

THE EVENING NEWS.

Election fruit—The candy-date.

An enraged man tears his hair; an enraged woman tears her husband's.

Way have widows the right to life? Because the Bible says the widows mite.

Apples are worth five to ten cents a bushel in the orchards of Erie county.

Sharks can be seen in large numbers from the walls of Fort Sumter.

An English manufacturer has brought out a new glove, with a pocket inside of the palm.

A dull Judge in Brooklyn has obtained the name of Old Necessity because "Necessity knows no law."

Woman is an essay on grace, in one volume, elegantly bound. Every man should have a copy.

A baldheaded man may always expect to find a friend and sympathizer in a manufacturer of wigs.

The labor reform rioters in Austria were sentenced respectively to six, five and three years in the penitentiary.

A Boston chemist says that burnt sole-leather enters largely into the composition of the ginger put up in packages.

Portsmouth, New Hampshire, butchers predict a severe winter, because they find the Autumn flocks of sheep and lambs unusually close and heavy.

The Primitive Baptists of Southwest, announce that they will excommunicate any member who takes advantage of the bankruptcy law.

The Saxon Minister of War has purchased 8,000,000 cigars for the Saxon troops who form a portion of the army besieging Paris.

D. B. Bates, of Fond du Lac was offered 10,000 for the stallion Thunderbolt, which he refused, and the next night the horse was poisoned.

The Catholic Cathedral at Iowa City, having been built on an insecure foundation, is expected to fall at any moment. It cost $80,000.

It is now an established rule for wedding principals to rehearse the entire ceremony (positions processions, posture, bow and carriage) until all are perfect in every essential point.

China is rapidly undergoing the process of civilization. Beer is made at Shanghai, a whiskey distillery is going on at Canton, and the first hanging came off in that city with great effect.

A lady in Jasper county, Iowa, whose age is near 75, wants a divorce from her husband, now in his 78th year, "spends his time running about with the girls."

A young girl and a young man, kneeling in church at Lehigh, Pa., were recently struck by lightning and killed.

An amateur theatrical association has succeeded in rehearsing the "Forty Thieves" since the sheriff called on one of their number.

Diamonds in the London market have fallen in value thirty per cent, owing to the great quantities offered by refugees from France.

Machinery has recently been invented in England which weaves from the hair of cats and rabbits a sort of velvet tissue, distinguishable from silk, but not inferior in fineness and beauty.

The skeleton and barded woman, who used to travel and exhibit themselves as a show, are now living quietly at their home in Coast Fork precinct, Oregon.

A Missouri minister announces that he will "marry a man cheaper than any opposition firm in the State."

"I am not mad, only incensed," said a dandy smelling of musk. He was not muscular, though he smelt strong.

The Marshall County (Iowa) News says: "Don't go back on your news paper. A subscriber to the Times recently stopped his paper, and the next week was kicked by a horse so severely that his life is despaired of."

Professor Nordenskiöld of the Swedish expedition, who was last seen in penetrating into the interior of Greenland—two days and a half on inland ice—to a distance of about forty nautical miles.

The Pittsburg Post says: The women of to-day want nothing to do with the breeches. The few remaining female scalliwags whose ambition lies in that direction are not women they are mere counterfeits. They are not women they are mere counterfeits.

And now, Mr. Anthony or Hon. E. C. Demit Stanton wants to fight, she knows where to find us.

The effeminate man is a weak politician. He is a cross between a root and a ginger pop, with the cork left out. A fresh water marmalade found in a new package with hands filled with marmalade.

He is a teacupful of syllabub, a kitten in pantaloons, a sick monkey with a blonde moustache. He is a monkey without any tendrils—a fly drowned in oil—a paper kite in a dead cat.

He lives like a butterfly, nobody can tell who he is, as harmless as a cat's worth of spruce gum, and as useless as a shirt button without a hole. He is as lazy as a bread pig, and has no more hope than a last year's grasshopper.

He goes through life on tip-toe, and dies like a cologne water spilt on the ground.

A horrible scene was recently witnessed at a farm in Benton County, Iowa. A man named Thompson, having a barn to raise, invited a number of his friends to help him. In order to supply them with a drink, he killed a sheep, but neglected to carry off the head, which had been severed from the trunk and left on the ground.

