PLEA FOR ARMENIA.

Europe Pushed the Country Into the Mouth of Hell

AND THEN CELEBRATED CHRISTMAS

That Is the Way the Armenian Relief Association Describes the Present Situation.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—In view of the revelations as to the actual political conditions in Europe influencing the fate of Armenians in Turkey, the Armenian association today issued the message which follows to the London Daily News and Times.

The Armenian Relief association today sent £500 to the Duke of Westminster, making a total of £7,000, having received urgent appeals from the London committee.

The association will send its funds for the relief of the sufferers from the famine in Armenia through the Red Cross society as soon as it is assured that the society will reach the regions famine is take the needed relief.

"To the Editor of the London Times:

"Europe pushed Armenia into the mouth of hell and turned to celebrate Christmas. If the continental powers are dead to honor and conscience, can England forget justice? Does she not believe in Almighty God, that she waits for help before stopping the wholesale assassination of Christian ministers and their flocks, and the ravishing of maidens? We send £1,000 to Grosvenor House committee. But what avails that when fire and sword exterminate? Shall we advise Armenians to speculate? Surely the wrath of God and the blessings of Christ have still a significance for the sons of England. Does she no more expect them to do their duty? Christian America will support England.

"J. BLECKER MILLER, Com'r.
"HAGOP KHUDIAN, Gen. Sec.
"Armenian Relief Association."

A copy of the foregoing was also cabled to the Daily News.

The Armenian Relief association today gave out the following:

The direct information received from various parts of Armenia depicts a appalling condition of things that words cannot possibly convey the idea of it. However great the differings of the peasantry, the people of the west may possibly approach an imagination of what the sufferings must be of people who were living in comparative peace in cities like Kharput, Diarbekir, Sivas and Gerun, and upon whom came suddenly the unheard-of calamity of a massacre initiated and consummated by the government that was to protect them. Their men are murdered or imprisoned, their possessions are robbed and their houses burned, and not only are they exposed to the terrors of famine and the severe winter threatening to exterminate them, but even a merciful death is denied them, and the reign of terror is still upon the land, arrests and tortures still continuing. That the powers of Europe are not moved by any feeling of humanity in dealing with the Armenian question is no more doubted, but it is impossible for us to believe that the conscience of the English people will not ultimately be awakened from its benumbed stillness and do honor to the ancient name of "England as a defender of the right and the champion of the oppressed."

Recent letters telling of the massacres in various cities contain items that help to explain many points in the outbreak of so-called Mohammedan fanatism.

A letter from Trebizond, giving the testimony of an eyewitness, states:

Bahiri Pasha, governor of Van, sailed to come to Constantinople, and it was learned he was bringing with him four of the latest young maidens of Sasoun, who had been spared in the massacre, to make an acceptable present of them to his sultan. This aroused the Armenian people of Trebizond to a frenzy. It was impossible to resist. The more daring of the young men fired upon Bahiri Pasha when he was going about the city, wounding him. After he was cured he carried out his infernal mission to Constantinople, and was honored with the highest decoration and appointed governor of Adana, in spite of the serveless protest of the ambassadors. Afterward the pasha of Trebizond demanded the maidens but they could not be found.

The pasha had already begun to communicate with the sultan by telegraph, and, calling in the commandants of the soldiers, ordered them to be ready at 5 o'clock. When the medals had arrived and the people went toward the post, both the soldiers and the mob rushed upon them. Men and women were torn and murdered, and the groans of the dying could be heard everywhere. It was the most awful of all the massacres.

News from Diarbekir reports unbearable suffering among those welcome a short time ago. The same information comes from Gurana, where not an Armenian house has been left standing where a large community was to be seen only a few weeks ago.

That which causes the grief of the Armenians is that numbers of the young maidens were taken to the harems of the Kurds and Turks.

THE KENTUCKY HORROR.

The Lynchers Denounced by Respectable Citizens.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 30.—A special to the Commercial Gazette from Lebanon, Ky., says: Fully 1,000 people assembled at the court house in this village today, to take action on the burning to death of Mrs. T. J. Wood and the killing of W. A. Devaris by five men near this place Saturday night. The speeches were all vigorous in denunciation of the disorder on Marion county and the state. Very strong resolutions were drawn up and signed by Judge C. C. McElroy, Colonel Cofer, J. W. Reserve, Mayor Lee D. Hay, Captain A. Offut, Enoch R. Young and Circuit Court Clerk D. J. Lebarter. These resolutions condemn the outrages and the violence of the mob in the strongest possible expression, and they were adopted unanimously by the large indignation meeting.

Ann Devaris, aged 14, whose father was killed by the mob, is recovering, and is confident that she will be able to identify the lynchers. They threatened to kill her, as well as her father, if she did not cease begging for the life of her father. She told a detailed story of the affair to the prosecuting attorney today.

