FOLLOWED GOV. WELLS.

Colorado Executive Also Vetoes a Face Value Insurance Bill.

Governor Wells during the session of the last Legislature promptly vetoed a full face value insurance policy bill and was sustained. Now comes the information that Governor Thomas of Colorado has done the same thing with a somewhat similar measure, exercising his right of disapproval one day this week. The measure was known as S. B. No. 6. Senator Park's bill compelled the insurance companies to pay the full amounts of policies where total losses are sustained.

With the bill the governor filed an exhaustive explanation. He intimated that the bill was a "direct attempt to take away with the litigation now necessary from the adjustment of claims against fire insurance companies, and says:

"These methods of the companies provoke just resentiment, and naturally suggest remedy in drastic legislative measures for their suppression. It is not surprising that under such conditions the corrective proposed is more stringent than the practice it seeks to destroy." Continuing he states that the bill discriminates between cases of total and partial destruction of property, and compels the payment of the face value of policies, no matter whether or not the value of the insured property has deteriorated or whether or not furniture has been removed therefrom. The veto message is summed up thus:

"This discrimination in the consideration of a contract involved in a contract of fire insurance cannot be justified. It is unfair alike to insurer and insured. It makes the same contract mean one thing when the claim is for the loss of all, and another when the claim is for the loss of part. It approaches, if indeed it does not cross, the line between good and specific legislation as defined and prohibited by section 25 of article 5 of the State Constitution."

BIG ORE BODY IN THE WASHINGTON

Manager Farnsworth Reports a Most Excellent Showing.

CONCERNING THE DAISY.

Activity on the West Dip—The Northern Light Mine—Miscellaneous Mining News.

That the Washington mine at Frisco is a bigger proposition than most people imagine, is evident from the report of Manager P. T. Farnsworth, who came up from the south this morning. When seen by a "News" reporter shortly after his return, Mr. Farnsworth stated that in the drift on the new body of ore had been gone into a distance of 35 feet and still continued, making its extent very indefinite. "In fact," said he, "we have been in so all the way down, although we did not strike the main chute until we had reached a depth of something like 230 feet. The ore is a high-grade silver-lead, carries a little gold and is of splendid shipping quality. It will not easily run 40 to 100 a ton."

Mr. Farnsworth said the mine was handsomely equipped, having a hoist that will enable the company to sink 1,000 feet if it so desires. From the very start, said he, the owners had been conservative in their policy, a wise and therefore put in substantial and far-reaching machinery. The shaft was on an incline when it had reached a depth of 225 feet, where the showing was better than it had ever been. While copper values had not been struck yet, Mr. Farnsworth spoke as though the appearance of such mineral was expected as greater depth was attained. Terms are now hauling ore to the railroad, and shipments can be looked for right along.

THE WEST DIP ACTIVE.

Fine Roiling Plant for the Knoxville—Omaha Improvements.

A gentleman just in from the Mercur West Dip, on authority for the statement that things are decidedly astir in that section. He says that at the Knox, formerly the Tiger Booster group, Thomas Weir of the Highland Boy, is installing a 200-horse power hoist. Considerable that part of the camp, while the same parties are putting up a fine boarding house and making all other arrangements for a thorough and energetic campaign.

The Omaha hoist, says the gentleman, is being rushed as fast as human hands can do the work. This will be of sufficient capacity to enable the company to sink to a depth of 400 or 500 feet, after which, if the showing justifies it, a larger and more permanent plant will be put in, so that shipments can be steadily attended to and the mine extensively explored. All along the dip work is being pushed with much vigor, special attention being paid to the Daisy, La Cinda, South Daisy and Pocono, the latter commonly known as the Mooney group, which has a shaft 50 feet deep with an encouraging showing.

News From the McKinley.

News from the McKinley mine on Lion Hill says it is a very encouraging strike in this property. The McKinley adjoins the Northern Light, and the superintendent says that the vein encountered some time ago has assumed a width of 2½ feet. A sample of the ore shows a value of 18 ounces silver.

La Cigale Crystals Shipped.

The Cigale on the West Dip is in with a half ton shipment of crystals, resulting from a two weeks' run at the mine. The crystals are said to indicate a gratifying state of affairs, the mine really yielding a good supply of high-grade ore, which is being handled at the rate of 100 tons daily. This is one of the leading properties on the West Dip.

