the said Sim Douglas and Frank Carter have already been summoned for the term on account of the fact that they have been unable to procure the attendance of certain witnesses. That witnesses material will be affirmed by the said Sim Douglas and Frank Carter will be necessary for myself in order to show that the said Sim Douglas and Carter, or either of them, did not procure me to commit an abortion upon the body of said Evaline Bennett. That to the affidavit of said Sim Douglas filed in this action, the names of certain witnesses are specified, who are necessary witnesses on the trial of Sim Douglas, and who are necessary witnesses for myself upon my trial, and without the attendance of which I cannot safely to trial. I refer to the affidavit of the said Sim Douglas and by such reference incorporate the same in this affidavit. I also refer to the affidavit of said Frank Carter filed in this action and incorporate the same in this affidavit. I am informed by my attorneys that all of the foregoing evidence is absolutely necessary for me upon my trial and that I cannot safely go to trial without the same."

HOLD IT DEAD.

Later Hicks said, so he can neither be prosecuted nor used as a witness.

THE JURY.

This morning the jury was filled and the case will be heard by the following gentlemen: John Gedney, Thomas W. Armstrong, Isaac Brockbank, Jos. Bricker, O. P. Miller, A. L. Greaves, W. J. Hess and Byrom Vogel.

THE ATTORNEYS.

Messrs. Woods and Edwards are conducting the case for McCoy and Messrs. Whitemore and Elliott appear in behalf of the government.

THE MOTHER TESTIFIES.

Mrs. Bennett, mother of Evaline, was the first witness called by the prosecution and identified a photograph of her daughter which was taken about two years ago. Witness testified that her daughter left home on the morning of February 17th in good health.

Cross-examined by Mr. Edwards witness said her daughter was by no means a sickly girl and was always healthy. Her father was opposed to her going out to dances at night and the two therefore did not agree on that matter. Evaline stayed at home mostly at night and was never away except by the knowledge of the witness.

A YOUNG LADY.

Mrs. Celia Bennett Fleming, sister of Evaline Bennett, testified that she saw the deceased on the Thursday previous to her coming to Salt Lake, which was about six or seven months ago. Witness did not live at home recently but saw Evaline probably once a week and her health was always very good. Witness identified the photograph of Evaline. Knew Frank Carter, who accompanied her sister out several times. Knew Sim Douglas but had never seen Evaline in his company.

On cross-examination witness testified that Evaline did a big washing the day before she came to Salt Lake; so witness was informed.

Upon cross-examination of Mr. Whitemore the testimony regarding the washing was stricken out as hearsay evidence, and it was so ordered. Continuing witness said she would know of Evaline having come away from Provo at any time. Deponent came up on an excursion to Salt Lake in the fall of 1895 and stayed away two days. Did not remember of her sister having come home from Salt Lake upon another occasion saying that she had missed the train on the previous evening and had been obliged to stay over night. Evaline never worked overnight for Dr. Allen of Provo.

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

Dr. Samuel H. Allen was called for the prosecution and testified that he was a practicing physician and surgeon in Provo. Witness knew Evaline B. Bennett and saw her alive for the last time about five weeks prior to her death, and she was then in apparent good health. The next time witness saw deceased was on March 5, 1896, in Berg's undertaking parlors in Provo. Witness made a post mortem examination, concerning which Dr. Allen gave expert testimony showing that an abortion had been committed upon the deceased prior to her death, and the details of which therein, as nearly as possible, are as follows:

This witness was being cross-examined when recess was taken.

This Afternoon.

This afternoon the cross-examination of Dr. Allen was continued by Mr. Wood for the defense but no testimony which the prosecution got in the prosecution was not at all weakened by the cross. The direct and cross examination gives the witness to be thoroughly versed in his profession, and his answers indicated that Dr. Allen was given this particular case much to deliberate study.

DR. FRED W. TAYLOR.

Dr. Fred W. Taylor was called by the prosecution and testified that he was a practicing physician of Provo and resident Dr. Allen's name the post mortem examination on the body of Evaline Bennett at Colburn's undertaking parlors in Provo. Dr. Taylor described the conditions which he found upon that occasion, as had Dr. Allen. Asked as to the cause of the conditions which he observed the witness gave it as his opinion that an abortion had been committed and that the conditions discovered had not been the result of natural causes.

A tight cross examination by Mr. Woods took up the space in this testimony given on direct examination.

The case will be resumed tomorrow.

THE GREEN BAG.

Judge Street did not hold court today.

