ment of a long line of Salt Lake riders in waiting to take the package to the capital to the governor's signature.

Arrangements for the run through Utah were in the hands of a Salt Lake man who laid out the route west of the Great Salt Lake, among the same from Terrace on the Southern Pacific to Salt Lake City, thence having Ogden off the route. Ogden wheelmen organized a volunteer division to carry the duplicate package north of the lake through Ogden and succeeded in delivery it to Kelsey six hours ahead of the Salt Lake riders. A heavy rain on Thursday made the short route impassable and the Kelsey manager decided to change the route, having the riders go through Ogden to Salt Lake, thus back to Kelsey.

At Terrace a mishap occurred between river rides. There was a game play in which assembled cowboys participated. The package fell into the hands of Ogden riders and was landed at Kelsey at 11:22 a. m. ahead of time, leaving Salt Lake City out. Thereafter no route to send riders to the penitentiary for interfering with the mails.

A Reported Held-Up.

Mrs. Joseph Evans, wife of Joseph Evans who had charge of the bicycle race at the Carnival at Ogden, suggested into the police station last evening in a semi-excited condition and reported that she had been held-up while going to her home at 66 Vine street. The woman was considerably bruised but the police officers did not take kindly to the story, they thinking that a little salt should be taken with it, in order to help its digestion.

M'KINLEY MEN LEAD.

Plainly Proved at a Meeting of the Republican State Committee.

GELD TWO VERY LONG SESSIONS.

Why Cupid & the Peaches and Bun Things Really Will Their Own Way.

The Republican State committee held two long sessions today. The first meeting was held this forenoon and was attended at a meeting. It brought out the fact that the McKinley or gold men had captured enough proxies to give them control. The Bryan members sought to nullify some of the proxies by contending that under regularly adopted rules of the committee, a person holding a proxy must come from the same county as the woman he was desired to represent. This proposition, however, did not prevail. Chairman Dealy promptly ruling it out. Members of the committee were present in person, by proxy or sheet a hearing or absent:

Beaver—Presley Denny, present.
Box Elder—John T. Rees; R. H. Jones, proxy.
Cache—Joseph A. Smith; B. Rapp, proxy.
Carbon—James A. Harrison, present.
Davis—Levi Taylor, absent.
Emery—George Seeley; H. S. McLoughlin, proxy.
Garfield—Thomas Hay; A. L. Thomas, proxy.
Grand—J. H. Shafer, absent.
Iron—John T. Mitchell; L. R. Rogers, proxy.
Juab—Hugh Depriester; J. E. Dooly, proxy.
Kane—John F. Brown; F. W. Cardland, proxy.
Millard—O. L. Thompson, present.
Morgan—C. A. Walker, absent.
Piute—Charles Merrill, absent.
Rich—Wesley K. Walton, present.
San Juan—John Bailey, absent.
Salt Lake—George M. Cannon; H. S. Cannon, proxy.
Sanpete—John L. Ivory, present.
Sevier—James M. Bowlby, absent.
Summit—Thomas Kearns, present.
Tooele—William Spry, present.
Uintah—R. S. Collett; J. C. Graham, proxy.
Utah—R. M. Dorrell, present.
Wasatch—Fred Hayes, absent.
Washington—Samuel Stewart, absent.
Wayne—N. L. Sheffield; D. C. Elstner, proxy.
Weber—Edward D. Wade, present.

The question before the committee is a choice between three propositions, viz: 1. To call the convention to nominate straight Republican electors to support the regular nominees of the Republican convention. 2. To call a separate electoral convention for McKinley electors, leaving all friends of Republicans to unite in State convention for officers outside of the electoral ticket. The latter seems the preferred plan to insure harmony, but no decision was reached at the time of going to press.

J. LE TAYLOR HAS A WAY.

Files a Type Writer Title Which He Thinks Should be Followed, With Chairman Dealy.

John Le Taylor, an avowed candidate for congressional honors on the Republican ticket, who has been devoting a good deal of time to politics, both local and national of late, filed the following plea of procedure with Chairman Dealy this morning and urged its adoption:

Dear Sir—Understanding that your committee is to meet today for the purpose of arranging a call for a Republican state convention, and in view of the differences that have arisen between persons who have heretofore acted with the Republican party, and those who will assume true and steadfast to the party, as to the qualifications of those who are entitled to take part in the coming primaries, I beg leave to offer the following for the consideration of your committee:

"We declare the following to be the true and proper qualifications of those entitled to vote at the Republican primaries, to be held for the election of delegates to the Republican State and County conventions to be held for the coming election, and to entitle persons to act as delegates in the State and county conventions. All such persons shall declare, publicly, at the time of voting at the primary, that they endorse the entire platform of the Republican party as adopted at St. Louis, and that it is their true and bona fide intention to support the same at the polls and to nominate none for office who do not endorse said platform and support his nominees as well as the nominees of the State and county Republican conventions. This rule must be strictly observed and firmly enforced."