The Northern Light Mine.

E. H. Alts, president of the Northern Light Mining company, reported today that the mine was in prime condition, being in better shape in fact than he had expected. "However," he continued, "no shipments will be made until the roads are good, as it is utter foolhardiness to go to a big expense for shipping, when it can be attended to later on, at half the cost. We are storing the ore until the roads are open, and Mr. Legg is very much pleased with the outlook."

CONCERNING THE DAISY.

Manager Mayne Brings in a Shipment—Has Not Resigned.

A. H. Mayne, manager of the Daisy on the West Dip, came in from Mercur last night, accompanying a cyanide shipment valued at $1,600. This is the result of a run of 30 days at the mill which Mr. Mayne reports running in good shape on an excellent grade of milling ore. The other property, says the gentleman, is in satisfactory condition, and he sees no reason why it should not continue, and make good profits for those interested.

Mr. Mayne denies the report that he is about to leave the camp, the gentleman stating that he goes to Joplin, Mo., in company with Messrs. Wilson and Jones, interested in the Daisy, to inspect lead mines in which he is interested. He has not, nor has he ever had, any intention of leaving the Daisy company.

Messrs. Legg and Gay, who recently purchased the Daisy for Salt Lake men and associates, have handed in their report, the same being now under consideration. At the option on the stock expires for a good while yet, it is likely that the result of the report will not come to light until some time in the future.

Seizure of Location.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, April 20.—E. L. Hutchinson has filed notice of location of the following mining claims, situated in Camp Floyd mining district: Lodes Nos. 1 to 4, both inclusive. Ellen Rasmussen et al, have filed notice of location of the Radiopolis, the Kubes and the Pottsville, all situated in the Lake mining district.

Burnham Files a Protest.

Charles T. Burnham has filed in the local land office a protest against the application for patent made by the Joe Bowers Mining company, alleging that himself, John D. Burnham and Phoebe A. Garner Hamilton, all of Milwaukee, Wis., are heirs of the estate of George Burnham, deceased, who owned by purchase and descent and entitled to possession of the Joe Bowers Lode Receipt, Lot No. 37, that the grantors of complaintants entered upon and explored the said lode and worked the same as a mineral claim, and at the time of the location contemplated in all requirements of the law. Affiant further avers that on the date of location, as set forth in the abstract of title, and since the date of purchase by the complaints and their co-owners they have remained quietly and continuously in possession of said lode, and have at all times asserted their ownership, while comprising with the laws. That the title to the area in conflict, to wit, 6.57 of an acre, is now in the contestants as shown by the abstract of title. Further, that the "J. Bowers No. 2" lode, being mining claim, crosses and overlaps said "Joe Bowers Lode Record, Lot No. 37." In conclusion affiant avers that he is informed and really believes that the applicant for patent for said "J. Bowers No. 2" lode, and its officers well know that affiants and his co-owners were the owners in possession, and entitled to the possession of so much of said claim as is described in the protest, and to establish it, will go into court without delay.

Thistle Mining Company.

The Thistle Mining company, by John J. Banks, Jesse Burt, John W. Moore, William H. Hughes and Hubbard Tuttle, all of Spanish Fork, Utah county, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of State today. The capitalization is fixed at $25,000, with shares at 10 cents each. The company's property is situated in the Ferguson mining district, Lincoln county, Nevada, and consists of the North Star, Pluto, Central, Yankee Girl and the Little Giant lode mining claims. All are quartz, which run and contiguous to each other. The general office of the company will be in Spanish Fork. John J. Banks is president, Jesse Burt, vice president, John W. Hughes secretary, and Hubbard Tuttle, treasurer. These gentlemen, with the other previous named persons, also comprise the board of directors.

CATTLE PREMIUM LIST.

Department B of the State Fair Awards is Now Completed.

A meeting of Prest. John R. Winder, J. H. White and Secretary Beatie was held this morning to consider the premium list to be offered for the best exhibits of various lines of cattle at the State fair in October. The schedule of premiums is now arranged, but it is not yet given out for publication. The secretary says it is the best arranged premium list, and the premiums also are more valuable than those of any previous issue. The farmers generally will take notice.
