on cutlery are abolished, and an ad valorem duty substituted. Block tin and copper ore are on the free list. There is a uniform ad valorem duty upon finished manufactures of wood, but logs are free. The committee believe a reduction of 5 or 10 per cent in the sole duties will yield as much revenue as now.

The wool goods follow the rates of the Springer bill, but some of the cheapest goods, especially cloth, will be put in a separate class at 50 per cent, and manufacturers' cotton, 35 per cent. This includes hosiery.

Manufactures of flax, hemp and jute will be greatly reduced. In view of placing the raw material on the free list, binding twine is likely to be made free.

The high duties on agricultural products will be mordicately slaughtered. The duty is retained on lemons and oranges, but several other fruits go on the free list. The wrapper tobacco duty will be reduced to $1 or $1.50 per pound when stemmed, and 50 cents more per pound when stemmed.

There will be an advalorem rate of 25 per cent on all grades of sugar, although the question is still open. The duty on glucose is reduced. No increase is made in tobacco, cigars, but a change in whisky. The proposed duty on sugar will bring in about $30,000,000, and it is thought that some $50,000,000 or $60,000,000 will be received from the increase in whisky and from the income tax.

KENTUCKY CHINAMEN.

A Photograph of the Applicant for Certificate Required.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 23.—New regulations for the issuance of certificates of residence to Chinamen under the provisions of the amendatory act recently passed by Congress were submitted to Secretary Carlisle by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Miller. According to its provisions the Chinaman must swear that he never committed any felony in the United States and the fact must be testified to by a white witness. A photograph of the applicant must be attached to the affidavit and two other witnesses must be transmitted to the collector of internal revenue and the treasury department.

The collectors of internal revenue are deputized and instructed that all classes of skilled and unskilled manufacturers, including Chinese employed in mining, fishing, huckstering, manufacturing and peddling, shall be classified as laborers. A person to be exempted from the operations of this law must be engaged in buying and selling merchandise at a fixed place of business, which business is conducted in his name, and who, during the time he claims to be engaged as a merchant, does not engage in the performance of any manual labor, except such as is necessary in the conduct of his business as stock merchant.

Pensions Order.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Commissioner of Pensions Lochren today issued the following important order simplifying the practice of the bureau in the adjudication of claims under the famous act of June 27th, 1890: "Pension certificates issued under the second section of the act of June 27th, 1890, will no longer specify particularly the disabilities. In such certificates where the maximum rating is $72 per month the allowed certificate will state that it is for 'inability to earn support by manual labor.' Where less than the maximum rating is allowed, the certificate will state that it is for partial inability to earn support by manual labor. Whenever in case of a pension granted under said section at less than the maximum rating, a higher rating is subsequently sought, the application for such higher rating shall be considered and treated as a claim for an increase, and not as a claim because of a new disability, for the increase, if allowed, will commence from the date of the medical examination showing increase of disability."

HAYES WORKMAN POWDERLY.

Not all Smooth Sailing For the Haughty Chief.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—At the meeting of the general assembly, Knights of Labor, today, the election of officers was continued. There were two candidates for general worthy foreman, Michael J. Bishop of Mauch Chunk, recognized as the candidate of the Hayes faction, and the present incumbent of the office, Hugh Cavanaugh of Cincinnati. The election stood: Bishop, 59; Cavanaugh, 31.

The Hayes forces again carried their candidates to victory when the election of general secretary and treasurer was ordered, the vote standing Hayes, 59; Martin, 31. One of the anti-Workmanites delegates said if the election of general master workman had gone over until today, Powderly would have elected Cavanaugh's candidate. Powderly's methods were so sickening more than the man himself, and he now has a fair warning he would his ways or get cut. He has been distinct and assumed to run things to our blind? Isn't enough."

"The result of the election is not a compromise then?"

"No, indeed. It was a straight out fight for supremacy, and we all there is about it."

Master Workman Powderly is exercising the prerogatives of his office this afternoon in the general assembly, appointed eight names to be voted for in the election of the executive board. "If Powderly insists upon the constitution being voted upon," said one of the delegates close to Hayes, "probably a second resolution will be introduced, declaring vacant the office Powderly now holds."

It is understood by all the delegates that the ostracism of Irons, to rule an contingency, would exclude it again become a candidate for the office of general master workman.

HAWAIIAN REPORTS.

No More Definite News Expected Till Nov. 7th or 8th.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 23.—There was a notable lack of excitement in the reception of the Hawaiian news today. The copyright letter from Honolulu was read to Gresham by an Associated Press representative. At the portion where Willis is reported to have said he would be glad to see the American flag over Hawaii and every other island in the Pacific, the secretary said: "I don't believe that." Even as subsequently modified by Willis, with the additional clause, "under proper conditions," the secretary said the minister must have been incorrectly reported. "Willis is a capable man," he said, "He might not to have talked on that subject at all, and I don't believe he did."

Upon reading the statement that Admiral Skerrett was recalled by attending a ball given by the Amoskeag club, Gresham said, "Absurd."

The statement published in a letter received in San Francisco, from a private correspondent in Honolulu, that the provisional government was under arms all night preceding the departure of the Alameda, elicited the secretary's special interest. "If that were true," he said, "it is not likely that your correspondent would have failed to know it and speak of it in the letter. I think there are many inaccurate statements in the letter."

W. N. Armstrong, of the Hawaiian legation, said: "The friends of the provisional government feel that any delay that things means the time when the provisional government shall receive news of the reception accorded by the public to Secretary Gresham's other given added importance that the plan to remove the exequatur will be frustrated. For this reason the news of the past week in Honolulu will be looked for with special interest. The earliest date at which news can reach the outside world by the ordinary channels is December 7, when the steamer Wallowa will sail from Auckland. Whether the news will be stale, News may be received via Vancouver December 8th."

The manner in which Willis has been performing his mission only adds more mystery to the situation. It has been the theory that it would be the policy of Willis to allow the matter to become so great that the supporters of the queen would organize and establish her government, and in no there could be a clash between the queen's supporters and the forces of the provisional government, but upon a demonstration being made, the marines from the Philadelphia would be landed for the purpose of protecting American life and property, and when the queen had accumulated sufficient strength to warrant it, he would recognize her.

A RATHER AUTHORITY MESSAGE.

Secretary Gresham received a cipher message this afternoon from Minister Willis, giving a complete report of the Hawaiian situation up to the time of the departure of the Alameda.
