SHOT AND KILLED A ROBBER.

High Rate in San Francisco Theaters—Hurl by a Nail in His Foot—A Baby Drowned.

San Francisco has passed an ordinance prohibiting high rate in theaters.

At Korty, Oregon, last Saturday night, two men, who attempted to rob the safes boxes of the Gilmore & Bauer placer mine, were shot by Nightwatchman Champ Payne. One of the robbers was killed instantly and the other was fatally injured.

Joseph Perlesis, a Swiss dairyman, committed suicide Monday in Bano, California, by shooting himself with a shotgun. The whole charge of No. 6 shot entered the ear, killing him instantly. Perlesis was intemperate, and has been very despondent for four years.

In the mountains, six miles from Hayesville, Washington, and three miles from a trail, Chester W. Probee, general auditor of the Pontiania railroad, fell dead of heart disease Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Probee was a native of Plymouth, Michigan. He leaves a widow and three children.

Laramie Boomerang, May 26: D. H. McGrath, the Union Pacific agent at Sherman, came down on the morning train to have his leg and foot treated. About a week ago he stepped on a nail which ran into his foot. He did not think much about it at the time, but today his leg is swollen from above the knee to the foot to twice its normal size, and it is feared that it will have very serious trouble with the member.

Michael Boyce, an old man, who was employed by the Towles Lumber company, San Francisco, was struck by a switch engine Tuesday evening and died shortly afterward. Boyce was engaged in loading a freight car with lumber when the accident occurred. He was found lying alongside the track in an unconscious condition and removed to the hospital. A few minutes later he breathed his last. His skull was fractured.

Alexander Lindstrom, the two year old son of John Lindstrom of San Francisco, was accidentally drowned in a pool of water Monday. The child was playing with some companions in a lot where a house is being built and fell into a pool of water four feet deep that is being used to mix mortar. The other children ran in alarm to Mrs. Lindstrom, but by the time she reached the pool of water and took out the child it was dead.

Some workmen employed in digging a ditch on Orchard street, San Jose, Cal., Monday unearthed three skeletons. There was no sign of a coffin, and the bones are evidently those of Indians, buried many years ago. Skeletons have been found frequently in that part of the city, and many believe that an Indian burying ground lies under the dwellings and streets of that particular section, while others are of the opinion that it was a Spanish burying ground of a much later period.

Senora Isidora Bandini Couts, the widow of Cave J. Couts Sr., of Guajome rancho, Cal., died Monday morning in Los Angeles from blood poisoning, the result of an operation performed upon her foot. She was surrounded by her children and passed away peacefully. Mrs. Couts was one of the last of the historic Bandini family, which was so prominent in California in the early days. She was born in San Diego in 1829, and lived in that county all her life. She was the daughter of Don Juan Bandini, a prominent official under the Mexican government. The father foresaw the result of the conflict with the Americans and took sides with them against the old regime. Isidora, with her two sisters, is said to have made the first American flag ever hoisted in Los Angeles.

Henry Mussenden (colored) made a remarkable attempt on the life of his wife at their home in Oakland, Cal., Tuesday night. Mussenden procured a rope and butcher knife and, going to his wife's room, told her that she had better prepare to die at once. He proposed to strangle and otherwise torture the woman until she should bleed at the nose when she would finish the job. Mrs. Mussenden made up her mind it was time to say farewell to her liege lord, and made a flying leap through a second story window to the sidewalk. She dislocated her left leg and was removed to the hospital. Mussenden was arrested and locked up in the city prison. Mussenden and his wife had not been on the best of terms for some time past. The threatened murder was the result of a recent lively row.

The Donnebrogge mine, located at Broad Valley, a small mining town about twelve miles east of Marysville, Cal., was the scene of a fatal accident at 10:30 o'clock Monday night. Two men named Ed Sherman and Wm. Shea were engaged in preparing a series of blasts in a stope, and at the hour mentioned they proceeded in the usual manner to discharge them. When the match was applied Shea started to retreat to a place of safety and had gone quite a distance when he chanced to look back. He then discovered to his dismay that Sherman had failed to follow him for some reason not explained. The next instant the first explosion occurred and he saw Sherman hurled to the ground and surrounded by flying debris. Though the concussion caused Shea's candle to go out he was undaunted. He had but one thought, that of saving his partner, so he hastened in the face of almost certain death to his rescue. He reached Sherman's body and placed the mangled form upon his shoulder and was hastening away when the other blasts exploded in quick succession. Though the flying ore and gravel showered about the two men, inflicting fresh wounds on Sherman and almost disabling his rescuer, the bottom of the shaft was reached and Shea gave the alarm. The two men were hastily taken to the surface and Supt. Farnum telephoned for Dr. Powell to come at once to assist Dr. Williams, the company's physician. Sherman died before the Marysville physician reached him. An examination of the remains revealed the cause of his death to have been internal hemorrhage, one jagged rock having passed clear through the poor fellow's body. The brave man, who risked his life in a vain attempt to save his companion, received several severe wounds which were dressed. The physician says he will recover.

Montana's Wool.

According to the statistics furnished by the American Wool growers' association, Montana leads all the states and territories of the union in the number of her sheep and in the quantity of wool produced during the last year. In addition to this, the wool of Montana is pronounced to be of superior quality and higher grade than that produced by any other of the newly created western states. The number of sheep assessed throughout the state of Montana for the year 1896 was 2,812,826, which showed an increase of more than 210,000 over the number assessed in 1895.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed, everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

ELY'S CREAM BALM is a positive cure. Apply into the nostrils. It is quickly absorbed. 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; samples 10c. by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York City.

What Sort of A House

Do you like to buy your clothes of?

There are honorable and tricky clothiers—which do you want to go to?

In every sort of business the honorable are few; the tricky are many.

Everyone knows this sign: your money back if you want it.

What is it sign of? Good goods and high dealing.

Our Children's Suits

Are good; they have to be; they must be right or you would bring them back. We could not afford to have suits brought back, so we sell the best for the least money. When you can buy a Childs' all-wool Suit for $1.50, or one with double seat and knees for $2.25, you know the price is right; yes, more than right.

NO NEED TO TRY

Anywhere else for anything in the sporting line. If you can't find it here, it is not in season. That's the kind of a reputation to have. Our Bicycle salesmen have been as busy as bees this season, and judging from the number of Stearns, Rambles and Sterlings running around town we have certainly done more than our share. But there are others—we mean sporting goods. Baseball fever has caught the town and we have everything for a complete outfit. Tennis players can get suited here. Racquets, balls, shoes, etc., in stock. Fishing season will soon be here, and you will need some new tackle. Better come in this week and make your purchases.