Judge Hiles opens court at 9:30 in the morning.

The board of county commissioners is holding a meeting this afternoon.

The suit of Morrison, Merrill & Co. against Robert R. Snipp and others was today dismissed on the term in Judge Hiles's court.

Coleman Spencer today turned $25,000 into the city treasury as the portion due the city from taxes collected. The money will be used to pay interest and warrants will not be taken up until about November 1.

In the case of the State of Utah ex rel. Marion Richards Jr., State Auditor, vs. Charles E. Stanton, clerk of the Third Judicial district court in and for Salt Lake county, Attorney Andrew Miner today in the Supreme court handed down an opinion ordering that a peremptory writ of mandamus issue as prayed for by the plaintiff and that the latter recover costs. The writ of mandamus will issue today after its preparation by Attorney General Bishop.

MORE FEDERAL TROOPS.

They Pass Through Utah on their Way from San Francisco to Fort Riley and New York.

A good many federal troops are on the move these days in the general readjustment ordered from the war department at Washington. The last detachments to change location in the West were two that passed through Ogden a week or so ago from San Francisco on their way east.

One detachment is bound for Fort Riley, Kansas, and the other for New York. The former is being transported in two tourist sleepers with two cars of baggage and the latter in one Pullman and two coaches of sleepers with three cars of baggage. From Ogden to Chicago they occupy a Union Pacific special train.

A SUNDAY SHOOTING-BEE.

Colored Men Fined for Being Mixed Up in a Gun Fray.

A good representation of the colored populace of Salt Lake was in attendance at this morning's session of the police court, on the occasion of the arraignment of Israel Wines and Andrew Parks, two of the race, who were the principals in a rather exciting shooting-scrape yesterday morning.

From what can be learned it appears that the men met yesterday and as a result of an existing grudge, began to address each other in anything but complimentary terms. Finally the colloquy became pretty warm and Wines pulled out his revolver, a 45-Colts, and clubbed it, or, not, however, as he says, with the intention of killing or even wounding Parks, but with the sole and only purpose in view of getting the other fellow to understand that he was fully prepared to defend himself. When the shooting commenced, Parks, who says he was unarmed, started in run and kept on running until he lost sight of the locality. The thrilling episode occurred on Second South street, behind the Wasatch building, and on hearing the shots Officers Peck and Lund repaired to the scene from where the reports emanated, and arrested both of the men.

They were arraigned this morning on a complaint charging the former, to whom Wines pleaded guilty, while Parks asked for time in which to consult an attorney before entering his plea. The case was therefore continued until this afternoon and the defendants' bonds fixed at $150.

At the afternoon session of court both men were found guilty and sent to jail for 200 days each.

RESENTED THE IMPUTATION.

A Young Man Fights on Being Called a "Jayhawker" and is Arrested.

James W. Fuller was tried in the police court today for assault and battery, found guilty and fined $15, in default of which he went to jail.

The person whom Fuller assaulted was Richard Rogers, who in company with most boys were walking through Commercial street, about 10 o'clock last evening, when Fuller, evidently thinking himself a little smart, accosted the boys and insulted them by applying the epithet in question to them as "Jayhawkers." Rogers resented the imputation by turning around and sharply rebuking the other fellow, whereupon Fuller hit Jim and knocked him on his neck.

The above is the testimony of Rogers which was corroborated by three other young men. Fuller testified in his own behalf and admitted that he called the boys "Jayhawkers" and that having hit any of them. He said he merely gave Rogers "a push" on the breast and he tripped over the sidewalk and fell.

WOULDN'T SEE RAYMOND.

A Salt Lake Newspaperman Talks of Denver's Race of Easy Builders.

Denver Republican: Ray Raymond, the Salt Lake newspaperman whom Dowson refused to meet and talk with, returned to the city last evening from Pueblo. He went to Pueblo expecting to meet David Dowson, the brother who resides in Salt Lake, but will not state whether he came to Denver or not.

"I have been in Colorado for more than a week past," said Mr. Raymond. "And was here in Denver when Dowson confessed. I knew David Dowson had the day come to Grand Junction with a warrant of arrest, and having made a side trip would return to Salt Lake. The wires were put in waiting and we denied that he had ever killed a man. Albert Dowson said yesterday to Chief Russell and informed him that David was innocent and that he would be home in a week. Columbus Dowson Twombly also believes with a like statement. Prominent Utah shippers and railway people, who have only known David Dowson as a boy, have to straighten out the tangled web, and I will other matters aside to do so."

