THE CITY'S SEWAGE.

Another Dissertation on The Filth-Polluted Jordan.

EX-COUNCILMAN EWING'S OFFER.

Mayor Baskin's Veto of the Sewer Pump Purchase.—Moran Quotes the Law on the Matter.

There was a great deal of informal discussion in the City Council last night in relation to the disposition of the city sewage and the Mayor's veto of the sewer pump purchasing proposition. The first cause of it is as follows:

"The report of the committee on sewerage recommending the acceptance of the bid of Jones & Jacobs for Bennett Worthington sewer pump and plant, adopted by the Council on the 11th inst., authorizing me to close a contract with Jones & Jacobs in accordance with this bid. I respectfully decline to execute the authority.

"The Mayor then proceeds to give his reasons for vetoing the matter, as published in the NEWS on Saturday evening last. They were reviewed at length by Councilmen Lawson, Moran and Rich last night. Each of these gentlemen took strong exceptions to them. They admitted that, like his honor the Mayor, they favored the gravity system, but it would take at least two and probably three years or even more to get it in working order. The cost would range from a quarter to half a million dollars. One question was, where was the money coming from? and another was what was going to be done with the sewage in the meantime?

Rich declared that 800,000 gallons of filth was now running into the Jordan river every twenty-four hours. With the addition of the new sewage district 1,500,000 gallons would find its way into that stream during the sultry and unhealthy months of next summer unless it could be temporarily disposed of as contemplated by the committee in recommending the purchase of the pump. The Jordan run through the First precinct a great many people lived along its banks. Fevers were numerous in that vicinity. The cows drank water from that filth polluted stream and the milk was sold all over the city. It would and was breeding disease and death and there was no escaping it until something was done—until the gravity system was adopted.

Lawson stated that ex-Councilman Ewing had offered the city 300 acres of land over Jordan free of charge for a sewer farm until the gravity system could be established. It was near the present dumping grounds and would be a boon to the city. It would be a benefit to Mr. Ewing's land. It would be a good thing all round.

Arguments of this kind were made at length. Finally Moran took the floor and declared that there was nothing before the house and read as follows from the Mayor's veto act passed by the last Territorial Legislature:

"Every ordinance passed and every resolution adopted or contract approved by the City Council appropriating or involving the expenditure of money shall, within twenty-four hours after the action of the City Council, be presented to the Mayor for his approval; if he approve the ordinance, resolution or contract, as the case may be, he shall sign the same; if not, he shall return it with his objections in writing to the city recorder, who shall present the same to the City Council at the next regular meeting thereof."

"Now then," said Moran, "the Mayor has not returned the contract or the vetoed paper of this Council—and the matter is therefore not before the house."

The chair held that Moran was correct, and the veto was laid on the table until Friday night.

Band Re-union and Supper, Logan.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Thatcher, Jr., was, last evening, a scene of merry festivity, the occasion being a social gathering of the Logan brass band. The band has been organized about two years and is one of the most popular musical organizations of Utah. Its members are sixteen in number, the personnel being as follows:

George W. Thatcher, Jr., leader and E flat clarionet; Roy Carlson and Lee Thatcher, B flat clarionet; Hal Farr, piccolo; A. Nixey, oboe; Carl Lundeberg and W. H. Sandels, cornets; Jess Karr and J. England, alone; H. G. Thatcher and F. Fehoy, trombones; J. Walker, baritone; J. P. Smith and Joseph Hughes, tuba; Dr. Ballard, base drum; Frank Thatcher, snare drum.

Those with Mrs. G. W. Thatcher, Jr., Mrs. H. G. Thatcher, Mrs. J. P. Smith, Miss Lena Thatcher, Mr. Charles W. Harris, leader of the Opera House orchestra, and Mr. H. W. Sloan, of Salt Lake City, composed the merry party, which pleasantly wiled away the evening hours with singing, music and refreshments.

FRANK PICKERING.

Logan, Nov. 22, 1892.

World's Fair Meeting.