The Commercial Gazette's special from Frankfort, Ky., says: Gov. Bradley feels that the law has been greatly outraged and the state disgraced by the brutal murder of William Devaris and Mrs. T. J. Wood at the hands of a mob near Lebanon yesterday. The governor dropped work on his message, with which he was busy, and acquainted himself with all the facts obtainable. He is communicating with the local authorities. In his inaugural address the governor condemned lynching very vigorously. He will offer a reward of $500, the limit of the law, for the arrest and conviction of the unknown members of the mob.

Bond Issue Agreed Upon.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—There is now no doubt that another bond issue has been fully agreed upon, and that the details of a contract with a syndicate, of which Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan is the head, have been arranged, so that nothing remains to be done to carry it into effect but for the secretary of the treasury to sign his name thereto.

Thus the President is prepared for an emergency, and there is no doubt that, should heavy withdrawals of gold for export set in again, another issue would be announced.

The amount of the next issue, it is almost certain, has been fixed at $100,000,000, and it is believed the terms of the contract are rather more favorable to the government than those under which the last issue was made. It is revealed that between August 31, 1893, the date upon which the national debt reached its highest point, and March 1, 1895, the amount of the government's outstanding obligations was reduced by $1,891,907,876. To accomplish this reduction, bonds were purchased to the amount of $770,928,750. Of this amount $224,950,900 were purchased prior to 1893 and $546,977,850 since that date.

PULITZER AND WALES.

How War Between the United States and England Was Averted.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The Prince of Wales authorizes the publication of the following acknowledgment, sent last week by Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, proprietor of the New York World, of the message which his royal highness and the Duke of York sent to the World through Sir Francis Knollys, private secretary to the prince, hoping that the differences between the United States and Great Britain on the Venezuelan question would be amicably settled:

New York, Dec. 22, 1895.—To his royal highness the Prince of Wales, Sandringham, England:—Your Christmas message of peace and good will was deeply appreciated and had an important effect. The reaction is almost complete. Commerce has obtained mastery over impulse. The World thanks you for the wise and noble words spoken at so critical a time. It is also becoming to acknowledge with profound respect the eloquent and impressive message of concord and amity received by the World from Cardinal Logue, Primate of Ireland (who exiled from Rome); Cardinal Vaughn, archbishop of Westminster; Dr. Walsh, archbishop of Dublin; the archbishop of Dublin, Armagh, Liverpool and Manchester; Mr. Gladstone and Lord Rosebery. It is hoped here that the logic of the unprecedented expression of kindliness of the greatest dignitaries of the church and state may yet lead to the arbitration of a dispute so trivial that it could remain unsettled for several years. Surely, among all the scholars, statesmen and rulers of the world, there must be one who as arbitrator will meet the suggestion of Lord Salisbury that he should be 'competent and free from bias.'

"The earnest hope of lasting peace rests upon the enlightened moral sentiment which you have voiced and which we feel shapes the course of government in England not less than in America, and continues the progress of civilization.

"JOSEPH PULITZER,
"For the World."

The Brown Case in Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 30.—The case of Mrs. Mary A. Davidson, charged with extortion by Rev. C. O. Brown, whom she accuses of intimacy with Miss Martha Overman, and from whom she obtained $500 as hush money, was called in the police court today. Dr. Brown claims that he paid the woman money to secure evidence upon which to insure her conviction. The woman's explanation is that the money was for another woman, Mrs. Baldin, who cannot be found, but who, Mrs. Davidson claims, rented a room to Dr. Brown in which to meet Miss Overman. The attorney for Mrs. Davidson applied for a change of venue on the ground of prejudice, finally explaining that Police Judge Campbell was unfriendly to Dr. Brown. This statement, coming from the defense, caused general surprise, the court denying the motion for a change of venue, stating that he had no quarrel with Dr. Brown, whom he believed to be a truthful and upright gentleman.

Mrs. Davidson's attorney applied for a reduction of the prisoner's bail from $3000 to a lower sum. The court reduced the bail to $2500, with the concurrence of Brown's attorney, who stated he would consent to a still further reduction, provided the court was satisfied the woman would appear in court when wanted.

The case went over to Thursday. The courtroom was crowded with friends of both Mrs. Davidson and Mr. Brown, although the majority appeared to sympathize with the clergyman.

Dr. Price's Baking Powder is composed of pure insoluble and has the greatest leavening strength.

Amendment to the Bond Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Senator Jones, of Arkansas, today presented an amendment which he proposes to offer to the House bond bill. It provides that any holder of silver bullion, who is a citizen of the United States, may tender the same to the secretary of the treasury and have it coined into silver dollars, the seigniorage to be the difference between the coinage value and the market price of the bullion in New York, for the consolidation of all bank notes of less than $10 directing the secretary of the treasury to coin the silver bullion in the treasury in silver dollars, to be used in redeeming the treasury notes issued for the purpose of purchasing silver bullion under the Sherman act, and for redemption of the greenbacks in either gold or silver, and for their release according to the provisions of the act of 1875.