Civil Service Examinations.

The United States civil service commission has ordered that an examination be held by its local board in this city on Saturday, December 5, 1896, commencing at 9 o'clock a. m. for the grades of clerk and carrier in the postal service. Only citizens of the United States can be examined. The age limitations for this examination are as follows: Clerks 18 years or over, and carriers 21 years and under 40 years. No application will be accepted for this examination unless filed with the undersigned, on the proper blank, before the hour of closing business on Saturday, Nov. 21st, 1896. Applicants should be first promptly, therefore, in order that time may remain for correction if necessary.

The commission takes this opportunity of stating that the examinations are open to all regularly citizens of the United States who may desire to enter the service, without regard to race or to their political or religious affiliations. All such persons are invited to apply. They shall be examined, graded, and certified with entire impartiality, and wholly without regard to any consideration save their efficiency, as shown by the grades they obtain in the examination.

For application blanks, full information, and information relative to the duties and salaries of the different positions, apply to

JERAWELL WILLIAMS,
Secretary Board of Examiners, Postal Service.

CONDITIONS IN WAYNE.

A Specially Interesting Weather Report from that Section of the State.

J. H. Smith, Esq., of the weather bureau in this city, kindly furnishes the News with this very interesting letter:

GREEN, Wayne Co., Utah, October 22, 1896.—The weather conditions prevailing for October are those for November. For the last two years the mildest and most genial fall ever known. Wild fowl has not reached us but seen flight. The deer have leave never a single upward and taken off at their own accord. Up to date there has been no frost that would have killed plants. Lucerne is still green and growing, and, in a third cutting. Hitherto unknown in this section, would have seen green for this year. There have been now 3 snows this fall, and we have very little snow and no more years, since little sausage by bear tracks and bears tracks.

Pioneers, generally, are a failure, and in the end few in number, so much so be one to the late spring and a flock of sheep had scattered. In fact, all sensible thing have been eminently well. But Wayne has not seen enough of her own sun.

Some little sickness has occurred, principally typhoid, a few cases fatal.

Reports from Colorado river state that the recent floods have greatly increased with the pioneer mining in that region, the water being abnormally for this time of year, but being low for the season with quicksand, and is well adapted for dredging, and only slightly so, but covered up some of the lower by the last. One especially, discovered, is a profitable one, has cleared out of sand, and and sluicing deposited on it. All reports occur in describing the floods of last month as being terrible.

Mining interest seem to be gathering now energy to all evidence.

RAVING WILDLY.

Mrs. Lizzie Hicks Dead at Her Daughter's Instance.

A case in which a mother has been driven insane over the downfall of her daughter, was that presented at police headquarters late this afternoon.

The attendants on the afternoon session of court were suddenly startled by loud cries emanating from the upper floor of the building, and upon making inquiries as to the source from which it came and the cause thereof it was learned that the wife of Morgan Hicks of Ogden, a middle aged woman, for some days past has been raving wildly in the direction of her daughter, who was taken from her home in Ogden to a house of prostitution in this city by a man bearing the name of Frank Robertson, who about a week ago drove a revolver from the Brown Hotel in Ogden.

The wayward daughter was also at the police station attempting with all her might to get to her mother but her attempts were in vain, the heartbroken parent having been unnerved and almost bereft of her reasoning faculties.

News from Rabbit.

RABBIT, Monroe county, Colorado, Oct. 22, 1896.—It is curious that anything from this portion of the San Juan country appears in your valuable paper, so I thought perhaps a few lines might not be amiss.

The past season has been rather unfavorable to the farmers here, as the water supply has been very limited, and still enough has been raised to supply all our needs and perhaps some to spare in times within our gates.

The health of the people is good as a general thing.

Last Sunday, the 18th, was the 20th birthday of our worthy Bishop, George Hicks, and we, the people, got up for the occasion. About sixty-five people, old and young, gathered at the house of Brother N. A. Decker, a short distance from the Bishop's ranch. At a given signal all started with noiseless tread for the scene of action, preceded by the Weber band. Arriving at the door of the house the band played a session, when the door was opened by the Bishop's estimable wife, and she made a rush for the intruders, where we took the Bishop completely by surprise. He quickly and very-long been arranged and he had not received the slightest intimation of what was going on, although Sister M. H. Hicks, his wife, had a hand in all the proceedings. Talk about women not being able to keep a secret! Well, after hearty hand shaking all around and the Bishop had come to a little, so to speak, a large sized ore chair was presented to him by Sister Nora Hammond, the chair having been donated by some of the members of the ward. When he seated himself in it he said, "Well, it is just as good a fit as though I had been measured for it." Some other fine presents were also given, and a pleasant social time followed, and a supper was carried out which consisted of soups, rectables, instrumental music, speeches, etc., until about 9 o'clock, when a splendid lunch was partaken of, and at 10:30 we began to pick up our empty baskets and other traps and wend our home, having had a most enjoyable time and all wishing Brother Hicks many happy returns of the day.