I earnestly recommend the adoption by your committee of this regulation, as the only true and practical way of maintaining the integrity of our party. There is only one way to do it, and this is the old and practical business like way the party has always heretofore used. We should not be desirous to be present now opposed to us, and who have openly declared themselves belonging to the camp of our enemies. We can have harmony in no other way, and must stand by our national party ticket, no matter what the result. I have the honor to be sir.

Very respectfully,
JOHN LE TAYLOR.

Republicans Organize.

Mass conventions of Republicans were held in the different municipal wards of the city last night and a plan of organization submitted by the county committee as follows carried out except in one instance to the contrary:

The county committee after mature deliberation and consultation with the chairmen of the municipal ward committees, has decided to recommend a municipal ward organization on the following plan:

First—A committee for each election precinct in the municipal ward of a convenient number, who a chairman and secretary.

Second—A municipal ward committee, to consist of one member for each election precinct, the chairman of a member ex officio to be a member of the municipal ward committee. The First municipal ward has seven election precincts, each of which is entitled to representation in the general ward committee of seven members. This organization will expedite the and perfect complete.

Political Pointers.

Utahisms: Fusion in few states, confusion in the rush.

Prof. J. H. Paul is down from the north today. He intends to leave for Europe next week.

Manti Messenger: The Democrats of Idaho are walking hand in hand with the Populists, giving the silver Republicans the marble heart. We have no reason to expect anything else in Utah, therefore there should be no disappointment.

Ephraim Enterprise: The question of whether or not to endorse the action of the holding delegates to the St. Louis convention promises to prove the rock upon which the Republican State convention will split. It is reported that Senator Brown says the convention will not endorse the colors.

Tintic Miner: Senator Brown was pleased at the McKinley ratification meeting in Ogden last Saturday night. While we do not approve disunity toward a public speaker, it was in this case almost justifiable. Senator Brown's course has certainly merited silence rather than cheers.

The Scandinavian American Central Silver League of Utah will hold a mass meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock at 86, Main hall, where good white metal champions will speak in the English and Scandinavian languages. The hall will be appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Eureka Democrat: The attorney general has found he has no place there summer days. Judging from the number of opinions given out from the office since the new machinery of the State has been put in motion, about every outside caused by those "tough shows" was passed as lawmakers. Instead, he has to be submitted to that office for a legal construction.

Lehi Banner: The Democrat and Populist parties of Utah have made a bad break in turning down Dubois. Their votes indicate they are more after the offices than they are for the good of free silver. Tale is going to have a wonderful telling effect against the silver cause and these two parties. By it the silver Republicans will at once begin to lose faith in those parties and will come to a halt quickly.

Tooele Transcript: While The Transcript is not in politics, we wish it distinctly understood that we are up for the free coinage of silver and the election of Mr. Bryan, who is going so much to bring free coinage about. We are aware that the question may have two sides, like every other question, but we may discuss with our neighbors, but at the present time it has only one side to us, it is free coinage of silver.

Tintic Miner: Joel Shoemaker advises us that he leaves this week for Illinois where he takes the stump for McKinley and the gold platform. Joel expects to spend the single gold standard among the hills and valleys of Utah, but we nonetheless set down upon Mr. Chairman Dealy of the State committee, who prefers a campaign of deceit and dissimulation to one of open fairness. Poor Joel. He will now spend the next three months in vainting himself to the "backers" as a specimen of that rare product, a Utah gulleh.

Eastern Utah Advocate: The Republican county central committee met at Castle Gastle last Friday for the purpose of setting on foot the work of the coming campaign. Only a small portion of the central committee were in attendance. A levy of $1 to each Republican voter was made for the purpose of defraying expenses of the organization. There will hold their convention at Castle Gate. The committee passed the following resolution: "Resolved, That it is the sense of the Carbon county Republicans that we supporting one for state, county or representative to Congress or United States Senate who is not in favor of the unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, but while individually some may differ as the electoral ticket is head of the national ticket, we are not sworn to a full set of McKinley electors to head the State ticket."

Two Dancers Jailed.

Flora Gardner and Maud Pavey, two of the ballet dancers during the recent Carnival of Mardi, were before Justice Wenger today charged with prostitution. Each of them pleaded guilty with apparent glee and the court fined them $10 apiece, in default of which they went to jail. It is said that the girls, either of whom are out of their teens, have been guilty of not only bad conduct themselves, but have used every endeavor to entice other girls to the pursuit of a life of shame.

Building Permits—Health Work—Health Report—Complaints Not Sign—Fall Tax Collection.

