FRAGMENTS.

See notice elsewhere of jewelry lost by Mrs. Dyer.

The mammoth copper cornice on the Dooly building is now complete and the scaffolding has been removed.

The nail steel conducted by an Indian named Cocoa, on east Second South street, was attached yesterday afternoon for a debt.

The fourteenth anniversary exercises of the Twenty-first ward relief society will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Parents invited.

The immense compliments have paid ever since to Messrs. Grundwald and Houghton for their decorations by fire to their Lace House property.

The county clerk has issued marriage licenses to Charles C. Christensen and Lucy A. Hale; Alfred Higgins and Mary Ann Bowen; Louis Kirkpatrick and Anna Rasmussen; Reuben Jacobson and Alice Hurtle.

A preliminary sale was being hosted in the fifth story of the Commercial block yesterday afternoon when the floors at last tested the Deseret gathering and it fell to the ground with a terrific crash. Fortunately no one was hurt.

The concertina with which a man on the Fifth ward stage on Thursday night brought with them a quantity of home made music, the last of which they had forgot to take it away. It was evidently used to assist the sound of the explosion.

At Gladden Hall last evening the third fortnightly entertainment of the season was given to considerable number. The Patrons Order Sons of America. The picture on this occasion was the Mr. Lane, whose subject was "Imagine Thanksgiving Our Country."

There will be a real eclipse of the moon tomorrow, November 16th, visible more or less in Europe, Asia, Africa, North and South America and the Atlantic and eastern Pacific oceans. According to moonlight time the eclipse will enter penumbra at 3:16 p.m. and leave penumbra at 9:32 p.m.

A crowd assembled at the grocery store on the corner of Market Row and West Temple street took place yesterday afternoon. The concern was under the management of Mr. G. W. Davis, in spite of Dunkley & Co., of American Fork. The lightning rod and general agent's name is not known, but it is thought the stock only took root in value. Charles Solomon is the assignee.

On Monday evening next (November 17th) there will be a grand concert and ball given in the Twenty-second ward meeting house, in honor of Elder Matthew Noall and his wife, who are about to leave the city on a mission to the Sandwich Islands. The concert will commence at 8 o'clock. The music friends at Brother and Sister Noall will be doubly glad to have an opportunity of this exceptional opportunity to pass an enjoyable evening and at the same time show their respect for the worthy couple before their departure.

A session of the Federal Trades and Labor Unions was held last night at which the usual trade reports were made, showing quite a number of unemployed men in the city. There was a resolution adopted from the Typographical Union, which was introduced by a delegate from that body, to notify the publishers to comply with the request contained therein, and the following was adopted: "That the Federal Trades request the proprietor of the Labor Bulletin to cease referring the Blue Ribbon organ of the Federal Trades, to the head of the column for the reason stated in the communication."

Personal.

Col. Mason, an officer of the English army, and wife, are at the Knutsford.

C. E. Spalding, a Rawlins, Wyoming, newspaper man, is at the Clifton.

City Jailer George Dilworth is at home threatened with an attack of typhoid fever.

Green Miller has returned from Kansas City.

Miss Edith Sherman, who has been visiting a week in Colfax, has returned to her home.

Mr. H. M. Wells, Mrs. J. D. Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Walker have returned from New York and other Eastern points.

J. H. Beatty, representative of the well known firm of Dodge, Beatty & Company, New York, is at the Templeton.

A party of sixteen persons from Winnemucca are at the Morgan en route to the coast.

Amusements.

"Colonial" was witnessed again last evening by as large a house as any of the two preceding nights. It seems to have established itself in the estimation of the Salt Lake public. At the matinee there was quite a large and full house. The sale of tickets indicate that tonight's performance, which closes the engagement, will be witnessed by an unusually large audience.

A BRUTAL MURDER.

Romanville, Juab County, the Scene of the Tragedy.