STATE NEWS.

Iron County Record: Nearly all the threshing is finished in Cedar, and many have started in other work, such as hunting wood, etc. There are but few potatoes to be dug this fall, therefore the task with the farmers is comparatively a light one.

Payson Herald, Oct. 20: Young James Finnigan met with a serious accident yesterday while grooming the machinery in the flour mill. He had was caught between two rollers and crushed at the knuckles. As a result he may lose the middle finger. Chloroform was administered while the injured member was being dressed.

Payson Globe: Dr. Wade was called over to Santaquin Wednesday to set a broken leg for Mrs. Sidney. The lady was with a company of other people from Ogden, on her way to Colorado, by team down to St. George. When on the outskirts of Santaquin, the horses bolted in the wagon in which Mrs. Sidney was sitting, upsetting the vehicle and upset the vehicle throwing the unfortunate lady out, breaking both bones of her right leg just above the ankle.

Horsham Bulletin: At a meeting of the trustees of school district No. 42 said Monday evening the school was reported to be running to the full extent of the school accommodations, the attendance giving good satisfaction. It was decided to charge the Mormon society $1.50 for each of their evening meetings to cover cost of extra lights, and the Union Sunday school 50 cents per Sunday—the proceeds to be a library fund. The district trustees believe we will be able to settle for all vacancies by the first week in November.

Randolph, Rich county, Roundup, Oct. 23: James Marshall is passing some last Sunday and his wife and friends are very anxious about him. He left here last Sunday to go to the ranch. On Monday he was seen to take a woolen blanket, bridle and lariat, but the saddle was not in another horse is missing from the ranch. A strong search party left here today to try and find him. He is a married man with three children and his brother, Dick, says he has acted queer for some time.

Brigham Bugle: Tuesday there was some being a fire at Old Jacob's place in the Fourth ward. Mrs. Jacob's went down to visit her mother, having three little children alone in the house. During her absence a live spark lodged out of the stove and soon a blaze was started in the clothes and a boat. Seeing this, the eldest child, Rosanna, a girl of only five, bravely picked up the smoking towel and carried it outside with it, she then came back and with the aid of a pail of water extinguished the fire in the clothes. Her little words saved the house from burning down. Such presence of mind in one so young is quite remarkable. This is the third or fourth wonderful work of child heroes in Brigham City in the past few years.

Beaver Chipper: South Weber farmers are now busy digging their potatoes and marketing them, being worth 25 to 30 cents per hundred weight. Several carloads of western Lake have shipped this fall, some of it selling as high as a dollar. Little Mapleton is busy in her corner of Salt Lake Thursday to the cart wondering any of the members of Mormonville Church would attend the services of the Methodist church. Parents a day and a night last week Willard Tuttle and his wife were away from home sweeping at her grandfather's when was at the point of death at the time and when they returned found they had been that burglars had entered their house through an unfastened window and relieved them of four silver dollars which were in the bottom of a vase on the mantel piece. Nothing further, however, had been missed.....The Butler Society convention in Butler Hall will be held at Kaysville, October 29, at 10 a. m.

