plaisance of machine politics. He held by the threat the largest interests of state until they gave up a bribe of place or subservience to the ambition of Platt. The speaker dwelt at length upon State matters.

Speaking of the last census the speaker said that the State by it was robbed of its equal right to the ballot box. He asserted the Republican legislature for its failures to do various things for the good of the State and people. In closing he eulogized Hill and hoped the minute of secession in the high office of the governor would fall upon as brave and skillful a leader and as true a Democrat as the governor-elect-one. When Raines referred to Governor Hill his was enthusiastically cheered. After roll call a short recess was taken.

After recess Voorhees protested on behalf of the New York Democracy against Tammany delegation in every assembly district in New York.

Jackson presented the report of the county Democracy. The usual committees were appointed, and the convention took a recess until tomorrow morning.

All the afternoon and evening conferences were in progress, efforts being made to reconcile the county Democracy and reunite them in a ticket less than that which has heretofore been accorded them but the counties declare they will accept nothing less than what belongs to them.

Tonight it was rumored some other candidate will be placed on the State ticket for governor than Flower, and one Tammany delegate says if it looks as if there is a possibility of the nomination going to Hill, as something must be done to unify the discordant elements.

The platform committee has adopted a report reaffirming the national platform, denouncing the Sherman silver law, as being no friend of the gold and silver question, and condemning the excesses of the last Congress.

In spite of rumors late tonight it is thought Flower will get the gubernatorial nomination, with Sheehan in the second place.

The committee on contested seats decided to seat none to give the contesting half representation, but Tammany was given full representation in New York City.

Prairie Fires.

NEW RICHMOND, N. D., Sept. 15.—Prairie fires are burning for miles in all directions and threatened at one time to burn the town. Thousands of bushels of grain, besides hay and buildings, are consumed. One farmer lost 500 bushels.

Tom Haines "Not Guilty."

HAMPTON, VA., Sept. 15.—The jury has returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Tom Haines, accused of murdering Nels Hannegan while the two were rowing in a boat on Hog Island.

A Fire in the "Commercial Advertiser" Building.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—A fire broke out in the old Commercial Advertiser building at 9:15 this morning. In 30 to 40 minutes the flames were beyond control. Many people were in the building, and some of them had to slide down the fire escape through dense smoke. It is believed all escaped. From the fire it was seen nothing could save the building, and attention was directed to saving adjoining property. There were numerous narrow escapes. John Gibbs, who was on the second floor, came down the fire escape so rapidly his clothes were torn and his hair singed. There was considerable scarcity of water at the commencement of the fire. At 10:20 the fire was under control. A few minutes later the outer walls of the entire Fulton front fell with a crash, and so great was the concussion that windows were shattered in the Bennett building but no one was injured. The building was occupied by clothing, cloth, and jewelry firms, printers, etc. The total loss on the stock and building is estimated at $400,000, most of which is insured. Other estimates place the loss between $300,000 and $750,000. A lot of loose diamonds which were on the tables of diamond workers in the building were lost. They were valued at several thousand dollars.

THE COUNTY INFIRMARY.

Poor Workmanship and Worthless Material Characterize the Construction of the Building.

The committee on the infirmary building have submitted the following report to the County court:

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 12, 1891.

To the County Court of Salt Lake County:

Gentlemen—Your building committee for the infirmary building beg leave to report as the result of their researches, referred to us, as follows: That the foundation of said building is nearly finished, the joists of the first floor put in place and the brick wall on the east side and the end of said building begun; that we have appointed J. C. Dowling, inspector of works and in company with him and Mr. J. H. Bowman as expert, have made a careful examination of the material used and work done for performed in the erection of said building, and find as follows: That the concrete work Underhood of Portland, contractor, has been used, and that evidently in small quantities, as the concrete is still soft and has a appearance of sand. To determine this there fully we had the wall repaired in several places along the walls so as to expose the concrete, and after careful examination have arrived at the conclusion that the foundation is entirely insufficient to support the weight of the building. This is further shown by the fact that the wall at both the southeast and northeast corners of the building is cracking.

At the northeast corner of the building the brick work projects over the foundation. The brickwork indicates poor workmanship, and many of the brick in the wall and even the foundation are of inferior quality. In our judgment the contract for the erection of the building has not been properly executed with, and the architect has been derelict in allowing such work to go on without reporting to the commissioners of the county.

In connection with the above of the inspector and expert, we recommend as follows: That the contractor be required to take down the entire south wall for one story, and make over the floors and sequence upon the foundation of said building, and proceed to complete the rest of said contract. That the said claim be not allowed until the same shall have been entered in accordance with said contract. Respectfully submitted,

JOHN SCOTT,
O. W. CANNON, Committee.

SULTAN CHICKENS.

Handsome Fancy Fowls That Look Fierce enough to Eat.

The Poultry World, from which the following instructive items are taken, says of the Sultans:

The fowl of this breed was imported into England in 1854 from Turkey, but not till some years afterward did they find their way to this country. These fowls might perhaps with propriety be classed as fowls, though when each characteristic point is duly reported close or even approximate classification is not so definite. Beside comparatively no feathers on the front of their active, though in color they are of a pure mottled white throughout. A compact roof surmounts their heads, while their throats are muffled by a full beard. Two small spikes constitute the comb. The neck and saddle hackle is long and flowing, being greatly developed.

Their short legs are heavily feathered and booted, and hocks vultured to a degree quite deserving the title of "winged." Beside this, they possess a 30 inch fan tail is full and erect, in the cock being well stalked, in general form they are square and full. Combining with their grotesque beauty a brisk and happy temperament, they are an object of admiration with all. While the accompanied in their chief recommendation they still by modern claims to wonderfully-lot only or as layers, they are not being sufficient for table fowls. Sultan pullets will in a fashion degree of confinement, while owing to their fertility they will doubtless in pen become rivals to the little bantam.

SULTAN HEN.

Poultry has a mission other than practical to perform in the world. Aside from the pleasure derived from breeding and exhibiting fine fowls, there are many homes throughout the land that would be happier and more cheerful if but a few beautiful fowls as pets ornament the yard or lawn. Especially is the young are such pets valuable, teaching them lessons of moderation and kindness to the lower creation and caring for their charge, feeding, collecting eggs, etc., improves them than a pleasant day and unmanageable responsibility. As we constantly urge money value is not the highest value.

That Tired Feeling

is a dangerous condition not entirely to be passed or neglected. It should not be allowed to continue, as it is doubtly the system is especially liable to serious attacks of illness. It is remarkable how beneficial Hood's Sarsaparilla is to those suffering from that tired feeling. Perhaps not from any one cause which the system needs and readily adapts, this invigorant perfect the blood and imparts a feeling of nerve strength which is comforting and satisfying. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine for that weariness which prevails at change of season, climate or life.

"I have been troubled with that tired feeling for years. I tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has proved more to me than any other medicine I ever took. I can look for the benefit of all who have not, sit down, and reading testimony, Hood's Sarsaparilla is not only an excellent as a blood purifier, but for all other female complaints, even if of long standing."