Subsequently two boys passed the spot where the head lay. One of them suggested to the other that he should chop his head off in the same manner. The boy put his head down, and just as the axe was lifted, the screams of Mrs. Campbell, who was looking on from a distance, attracted the attention of a number of men engaged in lifting a heavy log, so they tossed their hoes on the timber and it fell, killing four of them. The boy was also killed.

THE EVENING NEWS.

Monday, December 5, 1870.

THE EVENING NEWS.

Election fruit—The candy-date.

An enraged man tears his hair; an enraged woman tears her husband's.

Way have widows the right to life? Because the Bible says the widows mite.

Apples are worth five to ten cents a bushel in the orchards of Erie county.

Sharks can be seen in large numbers from the walls of Fort Sumter.

An English manufacturer has brought out a new glove, with a pocket inside of the palm.

A dull Judge in Brooklyn has obtained the name of Old Necessity because "Necessity knows no law."

Woman is an essay on grace, in one volume, elegantly bound. Every man should have a copy.

A baldheaded man may always expect to find a friend and sympathizer in a manufacturer of wigs.

The labor reform rioters in Austria were sentenced respectively to six, five and three years in the penitentiary.

A Boston chemist says that burnt sole-leather enters largely into the composition of the ginger put up in packages.

Portsmouth, New Hampshire, butchers predict a severe winter, because they find the Autumn flocks of sheep and lambs unusually close and heavy.

The Primitive Baptists of Southwest, announce that they will excommunicate any member who takes advantage of the bankruptcy law.

The Saxon Minister of War has purchased 8,000,000 cigars for the Saxon troops who form a portion of the army besieging Paris.

D. B. Bates, of Fond du Lac was offered 10,000 for the stallion Thunderbolt, which he refused, and the next night the horse was poisoned.

The Catholic Cathedral at Iowa City, having been built on an insecure foundation, is expected to fall at any moment. It cost $80,000.

It is now an established rule for wedding principals to rehearse the entire ceremony (positions processions, posture, bow and carriage) until all are perfect in every essential point.

China is rapidly undergoing the process of civilization. Beer is made at Shanghai, a whiskey distillery is going on at Canton, and the first hanging came off in that city with great effect.

A lady in Jasper county, Iowa, whose age is near 75, wants a divorce from her husband, now in his 78th year, "spends his time running about with the girls."

A young girl and a young man, kneeling in church at Lehigh, Pa., were recently struck by lightning and killed.

An amateur theatrical association has succeeded in rehearsing the "Forty Thieves" since the sheriff called on one of their number.

Diamonds in the London market have fallen in value thirty per cent, owing to the great quantities offered by refugees from France.

Machinery has recently been invented in England which weaves from the hair of cats and rabbits a sort of velvet tissue, distinguishable from silk, but not inferior in fineness and beauty.

The skeleton and barded woman, who used to travel and exhibit themselves as a show, are now living quietly at their home in Coast Fork precinct, Oregon.

A Missouri minister announces that he will "marry a man cheaper than any opposition firm in the State."

"I am not mad, only incensed," said a dandy smelling of musk. He was not muscular, though he smelt strong.

The Marshall County (Iowa) News says: "Don't go back on your news paper. A subscriber to the Times recently stopped his paper, and the next week was kicked by a horse so severely that his life is despaired of."

Professor Nordenskiöld of the Swedish expedition, who was last seen in penetrating into the interior of Greenland—two days and a half on inland ice—to a distance of about forty nautical miles.

The Pittsburg Post says: The women of to-day want nothing to do with the breeches. The few remaining female scalliwags whose ambition lies in that direction are not women they are mere counterfeits. They are not women they are mere counterfeits.

And now, Mr. Anthony or Hon. E. C. Demit Stanton wants to fight, she knows where to find us.

The effeminate man is a weak politician. He is a cross between a root and a ginger pop, with the cork left out. A fresh water marmalade found in a new package with hands filled with marmalade.

He is a teacupful of syllabub, a kitten in pantaloons, a sick monkey with a blonde moustache. He is a monkey without any tendrils—a fly drowned in oil—a paper kite in a dead cat.

He lives like a butterfly, nobody can tell who he is, as harmless as a cat's worth of spruce gum, and as useless as a shirt button without a hole. He is as lazy as a bread pig, and has no more hope than a last year's grasshopper.

He goes through life on tip-toe, and dies like a cologne water spilt on the ground.

