SELLING OF CHRISTMAS TREES

Can be Legally Marketed Provided They are Grown on Private Property.

Important Opinion by Attorney Van Cott —Food Patrols Can Now Buy Evergreens—Get Ready for Santa Claus.

The prospects are that comparatively few homes in this city will hold Yuletide sentiment to holiday celebration in the shape of Christmas tree with embroidery adornments of toys and other pretty things which so much please the childish heart and mind. The reason for this has already been given in the "News." It is on account of an act passed at the last session of the Legislature making it unlawful for any person to cut, use, have in his possession, offer for sale or convey away from any other premises than his own of Utah any green spruce, fir or balsam tree, under eight inches in diameter except for transplanting.

But this does not mean that Christmas trees cannot be sold although it acts off completely the principal source of supply—that which comes from the mountains. Trees, however, that are raised on private property, according to County Attorney J. Van Cott, may be legally placed on the market, even if they fall below the statutory size. The idea limited of the law, he says, is to prevent them from being cut from the public or State lands.

The main difficulty will be in getting enough trees from private property to supply the demand. The fact is that there is not much private land in Utah where evergreens suitable for Christmas trees are grown. So after all the main effort will be merely effectual enough on the traffic.

A Holiday Dividend.

The directors of the Home Fire Insurance company met yesterday and declared dividend No. 29 of one and a half per cent on the capital of a quarter of a million dollars. The regular period of the payment would be the last day of the year, but the directors decided to distribute it to the stockholders before Christmas, hence it will be paid on the 20th.

Address Wanted.

The "News" is requested to publish the following:

The address of Mrs. Lyrich, late Mrs. Bancroft, of Manchester, England. Her daughter Eliza needs her assistance. Mail box 47 West Collingswood, New Jersey.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, DEC. 15, 1897.

Garden City Notes.

Allen G. Campbell has commenced suit against Philip S. Morse, Albert T. Holden, E. H. Wixon, John Burke, Mathew Cullen and the Morse Mining company to obtain judgment for the proceeds of one-fourth of all the ore extracted from the Mary Ellen, Live Yankee, and the first westerly extension of the Live Yankee mines, situated in American Fork canyon, since the spring of 1895. Plaintiff alleges that he is the owner of a one-fourth interest in the mines mentioned and that said mines have been worked by defendants since the same date; that the defendants have refused and neglected to account to plaintiff for the ores taken out. Brown & Henderson are attorneys for Mr. Campbell.

A grand charity ball will be given in the Opera house on Monday evening, December 20th. The following ladies are a committee to take charge of the event: Mrs. Reed Smoot, Mrs. Wilmarth White, Mrs. James Bowron, Mrs. Celestia Strong, Mrs. Elizabeth Kirkwood, Mrs. E. S. Jones, Mrs. H. J. Richards, Mrs. Emma Schwabacher, Mrs. James Gray, Mrs. Sarah E. Cluff, Mrs. J. D. Dixon, Mrs. Louisa McBride, Mrs. Oscar Young.

Some of the Provo farmers who are foremost the English sparrows and other birds considered destructive, have offered to furnish birds free of charge for the purpose of making war upon them.
