CONGRESS.

Important Subjects Discussed by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—In the Senate this morning, replying to a direct question, pursuant to the committee on foreign relations, touching the Nicaragua canal, Senator Sherman, chairman of the committee, stated that work was progressing favorably under the private corporation, and that Congress had done nothing whatever to aid it; that a bill was now under consideration by a sub-committee.

Senator Morgan presented resolutions directing the finance committee to inquire into the causes of the depression in agriculture and business and the effect of the silver act of 1890, and announced that he would call them up for discussion tomorrow. [illegible]

After the reading of Senator Morgan's resolution and an explanation by that Senator Sherman said that if the silver question was to be projected upon the Senate pending the present condition of public business, it should be done on some business proposition, on some idea that had been considered and discussed by the people, and no [illegible]

Erroneous Reports Respecting Sealing Vessels.

TORONTO, March 31.—A special from Ottawa: Erroneous reports are in circulation respecting the issue of clearances for sealers going to Behring sea. It is not true that the collector at Victoria has been authorized to refuse clearances. Collector Milne has simply been told to notify the sealers, in clearing for fishing sea, that they go at their own risk, and in the event the modus vivendi should be agreed upon, they will be required to strictly observe its provisions.

Bourke's Arrests of Mexicans.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—General Stanley, commanding the department of Texas, reports to General Schofield, regarding Captain Bourke, that the charges against that officer in connection with the Garza revolution are preferred by Mexicans, who, though residing in Texas, disavow allegiance to the United States. They are now being prosecuted by the civil authorities for a violation of the neutrality law. Schofield has recommended that no action be taken by the military authorities until the civil proceedings are concluded.

TWO FRESH OUTBREAKS.

[illegible], March 31.—The fire in Mandalay yesterday burned itself out after causing immense damage.

Today there were two fresh outbreaks, the first in the eastern part of the city, had its origin in a cluster of huts. The flames spread a mile, when the wind changed and drove them back to the Low Courts, and thence extended towards the [illegible] Pagoda, destroying a number of large, valuable pagodas.

Tonight a third fire has just broken out in the British cantonment. The flames are raging furiously. It is impossible to make an estimate of the money loss, but it will be immense.

The fire raged fourteen hours and burned over an area of two and a half miles. There is no loss of life, but many thousands are homeless and extensive relief will be necessary.