A horrible scene was recently witnessed at a farm in Benton County, Iowa. A man named Thompson, having a barn to raise, invited a number of his friends to help him. In order to supply them with a drink, he killed a sheep, but neglected to carry off the head, which had been severed from the trunk and left on the ground.

Subsequently two boys passed the spot where the head lay. One of them suggested to the other that he should chop his head off in the same manner. The boy put his head down, and just as the axe was lifted, the screams of Mrs. Campbell, who was looking on from a distance, attracted the attention of a number of men engaged in lifting a heavy log, so they tossed their hoes on the timber and it fell, killing four of them. The boy was also killed.

THE EVENING NEWS.

Monday, December 5, 1870.

THE EVENING NEWS.

Election fruit—The candy-date.

An enraged man tears his hair; an enraged woman tears her husband's.

Way have widows the right to life? Because the Bible says the widows mite.

Apples are worth five to ten cents a bushel in the orchards of Erie county.

Sharks can be seen in large numbers from the walls of Fort Sumter.

An English manufacturer has brought out a new glove, with a pocket inside of the palm.

A dull Judge in Brooklyn has obtained the name of Old Necessity because "Necessity knows no law."

Woman is an essay on grace, in one volume, elegantly bound. Every man should have a copy.

A baldheaded man may always expect to find a friend and sympathizer in a manufacturer of wigs.

The labor reform rioters in Austria were sentenced respectively to six, five and three years in the penitentiary.

A Boston chemist says that burnt sole-leather enters largely into the composition of the ginger put up in packages.

Portsmouth, New Hampshire, butchers predict a severe winter, because they find the Autumn flocks of sheep and lambs unusually close and heavy.

The Primitive Baptists of Southwest, announce that they will excommunicate any member who takes advantage of the bankruptcy law.

The Saxon Minister of War has purchased 8,000,000 cigars for the Saxon troops who form a portion of the army besieging Paris.

D. B. Bates, of Fond du Lac was offered 10,000 for the stallion Thunderbolt, which he refused, and the next night the horse was poisoned.

The Catholic Cathedral at Iowa City, having been built on an insecure foundation, is expected to fall at any moment. It cost $80,000.

It is now an established rule for wedding principals to rehearse the entire ceremony (positions processions, posture, bow and carriage) until all are perfect in every essential point.

China is rapidly undergoing the process of civilization. Beer is made at Shanghai, a whiskey distillery is going on at Canton, and the first hanging came off in that city with great effect.

A lady in Jasper county, Iowa, whose age is near 75, wants a divorce from her husband, now in his 78th year, "spends his time running about with the girls."

A young girl and a young man, kneeling in church at Lehigh, Pa., were recently struck by lightning and killed.

An amateur theatrical association has succeeded in rehearsing the "Forty Thieves" since the sheriff called on one of their number.

Diamonds in the London market have fallen in value thirty per cent, owing to the great quantities offered by refugees from France.

Machinery has recently been invented in England which weaves from the hair of cats and rabbits a sort of velvet tissue, distinguishable from silk, but not inferior in fineness and beauty.

The skeleton and barded woman, who used to travel and exhibit themselves as a show, are now living quietly at their home in Coast Fork precinct, Oregon.

A Missouri minister announces that he will "marry a man cheaper than any opposition firm in the State."

"I am not mad, only incensed," said a dandy smelling of musk. He was not muscular, though he smelt strong.

The Marshall County (Iowa) News says: "Don't go back on your news paper. A subscriber to the Times recently stopped his paper, and the next week was kicked by a horse so severely that his life is despaired of."

Professor Nordenskiöld of the Swedish expedition, who was last seen in penetrating into the interior of Greenland—two days and a half on inland ice—to a distance of about forty nautical miles.

The Pittsburg Post says: The women of to-day want nothing to do with the breeches. The few remaining female scalliwags whose ambition lies in that direction are not women they are mere counterfeits. They are not women they are mere counterfeits.

And now, Mr. Anthony or Hon. E. C. Demit Stanton wants to fight, she knows where to find us.

The effeminate man is a weak politician. He is a cross between a root and a ginger pop, with the cork left out. A fresh water marmalade found in a new package with hands filled with marmalade.

He is a teacupful of syllabub, a kitten in pantaloons, a sick monkey with a blonde moustache. He is a monkey without any tendrils—a fly drowned in oil—a paper kite in a dead cat.

He lives like a butterfly, nobody can tell who he is, as harmless as a cat's worth of spruce gum, and as useless as a shirt button without a hole. He is as lazy as a bread pig, and has no more hope than a last year's grasshopper.

