TEACHERS ENGAGED.

Public School Instructors Employed For the Coming Year.

QUESTION OF SALARY GOES OVER.

Proposition for School Children to Participate in Jubilee Exercises—Other Matters.

The board of education held a busy and protracted meeting last night and elected teachers for the ensuing year though the question of salary was not passed upon, it being deferred until next Tuesday evening. The committee on teachers and school work had agreed upon the salary proposition but on a vote of six to four that feature was eliminated from last night's business. The report of the committee as originally drafted, however, is herewith presented. It is not improbable that the schedule will be revised as there is a difference of opinion as to the maximum and minimum compensation. The part of the report referring to the employment of special supervisors will also be given consideration at the next meeting. Mr. Woolley introduced a resolution prohibiting the employment of married women as teachers except in special cases. That matter will also be given attention at the next meeting. A special committee of three, consisting of the president, superintendent and chairman of the committee on teachers and school work was appointed to investigate the feasibility of having the public school children participate in the Jubilee exercises.

TEACHERS AND PROPOSED SALARIES.

The report of the committee on teachers and school work, on the matter of employing teachers and the salaries proposed for the ensuing year, is herewith given fully and correctly in the NEWS. It was not the intention to publish the salary part of the report until officially and finally acted upon but inasmuch as the list is not accurately published in the morning paper it is given space in the NEWS in advance in order that teachers may really know what remuneration the committee recommended for them. The report is as follows:

Gentlemen—Your committee on teachers and school work beg to report that we have had under consideration the re-employment of teachers now in the corps for the ensuing school year beginning July 1, 1897. There are a few names of teachers upon which the committee has not taken final action. We beg to recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the following named teachers be employed for the school year beginning July 1, 1897, at the monthly salaries set opposite their respective names, and after having received notice of the employment that they be required to notify the board of their acceptance on or before June 1, 1897, and the non-receipt of their acceptance will be considered a declination; and that they further be required to enter into such written contract as may be required by the board; provided, that no contract will be entered into with any teacher who is not the holder of a lawful certificate to teach covering the next school year.

And your committee begs also to report that the salaries above recommended are based upon the schedule of last year under which no increase above $50 per month is advised except for merit; the minimum salary being $40 and the maximum $70.

Your committee also states its opinion that in consonance with the experience of past year, enough of the higher salaried teachers will decline to serve, and make room for those receiving low salaries, and so keep the average salary upon the same plane as last year, so there will be practically no increase.

WANTS UNMARRIED TEACHERS.

Mr. Woolley like some other members of the board is opposed to the employment of married women as teachers in the public schools. He has seen effects that are not as conducive to success as might be desired under that practice. He is of the opinion that when a man marries a woman "he is morally and socially bound to support her;" that positions occupied in the schools by married women who have husbands at work had better be filled by single girls who have mothers and brothers and sisters dependent upon them. Anent the matter, Mr. Woolley introduced the following resolution, which was referred to the committee on teachers and school work:

Resolved, That in the employment of new teachers the board of education declares itself opposed to engaging married women for schoolroom service, unless when separated from their husbands and they rest upon their own responsibility.

CHILDREN AND THE JUBILEE.

Superintendent Millspaugh announced that he had been waited upon by a committee from the Jubilee commission asking that the children be permitted to participate in the Pioneer exercises. After some discussion the matter was referred to a special committee of three.

A Moabite's Message.

MOAB, Grand county, Utah,
May 3, 1897.

To the Editor:

We had Father Hatch come here some time ago. He led a life that so endeared him to the people that we met at the meeting house last night to show our love and respect for him, since he intends leaving us in the near future. We had an enjoyable time in speeches, recitations, songs and picnic. His Gentile brethren presented him with a nice arm chair. We feel as if we are going to lose a father to the people. He never considers his own welfare when others are concerned, but is always looking to see what he can do for the welfare of his fellow beings. While we are the losers, others will be gainers. Whether they will appreciate this as we do here in Moab I have my doubts. The general wish of the people is that he will return.

Prospects are for the largest fruit crop we ever have had here. We had a hail storm on the 1st, but it did no damage. The weather was cool last night.

Horn From the Famous Fight With Wild Bulls on the San Pedro.

HENRIEVILLE, May 8, 1897.

To the Editor:

While looking over your paper I notice that there are a good many people who have in their possession as memorials of the sufferings of early days in Utah and also the crossing of the Plains, relics which, when they look upon them, call to mind some of the trials and tribulations which the Pioneers and early settlers of Utah, also the Mormon Battalion, had to pass through. These people are describing their articles in the columns of the DESERET NEWS. My father was one of the bulls from a bull that was killed in the Mormon Battalion bullfight on the San Pedro river, or brook as it is called in the poem, in 1846. This horn has been made into a powder horn, and holds about three and a half pounds of powder. It is a large horn, as it is now, and it has been cut off some at each end. It was the property of James L. Thompson, one of the members of the Battalion, who served his country the entire term of enlistment, and passed through the hardships of that campaign. He lived in Utah and on the frontier nearly all the time up to his death, in March or April, 1891. He died as he had lived, a patriotic American citizen and a true Latter-day Saint.

LESS HARD LIQUORS.

And More of Food Drink In Demand.

At the bars of the better class nowadays there is a call for some hot drink that is non-alcoholic and it is coming to be quite the thing to serve "Postum," the grain coffee, made at Battle Creek, Mich. It is known to be highly nutritious and have none of the ill effects of coffee, or any other unnatural stimulant. As men grow older and wiser the tendency is towards healthful food and drink, leaving the hard liquors to the youngsters who think they can stand anything. Postum "makes red blood" and the time comes to everyone when a rebuilding of blood and tissue along the lines of better health is necessary. There is but one royal road, i. e., through good food and healthful drink.

A reliable grocer will never offer a cheap or weak imitation of a genuine original article because he happens to make a little extra profit. But it is well to observe that when genuine Postum Cereal coffee is ordered, that you get Postum and not a spurious imitation offered as "just as good."

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

From the Fairhaven (N. Y.) Register.

Mr. James Rowland of this village states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her as much good.
