

chances for the boys and girls to ob- to know something about the tain employment. The hearts of proper methods of cutting, their limited capacity, is a matter of surprise, even to those who are ac-quainted with some of the causes different stages of tanning; how long that have hindered the development they should remain in those liquors. ter are probably better here than in process of currying, finishing, etc.

of the same size. Coal, iron, silver, the workman should employ copper, land, pigments, suits, sui-phur and scores of other minersis and chemicals can be obtained in almost exhaustless quantities in our convert them into things valuable and useful to imaakind. Itimenee flocks of sheep are here to furnish proper estimate of the values of all wool, the manipulation of which material and labor entering into might attune the music of machine that work. 79910090 ery in many more woolen mills than If a large percentage of the men we have now, and, in connection and women who have learned with the cotton of our Dirie the trade, were possessed of thorough linen which might be produced from business training, there would be the culture of flax, and the silk, less difficulty in obtaining the ser-which should be a leading product of views of persons competent to take the Territory, there might be enough charge of the various industries that materials manufactured to successfully nativity is established successfully ously clothe everybody in Utah, and in Utah. Such persons would be leave a large surplus to sell to our fully qualified to direct the labors neighbors. Not least in the list of of others, and would know what manufactures which might be suc- plans to adopt to make their husicessfully established is that of leather, "The cattle on a thousand sons were plentiful, trades that now with the stirring sounds of moving machinery, and the cheering signs and notes of industry from rousing every city and village from Idaha to Arisons, from Colorado to Nevadar Why is it that there are many per-sons in our midst who state they cannot find suffable employment, able and anxious to carn their own living, are compelled to depend on their parents for maintenance? The most frequent answer heard to these inquiries is that it is the fault of candwith the stirring sounds of moving much of their wealth in manufac-

JUST ARRIVED AT

Dresses, whether the House the House the Bresses, and the House the House the House the elec-