He goes through life on tip-toe, and dies like a cologne water spilt on the ground.

A horrible scene was recently witnessed at a farm in Benton County, Iowa. A man named Thompson, having a barn to raise, invited a number of his friends to help him. In order to supply them with a drink, he killed a sheep, but neglected to carry off the head, which had been severed from the trunk and left on the ground.

Subsequently two boys passed the spot where the head lay. One of them suggested to the other that he should chop his head off in the same manner. The boy put his head down, and just as the axe was lifted, the screams of Mrs. Campbell, who was looking on from a distance, attracted the attention of a number of men engaged in lifting a heavy log, so they tossed their hoes on the timber and it fell, killing four of them. The boy was also killed.

THE EVENING NEWS.

Monday, December 5, 1870.

THE EVENING NEWS.

Election fruit—The candy-date.

An enraged man tears his hair; an enraged woman tears her husband's.

Way have widows the right to life? Because the Bible says the widows mite.

Apples are worth five to ten cents a bushel in the orchards of Erie county.

Sharks can be seen in large numbers from the walls of Fort Sumter.

An English manufacturer has brought out a new glove, with a pocket inside of the palm.

A dull Judge in Brooklyn has obtained the name of Old Necessity because "Necessity knows no law."

Woman is an essay on grace, in one volume, elegantly bound. Every man should have a copy.

A baldheaded man may always expect to find a friend and sympathizer in a manufacturer of wigs.

The labor reform rioters in Austria were sentenced respectively to six, five and three years in the penitentiary.

A Boston chemist says that burnt sole-leather enters largely into the composition of the ginger put up in packages.

Portsmouth, New Hampshire, butchers predict a severe winter, because they find the Autumn flocks of sheep and lambs unusually close and heavy.

The Primitive Baptists of Southwest, announce that they will excommunicate any member who takes advantage of the bankruptcy law.

The Saxon Minister of War has purchased 8,000,000 cigars for the Saxon troops who form a portion of the army besieging Paris.

D. B. Bates, of Fond du Lac was offered 10,000 for the stallion Thunderbolt, which he refused, and the next night the horse was poisoned.

The Catholic Cathedral at Iowa City, having been built on an insecure foundation, is expected to fall at any moment. It cost $80,000.

It is now an established rule for wedding principals to rehearse the entire ceremony (positions processions, posture, bow and carriage) until all are perfect in every essential point.

China is rapidly undergoing the process of civilization. Beer is made at Shanghai, a whiskey distillery is going on at Canton, and the first hanging came off in that city with great effect.

A lady in Jasper county, Iowa, whose age is near 75, wants a divorce from her husband, now in his 78th year, "spends his time running about with the girls."

A young girl and a young man, kneeling in church at Lehigh, Pa., were recently struck by lightning and killed.

An amateur theatrical association has succeeded in rehearsing the "Forty Thieves" since the sheriff called on one of their number.

Diamonds in the London market have fallen in value thirty per cent, owing to the great quantities offered by refugees from France.

Machinery has recently been invented in England which weaves from the hair of cats and rabbits a sort of velvet tissue, distinguishable from silk, but not inferior in fineness and beauty.

The skeleton and barded woman, who used to travel and exhibit themselves as a show, are now living quietly at their home in Coast Fork precinct, Oregon.

A Missouri minister announces that he will "marry a man cheaper than any opposition firm in the State."

"I am not mad, only incensed," said a dandy smelling of musk. He was not muscular, though he smelt strong.

The Marshall County (Iowa) News says: "Don't go back on your news paper. A subscriber to the Times recently stopped his paper, and the next week was kicked by a horse so severely that his life is despaired of."

Professor Nordenskiöld of the Swedish expedition, who was last seen in penetrating into the interior of Greenland—two days and a half on inland ice—to a distance of about forty nautical miles.

The Pittsburg Post says: The women of to-day want nothing to do with the breeches. The few remaining female scalliwags whose ambition lies in that direction are not women they are mere counterfeits. They are not women they are mere counterfeits.

And now, Mr. Anthony or Hon. E. C. Demit Stanton wants to fight, she knows where to find us.

The effeminate man is a weak politician. He is a cross between a root and a ginger pop, with the cork left out. A fresh water marmalade found in a new package with hands filled with marmalade.