There was a very interesting meeting of the Salt Lake County World's Fair Association in the old federal court room yesterday afternoon. After the preliminary business had been transacted and the president (Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells) had explained the object of the meeting, Mrs. Margaret Blaine Salisbury addressed the audience, giving information of great interest and urging all present to use their influence towards making the exhibit for Utah a credit to its people.

Mrs. Emily S. Richards, territorial president, followed Mrs. Salisbury, speaking highly of the efforts made by some of the county organizations. She explained as did Mrs. Salisbury, that it would be advantageous to the Territory for any women who had exhibits to make in the general building to make the application for space as early as possible. Mrs. Richards spoke of the silk portieres which the women of Utah are preparing for the women's building. These silks, she said, were of a very handsome and the Chicago ladies were very much pleased with the gift. The silk is of home culture and all the work will be done here.

Mrs. Salisbury has offered a prize of $50 for the design for the portieres, which must be the sego lily, the floral emblem of Utah.

Mrs. Richards referred with considerable pride and satisfaction to the work of Utah county, and to Mrs. Martha Daniels, the president of the woman's department, Utah county. She stated that in Springville alone one hundred and sixty members were enrolled in the local club; likewise she mentioned the large meeting recently held in Logan, and the general interest manifested throughout the Territory.

Mrs. Salisbury read the article on dormitories and made remarks in relation to the subject. She said that women in the East were taking advantage of the offer made by the dormitory committee, and thought it an excellent one. The speaker read a paper on music sent out by the committee on music in regard to singers who wished to obtain an opportunity to appear in the ranks and to be heard during the Fair. She hoped that some of the Utah ladies would come forward and enter the lists.

After reports from committees and remarks by Mrs. Weiss in reference to the representation for Utah the meeting adjourned until Tuesday, December 13th, at 3 o'clock p. m., at the same place.

The regular meeting of the county board of directors will be held on Friday, November 25, at 3 p. m., at the office of Mr. Frank Jennings, in the Emporium building, corner of Main and First South streets. A full attendance of members is earnestly requested.

Logan Jottings.

A daring burglary occurred in Logan Sunday night. Wendelboe's jewelry store was broken into and relieved of a large amount of valuable goods. Entrance was effected by breaking the large glass in the front window and creeping in through the front show case—a kind of glass chest in the window. It opened with a sliding panel and it was through this the thieves must have entered. The empty trays were found next morning back of the fitting house. As nearly as can be estimated fifteen watches were taken, also sixty watch chains and an equal number of charms. Twenty-five pairs of gold cuff buttons and numerous knives and forks are also on the missing list. The total loss is not far from five hundred dollars. Mr. Wendelboe suspects an individual whom he saw several times on Saturday lurking near his place and examining the goods in the window with unusual interest. A description of the man has been furnished to the police.

Mr. Ole Larson, landscape gardener, of Logan, has drawn a plan of Apostle John W. Taylor's residence grounds at Salt Lake. The design is very beautiful, says the Journal, and when Mr. Larson completes his work of laying off and planting the plat, there will not be a finer place in Utah or the west.

PREPARING TO ISSUE BONDS

The Street Railway Companies Make a Joint Appeal.

THE COUNCIL WILL LISTEN TO IT.

An Extension of Twenty-five Years on All Franchises Asked so that Money can be Borrowed.

The Salt Lake City and the Rapid Transit Street Railway companies have sent a joint communication to the City Council, which that body will meet to consider in special session on Friday night next.

The companies represent that they have in this city during the past three years expended vast sums of money, the result of which has been to afford employment to large numbers of men and to facilitate the growth of the city and its suburbs. They say that a considerable amount of the money has been expended in the construction of permanent improvements in the nature of track and equipment and in paving and sidewalk crossings, necessitating the outlay of money far in excess of the income from passenger traffic. They further represent that contemplated municipal improvements in the near future will compel the outlay of large sums of money for street grading, street and sidewalk crossings, which will be far beyond their present income.

