DID NOT EXPLODE.

Rothschild's Banking House Visited by a Bomb Thrower.

BUT THE MISSILE WAS HARMLESS.

The Villain Discovered by a Detective —He Claims to Be an Anarchist.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—M. Rothschild's house in Rome was the scene today of another anarchist attempt. At 3:30 o'clock a man came at the bank from Rue Lafitte. In the vestibule the man met an guard saw the stranger trying to light a fuse of a bomb with a cigarette. The noise on his cigarette protected his ignition of the fuse and the man seeing he was observed threw the bomb upon the carpeted floor. The bomb did not explode. The man was arrested. At the police office he boldly avowed himself an anarchist.

GREAT LEGAL BATTLE.

Chicago Electric Railroad Company Attacked.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The entire system of operation and equipment of the Metropolitan Elevated Railroad company is attacked in a bill which has been filed in the U. S. circuit court. The call is a brief one, but the issues and the immediate interests give importance of a big legal battle, and are hard fought.

The Sprague-Haines Electric company, owner of the Street Vestibule system, and the Metropolitan company and its president, Robert A. Justice, with infringement in making of the cable rail system and gripping cable cars. The fight was thus opened, as the General Electric company which equipped the Metropolitan will assume the defense. The General Electric company has had a long experience with contest patents, and both it and the Sprague-Haines company have nearly unlimited wealth with which to back up their claims.

IS IT FRAKER.

The Question of Identity Not Yet Settled.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 5.—A special to the Star from Liberty, Mo., says:

Astonishing developments, it is promised here, are imminent in the Dr. Fraker murder case before twenty-four more days. An insurance official, who is working on the case, is in and out of Liberty, states the prisoner is not the doctor.

Judge J. H. Sandusky, attorney for Judge J. H. Lincoln, executor of the Fraker estate, states this morning that they have not yet admitted that the prisoner is Fraker. Persons who have intimately at Excelsior Springs, where the doctor lived before his mysterious disappearance, will be here this afternoon when the question of identity will be permanently settled.

SO IS DR FRAKER.

St. Louis, Sept. 5.—A special to the Post Dispatch from Richmond, Mo., says: Dr. Fraker in jail now, on a charge of attempting to defraud the insurance companies, was recognized today by a score of people. The recognition was original, Dr. Fraker being served by name and conversing with them.

The information leading to the arrest and identification of Fraker has been filed before Justice McCurdon in this city. There are five counts in the information, the aggregate penalty being thirty-five years in the penitentiary.

It is believed the defense will waive examination and allow the doctor to be bound over to await the action of the grand jury, which meets in October. In case the doctor is released on bail, the bond, it is said, will be at least $10,000. It is intimated should he be bound for trial may come off during the October term of the Ray county circuit court.

UNITED WORKMEN.

Address of Samuel Gompers Before the Grand Union Congress.

CAMDEN, Sept. 5.—Messrs. Samuel Gompers of D. J. McNeile, was repeated at the United Workmen of the Trades Union Congress, were given a hearty reception at the afternoon's session. President Jenkins, in welcoming the American delegates, said: "Although geographically divided, the workers of America, Great Britain and Ireland are linked in all important questions pertaining to the elevation of their class.

Mr. Gompers, replying to the address of President Jenkins, spoke at length of the feeling and sympathy that existed among the trades unions of the different societies which are represented in this congress, who, he said, were of one blood and had a common heritage. He looked forward to the day when all workers speaking the English language would go hand with the workers of all countries, struggling onward to the attainment of that end for which the whole past has been a perpetual endeavor, with the intensity of purpose that would insure the accomplishment of great results.

Gompers said he believed the British trades union congress and the American federation of labor would cooperate fraternally with the British Parliament of American Congress.

The House at Leeds.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The House of Lords today, on the second reading of the Leeds corporation water bill, Viscount Cross said he in the government appeared to him to be unfair to the relief of widowed females, who, he said, were the sole support of their aged unmarried relatives by cutting off the rate of women and shooting old men. He hoped that the bill would be rejected.

Baron Halsbury expressed regret that such language should have been employed in this debate. The only question at issue, he said, was one well-nigh to speak to not well which otherwise would expire with the close of time.