He is a teacupful of syllabub, a kitten in pantaloons, a sick monkey with a blonde moustache. He is a monkey without any tendrils—a fly drowned in oil—a paper kite in a dead cat.

He lives like a butterfly, nobody can tell who he is, as harmless as a cat's worth of spruce gum, and as useless as a shirt button without a hole. He is as lazy as a bread pig, and has no more hope than a last year's grasshopper.

He goes through life on tip-toe, and dies like a cologne water spilt on the ground.

A horrible scene was recently witnessed at a farm in Benton County, Iowa. A man named Thompson, having a barn to raise, invited a number of his friends to help him. In order to supply them with a drink, he killed a sheep, but neglected to carry off the head, which had been severed from the trunk and left on the ground.

Subsequently two boys passed the spot where the head lay. One of them suggested to the other that he should chop his head off in the same manner. The boy put his head down, and just as the axe was lifted, the screams of Mrs. Campbell, who was looking on from a distance, attracted the attention of a number of men engaged in lifting a heavy log, so they tossed their hoes on the timber and it fell, killing four of them. The boy was also killed.

THE EVENING NEWS.

Monday, December 5, 1870.

THE EVENING NEWS.

Election fruit—The candy-date.

An enraged man tears his hair; an enraged woman tears her husband's.

Way have widows the right to life? Because the Bible says the widows mite.

Apples are worth five to ten cents a bushel in the orchards of Erie county.

Sharks can be seen in large numbers from the walls of Fort Sumter.

An English manufacturer has brought out a new glove, with a pocket inside of the palm.

A dull Judge in Brooklyn has obtained the name of Old Necessity because "Necessity knows no law."

Woman is an essay on grace, in one volume, elegantly bound. Every man should have a copy.

A baldheaded man may always expect to find a friend and sympathizer in a manufacturer of wigs.

The labor reform rioters in Austria were sentenced respectively to six, five and three years in the penitentiary.

A Boston chemist says that burnt sole-leather enters largely into the composition of the ginger put up in packages.

Portsmouth, New Hampshire, butchers predict a severe winter, because they find the Autumn flocks of sheep and lambs unusually close and heavy.

The Primitive Baptists of Southwest, announce that they will excommunicate any member who takes advantage of the bankruptcy law.

The Saxon Minister of War has purchased 8,000,000 cigars for the Saxon troops who form a portion of the army besieging Paris.

D. B. Bates, of Fond du Lac was offered 10,000 for the stallion Thunderbolt, which he refused, and the next night the horse was poisoned.

The Catholic Cathedral at Iowa City, having been built on an insecure foundation, is expected to fall at any moment. It cost $80,000.

It is now an established rule for wedding principals to rehearse the entire ceremony (positions processions, posture, bow and carriage) until all are perfect in every essential point.

China is rapidly undergoing the process of civilization. Beer is made at Shanghai, a whiskey distillery is going on at Canton, and the first hanging came off in that city with great effect.

A lady in Jasper county, Iowa, whose age is near 75, wants a divorce from her husband, now in his 78th year, "spends his time running about with the girls."

A young girl and a young man, kneeling in church at Lehigh, Pa., were recently struck by lightning and killed.

An amateur theatrical association has succeeded in rehearsing the "Forty Thieves" since the sheriff called on one of their number.

Diamonds in the London market have fallen in value thirty per cent, owing to the great quantities offered by refugees from France.

Machinery has recently been invented in England which weaves from the hair of cats and rabbits a sort of velvet tissue, distinguishable from silk, but not inferior in fineness and beauty.

The skeleton and barded woman, who used to travel and exhibit themselves as a show, are now living quietly at their home in Coast Fork precinct, Oregon.

A Missouri minister announces that he will "marry a man cheaper than any opposition firm in the State."

"I am not mad, only incensed," said a dandy smelling of musk. He was not muscular, though he smelt strong.

The Marshall County (Iowa) News says: "Don't go back on your news paper. A subscriber to the Times recently stopped his paper, and the next week was kicked by a horse so severely that his life is despaired of."

Professor Nordenskiöld of the Swedish expedition, who was last seen in penetrating into the interior of Greenland—two days and a half on inland ice—to a distance of about forty nautical miles.

The Pittsburg Post says: The women of to-day want nothing to do with the breeches. The few remaining female scalliwags whose ambition lies in that direction are not women they are mere counterfeits. They are not women they are mere counterfeits.

And now, Mr.