As to the money heretofore expended the companies represent that it has been advanced by the stockholders of the respective corporations, of whom the greater part are residents of Salt Lake. In order to keep pace with the city's growth and improvements it is claimed that more money will be required than can reasonably be expected from them. This being the case it has become necessary for them to bond their indebtedness by issuing their bonds upon their properties to a much greater amount than that for which they are now bonded.

The ordinary term of loans such as they desire to make, is for a period of twenty years. Regarding this the companies say that in attempting to float their bonds the objection is invariably raised by Eastern capitalists that their present franchises expire before the date of the maturity of such bonds, and that no reasonable assurance can be given that an extension of the expiration of existing franchises, extensions from the city can be obtained. They therefore ask that by an appropriate resolution or ordinance the period or term of all their franchises as they now exist, be extended for twenty-five years from the present date. With this extension the companies say they will experience no difficulty in disposing of the contemplated issue of bonds. This done they say they will be able to proceed with the construction and equipment of their lines. They say also that had the territorial statutes permitted it their recent franchises would have been granted for a period of twenty-five instead of twenty years.

OCCURRENCES AT OGDEN.

Additional Particulars Concerning the New Gas Wells.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC SHOPS.

Weber County World's Fair Association.—Filing of Civil Suits.—Other News.

(Ogden Standard.)

The tank of Brigham City is the plaintiff in an action commenced against L. H. Berg and others, on a promissory note of $500 with interest.

L. P. Southworth yesterday received a car of Canadian theodoi bucks for use in his herds, which are now ranging between Blue creek and Bear river.

Three car of beef cattle from A. D. Shurtliff at Idaho Falls, reached Ogden yesterday morning. The steers were driven to Weber valley where they will be fed for the Christmas market.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Albina Green, wife of Amos Green of West Weber, were held yesterday in the West Weber meeting house and the interment took place in the city cemetery.

The motor line from Five Points to the Springs will be opened and ready for traffic by December 1st. The road has been leased by several local gentlemen and will be fully equipped with improved rolling stock.

Tomorrow William Hasenohr & company, clothiers, will dine the newsboys of Ogden at the Congregational Church dinner, which will be served by the ladies in the First National bank building.

John A. Boyle has brought suit against Sidney Stevens for $2750 alleged to be due on a land transaction wherein the plaintiff defendant, Caleb B. Hank and James Pierson were parties, the property transferred being the Ogden Clay company's plant.

Master Mechanic Small of the Southern Pacific and several other officials of the same road, arrived in Ogden yesterday morning and spent the day looking over the pioneer engine for the shops. Yesterday $10,000 of the $50,000 asked by the company as a bonus, was obtained from one source alone and the balance of the sum is guaranteed so that the shops for Ogden are now assured.

At the meeting of the county court yesterday Hon. L. R. Atkins, on behalf of the residents of Hooper, asked that an additional appropriation of $100 be made to apply on the roads in the district. The matter will be considered later. The county clerk filed his report showing the indebtedness of the county during the month of October to be $2399.44, and from January 1st to date $84,125.61.

Today Dawes & Rogers, attorneys for the Bear Lake & River Water Works company, will file a suit against Ogden city to recover $1,000,100 taxes, paid by the company, under protest, into the treasury of the city. The plaintiff takes the ground that under the statutes of the Territory all water works, canals and waterways are exempted from taxation.

A. E. Hanks, of Salt Lake, a lad of sixteen, was brought up from the capital city yesterday afternoon and placed in the Reform school. Ray Westwood, of Springville, was also admitted to the school. He is the young man who stole $125 from his father about two weeks ago, and was captured in Salt Lake City when spending his wealth in taking to the town. He was taken to Springville and pleaded guilty when taken before Justice Boyer. He was bound over to await the action of the grand jury, but upon application of his father was sentenced to the Reform school.

The Weber County World's Fair association held a meeting last night in the county court rooms. Interest in such a cause never flags and the gentlemen present were very enthusiastic and declared that this county shall be properly represented at the Fair. Many matters in connection with the proposed exhibit for Weber county were discussed and in order to get a more full expression from the outside settlements it was decided to call another meeting for Friday night in the federal court room.

