UTAH STATE INDUSTRIAL.

School Board Adopts Many Changes And Innovations for Betterment Of Institution.

ASUIT OVER WATER RATES

Question of Rights of City Council to Fix Tax—Funeral of Mrs. Purdie—Way Weddings.

Ogden, Utah, May 12.—The State Industrial school board held a very lengthy session last evening commencing at 4 o'clock and lasting until 9:30 p. m. with the exception of a short intermission for lunch. A large amount of business was transacted.

The board decided to have the school buildings thoroughly renovated, papered, painted and put in good condition for the summer.

The report of President Joseph and Asst. Supt. Thompson, of their visit to the Whiting school in California, was received and ordered filed, many new ideas on the lines of conducting the school more advantageously were discussed by the gentlemen of their visit.

The appointment of a steward for the school was referred to T. B. Evans, President of the board, and an opinion from Atty. Gen. Breckenridge in which he stated that the board could require from any person desiring to parole any inmate a bond of $100, and the board decided in the future to require such a bond.

Miss Ellen M. Belby who for a number of years has been head matron at the industrial school, was recommended by the board to be retained in the position, tendered her resignation, which was accepted, and Mrs. Oliver M. Knight of Pasadena, Cal., was employed to fill the vacancy at a salary of $50 per month.

The board decided to dispense with the shoemaking department of the school and to install a printing department, believing that the boys will take more interest in the work and make better progress.

It was decided that all the officers employed at the school, excepting the superintendent and assistant superintendent, should wear uniforms in the future, the state to pay for the cloth and the wearer to pay for the making.

The shaving of the boys' heads when entering the school, which has been a custom heretofore, was ordered discontinued.

Mrs. Evans and Conroy were appointed a committee to accept the lease of a 50-acre farm for two years to be cultivated by the school inmates under the direction of the board.

It was decided to reinstate Louis Beckman who escaped from the school a few weeks ago by knocking down one of the lady matrons and jumping over the wall, since which time he has been confined at the county jail.

New uniforms of cadet grey were ordered purchased for all of the inmates.

The report of Supt. Allison was received, showing at the present time 13 boys and girls under the control of the school, of which number 90 are out on parole and 10 boys and 15 girls are new in the school.

SUIT OVER WATER RATES.

Henry G. Hess, the baker, has commenced an action in the Second district court against the Ogden City Waterworks company to secure a permanent injunction order against defendant, enjoining it from turning off the water at his bakery on Grant avenue. The complaint alleges that the plaintiff is conducting a bakery business, and that he must have water, and that the defendant is the only concern from whom he can secure the supply necessary.

It is claimed that it demands an annual rental for the same $114 which plaintiff claims is exorbitant, as the same is far in excess of any schedules in the city fixed either by contract or by the city ordinance. The plaintiff sets forth that he has offered the sum of $53 in full payment of what he considers he owes the water company, but the defendant refused to accept the same, and plaintiff now asks at the court fix the amount he should pay for the use of the water under the city ordinance.

The question is one of great importance to the citizens of Ogden, as the city council has made certain rates and if the court decides that the rates are valid it will mean much to the people.

FUNERAL OF MRS. PURDIE.

The funeral of Mrs. William M. Purdie, who died Sunday, at the family residence, was held at the Fourth ward meetinghouse yesterday afternoon. Bishop's Counselor H. W. Gwilliam, officiating. The service was rendered some very beautiful music and songs were sung by Miss Maud Belay, entitled "Sometime, Somewhere, Well Understand," and Orson Griffin sang, "O Lord, My Father, My Father."

The noble, upright life of the deceased was eulogized by Elder Archibald McFarland, Patriarch George W. Larkin, Bishop James Waterspoon, Elder John A. Boyle, Hyrum Holman and H. W. Gwilliam. A wealth of beautiful floral tributes, large attendance of sympathizing friends and the many words of kindness spoken were evidence of the high esteem in which she was held in the community. Elder H. SUMMIT.

DEATH OF JAMES DALLEY.

Respected Pioneer Survived by a Family of 203.

Special Correspondence. Summit, Iron Co., May 8.—Our little town was called on to mourn the loss of one of our veteran pioneers, James Dalley, who died April 8. Mr. Dalley was born Dec. 20, 1822, at Leominster, Herefordshire, England; was baptized Sept. 17, 1841, a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints; arrived in Utah in 1852. He first made his home in Draper, and came to Iron County in 1853, first locating in Cedar. From there he went to Johnson Park, thence to Summit, where he has lived for the last 46 years. He is the father of a large family, has left 36 children, 13 grandsons, 24 great grandchildren.

Elder Dalley has filled many positions of trust and has always been an active worker in the priesthood, and was loved by his numerous family.

Among the speakers at his funeral was Elder George Spillbury, who baptized him in the Jordan River, and other speakers were Thos. Durham, Charles Adams and Wm. C. Mitchell of Parowan, all of whom had been associated with him in his early life. There were seven of his sons here at the funeral, and his posterity is scattered in almost every state of Zion.

The town of Summit has not many changes, yet the people are prospering, and have fine crop prospects this year, as there has been more moisture than in years, and the storms are still with us.