Interstate Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—A bill introduced in the Senate today by Senator Chandler has for its purpose the enlargement of the interstate commerce commission. The bill provides that the commission shall be composed of one member from each state, and that the members shall meet quarterly. The details of the work of the commission are to be left to a committee of five, which shall be in session at certain times. These members of the committee are to receive the same remuneration now given the members of the commission, while the other members of the enlarged commission are to be paid only for the time actually spent in the government service.

A Spanish Minister Expelled.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—A dispatch to the Herald from Caracas, Venezuela, says:

Great excitement has been caused by a report that the Spanish minister has been escorted out of Bogota, the capital of Colombia. According to late report, which is devoid of details, the extraordinary act was due to the minister's denunciation of the treatment which the British minister to the same republic is alleged to have suffered. The diplomatic representatives of Great Britain, it is said, were unanimously expelled, for what reason is not known.

General Paredes has been appointed minister to Argentina.

PANIC IN A TUNNEL.

Caused by the Explosion of Oil Beneath Into a Furnace.

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—James Whitney, of Columbus, Ohio, second cook for the gang of men in the waterworks tunnel, was severely burned last night by explosion of some oil thrown into the furnace used in the tunnel. The explosion of the oil was accompanied by a dull, rumbling sound which was increased by the close quarters in which it took place. The laborers at work under the bottom of the lake heard it. They were in a living tomb and a panic followed. The thirty-five men were for a time wild with terror and few expected to reach the air alive. The foreman, however, soon convinced them that there was no danger and after explaining the nature of the accident, the men resumed work. Signals of distress were heard which were responded to by the tug boat Bobolo Dunham and the injured man was taken on board and conveyed to the city where he was placed in the hospital.

Women are honored to the use of the best baking powder, Dr. Price's.

SAVED ON A RAFT.

Terrible Experience of a Shipwrecked Crew.

GALVESTON, Texas, Dec. 31.—The schooner M. L. Weaver has arrived here from Minnesota with the crew of the schooner Julia A. Shaw which was sunk and abandoned at Chaniers-Tigue. The Shaw was under command of Captain H. F. Hinks and had a crew of eight men. She was bound from Bay View, Mass., to Sabine Pass with a cargo of rock.

A. Martin, first mate, gave a graphic account of the disaster. He states that at 2:30 a. m., Dec. 23, they were struck by a gale and driven so hard upon shoals and rocks before the crew could ship the boats or save any effects. They were compelled to run up the mizzen rigging and seek safety in the cross trees.

Heavy seas swept across the deck of the schooner, carrying away her boats, part of her deck and houses. By Saturday morning, Dec. 21, the sea had subsided and the crew set about with nothing but their jackknives to construct a raft which they improvised with a mast and sails, and pushed off from the schooner. Having no sheeting spanks they were carried by the wind and currents, with the sea breaking over them, in a westerly direction, and were driven onto the beach near St. Joseph's Inlet, Dec. 23rd. Here they camped for the night and at daylight they followed the coast line. After a wearisome walk of twenty-five miles they reached the plantation of Arthur Franklin, famished and exhausted.

Mr. Franklin cared for their needs, gave them shelter and secured for them passage on the schooner Weaver to this port. The schooner Shaw will be a total loss. She is owned in Boston, is of 331 tons register, and is partly insured.

THE ONWARD MARCH

of Consumption is stopped dead by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If you haven't waited beyond reason, there's complete recovery and cure.

Although by many believed to be incurable, there is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that in all its earlier stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, only 99 per cent. are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Of course this includes all such cases as are not beyond the reach of medicine. Of course it does not include those cases where the lungs are already disorganized and breaking down, and where, in the last stage, there is expectoration (spitting, raising of matter), great loss of flesh and extreme exertation and weakness.

Do you doubt this? Hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. Their home, in nearly every instance, here as announced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in concealing them, and who have often strongly published and alleged against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to acknowledge its surprising, in contrast to most other medicines and methods, and that, if they would do all they could, all other medicines and methods have proved worse than useless. Many had been all and for little conclusively had tried everything, and had been cured by some of these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only caused to benefit a little for a short time. Extracts from letters of cures, or a complete pamphlet of the symptoms and cures, will be mailed free on request. You can then write your case and tell your experience. "DR. MILES,

Through His Nervine Is a Benefactor to Thousands."

A WHELEY knows Wisconsin publishes, who resides at Green Bay, writes March 16, 1895, as follows:

"Five years ago I became so nervous that mental work was a burden. I could not rest at night on account of sleeplessness. My attention was called to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and I commenced to use it with the very best effect. Since then I have kept a bottle in my home and such wonderful cures have been brought to my notice by the use of this medicine in the same republic is alleged to have suffered. The diplomatic representatives of Great Britain, it is said, were unanimously expelled, for what reason is not known.

General Paredes has been appointed minister to Argentina.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Restores Health.....

Dr. Miles' Nervine is a benefactor to humanity. I have recommended it to many and it never fails. All who suffer from nerve troubles should try it. It is free from narcotics, perfectly harmless, and yet soothes and strengthens. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a benefactor to humanity." A. C. LEHMAN.

Trial bottle and treatment of Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on guarantee first bottle will benefit or money returned.