The rig irons for the gas well derricks arrived yesterday and the first derrick will be erected today. It will be twenty-four feet high and be a duplicate of those used in the Ohio gas fields. The exact location of the first well to be put down has not yet been decided upon but it will be somewhere in Wilson's lane and probably very near the small spouter which was cleaned out and lighted on Monday. Since that time the gas has continued to escape with a great pressure and the flame still retains its original height, brilliancy and heat. Mr. Stephens is, however, of the opinion that as the pipe has no solid foundation the pressure of the gas will cause it to clog and fill up with sand and gravel. A smaller small pipe will be driven down near the location of the proposed large well in an endeavor to find water and gas.

The hearing of the damage case of P. H. Allred et al. vs. Salt Lake City, wherein $25,000 damage are claimed for alleged injuries to a spring and wells on the Allred farm near Lehi by reason of the defendant pulling down a large number of weds near the farm, and on the opposite side of the Jordan, was resumed yesterday morning before Judge Miner. The jury spent Monday looking over the ground in contest and making experiments. Arguments were made for the plaintiff by Messrs. Sutherland and Evans, and for the defendant by City Attorney Hoge and Assistant Cond. The speeches occupied nearly the entire day, and the judge's charge was not made until about 5 o'clock. The jury will return a sealed verdict this morning.

A FATAL FALL.

John J. Comber, a Stone Mason, Meets with Injuries Which Result in Death.

Late yesterday afternoon a stone mason named John J. Comber lost his balance while working at an elevated position on the joint city and county building and plunged headlong into the basement, a distance of about 45 feet. He was rendered insensible by the suddenness and severity of the fall but his fellow workmen gathered around his prostrate form and soon restored him to consciousness. Strange to say no bones were broken, if such became apparent, however, that his injuries were fatal and he died at four o'clock this morning.

The body was removed to the Utah Undertaking establishment, where an inquest was held this afternoon.

The inquiry revealed the fact that the deceased was one of the most careful workmen employed on the building. His occupation was that of principal derrickman, and he was engaged in placing a stone, weighing between five and six hundred pounds in position, when the tongs with which it was held slipped and let it fall on to a scaffold some distance below. Unfortunately Connors slipped and lost his balance. He threw up his hands in an attempt to recover himself but failed and followed the rock in its fearful velocity to the bottom. He struck an iron girder on the way down and was consequently hurt up in.

The deceased was a native of Ireland, and twenty-eight years of age. It is not known whether he was married or not, but it is believed he had a divorced wife and one child in Kansas City. Among his effects was an unfinished letter, which commenced with the words: "Dear father and mother." There was nothing in it, however, to indicate where they resided.

A bank book found in his valise shows that he made a recent deposit of $100 in Zion's Savings Bank. He was insured in the American Employers' Liability Insurance Company for $2500. This amount is carried by every man on the joint city and county building.

The funeral services will be held from the parlors of the Utah Undertaking establishment tomorrow forenoon at 10 o'clock.

The jury found that the deceased came to his death by internal injuries sustained by the fall.

AROUND THE COURTS.

The Damage Suit Against the R. G. W. Taken Up this Morning.

CASADY CALLED UPON TO PLEAD.

Notes on Passing Events in Legal Circles.—A Storekeeper Fined for Assault.

Taken up at two o'clock yesterday afternoon before a jury in Judge Zane's court, the trial of the action brought by Frank Leake against the Rio Grande Western Railroad Company was resumed this morning. As was stated in yesterday's NEWS, the plaintiff seeks to recover from the defendants the sum of $25,000, for injuries received at Bingham canyon on July 11th, 1891. While plaintiff was hauling ore from cars on the company's line of railroad, a train of cars was run down a steep incline, injuring Leake to such an extent that one of his legs had to be amputated, one of his horses was killed, and the wagon partially demolished. Negligence and want of proper care are attributed to the company's servants.