Park City Record: Another of those distressing accidents consequent by the failure of giant powder to explode was a fine of the men Sunday. Charred at Ontario No. 3 mine Saturday, Oct. 24, and John Keeler, one of the best known and highly respected young men in the camp, was the victim. Mr. Keeler was working in a raise and did not think of danger, so all the holes had apparently gone off, but it seems a shot in one of the holes has failed to explode and into it the unfortunate man drove his pick. The explosion which followed struck Mr. Keeler full in the face, cutting him as a frightful manner and destroying the sight of the right eye entirely and injuring that of the left. Drs. Gregg and Wilson were hurriedly summoned and put in the entire morning picking fine rock and dirt from the injured man's head and face. He will be sent to the hospital at Salt Lake.....Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock the news came of Peter Boyle was found lying near the bottom of the old Woodside dump with his head horribly mangled from a charge of shot. The find was made by Charles Hogan and Alfred Adsy, employees of the Silver King mine, while coming from work. The first named gained curiosity after the finding of the body was to the effect that it was a plain case of suicide, that the deceased had committed he blew the top off and then blew the rest out. The coroner's investigation, however, developed a different story entirely, and from a careful examination into the details of the case, the jury brought in a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death from a gunshot wound accidentally inflicted by his own hand. The deceased had borrowed a No. 10 magnum shotgun from a friend early Tuesday morning and about noon started out with the avowed intention of hunting cottontails. Treasure hill. He went up the Ontario canyon and then on to Park Wasatch hollow, where he stopped and talked for some time with M. J. F. Gaynor and Herbert Hyer. After exchanging a cordial time over the old to the Cumberland mine Herb walked out to the mine of the Ontario and Gaynor and Hyer for some time as if in deep meditation, and that was the last seen of him alive. The body was found several hundred feet below the point where he had last been seen, so being in a reclining position, the gun resting between the legs and the muzzle pointing towards the left side of the body. The shot, too, the head was literally blown to pieces, blood, bones and brains being scattered about in all directions. Through the deplorable event Mr. Hers is left with the care of six small children.

MINOR MENTION.

The Rev. Dr. Iliff will deliver an address at McKinley headquarters on Main street this evening.

Daniel Lambert, candidate for commissioner on the Republican county democratic ticket, was in Salt Lake today. Although a resident of a normally Republican county, his chances may be will be elected.

Rev. F. H. Lanson has returned to the East where he has been on a mission as a World's Fair commissioner. The committee on Boat report to Congress that the work done by Mr. Lanson was of the highest character.

Boise Statesman: Col. Coates and the officers and members of company A, Second infantry, arrived in this city yesterday from Fort Douglas, Utah. They were met at the station by a number of citizens and officers from Boise barracks and escorted to their new home at the fort.

THE LAST WEEK.

Six Delegations Scheduled to Visit Mr. McKinley Today.

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 26.—The last week's campaign opened with six delegations scheduled to visit Major McKinley at his home. The first came at 11 o'clock the first arrived, and there has since been a continuous stream of people from the stations to the McKinley home. The first delegation was composed of the railway men's gold standard club of Seymour, North Vernon and Washington, Ind. They for most part were the employees of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern. Their spokesman was O. F. Montgomery of Seymour.

While the Indiana people were talking addressed a large delegation of employees of the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railroad who waiting in the street. This party was introduced by L. H. Kelly, locomotive engineer.

While the Ohio people were here, Indiana addressed, the Illinois and Iowa and some of the boats of New Jersey delegations were heard appreciative the house. The Ohioans crowded the street to the lawns on the opposite side and reviewed the magnificent parade in which Major McKinley lowed his acknowledgments from a table at the front of the yard. A convenience leaves of the New Jersey delegation was exceedingly unfortunate and other matters aside, Fourth Illinois court. The cases were filed with spectators and court officers and given the cash. John S. Green and Newark introduced the New Jersey party.

The first callers on McKinley today were New Jersey delegation. Next came the employes of the Erie railway, each with a flower. These were required for their immediate. One from the east, starting at Hazelville, Pa., to shine of broken cars. The train the week the first which carried from Chicago, consist of of interest another cash. They received the McKinley home some time if Canton and so suddenly filled the yard that it was impossible to reach them from the porch and speaking was done from a table on the lawn.

McKinley endeavored to shake hands with all these visitors, and the work was so great that he was put in the campaign. The delegation was introduced by Locomotive Engineer Mitchell, of North Judson, Indiana.

The next delegation addressed by Major McKinley was composed of twenty-six representatives of the railway mail service, a body of men from Bangor, New England, to whom all the branches of railroad work were represented.

McKinley received the party in the library where an informal introductory address was made by Alexander Robertson of Boston. Members of the delegation were a brief time with Mr. McKinley and later took a drive around the city.

PRICE AND MARKETS.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 26.—The tendency toward a higher price level noted yesterday in the stock market was further emphasized today, the general tone being strong and the change one to modest. The cover has been in the ascendency.

The volume of trading became larger after the opening, the aggregate being 100,000 shares larger than yesterday's entire session. The opening was irregular, a few stocks being marked up a point or more, while others were depressed and opened from a point to a point and a half lower than last night's closing figures. The tone of the market was generally strong, however, and the general tendency was upward, the gains being in most cases larger than the losses. The cover has been in the ascendency.