The board of county county commissioners met at 2 o'clock this afternoon for an adjournment from Monday's meeting. All the commissioners were present, as were County Attorney Whitlmarsh and County Collector Spencer.

The county clerk was authorized to have printed 500 copies of the rules of the Third district court.

The bond and contract of Willard A. Stewart for the construction of a fifteen span highway combination bridge across the Jordan river between Sandy and Riverton or $990, the work to be completed by October 10, was presented and approved.

The Big Cottonwood Power company made an application to the commission for a franchise in the county under conditions mentioned in the petition. Referred to the road committee with the attorney associated.

James Sampson asked for permission to erect a fence temporarily over the line of the road on lower State street, but his request was denied and the surveyor was instructed to report the name of owners of trespassing fences in that locality.

County Clerk C. E. Stanton presented a requisition for supplies for his office. Granted.

C. P. Talbot of Sandy applied for a free peddlers' license, giving as the grounds for his request that he was 61 years of age and that he has a sickly wife and three children, and that his own health was very poor. The petition was endorsed by Emil Martwicken and others. Granted for three months.

John Brunton sent in a communication declining his appointment as registration agent for precinct 81. Accepted and John Butler appointed.

Building Permits.

The following building permits have been issued during the past week from the building inspector's office:

Greenbelt company, Wasatch block; alterations; $100.

James Hepworth, 561 Fifth East; frame kitchen; $60.

Ed Butterfield, Fifth West near Third South; outhouses, $100.

Poll Tax Collections.

Inquiry at the office of the street supervisor elicited the information that during the past week 241 dollars have been collected in labor and cash to the amount of $187. This is a little better than last week but less than the collections in the same week of last year. Times are hard and people cannot pay poll taxes in cash, but that does not prevent the working of the same equity men who are idle. These are found to be very willing to work the taxes of others, but are the slowest of all to work out their own.

Sign Your Name.

Sanitary Inspector Greenewald has posted up in his office a notice stating that he will not undertake any complaint which is not properly signed with the true name of the complainant. It appears that some individuals complain against their neighbor's premises, but are too cowardly to be known in the matter, while investigation proves the complaints to be without foundation.

Health Report.

The city health department gives out the following report for the week ending August 29, 1896:

Births, 23; males, 14, females 11. Deaths, 10; males 6, females 4. Bodies received from other places for interment here 1. Contagious diseases diphtheria outstanding, 1; scarlet fever 7. Infectious diseases reported for the week, 3; typhoid fever, 3.

SAID HE LIED.

A Prisoner Calls a Witness a Great Big Prevaricator.

John Jensen, a Scandinavian was before Justice Wenger this morning for trespass. The complaint charged that he had unlawfully entered in and upon the premises of the Union Pacific Railroad company without the consent of the owners thereof, thereby rendering himself guilty of a misdemeanor. His plea was an emphatic "not guilty" coupled with an uncalled for statement which the court refused to recognize.

The only witness in the case was the company's nightwatchman who made the arrest, and he testified that at an early hour this morning, Jensen crawled out from a small hole upon which he had been dozing away the silent watches of the night. It was assumed by him that in his eagerness he got a bad lick and broke the seal and bought foreign within its large airy counters.

When the testimony of the witness was concluded Justice Wenger granted the prisoner the usual privilege, by asking him if he had anything to say. "Yes" replied Jensen, as he rose to speak. "Vell, I tink I say tho much, as he a very big liar."

"Sit down" commanded the court in thundering tones, and after the prisoner had settled on the bench, Jensen got his dues to losing fines in the sum of $25.

PARK CITY'S BANES.

The Smuggler Boss Taken Up—Shipments From the Yates Mine.

In its review of the week's doings at Park City, the Patriot says that the bond which the Crown Point Mining company held on the Smuggler from Peter Kreiser was taken up the week, and the amount of the bond ($6,000) paid over to Mr. Kreiser. The money is said to come from the owners of the Crown Point property is ready when the bonds fall due. The same company has secured a two years option lease on the Hawkeye for $50,000.

What appears to be a big ledge was encountered in the Cumberland south last week. Ten feet of the ledge has been cut.

The management of the Columbus deposited of two mineral blocks at treasury stock late week. One block goes to Pittsburg, Pa. Eight more are now at work in the mine, which large work is apparent with each day's opening.

The West Daly's new hoisting machinery was hoisted this week, and after some alterations, worked as smoothly as could be expected.

The first load of ore was hoisted down today (Thursday) from the Yates. It measured about 3,000 lbs. first-class ore. It is expected that Yates will be a weekly shipper from this time on.

The Ontario mill shipped this morning forty-four tons of base bullion, equivalent to 32,000 ounces of fine silver.

Ore shipments from the Stockington samples this week: Silver King Coalition, 491,500; Silver King consolidated, 101,000; total number pounds, 1,093,000.