On Sunday, the 1st inst., a man named James C. Murphy, was cruelly murdered at Romanville, a small village near Goshen, in Juab county, and up to the present time his slayer has not been arrested. On the date named, Murphy, the deceased, and several other men employed on the Tintic narrow railway were drinking together at a saloon. A dispute arose and Murphy received a blow from Neal Jolly (the striking tool mentioned, and on the following evening Murphy was discovered in an old adobe structure in close proximity to the saloon. He was unconscious, and so remained until his death, some days afterwards. The unfortunate man's head was nearly cut, the skull was crushed and the left eye completely gouged out. It was the opinion of Dr. Lockhart that the wounds were made with a sledge hammer shovel, and the result became twenty minutes hours. Nothing was found in the deceased's pockets besides a $10 receipt for $5, dated at Madison County, Montana, and a Union Castle express check. He was unknown among his fellow-workmen.

A coroner's inquest was held over the remains on Tuesday and a verdict rendered to the effect that deceased came to his death by being struck over the head with a blunt instrument by some person or persons unknown.

Though at present working without a clue, the police are hopeful that they will be able to make an arrest shortly.

THE HOLD-UP SQUAD.

A Man Robbed Under the Guns of the Old Guard.

Last night between the hours and 11 o'clock, an individual named W. Dermott, who keeps a cigar stand on West Second South street, was held up in front of his establishment, the corner of Main and Fourth South streets, by a couple of desperate looking highwaymen.

He made an effort to defend himself, but a tap on the head from the butt end of a revolver made him perfectly submissive. The men then levied a valuable gold watch and about $5 in silver. When the thugs departed he hastened to police headquarters and informed the officers. Of course the footpads are still at large.

Third District Court.

Saturday is generally a "blank" day in the Third District Court, and this morning proved no exception to the rule. Judge Zane sat for about an hour and a half and heard several motions of an unimportant character, the following being the orders issued by his Honor:

In the case of Wm. L. Pickens vs. Wm. A. Hills et al., the motion of defendants to vacate the order of the court was set for Wednesday, the 19th inst.

The action of Geo. D. Retell et al. vs. Martin Devine has adjourned. After Deputy Dickson informed the Judge this morning that the defendant in the suit died some months ago, and therefore the action should be dismissed, it was noted that it is now dismissed. The case, which was one of alleged false imprisonment, was ordered stricken off the docket.

Reuben G. Berry vs. A. J. White et al. Motion for confirmation of the report of Referee Sutherland and objection of plaintiff to said report, were argued by Judge Lindquist on behalf of the plaintiff and by Mr. Putnam for the defendants, and submitted.

In the case of Jacob A. Dayton vs. Alex Johnson et al., leave to answer was granted.

The case of Charles S. Varian et al. vs. the Centennial Eureka Mining company, was dismissed by consent of plaintiff.

James Watson vs. W. B. McKenzie, suit dismissed by the court.

George J. Spencer, Charles Cooper and Carl A. Lundell were admitted to practice law.

It was shown which before Judge Anderson took his seat on the bench this morning, and the business to come before him did not then promise to be of any public interest.

Judge Anderson, this afternoon, in the case of Lucinda O. Hooper et al. vs. the Salt Lake City Railroad company granted the motion for a new trial. It was an action for personal damages.

COURT NOTES.

Judge Anderson yesterday afternoon, in the case of U. C. Mills et al. vs. S. C. Christensen, granted a motion to dissolve the attachment and overruled the demurrer. The same order was made in the case of J. H. Johnson et al. vs. S. C. Christensen.

In the divorce case of Glendora Watson vs. H. B. Watson, in which the plaintiff was recently granted a decree, the statement is made for a new trial was settled.

In the case of L. C. Trent vs. L. O. Hardy, the defendant was ordered to show cause on December 2 why an injunction should not be granted.

In the case of G. D. Amos vs. William Roberts et al., the answer was withdrawn.

The case of Lucinda Clark vs. Irvin Hotchin et al. was continued until Monday.

In the divorce suit of Maria J. G. Spear vs. J. G. Spear, the defendant did not appear and a decree of divorce was granted on the ground of failure to provide.

