A Day of Tragedies in the State of Arizona Placed on Record.

A MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

Partial Destruction of a Dam in Arizona.—Claim Against the U. S. Government, Etc.

The Colorado Magazine has just made its appearance. It is a monthly, and is mentioned to have strong financial backing.

There is complaint from many sections of New Mexico that rain is now needed to put the range in good condition and replenish the water supply.

Sixteen thousand sheep, making nearly four train loads, have lately been shipped from Las Cruces, New Mexico, to the Maxwell land grant.

Judge Henry Layton of Grand Junction, Colo., has disappeared. When last seen he had a large sum of money, and it is feared he has been murdered.

The Gila flood in Arizona is another warning in regard to the necessity of care in the construction of dams, particularly for irrigation reservoir purposes, says the Denver News.

Christopher Allen has been fined $100 and costs at Winnemucca, Nev., for selling whisky to Indians. He paid costs amounting to $40, and goes to jail to pay the fine at the rate of $2 per day.

Mrs. May Pashman, convicted at Butte, Mont., of manslaughter in causing the death of her infant through cruelty and neglect has been sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

This week S. S. Smith, M. L. Enslen and others shipped a carload of some 38,000 pounds of potatoes to Kansas City. They received 25 cents a bushel for them, which is considered a very fair price.—Brigham Bugler.

One of the irrig fights now looming up in the California legislature, says the Northwestern Live Stock Journal, is the effort of the sheepmen to repeal the law providing for a tax of five cents per head in the counties through which the flocks are driven in passing back and forth between the foothill and valley pastures. The foothill representatives are strong for the tax, but fear a big fight against it.

The mail rider between Agua Caliente and Palomas, on the Gila river, reports his experience in a ride for life in advance of the flood last Thursday between the above points, also the narrow escape of children attending school at Palomas. He arrived at Palomas, a distance of twelve miles, to give warning to the inhabitants, particularly those in the school, the children having only time to mount horses, hence the race for life and escape after a run of six miles.

Cassia County (Idaho) Inver J. H. Wise will start the mill at the Dominion Mine as soon as the weather will permit and with the present outlook will have plenty of ore to keep the mill running. Mr. Wise is superintendent and general manager and has full control of the Dominion property, on which we understand he will score no pains in placing in a condition to pay the owners a handsome profit on the investment.

Governor Prince of New Mexico has received a United States treasury warrant for $62,648 in payment of New Mexico's proportion of the direct tax. In a few days more the various territorial institutions to which this money has been allotted will come into control of their shares as follows: To insane asylum, $17,000; school of mines, $17,500; World's Columbian exposition, $17,000; agricultural experimental station in San Juan county, $5,000; deaf, dumb and blind asylum, $5000.

A day or two ago a head of water nine to eleven feet high struck the dam under construction by the South Gila Canal company, near Stanfield, Arizona, said to be the second largest in the world when completed, with such force as to carry away part of the masonry work, piling, pumps and pile drivers. The loss is estimated at $4000, but it is believed the amount will be much greater on further investigation. The dam is situated on the Gila river ten miles north of Maricopa. Work was commenced on it last month, and owing not to receiving animals and tools promptly which were ordered the working force is limited to about 200 men. The loss, therefore, was light.

Caroline Snell has petitioned for letters of administration on the estate of her husband, Richard H. Snell, who died in Stockton, California, August 19th, 1870. An estate of more doubtful value has never found its way into the probate court. It consists of a claim for $3573, which the United States government has been asked to pay out of the tribal funds of the Sioux Indians. The money is claimed to be due for certain live stock of which Snell was robbed by a roving band of Sioux, while en route to this city from Leavenworth, Kas., with his family, in 1864. He traveled overland, and the stealing of the stock took place near Fort Laramie, in Wyoming.

Judging from appearances, says the San Francisco Call, this year will be enormously prosperous one for fruit growers in California. The overproduction of last year's crop, since raisin-growing unprofitable, the quality of the fruit was as good, if not better, than in previous years, but the increased quantity had not been expected and dealers were not prepared to handle it. But now satisfactory arrangements have been made to dispose of the crop at a profitable figure to Eastern markets. At present a very healthy condition prevails in the dried fruit market, and also for canned fruit. These goods can be shipped east at a big profit, much more so than green fruit.

The city of Great Falls (Mont.) has never allowed a Chinaman to remain within its municipal limits. One came in from Helena on Friday afternoon's Great Northern train and began to walk about the streets. It soon became noised about and a crowd gathered to begin a local enforcement of the Gray law sheet of time. The Chinaman was seized and taken across the river, with the injunction not to show his head in town again. Contrary to orders, he returned next evening, went into the Montana Hotel and threw down a $20 gold piece to treat the crowd. The news flew like wildfire and a mob of 500 or 600 was soon after him. Sergeant Moran, aided by other policemen, were soon on the spot. They seized the astonished Chinaman and hurried him off to the county jail. It was a close to see which was quicker, there Riot, the police and Chinaman of the state. Finally he was lodged safely in jail.

Friday last was a bad day in Montana. James Cronkwright of Butte cut his wife and joined her in death by the same dagger, because she intended to leaving home and frequenting a beer hall. His father, Mary, a Kennedy, lives at Highland, Wis. His father, Charles Dicey, lives at Spencer, Idaho. T. L. O'Connor, a miner, formerly of Pittsfield, Minn., committed suicide across the line at Jackson's Ferry, Idaho. Until recently he has run a newspaper at Kalispell. He was out of money and unemployed. Thomas Fitzgerald, a prospector and miner, took his own life by taking morphine at Missoula. John Kinnaman, miner and ex-Sheriff at Bonanza by "Black" Campbell, another miner, in a quarrel over a woman. John Lamberton, a miner, was crushed to death in the East Grey Rock quarry at Butte. Elmer Blair, a railroad resident, fell from Livingston, and died while dancing at a relative's house.