This morning further testimony on behalf of the plaintiff was adduced, and the chances are that the case will not reach the jury until a late period of the afternoon.

ARRAIGNMENTS.

Chet Palmantier was arraigned on a charge of fornication. He waived the reading of the indictment and plead not guilty.

Mattie Sharp and Wm. H. Canaty were likewise arraigned—the former on a charge of fornication and the latter on an indictment charging him with adultery. Both entered a plea of not guilty, waiving the reading of the indictment.

The date of the trial was not set in either case.

SHORT ORDERS.

In the case of the Douglas Shoe company vs. George A. Alder et al., the motion to intervene for creditors was allowed.

The motion to dissolve attachment in the suit of Payne & Lyon vs. the Salt Lake Mill and Elevator company was submitted on affidavits, by agreement between counsel, and taken under advisement by the court.

The demurrer was withdrawn and ten days allowed to answer in the matter of Kathinka Fritsch vs. Francis Fritsch.

COURT NOTES.

Time is passing, but the name of Judge Anderson's successor has not yet been made known.

Judge Anderson was moving among his brethren of the bar in the Third District court today.

It is now positively settled that Marshal Benton will assume the duties of his new office on the first day of December.

Judge Powers is still very sick, and although he nominally took part this morning, as one of the counsel for the plaintiff, in the damage suit against the Rio Grande Western railroad, he expressed the fear that he would not be able to hold out all day.

Tomorrow being Thanksgiving day, there will be no session of the Third District court and the clerk's office will remain closed.

The civil calendar of the Third District court has again fallen into arrear. The help of a second judge would doubtless be greatly appreciated at this time by Chief Justice Zane, who finds it a difficult matter to cope with the superabundance of court work on his hands just now.

There has probably never been a time when damage suits have fallen so thickly around the Third District court as within the last few months.

THE STOREKEEPER FINED.

The case in which Doctor Riggs charged George Henry, the State street storekeeper, with assaulting him on Monday afternoon, was ventilated in Commissioner Greenman's court yesterday afternoon. The hearing did not finish, however, until late morning, and when all the testimony on both sides was in the commissioner adjudged Henry technically guilty of assault. The fine imposed was 10 cents and costs, but the latter were heavy, and brought the entire bill up to $19, less a few cents. The money was paid.

TERRIBLE ITCHING.

Cured Everything Five Months. In Three Weeks not a Scar or Pimple. Cured by Cuticura.

When my baby was three months old, his troubles commenced. Pimples appeared with white scales on and around them. It is now very itching and burning, which was terrible. After he would rub it, blood would follow the scratch. In a short time it spread over the head so he was a fearful sight. We used every thing we could hear of to cure the trouble, but it grew worse all the time. Took our baby above mentioned to the Cuticura Hospital, as we thought it the Chicago Wonder. We used Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent and compound them and in three weeks time there was not a sore or pimple, and not one to have, we hold to be a lasting cure. We feel we owe our lives to the Cuticura Remedies, and can not speak too highly of them. The origin, a specialist said he had a terrible form of disease. The parents are certain of disease.

MRS. OSCAR JAMES, Woodson, Kan.

My infant, eighteen months old, was afflicted with skin diseases, so we did not dare take it out of doors. All remedies failed until I commenced Cuticura. Cured in a few weeks. Cuticura Resolvent, the new blood purifier, internally, to cleanse the blood, and Cuticura Soap, externally, to clear the skin and scalp and restore the hair, were used throughout. It seems strange that such agonizing torture should be endured, but, thanks to all good, disfigurement, anxiety, care and expense have made each succeeding day more happy.

MRS. A. H. WALKER, Gainesville, Ga.

Cuticura Resolvent.

The new Blood Purifier, internally (to cleanse the blood of all impurities and poisonous elements), and CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and Cuticura Soap, an exquisite skin Beautifier, externally (to clear the skin and scalp and restore the hair), have cured thousands of cases where the suffering was almost beyond endurance, hair thinner or all gone, disfigurement intense. What other remedies have made such a marvelous record?