Commissioner Greenman yesterday afternoon united in marriage Charles C. Christensen of this city and Lucy A. Hale of Big Cottonwood.

Students' Society.

At last night's session of the Students' Society, Dr. Talmage gave one of his entertaining and instructive lectures on the Sabbath. A number were seated, the house was well filled.

The class sang "The Skylark" and the opening prayer was offered by Edwin Dibble. The subject of the doctor's lecture was "The Sun, Moon and Stars." It received graphic treatment at his capable hands. He considered that a study of God's works contributed to man's elevation, and to be acquainted with the distant papetary bodies was, in his opinion, to be truly educated. The development of a child's mind was briefly referred to first, the mind doubtless thinks the room in which it opens its eyes is the only one there is. But gradually as it grows older it finds that it is only one of many apartments, and that that room is on a street of many streets. Later, the child passes into school, and as it learns of its superiority, it also finds, in gazing at the numerous world above, its own inferiority. The speaker then traced the history of the science through the Chaldeans, Chinese, Phoenicians and Greeks to the medieval and modern nations. Some splendid fantasies were brought into play and the lecturer proceeded to explain thereby. Added interest was lent to the entertaining subject by the relation of incidents connected with astronomical developments. The lecture was concluded by a masterly recitation of De Quincey's translation from a celebrated Greek poem. Paul Bechler bearing on the subject.

The choir sang and the society was dismissed with prayer.

The Insurance Paid.

Governor Thomas having received prompt attention from the Home Fire Insurance company of Utah on the loss sustained by the fire at his organ residence has received the following letter to the agents, which needs no further explanation and which is a splendid advertisement of the Home Company:

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 14, 1890.
Home Fire Insurance Co., Agents Home Fire Insurance Company of Utah.

Gentlemen: I wish to thank you for your prompt and liberal adjustment of the loss on my which occurred in my residence on Friday last.

I am glad to know that Utah has an insurance company which is in every way worthy the confidence and patronage of our citizens.

Sincerely hoping for your continued prosperity, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
ARTHUR L. THOMAS.

THE RO[illegible]

Great Preparations to Make it a [illegible]

[illegible] and hall in the [illegible] ... as an entertainment, but it [illegible] and secure. The enterprise is a worthy one, for the help of the sick and the afflicted, and those who are charitably disposed should avail themselves of this opportunity to do good to this benevolent institution, and have an enjoyable evening at the same time. The Young Ladies' Mutualite Club have kindly consented to appear during the evening and play some of their choice selections, which will be an added attraction. The rooms will be tastefully decorated for the occasion, and booths will be fitted up draped, etc. Young girls in artistic costume will sell fancy flowers for sale; also home made candy. Misses Nell Clawson, Allie Davis and May Jennings, who are accomplished ladies, have charge of this department. There will also be a rustic stall of lemonade. There will also be a children's party, for the benefit of the same institution, on Saturday afternoon, the 21st inst.

The following named ladies and gentlemen will act as a reception committee:

Prof. Samuel Woolley	Prof. William Tyrell
Hon. John Henry Smith	Hon. Wilford Woodruff

An Auspicious Union.

On Thursday, the 13th inst., Dr. Charles M. Cannon, and Miss Ida M. Dayton, were united in the sacred bonds of wedlock, by President Angus M. Cannon, in the Logan Temple.

The bridegroom is the son of President Angus M. Cannon, and is highly esteemed for his excellent character and for his worth. The bride is the handsome and talented daughter of Mr. John Dayton.

A splendid, though quiet wedding reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, in the Twentieth ward last night, at which only the nearest relatives of the young couple were present. No cards were issued and altogether the affair was one of the most quiet and unpretentious of the kind that has occurred in this city.

The NEWS, together with a host of friends, extends congratulations, trusting that the happy couple will glide peacefully and prosperously over the sea of life, with nothing to mar the pleasure of their voyage.

Let Brotherly Love Continue.