The bill passed its third reading.

The House of Lords has passed on its third reading, the bill to remove doubt as to the validity of the act of the Dominion of Canada, respecting the deputy speaker of the Canadian senate.

Chinatown in a Turmoil.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Chinatown is in a turmoil and a boycott war is fiercely raging. The Chinese Six Companies, which for so many years have controlled matters in the Chinese quarter, no longer work in harmony, and will probably never again be united. The quarrel has spread all over the country among Chinese from here to New York. The trouble originated to the murder of Chong Wai, a member of the Sam Yup company. Mak Jai, a Sen Yup man was arrested for the murder, but his company twice bailed him innocent and asked the Sam Yups to call off the prosecution. This they refused to do, and the Chinese counsel sided with the Sen Yups. Then a boycott was declared against the Sam Yups by the Sen Yups. The Sam Yups consider the washing classes of Chinese who do a big business as butchers, while the Sen Yups are composed of the laundry classes, mainly customers of the Sam Yups. The Sen Yups have started rival shops and a strict boycott is being waged against the Sam Yups, greatly to their discomfiture and financial loss. Threats of the companies have sided with the Sen Yups against the Sam Yups, but the Hip Yee Tong, Wo company, composed of the better class of merchants, holds aloof from the fray. They too are threatened with war if they do not come over into the camp of the members of the half a Sam Yups.

THE EISTEDDFOD.

The Denver Committee Speak Highly of Their Treatment in Salt Lake.

The Denver Republican of Sunday last has the following on the October Eisteddfod:

City Clerk Dick and Lloyd Jones, the two singles sent by the Denver chorus to compete with the Tabernacle choir in the great festival at Salt Lake City, in October, have returned to the city. The committee report that the Mormon Tabernacle choir has invited the Denver choir to become its guests during the festival, the Tabernacle choir's competing for the grand prize in two sections, contests being the younger singers of the city and the other half being the older singers, so that the choice from here will not have to compete with the experienced singers in percent practice.

"The committee were handsomely entertained by the officers and representatives of the Cambria society and musicians of Salt Lake City. Prof. Robert Black was engaged during his stay in Zion to take the board of all of the great concerts, his work of itself is indicative of the appreciation of the singers of the "Queen City" for our celebrated musicians.

The committee, consisting of H. F. Evans, Enos Mors, D. L. Davis, W. N. Williams, George G. Bywater, H. J. Thomas, and John James, has been appointed to secure funds for the aid of the enterprise, are meeting with great success.

Only a few days ago the charges against her of keeping a house of ill character was dismissed on account of her poverty and the sickness and needs of her children. Today Justice Smith again showed a spirit of leniency towards her and proposed that until tomorrow, giving her a chance to move from her present quarters, and upon her coming from wrongdoing she will be prosecuted no more.

Jack Roberts plead guilty to drunkenness. He said in excuse that he fell in with some friends, and therefore was a drinking man, he was inclined to take three glasses of beer and then he knew no more until he was under the kind care of a patrolman. He promised that if the court would let him go he would leave the entirely whenever seen in the future. The court gave him a chance to prove the truthfulness of his promise.

Peter McO'Ma, a carpenter residing at 321 north Fifth West street, plead guilty to drunkenness but told the court that it was his first offense in three years. He was discharged.

E. Hudson, a fruit vendor, was arrested this morning for selling in the restricted district. He plead guilty, but on his promise to break the law no more, he was discharged.

A KICKING EQUINE

Makes An Exciting Play in Front of the City Hall—No One Hurt.

Young Williams held on bravely and finally succeeded in overpowering and quieting the horse, but not before he had received several severe kicks on the hand from which the blood flowed freely. The animal did not escape unhurt either, but was covered over with scratches and bruises, received mostly by kicking against with a box of lumber.

Last evening a pleasant social time was spent by over 200 people at the residence of Mrs. Mina M. Cannon. The occasion was arranged by the Utah Kindergarten association, and the success of the experiment was well deserved. The house was thrown open to the guests, but most spent the greater portion of the time on the tastefully decorated lawn and in dancing on the large floor.