The following, which appears in the Ogden Standard of this morning, is a good example for the people of Ogden, Riverside and South Weber in Weber county. Their course forms a good example for others:

The Davis and Weber County Canal Association, through its secretary, takes this opportunity of publicly thanking the companies known as the Uintah, Riverside and South Weber Irrigation Water companies and the individual members thereof, who in a spirit of amicableness and brotherly love granted the privilege for a term of ten days during the period of month of July, all the waters of Weber canyon and its tributaries, which rendered their individual rights of said waters to bridge and dig over the ditch connection of the farmers living in the immediate vicinity, and whose crops would have inevitably suffered had not such relief been afforded. The spirit in which this kindness was bestowed, at a time when the use of the water was so valuable to the farmers, will be always remembered as an act of unselfish devotion and charity towards neighbors and friends who will be glad to return the kindness when opportunity offers. JOSEPH LAWRENCE, Secretary.

SKILFUL SAFE OPENING.

A Big Haul Made by Burglars Last Night.

A gang of skilful safe operators made a big haul at John Edwards' store, 157 east Third South street, last night. They effected an entrance into the building by prying open the back door with a housebreaker's jimmy. Then they commenced operations on the safe and it was not long before they so familiarized themselves with the combination that the door swung at its hinges in accordance with their wishes. One hundred and twenty-five dollars in cash, Mrs. Edwards' gold watch and gold chain, a card for $10 on an Ogden bank—on which payment has been entered stopped—and a note for $100, were taken from the safe and carried off.

The robbers departed as they came, and up to a late hour this afternoon had not been heard from.

Before Judge Bartch.

The following orders were made this afternoon:

Estate of James Shields, deceased, order to show cause why sale of real and personal property should not be made came on for hearing; proof of posting notices approved; John W. Winwood sworn and examined; sale ordered on condition that administrator present account and have it approved before sale is confirmed, and to file additional bond in $1,000.

This morning he was taken out and ushered into the presence of Justice Cline. Eckert pleaded not guilty and the case went over until Monday at 2 p.m.

Wm. Harrough was fined $10 for assaulting a drink of whisky under false pretenses from a saloon on Second South street.

W. Jones was mulcted for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk.

H. F. Brown was a minor arrest on a charge of drunkenness and disturbing the peace. He had to secure his attendance in court this afternoon.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Senor Romero, Chilean Minister, Formally Presented to President Harrison.

HIS SPEECH ON THE OCCASION.

The President Replies, Touching on the Most Important Questions of the Day.

By TELEGRAPH TO THE NEWS.

THE CHILEAN MINISTER.

Senor Romero, Formally Introduced to the President.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Senor Matta, the Chilean minister, was formally presented to the President this morning by the Secretary of State. The minister was accompanied by Senors Uribe (secretary of the legation), Guillermo Armanegan and Valentin del Campo, attaches. They were shown into the east room in accordance with the custom in South American countries on state occasions. They first waited on Secretary Blaine at the state department and were by him escorted to the White House. The President received them standing, in the blue parlor which was illuminated with electric lights for the occasion. After the formal introductions by Secretary Blaine, Senor Matta advanced and addressed the President in Spanish as follows: "Mr. President, I have the honor to present the credentials which accredit me in the capacity of envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the republic of Chile, in the United States of North America. The object of the mission which the government of Chile has confided to me is to cultivate and maintain the relations of peace and friendship between United States and Chile, which have ever been close and cordial. For the accomplishment of this purpose, I rely upon the kindness and good will which the United States government has always manifested for the representatives of Chile. Permit me to express my sincere wishes for the welfare, the prosperity and welfare of this noble country which is so highly favored by the Deity. Evidence, and for your own happiness."

The President responded as follows: "Mr. Minister: I am glad to receive from your hands the credentials which you as an envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the Republic of Chile to the United States. The presence of the representative of the government of Chile at this capital will, I hope, tend to promote a good understanding between the two governments, and an early settlement upon terms just and honorable to both countries, of the diplomatic questions now somewhat unpleasant and awaiting adjustment. The government of the United States, as well as its people, particularly desire and rejoice in the prosperity of our neighbors in this western hemisphere. Our diplomatic relations with them have always been and will continue to be free from any embarrassing with their internal affairs. Our people are too just to desire that any commercial or political advantage of this government should be sought by the promotion of disasters to other countries. We hear with sorrow of every fresh tale of war or internal strife, and are always ready to give our friendly offices to the promotion of peace. If these are not acceptable, or do not avail, it is our policy to preserve an honorable and strict neutrality, as we have done during the recent war in Chile. Vigorous commercial and political advantages may be offered for our aid or influence by one or the other of the two contending parties, but this we have not seen sufficient to depart from the obligations of international honor and good will.

This government is quite as determined to be refused to allow any vessel of the United States to carry to a neutral port, where it could be made available for war purposes, the silver of Bolmaeda, as it was to give and to the forces opposing him. The questions involved were Chilean questions, and this government approved to observe those principles of nonintervention upon which it had so strongly insisted when the civil war disturbed our own people. I cannot doubt that this policy will commend itself to those who now administer the government in Chile; for can I doubt, when the excitement has given place to calmness, when truth is ascertained and selfish and designing pretensions regarding your independence are exposed, that our respective governments will find a basis of increased mutual respect, confidence and friendship. Permit me, Mr. Minister, the government and my people rejoice that peace has been restored to Chile and that its government is the expression of the free choice of its people. You may assure your honored President who has been chosen under circumstances which so strongly testify to his moderation and to the esteem in which he is held by people of all parties, that the government of the United States submits only good-will for him and for the people of Chile, and cannot doubt that the existing and all future differences between the two governments will find an honorable adjustment. To you, Mr. Minister, I tender my personal welcome."

This closed the ceremony and the visitors departed.

Effects of the new Mexican Tariff.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—A City of Mexico special to the Herald says: "Imports have been very light, and the merchants heavily stocked on account of the new tariff. Money is scarce as ever the other and high rate—[illegible] A Mexican City [illegible] has been negotiated for Co[illegible] the most supply of the city [illegible] the price for meat.

The city council opened the tenderation and it is being contested in the courts. The government has issued circulars to the Mexican southern railroad, amounting to 200,000 on account of construction.

Indians Revolting.

PHOENIX, A. T., Nov. 14.—The remnant of Big Foot's band of Indians, numbering about 40 Indians, are in open revolt against the authority of the agent at Cheyenne agency. The band at Tongue has been living on the Cheyenne agency. The band at Tongue has been living on the Cheyenne agency. They overtook the Indian police in Tongue Ridge agency and endeavored to purchase them to return. All but one Indian refused, and stated that they were going to Pine Ridge agency to remain there in the future. The Indian policemen returned to the agency, and when McKenzie's troops have dispatched a big force of Indian police to bring them back without fail.

England's Exports to the United States.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Considerable interest attaches to the figures showing the value of England's exports from the United Kingdom to the United States for the three months ended June 30th last, as compared with the same period in 1889. The total figures for these months this year were $41,625,841. Last year, $33,329,980; thus showing a falling off of nearly $9,000,000. Only six of twenty-four groups exporting to the United States show an increase.

The Brazilian Dispatches Not Credited.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14.—The Journal of Commerce, in its issue this week, will say: "Telegrams bearing the political disturbances in Brazil are given little credence by large Baltimore houses interested in the trade with Brazil. Up to the receipt of cables from there positively denying the existence of any trouble in Rio.

Dying from Influence in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14.—Hundreds of persons are dying daily from influenza, in the farming districts of Ukraina and in the large towns in the south of Russia.

A Berlin Fog.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—Berlin is overwhelmed in fog. Many accidents have occurred in the streets and river. The railway lines have lost their lives.

Our Export of Beef and Hog.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The chief of the bureau of statistics reports that the United States has a good will which the United States government has always manifested for the representatives of Chile. Permit me to express my sincere wishes for the welfare, the prosperity and welfare of this noble country which is so highly favored by the Deity. Evidence, and for your own happiness."
